WORK OF IDAHO LEGISLATURE.

Great Interest Takes in Anti-Gambling Measures.

A TIE VOTE ON LICENSING.

Only Twelve More Days to Complete the Work of the Session—Important Measures Pending.

Special Correspondence.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 19.—There have been many interesting events in the legislature since the opening on January second, but none so exciting as the final issue resulted in the attempt at gambling in this territory. It was the hardest kind of a fight, in which the anti-gambling bill was carried into law two weeks ago, and ever since then the friends of the gamblers have been trying to render it null and void into existence. They introduced a bill for this purpose, licensing, placing a yearly license of the amount of $2,000 upon the high tables, thereby in the senate it came to a tie vote, and the bill came up for final passage. The amendment was lost by a vote of 12 to 12, but they intend to attempt it, but they intend now vote. President Hutchinson ordered the roll call, and the result was a tie vote, as follows:

For the Bill—Adams, Crooch, Fogg, Hays, Hutchinson, Kinney, McDonald, Poole, Wright, Watts—10.

Against the Bill—Boyle, Brigham, Carey, Eastman, Hawley, Hunter, Lemhi, Minnie, McMartin, Price, Stone—10.

Today, one of the friends of the bill, left Boise for the purpose of visiting some of the gambling resorts in the country the day previous, and Watts, the leader of the gambling forces, at Boise, telegraphed to Price, who was expected with him on the bill, to notify Price of Cassia replied that to his best knowledge he was not expected, but he had agreed on two propositions with the absent senator, but this was not one of them. I think one of them, the senator number bill and the other the Sunday closing measure. He informed the senator that he had given the substance of the bills in a book at the time he made the agreement to pair with the senator, but he was before the bill came up, and he added to go to his room and look through the book. Price complied, and found the president announce the vote. Senator Mallizer rejoined the room after a short absence and asked the privilege of pairing with Senator Dailey was granted. Senator Dailey of Bonner between Senators Price and Mallizer, and the president announced the result, Senators Price and Mallizer voting against the bill, leaving the vote to be in favor of the measure. The friends of the bill were in high glee over this, as they concluded the bill had passed, but Senator Stone's absence was in Washington, and presenting another the action of the president is not decisive, but it is generally believed the bill, and the anti-gambling law, the statute books will be in force. Rule 16 of the senate rules reads: "Every senator present when the question is put, if qualified, shall vote, unless the senate for special reasons shall excuse him, or a member may be excused from voting shall not be in order unless made before the adjournment of the session in which the vote and says, to commenced. Any another requisition to be excused from voting but may make the request, and the reason for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without debate. The violation of this rule will defeat the measure. The gamblers of Idaho now know that they have got to move one.

Some most excellent measures have passed this week among the more important of which are the Bunnell bill, the Bill to Prevent Spreading Contagious Diseases, the Bill to Prevent Spreading Contagious Diseases, the Bill to Prevent Spreading Contagious Diseases
