APPEAL SUSTAINED.

Result of the Vote in the Presbyterian Assembly Last Night.

A MAJORITY AGAINST BRIGGS.

A Lively Debate Started by Elder Thomas McDougal of Cincinnati.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—After recess the debate was continued with a majority of the speakers against Dr. Briggs, though he found a number of supporters, the most notable one, perhaps, being a graduate of the Union Theological seminary, James F. Garvin, missionary to Chile. Elder Thomas McDougal, of Cincinnati, precipitated a lively scene. "If it be in order," he began, "I want to ask if the conscience, veracity and character of God Almighty and of the Lord Jesus Christ may be questioned? Did Almighty God said Isaiah said thus and so, Dr. Briggs has said to God Almighty that Isaiah did not write half the book that bears his name. The Lord Jesus Christ said in the New Testament that Isaiah wrote the book bearing his name.

Dr. Henry M. Storrs—I call the gentleman to order.

Rev. H. Milton Shields of New Mexico—If the statement quoted is not in Dr. Briggs's inaugural it is not before the assembly.

The colloquy was carried on in the midst of great confusion, cries of order coming from all parts of the house, and the moderator and McDougal both trying to be heard. The storm having calmed down, Elder McDougal concluded:

"Christ said, 'No man can come unto the Father but by me.' Dr. Briggs says Martineau found God through reason, and Newman found Him through the church. Whom will you believe, Christ or Dr. Briggs?"

An extension of half an hour to the afternoon session enabled the clerk to progress in the roll-call through the synod of Oregon. The assembly then took a recess until this evening.

The call of the roll was resumed at the evening session. Only a small percentage of the members lost advantage of the privilege of speaking. It was 5:45 o'clock when the moderator put the question, "Shall the specifications of error be sustained?" and Dr. Roberts the stated clerk, read the first specification, in substance, that the presbytery of New York, on the objections made by Dr. Briggs, required the prosecuting committee to amend the amended charges and specifications by striking out charge four. The specifications were declared sustained by a vote of 267 to 150. The specifications from the second to the twelfth, all relating to irregularities in the proceedings of the New York presbytery, were sustained.

The second ground of the appeal alleged the receiving of improper testimony, and was based upon three specifications on the first division taken, the result being that the specification was sustained by a viva voce vote. The third ground of the appeal was the alleged manifestation of prejudice in the conduct of the case, and of the six specifications the Briggs men carried two and came within two votes of carrying another.

The fifth and last ground of the appeal contained specifications of error and charged a mistake as an injustice in the decision. The votes on these specifications were taken without division resulting in the declaration that each and every one was sustained. Rev. W. C. Young of Kentucky then moved that the roll be called and the specially vote upon the main question, "Shall the appeal be sustained?" which was adopted. The roll was called amidst almost painful stillness. The result was that the appeal of the prosecution from the verdict of the New York presbytery, acquitting Dr. Briggs of the charges against him, was sustained today by the general assembly, the vote being as follows:

Number of votes cast	419
To sustain the appeal	267
To sustain is in favor	150
Majority	117
Two-thirds to sustain	279
Lacking to sustain	129

Then a motion was made for the appointment of a committee to bring in an explanatory minute which shall express the sense of the assembly as to action that should be taken upon the judgment of the presbytery of New York, and what penalty shall be imposed on Dr. Briggs, if any. The assembly then adjourned until tomorrow.

A California World's Fair.

CHICAGO, May 31.—California came forward with a proposition to supplement the great Columbian Exposition with a commercial world's fair of its own. The proposition comes from M. H. De Young of San Francisco, vice-president of the national commission. This California exposition is to follow the closing of the Chicago enterprise and will consist of a collection of the best exhibit on display at Jackson's park, that is if the adjunct meets with as much success at home as De Young's proposition met at a meeting tonight of the Colombian club.

THE INFANTA.

Visiting the Normal College and Making a Speech.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The Infanta Eulalia this morning after having entertained a select party of Spanish friends at a Delmonico breakfast went to the Normal College and was given an opportunity to see what New York's best public school is like. Nineteen hundred young ladies were present and Chairman Guggenheimer formally welcomed the Infanta and court. Miss Bertha De Varona spoking in Spanish welcomed the Infanta to the school. The Infanta said:

"Well, young ladies, I am quite proud of you and the way you have received me. I appreciate it very much and can only say I wish I were sitting on the benches with you girls."

Then there were recitations in Spanish and French, and the royal visitors were shown to the gymnasium, with calisthenics exercise given by twenty young ladies. Afterwards the party drove directly down to Madison square, where the Infanta reviewed the annual parade of the New York police force, about 2500 being in line. Just as the first of the police were approaching a young woman with a camera stepped out in front of the grand stand and pointed her box at the Princess. The nearest policeman started on a run to remove the young woman. The crowd cheered and the Princess leaned forward smiling encouragingly at the intrepid camera fiend. The policeman didn't arrive until the young woman had pressed the button, and smiling triumphantly at the Princess she disappeared in the crowd.

The supreme council will meet at Chicago June 19th, and at that time Willey will be given a dishonorable discharge.

Concerning the issue of Bonds.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The Sun prints the following:

One of President Cleveland's closest friends said yesterday:

"In view of the different opinions as to the President's power under the resumption act, concerning the issue of government bonds, President Cleveland has had frequent consultations of late with Attorney General Olney on the subject. The President always maintains that he has power to issue bonds, but arguments adopting this have come from such able attorneys that he determined to request a decision on the subject from Mr. Olney. The attorney general favored the President with an exhaustive statement in which he set forth his opinion that the President has full power to issue bonds. In fact, Mr. Olney's opinion makes it mandatory upon the President to act in certain circumstances."

The bridge at Mena creek was destroyed. Ties from there were torn from the store-buildings of Ainley Bros., Cannon & Owens and James Hughes, and the mill and factory of Mrs. Hughes were wrecked.

LUTHERANS DEBATING.

A Question as to the Power of the Priests.

CANTON, O., May 31.—The Lutheran assembly is now engaged in the discussion of the question of adopting a version of Luther's smaller catechism, which has been in controversy for years or more. This is a new report since by a committee appointed last year, and there was a big fight over one sentence pertaining to the confession, which conclusion "And soul receive forgiveness from the pastor as from God." It was objected by many that this assisted to the clergy power of absolution similar to the Roman Catholic faith. Various amendments were proposed, and amidst the turmoil the assembly adjourned until tomorrow.

Close to Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 31.—After waiting all day for the Burlington and Rock Island to arrange their private treaties, the Atchison late this afternoon announced that its rates of a $37.50 round trip between Denver and Chicago, and a $17.50 round trip to Missouri river points would be put into effect tomorrow morning. Unless another sting is attached to this notice it will have a tendency to knock the bottom out of the World's Fair rates from all over the West.

Tracy of the National Republican League tonight issued a call for a special meeting of the executive committee of the league at the Grand Pacific Hotel in Chicago, June 15th at 10 a.m. The special business of the meeting will be the election of a secretary and treasurer and the selection of a suitable location for headquarters.

Regarding National Banks.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—E. Ashley Mears, the North Dakota banker whose bank was closed a few days ago, had an interview with Comptroller Eckels this morning, and left with the comptroller's statement claiming in his case that he never would issue a shinner to a National bank with which Mears was connected. Comptroller Eckels says this is the beginning of the general sifting of the National banks and when he finds National bank officials carrying on banks simply as means or a blind for private speculation, he intends to close them up in the interest of depositors, who in the end are sure to be the only sufferers.

Rhode Island Legislature.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 31.—In the house of Representatives this morning received word from the senate that it had adjourned, thus preventing any invitation being sent to them to join in a grand committee for the purpose of electing state officers.

RUSSELL THROUGH AT LAST.

His Concluding Appeal to the Court of Arbitration.

Attorney General Richard Webster Follows, Substantially Going over the same Ground.

PARIS, May 31.—Sir Charles Russell concluded his argument on behalf of the British case before the Bering sea tribunal today. He said this was the first occasion upon which a nation claimed property in free swimming animals. The contention was unfounded. He therefore derogated to the freedom of the seas. It would be extravagant and unfounded pretension that international law sanctioned the relative and condemnation of vessels of friendly powers. Sir Charles appealed to the tribunal to declare that it could not make a law.

In his peroration he dwelt upon the importance of the arbitration heretofore set by the two great powers, now representing and world civilization, great in extent and dominion and greater in using unswerving truthfulness of liberty; the other a young but strong member of the family of nations, great also in territory and almost boundless in its resources, genius and enterprise of its people and possessing enormous powers for good in the future of the human race. Their pressure as friendly litigants is a test of great moral significance and their submission to arbitration is a victory for peace as the award will be. If it leaves the principles of international law unsettled.

Attorney General Richard Webster followed Sir Charles, substantially going over the latter's arguments.

Nicaragua Revolted.

PANAMA, May 31.—Advices have been received that President Sacasa has abandoned the struggle with the revolutionists in Nicaragua. Last night the president signed a treaty of peace with his opponents. The members of the provisional government entered Managua and assumed control of affairs. The transfer of the reins of government was effected quietly and there has been no disorder of any kind.

SUNOL!

ROBERT BONNER

Superintending the closing of Sunol with the Putnam Rail.

PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY, PARK HILLER & WILLIAMS, Co. Pa., Feb. 10, 1893.

PUTNAM NAIL CO., Boston, Mass.

GENTLEMEN: I have used the Putnam Rail on the Sunol, and it has stood the test of time and use, and I have no hesitation in saying it is the best rail I know of for the purpose. Very respectfully yours,

ROBERT BONNER.

The Putnam rail is the only extensively flat-forged and Hammer-Pointed nail.

Look in your smith's shoeing box if the nails have smooth edges for the whole length they are the PUTNAM, for they are Hammer-Pointed and are not sheared.

The above extract from a letter addressed by Mr. Bonner to the use of shoeing horses, is given by the Putnam Nail Co. with the permission of Mr. Bonner, who is well known throughout the country as the owner of the celebrated trotting horse Sunol, who owing to a broken ankle, was forced to drive a pair of horses, and was driven by a pair of horses, and was driven by a pair of horses, and was driven by
