Silver Purchases.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Five hundred thousand ounces of silver were purchased at prices ranging from 97¾ to 98½.

Gen. Kautz' Annual Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Brigadier-General Kautz, commanding the department of the Columbia, in his annual report speaks of the reported troubles between Indians and white settlers in Kootenai river country. The Indians in that section are unprovided with an agent and seem to have no one to look to for aid or counsel. General Kautz says in the near future a great increase in the number of settlers will precede the building of the Great Northern railroad and trouble will follow unless some provision is made in anticipation.

In closing his report General Kautz says he regards the highest duty of our small army in time of peace to be the acquisition and dissemination of military knowledge among the people. Recruits for the army should be obtained from the young, ambitious and energetic sons of patriotic citizens, and the army should cease to be the refuge of the inefficient, indolent, and wandering element of the country. Recruits should be furnished from all parts of the Union, in proportion to the population, to serve, as a rule, only one enlistment, and then be returned to their homes to serve as officers in the event of war and instructors for State military organizations in time of peace. The support of the government to this end would raise the standing of enlisted men at once to one of respectability and secure the enlistment of proper material, which cannot now be obtained in view of the low estimation the average civilian entertains for the soldier in time of peace. "I would also," says General Kautz, "give a distinctive and republican character to our army, which I regard as very essential under our form of government. We cannot hope to popularize the army as long as we ape the methods and details of European armies, and there is no necessity for so doing."

Master Brewers' Convention.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12.—This morning delegates to the [illegible] annual convention of the Master Brewers' association of the United States, composed of superintendents and foremen of most of the large breweries of the United States, was called to order by Louis French, of Chicago, president of the association. Nothing important was done at the session. At noon the convention adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The British Columbian Sealing Fleet.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 12.—The government has been advised that anticipating a raising of the blockade in Behring sea next season, orders have been given to Nova Scotia shipbuilders for the construction of several new vessels to be added to the British Columbia sealing fleet. A movement is on foot among several Nova Scotia ship owners to form a syndicate and go extensively into the sealing business, sending a large fleet around the Horn this winter to engage in Behring sea sealing next spring. British Columbian owners say that the Nova Scotians are going to kill the industry if they send out a fleet of thirty vessels as proposed by a syndicate. The government there positively declines to give them any assurance that their vessels will be free from seizure in Behring sea next spring.

The California Earthquake.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—The effects of the earthquake which visited some portions of northern California last night appear to have been greatest in Napa and Sonoma valley, where the shock is described as the heaviest since the great quake of 1867. At Napa and Sonoma walls were cracked and chimneys demolished. The people were roused from sleep, and many spent the night in the streets. While in some districts but one or two shocks are reported, eight or ten occurred in the towns named above, keeping the inhabitants fully awake until 3 o'clock in the morning. Some of the shocks lasted 45 seconds. On a ranch near Sonoma, containing a number of warm springs, the earthquake caused the water to gush forth in great quantity. No injuries to life or limb are reported.

The Suit of Lizzie F. Ralston.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—The suit of Lizzie F. Ralston against the trustees of the estate of William Sharon was up before Judge Hawley today in the United States circuit court on demurrer to a motion to set aside the release and consent to the decree dismissing the action of Mrs. Ralston against Sharon. The release is alleged to have been obtained by fraudulent representation on the part of Sharon.

The relief referred to asks for an accounting of the estate of Ralston, which, it is claimed, was in the hands of Sharon, and which has passed into the hands of defendants. The amount involved is about $[illegible]. Complainant sets forth that at the time the Bank of California was forced to close its doors Ralston made a deed of trust to Sharon of all his property, and Sharon filed a return deed to make proper restitution.

Death of Ex-Governor Bigelow.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 12.—Ex-Governor Bigelow died at New Haven house at 5:30 a. m.

Parnell.

DUBLIN, Oct. 12.—The newspapers of this city today continue their eulogies of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, and on all sides are heard expressions of regret for the dead.

It is reported here that an informal meeting of the Parnellite members of the Commons was held this morning, and that it was decided not to accept any overtures for coalition with the McCarthyites, but to continue the struggle for the leadership of the Irish parliamentary party on the lines laid down by Parnell in his efforts to regain the position from which he had been deposed by the majority of his former followers.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The superintendent of the Life Saving Service has received information that the tug "Battler" of New York, bound from Boston to Philadelphia, with a crew of ten men went ashore this morning on Cape Henlopen. The tug broke loose from the ship A. P. "Cheney." All on board were saved.

The report published to the effect that cereal products of the United States be admitted free of duty, etc., is not true. Negotiations have for some time been in progress between the two governments with a view on the part of Germany to secure continued admission of her sugar into this country, in return for certain concessions of customs duty to be extended by Germany to American products of various descriptions. It is learned, however, that these negotiations were still in an uncomplete stage of progress with good prospects of being brought to a satisfactory conclusion before the first of next January, when the President will possess the power to issue a proclamation imposing the duties conditionally levied by the tariff act of October 1, 1890, upon all sugars imported from any country that imposes duties upon agricultural or other products of the United States, which in his judgment are not reciprocally equal and reasonable.

SEAL FISHING INDUSTRY IN DANGER.

The government has been advised that, anticipating the raising of the blockade in Behring Sea next season, orders have been given to Nova Scotia shipbuilders for the construction of several new vessels, to be added to the British Columbia sealing fleet. A movement is on foot among several Nova Scotia ship owners to form a syndicate and go extensively into the sealing business. They are sending a large fleet around the Horn this winter to engage in the Behring Sea sealing next spring. The British Columbian owners say that the Nova Scotians are going to kill the industry if they send out a fleet of thirty vessels, as proposed by a syndicate. The government there positively declines to give them any assurance that their vessels will be free from seizure in Behring Sea next spring.

Trainmen's Convention.

GALESBURG, Oct. 12.—The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen's convention adjourned this forenoon until Wednesday, to give the committees time in which to prepare reports.

Mrs. Parnell's Health.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The health of Mrs. Parnell has not improved. She is still under the constant care of the physician, and her heart is said to be very weak. The physician in attendance today prevailed upon her to partake of some light nourishment.

Girls [illegible] Lads.

When most pretty girls reach nineteen they [illegible] engaged to some poor young [illegible], and as he hasn't money to marry on they wait until he earns it. The waiting process is a long and tiresome one. While the young man is having a good time, spending money, [illegible] for his marriage, the girl is growing a little older, a little plainer, a little more careworn and wasting her youth in waiting for a man who in most cases finds some one else more attractive and breaks the engagement. If girls will look around at the great number of girls who have "waited" for some poor man to their sorrow, they will probably hesitate before entering into an engagement that promises to be long and tedious, and that leaves them worn out and with no faith in human nature at the end.

Very often a girl who is waiting for a young man to become rich throws away the real opportunity of her life; very often she is a slave to the caprice of a man who finally deserts her. Very often under such circumstances a woman gets a wrong idea of life and accuses the world of faults it is not guilty of. In a way men take very good care of themselves, for the reason that they accept the lessons of life, hard though they sometimes are, but women make the mistake of trusting too much and suffering needlessly for it.—Atchison Globe.

A Cure for Stammering.

Draw a long breath so as to fill the lungs to their utmost extent. While the sentence you wish to speak into syllables, marking time for each syllable by bringing the index finger and thumb of the right hand together, or marking time with the foot. Now, here is a specimen, "Pass-me-the-bread." "Good morning-madam-how-do-you-feel-this-morning." These syllable exercises must be practiced for at least one month, then a cure should be accomplished if the patient has no deformity of the throat or larynx and if the front teeth are sound. There is nothing easier than this cure. It is simply [illegible] in syllables for one month and is within the reach of everybody—man, woman or child.

Very few women or girls stammer and they are the easiest to cure. I advise all parents to try and cure their children when they are young if they stutter, and thus save them a life of misery. Reading with the mouth shut will never cure stammering. Speaking in syllables is the cure of Dr. Colombat, of Paris, who cured thousands and made a fortune.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption, and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle, and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use, and after taking ten bottles found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at A. C. Smith & Co's Drug Store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00. 3

MISS STUDEBAKER'S WEDDING.

The Millionaire Manufacturer's Only Daughter Becomes Mrs. Carlisle.

One of the most notable social events of the fall was the wedding of Mr. Charles Arthur Carlisle and Miss Anne Studebaker of South Bend, Ind. Both are residents of South Bend.

MISS ANNE STUDEBAKER.

and the ceremony occurred at Tippecanoe Place, the palatial home of the father of the bride, the Hon. Clement Studebaker, the millionaire manufacturer.

The bride, so early married, the idol of her parents, is well known in the social circles of New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago and Indianapolis. Miss Studebaker was educated in Philadelphia, and has traveled extensively in Europe and America. In 1890, on the invitation of the chief of the International American Congress to South Bend, the reception tendered by Mr. Studebaker, a member of the congress, to its distinguished guests.

The groom, Mr. Charles Arthur Carlisle, is a native of Ohio's lost capital, Chillicothe, and is a descendant of one of the most honored families of that city. He was educated in Cleveland and Toledo, in the latter city having held for several years the position of purchasing agent of the Judge Burke system of railroads. Early in the present year he accepted a position with the Studebaker Brothers.

The wedding called together guests from many cities. The maid of honor was Miss

Clement Studebaker, Jr., William H. Jackson, of Cincinnati, Frank Ott, of Saint Claire and Becken Cornell Walbridge, of Toledo. The wedding gifts were of great value and were numerous. Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle are now away on a three months' bridal tour, and will visit the principal points of interest on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, New Orleans, Mexico and the west. They expect to spend the first month of 1892 in Washington.

The Proper Way to Write.

Scientists of the present day are investigating almost everything that affects human life. Recently the supreme council of hygiene in Austria have been considering the relative advantages of erect or slanting letters in writing, and they have come to the conclusion that the former are to be preferred, in that they do not cause the writer to twist his body and neck, thus tending to produce fatigue if not spinal curvature. They recommend the erect manner of forming the letters as the best for schools.

A New Use for Electricity.

M. Blanzat, a Frenchman, is credited with the invention of a clever but simple method of electrically doing to death gnats, flies and similar pests. He takes a candle, lamp or torch, and places it within a cage of metallic wire gauze. This metallic gauze is connected with the poles of an electric machine and duly charged with the electric current. The gnats, mosquitoes, flies and wasps fly to the light, touch the electrified metal and are instantly killed.

Things a Prince Has to Know.

It takes considerable study to qualify an heir apparent for the position of ruler of Russia. In a recent conversation with an American official, the czarevitch spoke of the long years of preparation, the many studies, the necessity of acquiring not only several foreign languages, but also of becoming more or less acquainted with the numerous dialects of his own people. He has to know something of the habits and ideas of the roving Tartars on the steppes of Asia and of the quiet Finns of the north. Since he became sixteen years of age he has regularly attended the sessions of the council of state. He has learned how to command an army and has familiarized himself with the proper management of a naval squadron. He assured the American student that the pathway of a future Russian czar was by no means strewn with roses.

HISTORY OF THE BANNOCK STAKE

The History of the Bannock Stake, compiled by Andrew Jenson, and lately published in the DESERET WEEKLY, has now been issued in pamphlet form, and can now be had at the Deseret News office at 25 cents per copy. tf

WHY THE DESERET NEWS SHOULD BE SUBSCRIBED FOR IN PREFERENCE TO ANY OTHER PAPER.

1. It is the Organ of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and the authorized medium through which the views, wishes and instructions of the Church Authorities are expressed, and given to the Saints.

2. It may always be relied upon as advocating or defending the right side of every question proper for public journals to treat upon.

3. It is devoted to the interests of the Latter-day Saints and has, from its inception, valiantly defended their rights and advocated the principles in which they believe; and every Latter-day Saint should therefore feel under obligations to do his part in helping to sustain it.

4. It is not published for speculation, and never has been, but for the good which it is capable of accomplishing; the profits, if any there be derived from it, being devoted to extending its sphere of usefulness, and benefiting the community.

5. It is doing its utmost to establish home industries, among which are paper making and type-founding, stereotyping and electrotyping—branches necessary to the development and independence of the community, but which, during their infancy (which in this Territory they have not yet passed), can only be carried on at a pecuniary loss.

6. There is no danger of any subscriber to the News failing to get what he subscribes for through failure of the business and a suspension of the publication—a result in the case of hundreds of newspaper ventures every year.

7. It is now printed throughout in new and readable type, so that even the aged can peruse it without difficulty or danger to their eyesight.

8. It is free from objectionable advertisements, so that no parent need fear that his children will have their minds corrupted from having access to it; in fact, it refuses thousands of dollars worth of the best paying advertisements annually, because it is devoted to the moral and spiritual interests of its readers instead of to getting gain at their expense.

9. Its tone is not regulated by public opinion nor the hope of gaining subscribers or advertisements. It advocates that which is right and condemns that which is wrong, regardless of results, financial or otherwise.

10. It never nauseates its readers by palming off columns of self-praise for [illegible]

11. The News practices no deception and resorts to no subterfuges to induce people to subscribe; but on the contrary, prefers to stand on its own merits as the people's newspaper, with a promise only to do its utmost to give its patrons the best value for their money, a promise which it has endeavored to faithfully keep in the past.

12. In conclusion, if a Latter-day Saint can afford to subscribe for only one newspaper, that paper should be the DESERET NEWS, and if more than one, the News should invariably be the first.
