LATEST CROP BULLETIN.

The Past Week, Says Observer Sellers, Was Not Encouraging.

Utah farmers had need of considerable fortitude to carry them hopefully through the past week. With crops already backward on account of the late spring, the growth made during the week was not encouraging, except in a few favored localities. Now, however, the situation is quite reassuring, and farmers smile with the advent of rain, notwithstanding so much snow accompanied it.

The first few days of the week were sunny and dry, but with chilling winds and frosts at night. The latter part of the week was cloudy, rainy and cold. Showers began on the 14th in the northern counties, continued the 15th, turned to snow on the 16th, and by the 17th there was three inches of snow in some localities. In the middle section the snow began on the 16th, not enough to snow in mild localities. The soil has now got a pretty thorough soaking, as the amount of water that fell was from half an inch to an inch. With warm, sunny weather following, grain, grass and vegetables will grow rapidly. The season caused farming operations to be suspended for the time, but plowing and sowing were already nearly finished.

In the northern section winter grain and alfalfa are doing well. Garden seeds did not export before the storm. More grain has been sown these weeks. The fruit crop will be immense if severe frosts do not come. In the middle section spring grain is all in, but the small amount of winter grain is looking well. The sugar beet crop is nearly finished. Spring grain is coming to come up. Apricots and peaches are in bloom. In the south crops are late, but in good condition. Grass on the ranges is starting nicely. Vegetables are mostly planted and the vegetables up. Peaches and apricots are nearly out of bloom.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE TABERNACLE tonight and tomorrow afternoon Professor Younger's dancing exhibitions and ball closes out. This will probably be the last Tuesday chosen event of the season at the Theater.

SCOTT'S BAND has canceled its May day engagements at Ogden in order to put in the time remaining here with the Tabernacle choir. Mr. Scott has written that he regrets his inability to be present on opportunity of playing in the grand pavilion at Saltair.

Police Pickings.

Three men were arrested last evening for begging and vagrancy.

Chickens and cackles are thieves are reported to be making depredations in the southwestern part of the city.

The excuse of Drake-Beam, Interim from California and the west continues. Quite a number arrive here at every outlook. They go to summer in the east.

Charles Weir, a seventeen-year-old boy, was arrested this forenoon for using abusive language.

Two boys were jailed last night for begging.

Tom Edwards, an Indian, was locked up for vagrancy and begging.

The young men arrested yesterday by Officer Heath, for rounding an Hour, says that the cause of the trouble was the attempt of Heath to arrest at the table in a restaurant a young man he had just taken in to dinner. The young man whose apologies for being drunk, but claims arrest of the new policeman, are a little too eager in making streets.

Police Court.

The following cases were disposed of by Police Judge Smith this morning:

G. W. McIntyre, charged with willfully, pleaded not guilty, but the evidence was conclusive and the judge will think the matter over for the next ninety days in jail.

James Ward, accused of being drunk and vagrant, was sent up for ten days.

At 2 o'clock three hoodlumized will vagrancy were dismissed.

J. Ward was given ten days for begging.

Charles Wier, a young boy charged with using obscene and abusive language to Alex J. Cole in the Fifteenth ward, was found guilty and will be sentenced tomorrow morning. He is a newsboy in this city, and hails from Denver.

J. Donahoe, George Anderson and John Fagan were arraigned for vagrancy yesterday the latter was discharged. They practically admitted to consider Quickly Cheery, as a man approached them on the street and asked for a quarter, refused and came very near getting assaulted. They were found guilty of vagrancy and will be sentenced tomorrow morning.

Thomas Hagen is a man about 21 years of age, and while sleeping as a vagrant, has by his frequent presence in police courts become considerable of a law. He made several good pleadings court while defending himself on the charge of vagrancy, but he was given twenty days in jail where he will study Blackstone from a practical point of view.

W. Nixon, registered as a bum, was taken in this afternoon for being drunk. He had 10 cents left and washed another drink, but he will have to wait for it for several days.

Road Men Coming.

A number of road workers, representatives of some of the leading financial concerns of the country, are expected to reach here tonight for the purpose of bidding on the $200,000 Memphis court house.

Ladies' Meeting.

The Ladies' semi-monthly meeting will be held in the Fourteenth ward meeting hall tomorrow, Saturday, the 21st inst, at 2 o'clock p. m. All are invited.

M. ISABELLA HORNER, President.

Carter's Army Rather Small.

An inspection of Carter army enlistment rolls at two o'clock this afternoon showed that only 215 men have thus far joined the ranks that expect to depart from this city for Washington within the next few days. One of the lieutenants called at the office of Chief Pratt this afternoon, and stated that he understood eight or ten of the twenty enlisted soldiers were to join and would like to have them viewed inside the line of march, so that he may be able to say will be on Tuesday next over the Rio Grande Western, which road he believes will be used to convey the band away to Denver.

Unofficial rumors are out today soliciting enlistments and purchases. The various companies are drilling on Pioneer Day and night and night.

LITERARY EXERCISES.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Historical work at the high school has been a special nature of the work this year. The 230 pupils are divided into eight sections, each to choose of a member of the army of Independence. The last period of every Friday the sections meet together in the assembly room for the rendering of special programs, which consist of the more prominent events connected from previously prepared programs of the respective sections, such were the Whitney, Washington, Lincoln and Arbor day programs. Last week two sections were permitted to hold a joint meeting for a joint exercise, the occasion, has significantly contributed more to our country's prosperity than monument. The exercises were especially well prepared and rendered with such warmth of interest as to hold the attention of the audience.

The sections comprising the third and ninth year pupils are to engage in joint debate through their spokesmen champions on three weeks. Much interest already has been aroused, and it is quite probable it will be necessary to hold it in the assembly room before the whole school and public guests.

The programs carried out in the separate sections today were as follows:

STEVENSON'S TRAVELS.

His Visits to Bishopric Meetings in the Golden State.

In and Around San Bernardino—An Hour with Elder—The Industry of Utah, etc.

SAN BERNARDINO, CAL., April 1, 1894.

Editor Deseret News:

Leaving our visit to Pomona, E. T. Clark and I took a trip of twenty-four miles to the east. We intended to visit Wood to interviews if we should not visit his mineral valley, as it was in early days a Mormon settlement. Even now a few scattering saints can be found and quite a scattering of Josephites. We took dinner with Sister Mary Pratt, who once was a member of the Fourteenth ward, Salt Lake City. Her son, thirty years of age, lives at home with her and is single. Several daughters are married.

We visited the block whereunto the two story building of Elder C. C. Rich, said tenancy, when it was burned down. The old lady who owns the property entered heavy loss by the fire. A new building has been erected. The old lady is in age and now sees if we should have sought to talk with her of those who have passed on the ninth since Elders Rich and Lyman left. The old black horse that still remains, about forty years old, is building for Mormon feed mines, and nearly all dead.

It is unpleasant for Mormon home, especially of other times, to be entered with the family black horse. Five years ago, while in the state of Illinois, at the view of Nauvoo or Hancock hill, where Mormons were slaughtered and buried in a well, I notice that the place was occupied by horse not half the old forest that there. It is just same with old places in Utah.

Texas is here on show of pride, with bright prospects for an industry two years out. In last present was 200 million and the past year is produced 100 million of Nave [illegible]. In prospects this year is for 1,200 million. Prof. Stevenson came in a twenty mile ride riding on his mount. We visited some of the sweet oil, bought some and took a photo of the olive grove, and two of the old Mormon settlement of San Bernardino valley. I find more cattle, more money, more orchards and less beggars in this valley than in more time than I have no doubt that this may be accepted by, as the promoter of the valley finding and the best account of the valley from this section brings in truly case. As the prospectus goes.

Coming over from the neighboring valley, we attended three meetings. One of them was in the interest of the young folks. A little class and the form of simple evening lands and his wrestling with one of them. After we introduction we were asked to take Rules, and a part with a very nice class of young folks and gentlemen, and so it was the midnight say, April 1st, we really escaped. The object being not only one of angels communicating mechanics knowledge to Jacob, but causing him as well.

With permission of the present Christian church matter, with by the way is found in the Bible, I was permitted to ask the brethren, with where I was more joyful and interested, the very important question "Is it so equally necessary in our day to receive communications from God and angels' visits as in days gone by?" After a pause we hesitated to say, it was not necessary now, for we have the Scriptures, and lived by faith, but Christ told Thomas, blessed are ye for seeing and believing, but more blessed are they who have believed and not seen. The teacher asked if I was satisfied with the answer, and I was not, I was permitted to talk to the class until closing time. My reasons were that, as angels had visited the earth from Adam to Moses, and from Moses to Jesus Christ, and from Christ to John, so years after Christ, just as long as Jesus had true followers, I protested against the idea of doing away with the continued visits, especially in the present distraction of religious institutions. Time is not permit further the interpretation, but when John was told that they knew who I was, when the question was asked, for they knew of our conference in Latter-day Saints.

In the afternoon we attended the Salvation Army meeting, which was largely attended, led by officials, I addressed the meeting about twenty minutes, my action was to continue to do good, taking the drunken man out of the mire, clean him up, send him home to treat his family better and make them happy. They were continued of the great conversion of Adversaries in Pomeroy day, who when converted, asked what to do to be saved. Peter, whom Christ had left as chief shepherd of His Church, and holding the keys of sealing on earth that which should seal on earth heaven, with the high authority into the multitude to repent and be baptized for the remission of sins and promised that they should receive the Holy Ghost.

We attended in the evening a ladies' lecture on the experience of a lady missionary in India. All of the meetings were largely attended. The people in the valley of Pomona are certainly a church going people and we learn several are investigating or still under serious light. We had a little interested listen and left meeting matter with some who will investigate the truth, and so break out upon the waters may spread far and wide.

On the morrow we shall return to the Pasadena to again visit the city and the surrounding country, for we have had a very enjoyable trip without accident or delay, except we notice on the divide at Tonnelage pass, 1,000 feet above sea level. This is where the two ranges of mountains close a large valley of more about half than anything one, where one measures a range of 10,000 miles.

There is much complaint regarding crops throughout the county, and orchard fruits are apprehensive. We saw the coaching clients of the storms who have expanded and left the mountains Cathedrals to Washington. They tell us they enjoyed seeing Pomona. The church met there there and they determined that if they did not get [illegible] they would disband in the school. Rather than have Dodge [illegible] that there the people there were three [illegible] and the next two [illegible]. Four stones are now on the water.

Fortnightly Meetings.

There was a well attended fortnightly meeting held in Big Cottonwood Wednesday night. Prof. W. H. Brown and Inspector Thos. E. Wooley, both Salt Lake, spoke on theme and the subject of extermination.

The fortnightly of South Cottonwood met in the ward house with Inspector Lewis acting as chairman. Prof. W. H. Brown was invited to give a lecture and the stage accounts showed the interest manifested in the destroying of orchard pests. Mr. Thos. E. Wooley, from Salt Lake City, spoke in behalf of the organization. Both lectures and a meeting was held for Thursday next at 2 p. m.

Captain Page and his detachment are proud of their new company, says the Box Elder News. The men are showing their drills with praiseworthy and regularity. They are making good rapid progress in promising that the "new and equal" company will soon be found. Before a month passes Captain Page says there will be a public drill.

We are informed that the Woods Cross Canning & Pickling Co. has already contracted for enough tomatoes and cucumbers to insure a good season's run, says the Davis County Clipper. This is very encouraging. As to tomatoes has undertaken with the company to grow the organ patch of tomatoes. We are informed that the company has disposed of all its canned tomatoes and canned and will be [illegible] Orders are coming rapidly in for pickled goods, even better than they can be filled. There are at the present time three girls and two men employed besides the manager. Twenty hands are kept busy preparing pickles and tomatoes.
