FRAGMENTS.

The regular meeting of the City Council will be held tonight.

Today the last car of exhibits from the ladies of Utah for the World's Fair was shipped to Chicago.

Judge Henderson returned from Washington last night. He has been engaged in a case in the Supreme court of the United States.

The grand jury is holding another session today. Several minor cases were investigated in the course of the morning.

The county clerk has issued marriage licenses to Oscar Grosbell and Mildred Bowman; Stephen Cowles and Eleanor L. Armstrong of Salt Lake; George O. Olcott and Helen Mae Hammond of Chicago.

Thomas G. Shearman of New York, brother of W. H. Shearman, deceased, of this city, gave an interesting lecture on single tax in the Wasatch hall last night, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association debating club.

A span of large horses attached to a furniture moving van ran away on South East Temple street about 9 o'clock this morning. Between Fourth and Fifth South the outfit veered to the side of the street and collided with a telephone pole and came to a sudden stop. A $10 blacksmith bill will cover the damages.

The president of the civil service commission (Mr. Thos. Lyman) has written to Postmaster Nash of this city, stating that owing to inadequate appropriations for traveling expenses for the civil service examiners for the current fiscal year, it had been found necessary to cancel the examination scheduled for Salt Lake in May until after June 30, when the appropriation for the next fiscal year would be available.

Governor Thomas has received from Assistant Secretary of War Grant information that there is a balance to the credit of Utah on account of arming and equipping militia, amounting to $[illegible], of which $[illegible] is available for ordnance and stores only, and $[illegible] for both ordnance and quartermaster's stores. The whole amount can not now be drawn against until the Territory has complied with the requirements of an act concerning the establishment of militia.

The Saltair-Rumel Cases.

In the cases of J. H. Rumel, Sr., vs. the Saltair Railway company and the Saltair Railway company vs. J. H. Rumel et al., damage and condemnation proceedings, the jury in Judge Bartch's court at a late hour yesterday afternoon returned the subjoined verdict:

"We the jurors impanneled in the above case, find the issue for the plaintiff (the Saltair Railway company), condemning the lands described in the complaint as necessary for the use of the plaintiff as right of way for its railway and assess the defendant, John H. Rumel, Sr., damages for value of land and other damages at $1,700 and value of fence $67. We also find that the other defendants have no interest in said land and are not entitled to any damages."

Toquerville to the Fore.

Probate Judge Blair has married two couples from Toquerville within a week. In both these cases the bridegroom had reached the ripe age of seventy. In the one instance the bride had seen twenty-five summers, while over the fair head of the other twice that number had passed. The judge has been quite busy of late tying nuptial knots. Two more yesterday afternoon.

An Army of Canvassers to Take the Field

FOR THE SALT LAKE & PACIFIC.

List of the Names Suggested to Form the Railroad Subscription Committee.

Last night Messrs. M. J. Gray, J. H. Bacon, F. H. Auerbach, L. P. Kelsey and W. H. Rowe, the committee appointed by the Salt Lake & Pacific Railroad committee to present a list of 100 men to canvass for subscriptions for the proposed railroad west, met and completed their work. Instead of 100 names, however, they made out a list of 400 business men to form the canvassing committee.

These 400 are requested to meet with the other committees at the Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, to organize and arrange for the work before them. The 400 selected are:

[illegible]

WORK OF THE COUNTY COURT.

The Equalization of School Districts.—Road Supervisors.—Trans-Mississippi Congress.

Subsequent to the morning proceedings in the County court, as reported in yesterday's News, the following matters came up:

The Territorial insane asylum sent in a bill for $[illegible] for the care of Mrs. Jane Holt from September 13, 1885, to March 9, 1886, being half the amount due up to the date upon which the Territory assumed the entire expense of keeping the indigent insane. The matter was referred to Selectman Hamburger.

IN THE CITY HOSPITALS.

The county physician reported patients in the city hospitals as follows: St. Mark's 2, St. Mary's 1, Deseret 2, total 5. Filed.

RESIGNED AND ACCEPTED.

John G. Rapp, road supervisor of district No. 23, sent in his resignation on account of sickness in his family, which prevented him from attending to the duties of his office. Accepted.

William M. Miller was appointed road supervisor of district No. 7, in place of Joseph Murdock.

TO THE TRANS-MISSISSIPPI CONGRESS.

To represent Salt Lake county at the Transmississippi Congress which convenes at Ogden April 24th, the following were named as delegates:

Salt Lake City—O. W. Powers, James F. Woodman, C. E. Allen and I. J. Startuck.

Murray—Harry Haynes and L. S. Austin.

Alta—T. W. Buzz and H. C. Walker.

Bingham—F. L. Cushing and William J. Strickley.

Sandy—Wells Clark and T. E. Marfiet.

SCHOOL DISTRICT.

The petition of certain residents of school district No. 41 was taken up and granted. The petitioners showed to the court that on July 1, 1892, the said district was the owner in fee of property used for school purposes to the value of $10,000. That on the date aforesaid school district No. 49 was annexed to and made a part of said district No. 40. The aforesaid district No. 49 was possessed of no property whatever, and the petitioners prayed that the County court direct the assessor of the county to levy a special tax on the property formerly in the Forty-ninth district to pay such proportion of the cost of said school property as the assessed valuation of the Forty-ninth district was in proportion to the assessed valuation of the Fortieth district. The following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, This court on July 1st, 1892, by its order consolidated school districts Nos. 40 and 49 of Salt Lake county as one district under the designation of school district No. 40; and

Whereas, It is shown to the court that said former district No. 40 has and had at the time of said resolution, school property to the value of not less than $10,000, and that said former district No. 49 had at said time no school property, now, therefore, in order to equitably adjust the property rights and burdens of the said two former districts, be it

Resolved, that there be and is hereby ordered and levied for the purpose of effecting such adjustment, a tax of 1½ per cent upon each dollar of assessed valuation upon all the taxable property, real and personal, in that portion of said consolidated school district No. 40, which prior to the aforesaid consolidation constituted district No. 49, and further described as follows, to wit: Bounded on the north by the highway commonly known as Tenth South street, on the west by the Jordan river, on the south by the highway commonly known as Thirteenth South street, and on the east by the highway commonly known as Second West street. And that the clerk of this court be and is hereby instructed to transmit forthwith to the county assessor a certified copy of this resolution.

Adjourned till next Monday.

DEATH OF MRS. JOS. BARTON.

Three Times was She Operated Upon by Surgeons, but with Only Temporary Relief.

The many friends of Hon. Joseph Barton will be greatly pained to learn of the death of his beloved wife Mary Ann, who peacefully passed away, at their home in Ogden, on Sunday morning, April 16, 1893, at 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. Barton had been afflicted with cancer in the breast for several years past, and had undergone the trying ordeal of the surgeon's knife three times within the past two years. Each time she rallied from the operation, but the dread disease returned, and early in July of last year she was taken to her bed, where she remained until the messenger of death released her from her long and weary confinement. During the past two years she has been a great sufferer but without complaining, and even in the face of death directed how her funeral should be conducted. Mrs. Barton was a noble woman, a faithful wife, a loving mother and a true friend. She was born at London, England, on the 20th day of November, 1832, and was consequently 60 years of age. She leaves a husband, six children, and a host of friends to mourn her demise.

Friends of the family will be permitted to view the remains at the residence, No. [illegible] Madison avenue, on Wednesday morning from 9:30 to 10:30 o'clock, at which hour the body will be taken to the railway depot and from thence to Kaysville by the 11:30 Union Pacific train. The funeral will be held at the Kaysville meeting house at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Friends are invited.

MEETING HOUSE BURNED.

The Morgan Tabernacle Takes Fire While Sunday School is in Session.

The Morgan Stake Tabernacle was destroyed by fire on Sunday. It caught fire about 11:30 o'clock, while the children were occupying it for Sunday school. The fire was caused by a stovepipe leaning against the roof. The stovepipe was conducted through the window on the west side of the building, ran up about five feet above the eaves of the roof and made fast to an iron frame. The great wind on the 6th instant blew the pipe over, so that it was leaning against the roof, but it had not been noticed before the fire occurred. The fire spread over the whole roof in a few minutes. The school was notified quietly as soon as the fire was seen, and the children quietly escorted out of the building. The people went to work and got the organ out and the most of the seats. Ladders were brought and men went on to the roof of the vestry and by means of buckets threw water on the roof after the fire was started and put it out. The vestry and upper room were saved. Nothing but the walls of the meeting house are left standing. There was but little wind blowing at the time, or other buildings would have gone. The tithing hay shed was only fifty feet from the meeting house, but did not catch fire. The loss will be about $3000. The building was not insured.

Today's Probate Court.

Judge Blair this morning made the following orders:

Estate of John H. Rumel, Jr., deceased. Hearing on petition for sale of personal property. Order granted allowing administratrix to sell certain mining stocks.

Estate of Frank Nuxoll, deceased. Hearing on petition for letters of administration. M. P. Wells appointed administrator.

Estate of Henry C. Fowler, deceased. Hearing on petition for family allowance. Order made allowing $0 per month from date of decedent's death.

Estate of Mary Ann Angell Young, deceased. Le Grand Young, Oscar Moyle, and James Jack appointed administrators.

Estate of Emma A. Williams, deceased. Hearing on petition for letters of administration. Jerome C. Williams appointed administrator on filing a bond of $3000.

Estate of James Shields, deceased. Hearing on return of sale of personal property. Order made as prayed.

Estate of Charlotte Hawkins, deceased. Saturday, April 29th, set for hearing petition for letters of administration with will annexed.

Estate of John J. Coulter, deceased. Order made allowing administratrix to compromise the debt due to the estate.

Estate of Niels Petersen, deceased. Saturday, April 29th, set for hearing petition for order confirming sale of personal property.

An Excellent Picture.

H. Sainsbury, of Sainsbury & Johnson, photographers, finished today a most excellent likeness of the First Presidency. The picture is 20x24 inches in size, and is a gem of the photographic art. It was taken on April 6th—the opening day of the Temple dedication services—and is the first group portrait of the First Presidency as it is now organized.

Mr. Sainsbury also obtained the only views of the Temple taken the morning of April 6, showing the people passing into the southwest door of the Temple. These are taken at three different times, one being when the Church authorities were ascending the steps to the Temple door, another when the choir was entering the building, and the third when the general admission was in progress. These views were secured from the top of the Assembly Hall, and while they present the Temple from a position not usually chosen are also valuable from the fact of showing just how it appeared at the time of dedication.

Died in Florida.

BIG COTTONWOOD, April 17, 1893.

Editor Deseret News:

A funeral of rather unusual circumstances took place here on Sunday morning. It was that of a young, promising lad of less than eighteen years of age, who died April 1, 1893, in Florida. The deceased, Karl J. Larson, had listened to reading boom advertisements, and selected Lady Lake, Lake county, Florida, as the place of his future fortune. On his arrival he obtained a "tree" lot by paying for it, or by paying expenses, etc., which was equal to a purchase price. His habits were exemplary, and he possessed such energy that at seventeen years of age he had $500 cash in a Salt Lake bank. This amount he had earned by industry and economy. He was beloved and respected and had a very good outlook before him here, but he was captivated by the flowery tales of Florida. There he purchased fifteen acres of land, cleared three acres and planted it in orange trees. He opened a bank account, hired men, and was clearing up more land. The hot weather and poor water in exchange for the balmy air and pure mountain streams of Utah, soon reduced him with typhoid fever, and he succumbed to death's grasp. After being buried the body was taken up, placed in a metallic coffin, and sent to Salt Lake City. The funeral was largely attended, the services being held in the shade of trees near the house of his grief-stricken parents. The speakers were Elders Edward Stevenson, Steffenson and David Brinton.
