A QUEEN IN MISERY.

She is Worshiped, But Kept a Prisoner by her Subjects.

HER MAJESTY'S ROMANTIC STORY.

She is a Descendant of an English Sailor Who Married a Tau Woman a Century Ago.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 18.—The bark Hesse N. Alsey, just returned from a trading voyage among the islands of the Southern Pacific, brings the story of a tropical prisoner half English and half native, who rule over the Samoa group against her wishes, though her subjects worship her much after the fashion that the Caesars worship their kings, or as the Peruvians humbled themselves before the virgins of the sun.

History repeats itself in the history of Margaret Young, the English queen of the pleasant princess, for the wife of Princess Young, a sailor who landed at the island of Tau nearly one hundred years ago, is re-called. This man married a Tau native woman who was queen of the group. His son by her married a half-breed maiden. Margaret Young is the daughter of that union. Through the death of all the heirs apparent to the throne of the Samoas, Miss Young found herself called upon to assume the power of princess of the islands. This news was conveyed to her at Apia some months ago by a delegation of chiefs from Manua and she was forced by the laws of hereditary obtaining in the southern archipelago to accompany them back to Tau, where she was immediately installed as queen.

Great interest is lent to the case of the girl, who is but 22 years old, by the report that she is highly educated and was at the time of her sudden call from Apia, happily pursuing the course of her studies of a Catholic convent.

Captain Luttrell, of the Alsey, and his wife, who accompanied him on his last trip, were the first white people permitted to interview the queen and proceed from her majesty the story that our his was one of misery in spite of the professional respect shown her by her native subjects. She is a ruler that is compelled to maintain an office reserve, the sanctity of her dwelling being rigidly preserved by fierce warriors, who stand ready to decapitate the bold intruder who dares to enter the queen's sacred presence without first being especially approached by the chief from and summoned by a council of chiefs.

"The grand chief of the group is the only man that is allowed to approach the queen," explained Capt. Luttrell. "He attends to her wants, assisted by two males who never leave her side except when they are called upon to do the hard jobbing.

"Should any native desire to pay tribute to her in the shape of fish or fowl, he must factor it right upon the end of a bamboo pole, advance with closed eyes and thrust the stick through the door way of the palace.

"Queen Margaret, as we will term her, is not allowed to walk outside her cabin's limits. She must be carried on a litter by her inside, and when she vacates both upon such a journey, subjects are ordered, under pain of death, to keep hidden in their prospective domiciles."

The captain's queen informed Luttrell that she desired to be freed, but has never dared to say so to those who hold her prisoner. She explained that her subjects were kindhearted and meant to cause her no unhappiness, but that they rigidly followed the customs of their ancestors in acting as they do toward her.

For Criminal Libel.

FARGO, N. D., Sept. 18.—Attorney Fisher filed suit in the district court for the arrest of Deputy U. S. Marshal W. S. Dargett, on the charge of criminal libel. The two have been at loggerheads for some time, and in the Sunday Argus, Dagett, replying to an attack by Union, styled the latter a "venal beat," a "blackmailing sponger of a lawyer," and a "contemptible spotter."

Union waives the other assumptions and bases its complaint on the charge that he is a blackmailer. Dagett is in Minneapolis, but the papers will be served immediately on his return.

THE BRECKINRIDGE DEFEAT.

How the Women Fought the Political Battle.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Col. Bain Anderson of Kentucky, who is now in the city on his way to New York, was asked last night what effect he thought the defeat of Breckenridge would have in his state. The old gentleman polled his beard and said:

"I am glad of it; it will teach an important lesson, that even in Kentucky it is dangerous to get caught."

"Did you get home this column?"

"Well I should not until a few weeks ago. Up to that time I was struggling to keep at him. You see I am a Democrat, which considers, without the most impeccable of any sort and I did not see why Bob should not go to Congress as long as he wanted to, but a question had arisen in my mind concerning morals. For a long time I have been after her to marry me, and she has been pulling me off. But when she was sick and thought she could not live I would work against the column. He would marry me as soon as the doctor was over. And then I both of my soul and all that should as hard as ever a man was hit.

"Well sir, it was the women of my side that killed the colonel."

National Republicans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 17.—The sugar planters' convention here today was a large and very enthusiastic one, bringing in the leading planters of Louisiana, and some of the most representative men of New Orleans.

The battle cries the Democratic party had everything their own way with resistance to the program was belligerently made. The convention went over the national Republican party in a body.

Mr. E. S. Forth called the meeting to order and ex-Naval Officer Kennedy was made temporary and ex-Mayor Behan permanent chairman of the organization, all three having heretofore been prominent Democrats.

A representative body was entrusted with the resolutions, which were adopted by an overwhelming majority.

The two latters embody the proceedings of the recent silver convention held here, believe in protection for all American industries, declare the people never asked Congress for a tariff, but when the tariff was passed it was regarded as a pledge for Hawaiian and coined the mortgaging of industries and the expenditure of immense sums of money in the purchase of modern machinery and in the making of elaborate improvements for the manufacture of sugar; urge the organization of clubs, committees and conventions throughout the state with a view of electing members of Congress who will stand by the National Republican party in the organization of the House, and finally declaring that "the causes which have led to the inauguration of this movement are of a Republican and industrial nature."

Only Armed Peace Possible.

BUDAPEST, Sept. 17.—At a meeting of the Austrian delegations today, Count Kalnoky, the imperial minister of foreign affairs, declared the triple alliance was not directed against Russia, its object being to maintain peace. Armed peace must still continue for some time because the feeling is so strong but we just penetrated to the people of the several powers.

The Ezeta Extradition Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Federal Judge Morrow is hard at work on his decision in the Ezeta extradition case. Owing to the great amount of testimony offered and the number of authorities cited as precedents by attorneys on both sides of the case and the intricacy of the case, it will be weeks before he decides. With different points of law in each, the decision is expected to be a lengthy one. It will not be received before Saturday and probably not until next week.

Continuous Arcana.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 17.—The Democrats of the second congressional district have again nominated Congressman Castelletti. The contest on nominated Castelletti several days ago, but he declined the honor. This time he will accept it.

The Vanderbilt Trouble.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—At the lag end of the season, when the last of social celebrities are departing from Newport, Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt has given orders to have the famous marble palace put in order. Many rumors are afloat. One is to the effect she intends to take up her abode in Hunter Island in order to secure a divorce. Another report says Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt have patched up their troubles and are to live together in their Newport home.

Mayor Boyce Impeached.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 17.—The hearing of Mayor Boyce in the district court today on charges of impeachment, preferred by leading citizens of the city council. The matter grew out of a political wrangle. The mayor is charged with violating the law in recognition of the notes and that amount has been retired and canceled. No treasury note has been redeemed in silver unless silver was demanded, the policy and practice of the department having always been to redeem in the kind of money demanded by the holders of a note. The presentation of treasury notes for redemption in silver began in August, 1893, when there was a great scarcity of currency at all kinds, and there was redeemed during that month $1,273,287, which is the largest amount that has been presented during any one month.

As shown above, there were held in the treasury at the beginning of this administration, $23,000,000 in silver coined from the bullion purchased under the act of July 14, 1890. Notwithstanding the fact that $1,157,223 has been coined since that time, there are now on hand only $26,189,724.

Bound and Gagged.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 17.—T. L. Wame, agent of the Lake Shore road at Bremen, on the Air line, was bound and gagged by three men late last night. The safe was then pillaged. The loss to the company is not known.

The Duc d'Orleans.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—The Figaro says the Duc d'Orleans means to be the kingly leader, freely accepts the place, but requires that his orders be executed without question. The Duc d'Orleans means to act.

THE COINAGE OF SILVER.

Secretary Carlisle Explains the Provisions of the Law.

The Whole Coinage Under the Sherman Law—Silver on Hand in the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Secretary Carlisle expressed himself today concerning the coinage of silver dollars under the administration, the coinage being under the unrepealed portion of the Sherman act. It comes that since the administration came into power 1,897,223 standard silver dollars have been coined, of which $520,000 have been seigniorage.

The secretary says: "While the law provides that redeemed treasury notes may be reissued, it also imposes an express limitation upon the power to reissue by declaring that no greater or less amount of such notes shall be outstanding at any time than the cost of silver bullion and the standard silver dollars coined therefrom and held in the treasury purchased by such notes."

When such notes are redeemable in gold, there is no obstacle to the way of the reissue if the notes because such reemission does not affect the stock of silver held in the treasury as one the act of July 14, 1890, but when they are redeemed with silver coined from the bullion purchased under that act, they must be retired and canceled, for otherwise there would be, after redemption and reissue, a greater amount of notes outstanding than the cost of the silver originally purchased and held in the treasury, and this is expressly prohibited by the statute. The purpose of Congress was to prevent the duplication of currency, which would be the case if the notes and the silver purchased with the notes could be outstanding at the same time.

Treasury notes received in the ordinary course of business or received to gold, or exchanged for silver dollars are coined from bullion, purchased under the act of July 14, 1890, are not retired and canceled. All such notes are reissued. Prior to the first day of July, 1893, silver dollars to the amount of $56,818,594 were coined from the bullion purchased. The considerable gain in seigniorage arising from this coinage was $6,818,594, which was paid into the treasury as a miscellaneous receipt, leaving $29,820,461 to be held as a fund to provide for the redemption of the treasury notes as provided by law.

At the beginning of the present administration, the sum of $29,000,000 was held in the treasury as standard silver dollars to the amount of $1,897,223 has been coined since that time. Of this last sum, however, $520,000 was seigniorage, leaving $1,377,223 to be held in the treasury. It appears, therefore, the whole coinage under the act has been $31,303,487, and that the amount to be held in the treasury for reemission of the notes and that amount has been retired and canceled. No treasury note has been redeemed in silver unless silver was demanded, the policy and practice of the department having always been to redeem in the kind of money demanded by the holders of a note. The presentation of treasury notes for redemption in silver began in August, 1893, when there was a great scarcity of currency at all kinds, and there was redeemed during that month $1,273,287, which is the largest amount that has been presented during any one month.

As shown above, there were held in the treasury at the beginning of this administration, $29,000,000 in silver coined from the bullion purchased under the act of July 14, 1890. Notwithstanding the fact that $1,157,223 has been coined since that time, there are now on hand only $26,189,724.

A WELL-KNOWN WOMAN.

Mrs. Phebe J. Ellis, nee Phebe Clark, a Forty Years' Resident of Utah,

Makes a Public Statement of the Great Benefit Received From Drs. Shores & Shores New Treatment.

MRS. PHEBE J. ELLIS, of Bountiful, whose maiden name was Phebe Clark, has lived in Utah forty years, and numbers friends and acquaintances in all sections. Mrs. Ellis is a granddaughter of Patty Sessions and a niece of Iowa's famous war governor, the late Samuel J. Kirkwood, whose decease so recent is still mourned by the whole nation. In a recent interview, Mrs. Ellis said:

MRS. PHEBE J. ELLIS, Bountiful, Utah.

"I have had heart trouble since childhood; that is nearly forty years. Later I contracted catarrh, which ruined my general health and aggravated my other trouble to such an extent that when I went to Drs. Shores & Shores for relief I was certainly just as badly off as ever one ever was. I was as near the grave as could be and still live.

"Besides all the misery resulting from catarrh, I suffered and was constantly with the heart trouble. I could hardly stand on exertion or excitement whatever without the terrible fear that that moment was my last in life. For fifteen minutes at a time my heart would stop rising and I would be like one dead.

"Drs. Shores & Shores have certainly done wonders for me. I was almost a physical wreck and now I feel as if I had a new lease on life. My friends all remark how much better I look the moment they see me. The doctors performed a very painful operation in removing a polypus from my nose without pain or bleeding.

"I am very glad, indeed, to recommend Drs. Shores & Shores to my friends and the public."

BACK VOLUMES

OF THE

DESERET WEEKLY.

The sixth volume of the DESERET WEEKLY in the present form is now bound. A limited number of copies of these six volumes can be obtained at the DESERET NEWS Office, Salt Lake City, in boards from at $2.50 per volume. It is the best history of current events to be obtained, and by far the cheapest, and its time is not far distant when they will be eagerly sought after by students of history, as it is intended to be a history of the stirring events which have transpired within the past three years—the most interesting period of the history of the Latter-day Saints. Every person who can afford it should secure these volumes while they are to be had for future reference, and especially should they be obtained for every Sunday School, Improvement Association and Ward library. Apply early to make sure of getting them.
