ADJACENT CITIES

OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, - FEB. 19, 1894.

Notes and News.

Herbert Partridge of Minneota, a U. P. railway conductor, died at the Central last Sunday morning at 7:50. The cause of death is said to have been brain fever, from which he has been suffering for some weeks. Last night it was thought that he had crossed for the better, but relapsing another change this morning dies at the time above stated. His remains will be shipped over the U. P. tonight for Minneota for interment.

Hon. C. M. Fortmann of Louisville, Ky., is here representing The Early Times Distillery company.

The Castle valley train was four hours late yesterday, the cause of the delay being a snow drift between here and Castle Junction.

Bands were fired Saturday with the enemy cleth by the officers and directors of the Plymouth Rock Building & Loan association.

Judge L. R. Hindes will hence to politics in the City hall tomorrow night. Seats will be reserved for ladies, and all are invited to attend. The lecture will, no doubt, be an interesting one.

The entrance on Twenty-fifth street, known as the Rio Tio, was closed Saturday at 3 o'clock under a chattle mortgage held by H. H. Rogers on the furniture and fixtures.

Miss Lillian Edgington, niece of Hon. F. D. Cilt, of Salt Lake City, spent Sunday in Ogden with her friends.

Officers Silvery and Burton arrested J. Huntley on the corner of Lincoln and Twenty-fifth Sunday morning for soliciting alms.

William Douglas was arrested yesterday on Twenty-fifth street between Grant and Washington by Officer McMann for being drunk.

Gus McAtee was arrested by Officer George Sutton on Twenty-fifth street last night, charge not yet filed.

Two cars of emigrants from the east passed through here yesterday bound for California.

The Utah Northern pay car came in and went north this morning.

Superintendent Joseph Young came in this morning on a U. P. special car.

Hon. C. C. Goodwin returned home from Washington, D. C., last night.

Mr. Marmi Pouter went to the capital on business for the A. H. Cannon book store.

A. E. Hyde, manager of the Bullion-Beck, is in town today.

PARK CITY.

PARK CITY, - FEB. 19, 1894.

In Nine and Mill.

Quite an excitement was caused here during the early part of the week by the rumor that the mills in Salt Lake had resumed. In this rumor was a faint ray of hope for silver, but the later reports put a damper on all the prospects of silver being revived this winter. The mines here still keep working away with odds against them of making any money for the stockholders. Even with the low price of silver and lead the Ontario, Daly, Anchor and Silver King keep up their regular shipments of ore and bullion.

The Ibex-stamp mill owned by Vance & Co. in the lower part of the town, to treat the tailings from the various mills, which run through the sluice, is about ready to start operations. The promoters of this scheme claim that a large amount of good concentrates can be saved by their means of treatment and that it will furnish steady employment for quite a number of men.

Cold Weather.

During the past week the Park has been treated to a great variety of weather. The heavy wind storm which visited the valley did not reach here, but the thermometer registered the coldest weather of the season last Friday, while the remainder of the week has been at alternate cold and mild weather, with an abundance of snow.

Notes.

Mrs. D. C. McLaughlin is rapidly recovering from a severe sickness, and will soon be entirely well again.

W. V. Rice, D. C. McLaughlin and E. C. Williamson were passengers to Salt Lake Tuesday afternoon.

The "chain gang" in the Park has been busy as usual lastnight the large amount of snow which was deposited on the street during the winter.

But very little coal is being brought into town at present, as all the mines and mills have their ties but in the top, and only the daily supply is now being hauled.

Mr. J. J. Daly came out from the city last Monday to distribute pay checks to the employees of the Daly-West property. He returned over on Tuesday afternoon.

Park City is not overrun with idlers as one would suppose, as it is the general custom here with the men when they are out of employment to flock to Salt Lake, where they think that there is better prospect for work.

It is expected that a large delegation of Park City people will attend the ball of the Salt Lake Lodge on the eve of Washington's birthday, in honor of the members of the Legislature. We are all proud of our member, Mr. Member Emery.

Mr. B. C. Chambers arrived in the Park Yesterday, accompanied by the familiar cardcal containing pay checks for the many men employed at the Ontario and Daly mines and mills. The appearance of this particular cardcal is always a welcome sight.

The new administration of the city is rather lenient with the gamblers at present, as several hours have spent with on the ground floor during the past week, and much complaint is heard from the better class of citizens protesting against this nonchalance of authority.

There is a great deal of sickness in the Park at the present time, mostly amongst adults, and for the most part of a very mild nature. It is thought that they caught amount for it, as it was expressed with the thorough cleaning up of the city last year that the "last Would" are less virulent than usual.

Jury Committee, an old resident of the camp, died Wednesday at his home down town, after a lingering and painful sickness. His funeral took place today from the Masonic Hall, and was conducted by the Masons, of which society he had long been an active member.

The Dick Cecilia is having brought to Park City some of Denver's fire and brimstone, and seems to be doing the thing in good shape. The tent is pretty well filled every night, and a few more revivals here, and many improvements made on the inside of the tent.

Several large funerals have taken place here in Park City. Park Safety, it appears that many who claim that now those funerals are an excuse for a holiday and lost time, to pass by the many large funerals which take place upon the efforts of the people from the coast. This fact and lose position should not be allowed, and the officers of the law should see to it that it is acted a few of those who indulge in racing on the public streets of the city.

THE TRANSITION TRAIN.

Delayed Dates Strictly Reserved to San Francisco and Return at About One-half the Usual Cost.

It will not be news to the many readers of the DESERET NEWS that there is now in progress to San Francisco an International Mining Exposition. But much this concerted and tremendous enterprise, what may be seen there, its daily doings, and why it is the duty and interest of all to go, will be news of a character eagerly sought by every one who reads.

In the first place, what may be seen there. Since August 24th last there has grown up in Golden Gate Park the most beautiful group of industrial palaces that the western sun ever shone upon, and it will be the wonder of the world for years to come how these five main exposition buildings and their accessories and lesser architectural adjuncts sprang into being as if at a wave of the wand.

There is a palace of Manufactures and Liberal Arts, a palace of Mechanic Arts, a palace of Horticulture and Agriculture, a palace of Fine Arts, and a palace of Administration. Building and these are finished and filled with exhibits from every quarter of the globe—material evidences of every industry and art.

To these main buildings have been added special state and county buildings, in which the products of different sections are emphatically patronized. Many of California's neighboring states have erected exposition structures of their own, and not a few of her own counties have added county buildings to the group. The area of the California Midwinter Exposition is nearly two hundred acres, and it includes more than seventy structures.

Some of these buildings, as works of architectural art, are superior to the buildings of the Columbian Exposition, and comparent critics have said that for gracefulness and perfection of landscape effects this midwinter display in Golden Gate Park surpasses all efforts ever made in that direction. This is largely due to the great city of Nature and the happy selection of a site by the promoters. The Park has world-wide fame for its great natural beauty, independently of its recent acquisition. Combine with this the artistic arrangement of these splendid architectural monuments, and the effect must be simply incomparable.

The grandest engineering feature of the Exposition is the Electrical Tower, which rises in an elevation of 372 feet from the center of the quadrangle surrounded by the four great palaces. Elevators ascend almost to the top, and at stated intervals are those convenient balconies, the highest 200 feet above ground level, affording magnificent views of the grounds, park and surroundings for miles in all directions. From the top are operated two powerful Rush lights, and the sides are a succession of dazzling and variegated incandescent bulbs, which at night-time light up with intensified splendor the whole magic setting.

It has been the endeavor of the management to make the Midwinter Fair distinctive of the Midwinter Fair distinctive of western life, though national enterprise has not been lacking to make many foreign features conspicuous. Among the latter may be mentioned, as meriting special attention, the reproduction of Heidelberg Castle, which represents an expenditure of $60,000. For the average Eastern traveler this will include a description. The most novel of the same kind is the Cliff Dwellers' exhibit of "the Veterans." Then there is the Public Plaza (Vienna), where refreshments are accompanied by grand concerts and vocal concerts. Also of old Paris, a Turkish theater, street in Cairo, a Cafe Chantant, Alaska village, Japanese tea gardens, Chinese villages, a grotesque of the famous Hawaiian volcanoes, and numerous other attractions may be found among the grounds and pavilions.

To tonight the coast of the old argonaut is a gentle mining camp in full operation, the whole lots with their dwellings, typical of the days of '49, fashions, cowboys and burning miners.

Special days have been set apart throughout the full season for the individual observance and celebration by the various interests represented. For instance, Engineers, Farmers, Dairymen, Dairy, Cattle, Horse, etc., and several American states, Pacific Coast states and counties, societies and industries, each have their special day of jubilee, and these jubilees will be memorable events.

But the question of most serious moment in connection with the Midwinter Fair, by how are we all going there?

Answered in a twinkle. The SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY has made to the special occasion the most liberal rates ever offered for the benefit of the public, and placed within very reach of every person on the Pacific Coast who desires to visit San Francisco and the Fair, for the season of a lifetime or visit her many other attractions of California. It may be a long time before such a rare chance for opportunity as this is offered.

Any further information either in relation to the Fair or California is desired, may be obtained by calling on or addressing
