STREET IMPROVEMENTS IN WYO.

A Popular Health Resort Burned Down—Mining Intelligence, Etc.

Alaska reports say the times are pretty straightforward are going to the Yukon as soon as it opens.

At the city elections at Lander, Wyo., the people will vote on the question of the purchase of water works south.

The South Cross (Col.) Electric Light and Power company is about to set a podiant on a plant for a new process of gas manufacture.

The Casper (Wyo.) Derrick says the sugar factory will over 1,000 shares of stock from the Casper citizens preservery of work, and work is progressing finely if all goes the other sheeting jets.

The Cimbin (Nev.) Record says a carload of hay was shipped from the Tom Lake the first of the week to the Tom Lake district. This one is said to be the first carload ever sent to that town.

The school teachers of Florida, A. T., numbered, two of their pupils independent about a month ago. In the closing school, however, they issued each third day initial a school and jug social along.

The Pocatello (Idaho) Chronicle says Pocatello farmers have received assurances from Montana, Utah, to come and pay charge of the nominal part for a two days harvest is to be held here on the 20th and 21st of June next.

Over 1,000 trees have been ordered to beautify the streets of Green River, Wyo. The city council has also appropriated money for the establishment of a public park on the Union Pacific right of way, between the depot and the freight house.

E. C. Bartell writes a friend in Lander, Wyo., says the Lander Journal, and he now all simply and well through worth of twenty acres, and that the oil industry will boom in Wyoming this season. Eastern capitalists will probably drill two oil wells near Douglas during the present season.

The Cedar Sheep association, says the Iron county Record, will shear at Iron Springs and will take the fleece of from 15,000 head. About twenty-five shearers have gone out, and it will take them about three weeks to complete the job. It is expected that the season's clip from it will reach 150,000 pounds.

The farmers of the Lander (Wyo.) valley are said to be busily engaged in getting in their spring crops. About one-quarter of the wheat, oats and barley is already in the ground and if the weather continues fine, the work of seeding will be continued from now on. A considerable acreage of potatoes has already been planted.

The state board of charities, says the Cheyenne Leader, will leave within a short time on a tour of inspection of penal, reformatory and charitable institutions in Nebraska, Colorado, Iowa, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan. The object of the board is to make such investigation and research as will be necessary to put in force a new system of hygiene and discipline at the Wyoming state penitentiary.

The Hotel Raymond, at Pasadena, Cal., was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday afternoon. Not a stick of the famous resort was left. The hotel was crowded with tourists, but they all escaped with their lives, although had wardrobes and other possessions were entirely consumed. The Raymond was one of the most famous health and pleasure resorts in the southwest. It was a very large structure, built entirely of wood and was located on a hill commanding a magnificent view of the San Gabriel valley.

THE CHILDREN GET THE GRAVY.

But the Father of the Family Gets the Fine of Seeing It to Them.

"Yes, I know," said the father of a family, "it makes me laugh whenever I think of the children's absolute nerve about the gravy. What I want to know when we have a steak, or roast beef, or anything else that has gravy with it, the children take it all, down to the last drop, without leaving a speck for their father and mother. And they're perfectly healthy, vigorous children, too, and would do anything they could for their parents. But after some things I have seen a selfishness that appears to be perfectly natural in children, and I suppose it must be intelligence. You know all that I have been accustomed to having everything that their parents could give them, and so they have to expect it.

"Last night again as I recall the incident, I was a fool I got all the gravy. They had eaten their meat and potatoes and the whole so far that I had to be satisfied. He saw my begging glance, but he never said a word. He knew perfectly well that I was entitled to it. When I was a little boy, I remember, I used to think I was entitled to it. When I was a little boy, I remember, I used to know my parents were affectionate and generous and good to me in every way. I suppose I should not wonder for the world that my parents expected me to much as a mouthful of the simple dish was that I would for myself. Dropping in this to my own mind, I think it would have been best if it had.

"When the children pass the gravy I always think of the gravy. Only to-day I was with a friend who had two little boys, and I expected that he would take the gravy with his son of the family. I thought of omitting it all to them. And I think he would have done so if I had asked him to do so. But I didn't ask him. I thought it would be better for me to let the gravy go. I thought it would be
