

him from the store, when McGallagher, stepping behind the counter, grew out a shotgun and fired as it came to his shoulder. His victim fell to the floor with almost the entire side of his face torn away, and expired without a groan. McGallagher immediately gave himself into the hands of an officer, and Mr. Milner taxed his ingenuity to avoid arrest, and to get clear from danger with the body of his friend.

Mr. George Billings met Mr. Milner at Thistle, and conveyed the remains to this city where the funeral services were held, at 2 o'clock p.m., last Saturday. The deceased leaves a wife and three children, to receive the heartfelt sympathy of a large circle of friends.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY MAY 27.

A Long Fall.—The Tucson (Arizona) Globe of May 23d says that Cyrus B. Tannehill, of Gila County, was killed on that day by falling a distance of 150 feet in the shaft of the Howard mine.

Bound Over.—Last evening, Thos. H. Smart, a resident of Union, Salt Lake County, was brought in by two deputies, who had arrested him on a charge of unlawful cohabitation. When taken before Commissioner McKay, he pleaded guilty to living with his two wives, and was placed under $1,500 bonds to await the grand jury's action.

Convicted.—The trial of William Remington, on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder, was held in Ogden yesterday. Remington is the tramp who "run" a Central Pacific train, a short time ago, by the aid of a revolver and who fired several shots at the conductor. He also had a desperate fight with the officers at Ogden, and was wounded before his capture. He was convicted by the jury last evening.

Indian Council.—Great preparations are being made to have a large attendance from all the tribes of the Territory at the International Council, which meets in Eufaula, Indian Territory, Monday, June 6th next. Representative men will be here from all parts of the Territory to take part in the proceedings, of this the most important meeting ever held by the Indians.—Indian Journal.

Arraigned.—In the First District Court at Ogden yesterday, John L. Jones, of Lakeside, Box Elder County, was arraigned on a charge of unlawful cohabitation, and took until Saturday, the 28th, to plead.

John Felt, of Huntsville, Weber County, was also arraigned on a similar charge, and pleaded not guilty. Randolph Hockstrauss, of Providence, Cache County, pleaded guilty to living with his wives, and sentence was deferred till the next term of court.

A Judge Murdered.—Escobosa, the Alcalde at Inuris station, thirty miles south of Nogales, Arizona, was assassinated on Sunday night by unknown parties. At a late hour he was called out of his house and shot through the breast. He died almost instantly. The murderers are unknown, but officers are on the track. Judge Escobosa was one of the best known lawyers in northwestern Sonora and has held several high official positions. He was, however, disliked by an opposing element and hence the tragic ending of his career.—S. F. Chronicle.

Return of the Remains.—A telegram received last evening from J. E. Lockwood, General Passenger and Ticket agent of the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Gulf Railroad, dated Kansas City, yesterday afternoon, and addressed to J. H. Bennett, Esq., of the D. & R. G. as follows:

I regret to advise you that Elder Kimball died about noon to-day. Mr. Cannon will likely leave Hammond with the remains to-morrow morning in time to connect with the west bound train from here for Salt Lake. I will advise you if he should fail to do this. Should the connection above referred be made, and no delay occur, the remains would reach this city next Sunday at 4:35 p. m.

A Travelling Fraud.—Chas. Gusleau, claiming to represent J. K. Gill & Co., Portland, arrived at Boise on Thursday morning last, canvassing for the International Cyclopaedia. His action while here made it evident that he was a fraud. The Portland house he pretended to represent is well known by business men here as a responsible firm; and this, together with the fact that he is acquainted with and was recognized by several drummers here at the time, gave greater plausibility to his representations. He finally borrowed sums of money from different citizens and then disappeared. It was afterwards discovered that many stories told by him were fabrications, and that he had skipped the country early Friday morning. He is a young man, heavy set, light complexioned, about five feet six in height and sports a light colored mustache. This is published for the protection of citizens in other localities that he might attempt to work. He was last heard of at Caldwell.—Idaho Democrat.

Working on their Sympathy.—The Deaver News of May 24th, has the following:

"An able-bodied citizen brought a slightly-built 13-year-old boy into police headquarters last night and said another boy who was with him had asked him for ten cents, and he had acted as special detective and caught the nearest one to him. The boy said his name was Daniel Fisher and that he had been driven from Salt Lake City, his home, by his stepmother, and in company with a companion had beat his way on the cars to Denver. He is a bright-looking boy and carries a bootblack's outfit. He was given a place to sleep for the night."

The boy is evidently trying to gain sympathy from kindhearted people in Denver. He probably belongs to the gang of young toughs that has been committing depredations in this city, as one of them was named Fisher. If he is the same person some strict schooling in a reformatory might benefit him, as he is pretty shrewd, but he needs watching.

The Vermillion Canal.—A correspondent of the Manti Sentinel, writing from Aurora, Sevier County, says: "The people in the north end of this county are interested in making a canal which when completed will cover about two thousand acres of good farming land. It is an extension of the Vermillion canal. Over three thousand dollars in labor was expended this spring in enlarging the canal to make it of sufficient dimensions to carry water for three settlements north of it, Anrona, Salina, and Redmond. The work is almost completed to the end of the Vermillion canal, and it is the intention of the people to complete it to Redmond in the fall when it will be the longest canal in the country, its entire length being about twenty-three miles." The people on the Sevier have done a great work in getting the water of the river out for irrigating purposes. As to the length of the canal referred to, twenty-three miles, leaves it still several miles shorter than the canal conveying the waters of the Jordan into Salt Lake City.

LETTER FROM INDEPENDENCE.

Items From a Historical Locality.

INDEPENDENCE, Missouri,
May 22, 1887.

Editor Deseret News:

This country is booming. Everybody owning real estate is becoming rich. Land around here that one and two years ago sold from $50 to $150 per acre, is now selling from $500 to $1,000 per acre. Many farms in the suburbs of Independence have been bought up at enormous prices and cut up into streets, lots and parks. Street railways have been projected in every direction and the lots are put on the market at from five to fifty and seventy-five dollars per foot. Speculators have made their

of dollars in six months. Work of every description is abundant, and good wages are paid. It looks like we are really to have a large and flourishing city here.

I don't see why we should not. It is the most beautiful place in America. It ought to be the capital, being so centrally located. It may be some day.

The prospects for an abundant harvest are most flattering. Fruit of all kinds is plentiful. Wheat is nearly all in head, and looks well, and everything so far seems to be especially favorable for the farmer this season. Still we find gamblers who don't appreciate "good times" till they enter real "hard times."

The "Josephites" are building quite an expensive cathedral, as near the temple lot as possible, (just across the street.) The "Hedrickites," or followers of Hedrick, who are very small in numbers, though fortunate enough to claim possession of the temple lot, are erecting a small frame structure on one corner of that historic spot, just opposite the "Josephite" site. These, with the large hall erected by the Salvation Army, add three houses of worship to the already well supplied town of seven thousand inhabitants.

I suppose some of your readers have seen the latest publication of

DAVID WHITMER, THE WITNESS.

He makes some startling (?) statements in regard to the revelations of Joseph Smith, charging him with being a fallen prophet, and accusing him of crime, or rather transgression. Still he speaks of his (Whitmer's) ordination under [the] hand of the Seer. The theory of Joseph Smith's being a transgressor, and that part of his revelations are spurious, while part are genuine, is gaining considerable ground in the midst of the "Josephite" organization, and I will not be at all surprised to see the time come when it will be the policy of that body to just select what suits it, and call it the word of God, and what does not suit, call the word of the devil. Such is the condition professed believers in Joseph Smith are coming to under the leadership of his son.

SHOT IN THE THIGH.

TWO BOYS LEAVE HOME—ONE OF THEM RETURNS HOME WOUNDED.

On Sunday morning Thomas Lorenzo Vaughan left a comfortable home in the lower part of the city intending to beat his way to Evanston in company with Isaac Carr. Thomas is a boy about twelve years of age. His parents are very respectable and hard-working people, and are highly respected among their neighbors and friends.

They came to this country about three years ago from England. But Thomas had been a wayward son and caused his father much trouble and his mother a great deal of pain. He has refused to go to school or to work around home and he ran away on one or two former occasions.

On Sunday last with tearful eyes he left home. He had announced his intention of leaving on Saturday and finding he was determined to go his fond mother regretfully put clean clothing upon him and he departed from home with his humble yet comfortable surroundings on the bright Sabbath morning of May 22nd. He and his companion, Carr, made their way to Almy Junction, reaching there on Monday evening. They camped out and made a fire.

In the morning, however, an accident occurred which terminated their trip so far as Vaughan was concerned. While sitting by the fire, Carr was unloading his pistol, a 32 calibre, and the weapon was discharged. The bullet imbedded itself in the left thigh of Vaughan who was sitting near by. Vaughan determined to return home. His companion decided to accompany him. The wounded boy walked to the cars and the two succeeded in returning to Ogden the same way they came—by beating a ride on the freight train. They reached here yesterday and Vaughan went home. His parents obtained surgical attention and the bullet was extracted. Thomas now reclines upon a couch with ample time to think of his waywardness.

When a representative of the Herald called at the house to-day, the boy was resting easily and his mother joyfully stated that he had promised to go to school as soon as he recovers. Of his recovery there is no doubt; the wound is wholly in the flesh and with proper care nothing serious will ensue.

Carr left his home under more surreptitious circumstances. He obtained a week's wages and purchased a pistol for $3, cartridges 50cts., watch $1.00; total, $3.50—the whole of his earnings for one week. He left home unknown to his mother and brothers—his father is dead—and now it is stated he has gone north.

Mrs. Vaughan distinctly stated to the reporter that the shooting of her boy was purely accidental. She attaches no blame to Carr, and this statement was supported by the wounded boy.

It is to be hoped that Thomas' experience will prove to be a good lesson to him, and that he will not want to leave home and parents on a half-brained trip again. The boy stated that he and Carr were going to Evanston to herd sheep.—Ogden Herald, May 26th.

HELPED BY AN ENEMY.

SINGULAR WAY OF AIDING A "MORMON" FAMILY TO EMIGRATE.

The following letter is from Ashville, N. C., under date of May 18th:

Two "Mormon" Elders came to this town a few days ago and baptized three souls, Robert Kups and his wife and a niece of mine, Miss Crosby. It soon leaked out that the Elders were here and at my house. I went to work this morning as usual and was met by the foreman of the job, who said: "Smith, you must hunt another job; you can't work here any longer." I asked him what I had done that I was discharged. He said: "Mr. John Hart (the contractor) would not work a Mormon if he knew it." I told him I had belonged to the "Mormon" Church nearly five years and I thought that was a poor way to convince me that I was wrong. He said: "Smith, you are a good brick layer and a good hand to work; but you can't work here any longer."

After awhile I saw Mr. Hart (the contractor) and he talked a long time with me, and said all manner of evil about Joseph Smith, Brigham Young and the present leaders of the Church. At length he said: "Smith, I like you as a man, but I am sorry for you, as I have heard most of the contractors say they would not give you a lick of work to do on account of your belief, and

YOU WILL HAVE TO LEAVE TOWN."

I said: "Mr. Hart you are mistaken; I will get work in this town for I have not done anything to be discharged for, and the God that leads the Latter-day Saints will raise up a man that will give me work in this town, and you may write that down."

There were several standing around who heard what was said. Mr. Hart then said: "Smith, I will give you a word of advice; you get on the train in the morning and go to Utah and take your family." I answered: "I came here to try to make money enough to go there, but now you have discharged me and how am I to go without money? My family are not able to walk there, and I can't go without money." He said: "Smith, I am sorry for you; I am satisfied that you are but you have been lead away by those infernal "Mormons." I will offer you work on one condition. "Let's hear the terms," said I. He answered, "If you will save all the money that I pay you, over your support, and lay it up until you get enough to go to Utah, and leave Ashville, and not spend any of the money in helping to establish your doctrine here in Ashville, but will use it in going to Utah, you may go to work and work to that end."

I told him I would accept his offer, and gave my word in the presence of witnesses, that I would save my money and as soon as I had enough would take my family, leave Ashville, and go to Utah. So I will go to work again to-morrow.

They told me to tell the Elders if they did not leave at once they would cowhide them. I delivered the message to Elders Crowther and Hyner. They are making preparations to leave.

I guess I have been spending my money a little too freely, and the Lord wanted to bind me up to be a little more saving with it. It looks like that was the way of it, since I had to bind myself in the presence of witnesses that I would save it from now on. John Hart thinks he is working against the "Mormons," but he is doing just what I have wanted some one to do for a long time. He has promised to give me a job until I can make money to go west on, just what I have been wanting for a long time. He has been giving me two dollars per day, and from now on I look for my wages to be raised, as he seems to want to help me off. I fully believe that he will raise my wages.

So our God raised up a friend for me, and Mr. Hart was the man, and my words came to pass, but he can't see it. If you see anything in this worth publishing you can do so; every word is truth, and I am responsible for it.

Your Brother in the New and Everlasting Covenant,

JAMES ALLEN SMITH.

RANSACKING THE TEMPLE.

A SACRED EDIFICE INVADDED AND SEARCHED BY DEPUTY MARSHALS.

The Manti Sentinel gives the following account of the searching of the Manti Temple by deputy marshals on Tuesday, the 24th inst:

Deputy marshals Dykes, Clawson and Ether opened the ball in Sanpete County this morning, by making the first raid under the Edmunds law in cohabitation cases. At about 5 o'clock this morning the family of Bishop William T. Reid were aroused by the summons of the marshals armed with a warrant and prepared to arrest the head of the household. After a fruitless search over the house, the worthies subpoenaed Mrs. Reid, her two sons, and the hired girl to appear during the September term of court at Provo, and took their way to the home of the alleged second wife, where another search was instituted. The object of their desires was nowhere to be found.

The next step was to demand of the guards an

ENTRANCE TO THE TEMPLE.

This was peremptorily denied until a warrant was produced, when Luther T. Tuttle, the President of the Temple Association, was summoned to conduct the ungracious visitors. When the door was opened the trio stepped inside, and, in order to make the quest thoroughly searching, Ether put himself at the head of the party and trotted up the stairway leading to the top of the northwest tower. The search there was also unsuccessful, and the deputies without more ado, drove away toward Ephraim.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY MAY 28.

Arrest at Ephraim.—On Monday last, the 23d inst., Bishop C. C. N. Dorius, of Ephraim, Sanpete County, was arrested at that place on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. He was taken before Commissioner Jacob Johnson and placed under bonds to await the grand jury's action.

Edward Brain Arrested.—About noon to-day Edward Brain was arrested on a charge of unlawful cohabitation, for which offense he has already suffered one term of imprisonment. He was taken before Commissioner McKay and released on $1,000 bail to appear on Tuesday for the preliminary examination.

Examination of Medical Students.—This forenoon an examination of members of Dr. Ellis R. Shipp's class in obstetrics was held by Doctors Anderson, Richards and Bower, and the following were given certificates: Mrs. Mantie J. Shipp, of Beaver, Mrs. Anna Nohr, of Arizona, Mrs. Olive Stringham, of Holden, Millard County, Miss Martha McKelley, of Charleston, Idaho, Misses Minnie and Annie Christenson, of Gunnison, Sanpete County, and Misses Katie Wells and Annie Richards of Salt Lake City. The examination exercises were followed by a collation, and a pleasant time of social enjoyment.

The Coming Railway.—The Laramie Boomerang has come to the conclusion that the new railroad headed this way is the one thing which, if not absolutely essential is most needed to develop the resources of that country. Next week, it says, will probably bring some news from the directors of the Denver, Utah & Pacific Railway, from New York, and if it is favorable, people will then know what to count on in starting any new enterprise. The great need of an independent line to Denver is seen more plainly every day and in the most trifling as well as the most important matters that come up. With the new line everything is possible, without it the struggle must continue as it has begun. There is no compromise now.

Gave Himself Up.—Last evening, Deputy Marshals Pratt and Franks went to Big Cottonwood to arrest Mr. Thomas A. Wheeler, on the charge of unlawful cohabitation, but that gentleman not being in the house he was not captured. Mr. Wheeler had no particular desire to evade the officers, but dislikes the unpleasant trick they have recently been indulging in, that of making arrests too late in the evening to secure bondsmen, thereby getting an excuse for throwing a man into the penitentiary over night. For this reason he "sat on the fence and watched them go by," figuratively speaking, and this morning came in and gave himself up. He went before Commissioner McKay waived examination, and gave $1,500 bail to await the result of the grand jury's investigation.

Another Child Drowned.—Last Saturday a three year old son of Edward Bradshaw, of Almy, was drowned. Mr. Bradshaw lives near the Bear River bridge on the Woodruff road, and at this season of the year the high waters form a number of sloughs and little streams on the lowlands in that vicinity. At about 4 o'clock on Saturday, a sister of the boy, six years old, attempted to lead him across one of these streams on a slab. At this point the water was about two and a half feet deep and running rapidly. The slab was almost floating, and when they reached the middle it turned and threw them into the stream. The girl managed to get out and scream for help, but the little boy floated down stream. Mr. John Plowman was about two hundred yards away at the time, and hearing the little girl's screams, ran to the place. He found the unfortunate boy about sixty yards from where he fell in, and when taken out of the water life was extinct. Coroner Code was sent for, and going over on Sunday and inquiring into the facts of the case, did not think it necessary to hold an inquest. The remains were interred on Monday. The bereaved family have our deepest sympathy.—Evanston Chief, May 26.

An Impracticable Scheme.—A St. Louis paper is responsible for the statement that "a gigantic scheme has been inaugurated to consolidate all the cattle interests of the northwest, and form a company which shall control $10,000,000 worth of cattle and grazing lands. It seems to have originated with the Wyoming Stock Association of Cheyenne, and is the outgrowth of the combination of smaller cattlemen into companies which has been going on for several years. This scheme has been formed for organizing the largest cattle company ever known, controlling hundreds of thousands of cattle, and ranges larger than many states. The failure of the Swan Brothers brought matters to a focus rather unexpectedly. The plan is to unite the Wyoming, Colorado, Eastern Utah, Western Nebraska, Southern Montana and Southern Dakota associations into one gigantic company, each absolutely surrendering his individual herd and ranch, and receiving a proportionate amount of stock in return. A similar association has been recently formed in Texas, but far less complete in its organization. The danger of throwing upon the market a large amount of stock at an unfavorable time will thus be entirely obviated and such disasters as followed the Indian Territory sales rendered impossible. Periodical depressions, necessitating the weaker ranchmen to sell unmatured stock at ruinous prices, have been disastrous at times, and consolidation will in a great measure, if not entirely, relieve this. The fear of disastrous consequences of the Swan failure compelled the cattlemen to take immediate action, and delegates were sent to New York, London and Edinburgh to impress upon the capitalists of these cities, who agreed to go into the enterprise, the necessity of immediate action, which they have done with commendable activity. Those connected with the enterprise are Sturgis, Lane, Carey, Davis and Clarke of Cheyenne, and Ulrich and Havemeyer of New York, together with a number of Scotch and English capitalists and some from Boston and Philadelphia. Those gentlemen already control fully half of the stock in Wyoming and have the support of nearly all the rest of that territory. The cattle will be apportioned to the ranges, the water supply fairly divided, and the productive region largely increased."
