FRANK MONROE'S "HOTEL."

He Will Not Get a Liquor License Unless He Builds One.

THE CASE TO BE APPEALED.

The Ordinance Regulating the Weighing, Purchase and Sale of Coal, Passed.

The City Council held an adjourned session last night, President Lowe in the chair. The councilmen in attendance were: Folland, Kerrich, Hardy, Moran, Hotz, Lawson, Evans, Kelly, Hess, Beatsley, Wantland, Rich, Simondi—15.

Absent—Bell—1.

TO CLEAN THE AQUEDUCT.

Watermaster Hayes reported that the North Temple street aqueduct between Main and West Temple was filled with snow and he asked for authority to remove the same so as to make a free water course. Referred to the street supervisor with power to act.

THE ALLRED CASE TO BE APPEALED.

City Attorney Hoge reported that he had consulted with the Mayor regarding the Allred damage suit in which judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $6,775.33 and that they both believed that if the case was appealed the decision would be reversed. They accordingly recommended that an appeal be taken. Adopted.

MONROE'S HOTEL AND LIQUOR LICENSE.

In the matter of granting a liquor license to Frank Monroe the committee on license reported: We understand the facts to be that the applicant has been engaged in the conducting of a theater; that said applicant contemplates erecting a hotel and carrying on a hotel business but has not yet opened said business. Your committee is of the opinion that if said applicant shall construct and conduct such building and business as under the ordinances, will entitle it to be classed as a "hotel," he will be entitled to a license to carry on the sale of intoxicating liquors, notwithstanding the presence of his theater. But until such hotel is constructed and opened and proper showing of that part made he will not be entitled to receive license to sell liquor at said place. Adopted.

THE COAL ORDINANCE.

The ordinance regulating the weighing, purchase and sale of coal was read and discussed at length and passed. The measure is to take effect immediately after its passage, approval and publication.

TO PUBLISH THE CITY LAWS.

Folland offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the city recorder be and hereby is instructed to solicit bids for 200, 300, 1000 and 1500 copies of city ordinances printed on 20x28-50 pound No. 1 book paper, s. s. and c. as per following specifications: Measure of printed matter on page, 24 by 41 ems pica; body to small pica leaded, side headings in bold face brevier, ordinance titles and index in brevier. Binding to be full sheep, leather back and bottom, title lettered in gold. Bids to specify price per page for paper and printing and price per volume for binding; the city to have the exclusive control of the edition.

Federated Trades.

At the meeting of the Federated Trades last night, greater part of the time was devoted to the report of the committee on the revision of the constitution. The only important change was in the matter of representation in council. Heretofore five delegates have been allowed for each member of the community, but under the new provision each union will be allowed five delegates for the first fifty members and one delegate for every additional twenty-five members or three-fourth fraction thereof. Ex-President Grimes was withdrawn as a delegate, and Dee, 13 was appointed as alternate. Today, on which every laboring man, members of the trades assembly or of a union, is expected to contribute as far as he is able to the fund being raised in the United States for the dekaists in the Homestead strikers.

A CONVICT'S SAD END.

Dan Stanley, Burglar and Safe Cracker, Dies in the Penitentiary in Kansas.

A convict in the penitentiary, registered in the alias of Dan Stanley, but whose real name is not known to the authorities, died in the infirmary of that institution about ten o'clock last night. He was undergoing a five years' term for burglary, having been sentenced in the Third District court some two years ago. When first admitted to the penitentiary he had quite a sickly look, and during his entire incarceration has been in poor health. He had been an inmate of the hospital between four and five months, suffering from bronchitis, which was the cause of his death.

Stanley, who is 27 or 28 years of age, is a native of Danville, Illinois, where his father and stepmother still reside, and it is stated that he has also a wealthy uncle — the proprietor of a large flouring mill—living in the same city. Owing to uncomfortableness from Stanley suddenly left and came west, but unfortunately fell into bad company. He became an associate of the horse gamblers, sure crackers, and others of low degree, and up to the last, could only lead all knowledge as to his whereabouts from his relatives. It is understood his remains will be taken charge of by some of his old companions in this city, and that they will bear the expenses of the funeral.

Work for Young Explorers.

People are accustomed to think that all the world has now been explored except central Africa and the polar regions. As a matter of fact, there are portions of the American continent which are as completely unknown to science as any part of equatorial Africa. Will is the last to pass a point South America remains but has sun reasons by his experiences in the basin of the Amazon in Brazil and a yearly expedition of college students in Lafayette has resulted in important additions to geographical knowledge.

Lieutenant Schwatka's explorations in Alaska and his visit to hitherto unknown tribes of cave dwellers in northern Mexico revealed the fact that fields are still open on this continent in which young men with a serious purpose, a scientific training and a strong body may distinguish themselves in geographical and ethnological research.

In 1887 the large rivers, hitherto unknown tributaries of the Amazon, were discovered by naturalists. A great part of Chaco and a still greater part of the vast region intervening between the eastward of the Andes, extending from the frontier of Venezuela to the Argentine Republic, remain unknown lands, so far as certain knowledge is concerned.

Should it all be gone over and accurately mapped there would still remain to be learned many facts about it, as well as about the regions already known, which are of the highest scientific interest, and in the study of which distinction might be gained.—Youth's Companion.

How to Heal Broken China.

Make a light paste of the white of an egg and flour. Clean the broken edges from dust, spread them with the paste and hold the parts together while wiping off all that oozes out. It must be held or fastened in position until dry. A perfectly colorless cement is made by dissolving a half ounce of gum arabic in a wine glass of boiling water and adding plaster of paris to form a thick paste. Use at once, applying with a thick brush.

The palate is almost tickled with Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil. The stomach knows nothing about it—it does not trouble you there. You feel it first in the strength it brings; it shows in the color of cheek and smoothing out of wrinkles.

It was a beautiful thing to do, to cover the odious taste of cod-liver oil, evade the tax on the stomach, and take health by surprise.

Let us send you a book on CAREFUL LIVING; free.

How Much will you Risk for One Cent?

Make a little mark on the white of an egg with the PUTNAM NAIL and compare heads accurately to see and see for yourselves.

Are you willing to see the clinch obliterated and marred nails with all their inherent disadvantages, in order to save a cent?

Use the Putnam Nail.

It is Blue-Tempered from the best Swedish iron, which is a welding heat, by the action of Blueness Scale, and then Blueness-Polished.

Thus, the old hand process is followed, which was but hoping nails under hammers, and hammer painting them to the shape, cold, without any clipping or shearing whatever.

AND THE NAIL CANNOT SPLIT.

This will save you one cent more for each nail driven!

Your carpenter will pay no wages and your repairs will be thereby increased.

ALL FOR ONE CENT.
