PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, - March 19, 1894.

First District Court.

The case of the People vs W. H. Enders, tried in the First district court, came to an end on Saturday night after a long and tedious trial. Enders's house was destroyed by fire a short time since, and Enders was charged with being the incendiary, his alleged purpose being to obtain the insurance money. He received a preliminary examination on the charge in commissioner Dunley's court, and the evidence being slight, the case was dismissed.

The matter, however, was brought to the attention of the grand jury, and Enders was indicted. The insurance companies took a hand in the matter, and hired detectives to work up the case against Enders, but after all had been said and done, the jury returned a verdict of acquittal after being out ten minutes.

Notes and Personals.

Judge Smith is of the opinion that the mordacity Davenport is an old offender of his. The judge's recollection is that he defended Davenport twelve years since in Idaho on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Mr. O. W. Ryde, of Salt Lake, is in the city, making arrangements to locate here.

Andrew Oatherum, aged 25, and Birgitta Peterson, aged 18, both of this city, were married on Saturday afternoon by Bishop John E. Booth.

The Effie Ellsler dramatic company appear in Doric at the Provo Opera house on Thursday evening next.

A meeting of the fillers of the self of Utah county is to be held at the County Court house tomorrow at 2 p.m. for the purpose of organizing a Utah county fruit and agricultural society.

PARK CITY.

PARK CITY, - March 17, 1894.

The Quietest Week.

Park City during the past week has passed through what many knowing one say is the quietest week in the camp's existence. Several things led up to this state of affairs, chiefly the very low prices of the metals, and the bad condition of the roads leading to the mines, which labor lessening of ore and supplies a tedious and expensive affair. The weather has not been settled enough to admit of any work being done on the roads, and as a consequence most of the ore-hauling teams have been pulled off for some time. This will account for the small amount of shipments of ore during the week.

Death From Carelessness.

The fatal accident which occurred at the Ontario No. 2 last Sunday, in which Thomas Towey lost his life, has stirred up the management of the various mines to project in a much more effective way the lives of their men who have occasion to use the hoisting cages. This accident can be traced to no negligence of the company, but to carelessness on the part of the man killed. The funeral of Mr. Towey was largely attended Tuesday by many of the men from the mines, and by the members of the Hibernians and A. O. U. W. lodges, of which he was a member.

Hurt by a Blast.

An accident, which might have proved more serious, happened to Tim Sullivan, foreman of the Silver King mine, last Friday. It appears that a charge for a blast had been put in place, and warning was given to look out for it, but Sullivan did not receive this warning in time. The result was that the blast went off and injured Mr. Sullivan quite severely, but no fatal results are expected from the accident.

Firemen as Cleaners.

The city firemen have been out several days during the week washing down Main street with water from the fire hydrants. The winter's accumulation of filth was nicely cleaned off, and the street now presents a more inviting appearance. This work is always appreciated by the inhabitants, but they think that the man doing the work might be a little more careful in directing the stream from the hose, as several parties were completely drenched with the splashes from the muddy streets.

Didn't Like Sunday Closing.

The "wide open" edict on Sunday is again showing its heel, and was the cause last Sunday of a disgraceful fight indulged in by the proprietor of Clark's saloon, and a man named Charles Emery. Emery had been gambling and drinking all night at this saloon, and when he wanted to go home Sunday morning, the doors were locked upon him. He then took a chair and smashed the entire glass front out of the building, and vaulted this spirit by throwing empty decanters through the large bar mirror. He was arrested and given a tight fine for his caper. As a example should be made of a few of the keepers of saloons, and the "wires" of rioting up should be emphatically set down upon.

County vs. Treasurer.

The sensational suit of the county against ex-Treasurer Richardson and his bondsmen will be watched with interest by the people of this town. The suit as worded in the complaint of the county will develope some strange proceedings if it be tought, and many criticisms is thrown upon the county attorney for wording the suit as he did, as it will involve some points which it is expected will be very hard for him to prove.

Notes and Personals.

St. Patrick's Day passed off quietly in the Park, and outside of a few drunken men seen upon the streets, no excitement was shown.

The Utah Central, after a hard struggle for three weeks with the snow, finally got a train through last Tuesday, much to the joy of all the people. The road is now running all the time through as usual, and the arrival of the mail from Salt Lake in the morning is very much appreciated.

No shipment of bullion from the camp during the week—something which has not occurred here for a long time. The ore shipments for the week amounted to only 600,000 pounds.

Hon. A. B. Emery returned to the Park during the early part of the week, after throwing up his duties as Speaker of the House, during the last Legislative session.

No amusements have been on at the opera house for some time, but with the opening of spring we will be treated to a few companies.

Chas. Rand, general agent of the C. E. Kimball estate, was in town during the week paying off the men employed by him, and fixing up matters generally. W. L. L.
