The Evening paper is the paper of Today, the morning paper is the paper of Yesterday.

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

5 O'clock -EDITION.-

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 106. THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1894, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVII.

A STARTLING PLOT.

Intrigues for the Restoration of the Hawaiian Queen.

AN APPEAL TO ENGLAND FOR HELP.

The Presence of Mr. Davies at Washington Connected With the Plan Outlined.

CHICAGO, March 29.—A rather startling plot has been disclosed while Mr. Davies, the guardian of Princess Kaiulani, has been in Washington. Telegrams received here from the coast state that the queen with the assistance of England and a British protectorate in the Hawaiian islands.

Mr. Davies is a thorough Englishman, his sympathies are entirely with Great Britain and he now goes to represent her fallen majesty at the court of St. James in the affair. The plan is to have the queen proclaim her sovereignty and then proceed at once to the British legation, which is immediately across the street from the palace, where she will remain under the sovereignty for protection on the ground that her life is in danger. Mr. Wrenthorne, the British minister, will now give her an escort and give her the protection she desires. It is undoubtedly in connection with this affair that Mr. Davies has visited Washington and has had given the advice of the intentions of her majesty to the President and secretary of state.

GRIM HUMOR.

The C. P. Change to Partly English Stockholders.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—T. H. Hubbard, who is attorney for Edward Harriman, and who was the representative of the English interests in the Central and Southern Pacific companies, said yesterday that the significance in the recent change in the Central Pacific directorate was more than anything else, a pantheism of the English shareholders.

The Examiner says: "It is known that these gentlemen are vehemently insisting against the cutting off of their dividends, and something had to be done to quiet their nerves. They objected to a contract concocted by two boards of directors when the personnel of both was almost identical. They were surprised to learn that the directors of the Central and Southern Pacific companies had been making contracts with themselves that disadvantageously affected the interests of an angry creditor. These complaints being heard, the personnel of the Central Pacific was agreed on so that no man should be called on to serve both companies at the same time. Touching the settlement of the bond question, the indebtedness of the Central Pacific to the United States takes the government's assumption of the first mortgage by issuing new bonds to run twenty-five years. Mr. Hubbard said that nothing effective could be done by the company. Isaac L. Rogers, one of the new directors, the Examiner says, is a great personal friend of C. P. Huntington. J. C. B. Gunn, the other director, is not known to have a large interest in the Central Pacific. It is understood that these directors are merely automata, elected to do the bidding of Huntington. The English shareholders have been making inquiries of counsel as to the equitable consideration and in response to these demands C. P. Huntington has directed his agents in the new directorate to make another alteration in the lease between the Southern Pacific and the Central Pacific. The Bulletin's, says the Examiner, asked that the provision for paying $1,500,000 in dividends to Central Pacific shareholders, be restored to the lease. This demand was not acceded to, but Mr. Huntington, who is fond of a joke, has ordered the insertion of a clause which says that the payment of the $1,500,000 in dividends shall be resumed as soon as the earnings of the Central Pacific company shall warrant such action. This is a sample of grim western humor that the Londoners are expected to appreciate and applaud."

Shot by an Officer.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 29.—A dispatch from Danville, Ill., says: W. H. Offner, city marshal of Paris, shot and killed James Gaines, a colored one, last night at Grape creek, near that city, last evening. Gaines was under arrest for stealing an overcoat and some jewelry from Wallace Blackburn, of Paris. Gaines attempted to get his revolver away from Owens and the officer shot him to protect himself. Owens surrendered and is now in jail.

Charged With Stealing Timber.

HURON, Wis., March 29.—United States Marshal Oakley, of Madison, brought William Saunby, the prominent Shiloh lumberman, to this city from Iron last night. He is charged with unlawfully cutting 64,000 feet of government timber in Douglas county, Wis., and will have a hearing before United States Commissioner Helms and bound over to $7,000 bonds to appear at the April term of the circuit court at Madison. Saunby is the fourth lumberman who has been arrested in a like charge.

Singular Cause of Death.

GOSHEN, Ind., March 29.—Thomas H. Daley, cashier of the City National bank, and well known throughout northern Indiana, died suddenly last evening in a dental office from the effects of cocaine, administered to dull pain in extracting teeth. Deceased was fifty years of age, and has served two years as county clerk.

AN ELOPEMENT.

A Tender Youth and a Handsome Lady Go to California.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, March 29.—It is learned here that Mrs. Kingsbury, the handsome and popular young wife of F. E. Kingsbury, chief clerk of the Deere Wells Implement company, has eloped with Harry L. Nason, 18 years old, and a pupil at the high school. The girls with his father, William Nason, one of the prominent businessmen of this city. The couple left this city Monday afternoon over the Union Pacific. Young Nason told a friend that they intended to go to Butte, Montana. Mrs. Kingsbury informed her husband that she was going to Omaha to visit friends, but gave no hint that she would be accompanied on her journey by a gentleman. Whether Mr. Kingsbury had an idea that his wife intended to elope with Nason is not known, but rumors of that sort soon reached him and he soon discovered that his wife and Nason went away in company. Mrs. Kingsbury has always taken an active interest in church and society affairs and has gained a host of admiring acquaintances as well as many close friends. On the second the announcement that she and young Nason had eloped has caused a sensation. Mr. Kingsbury, it is said, has placed the matter in the hands of his attorneys.

Escaped on a Bicycle.

OTTUMWA, Iowa, March 29.—A bicycle last night saved from capture Hal Conner, the Allen desperado, who held the Allen officers at bay last week in a escapade. The officers got wind of his presence here and started to make his capture. When they first caught sight of Conner he was on horseback and a good chase, lasting for two miles followed. Seeing that his pursuers were gaining on him, the desperado dismounted a bicycle which was standing in front of a store and mounting it was soon all like the wind. Before the officers could get a vehicle it is supposed he succeeded in gliding away from them. They have not caught him yet.

BEWARE OF HOUSE PETS.

Cats and Dogs Known to Spread Infectious Diseases.

A Source of Danger to Suffering Humanity Will Watch Careful Investigation.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Household pets are, according to the German Veterinary association, frequent causes of infection in the public. The association has sent a letter to the board of health on the subject. The letter called attention to the fact that dogs and cats are often permitted to remain by the bedside of persons suffering from infectious diseases. The animals are allowed to wander in and out of sick chambers and consequently spread disease among other people. The German veterinary medical association petitions the health board to investigate the question of infection. They ask that in cases of contagious or infectious maladies a system of registry be established, so that persons living with domestic pets and that the animals be put through a thorough process of disinfection.

Will Not Enforce the Law.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, March 29.—Mayor Fletcher, who is at the head of the police department, by virtue of his office, has said that the city administration here will not undertake to enforce the new liquor law known as the Martin law. The eighty saloons of the city will continue to run as of old, and the keepers will be fined $50 each month in the police court for disturbing the peace. In this decision he is sustained by practically his entire council and nearly all the citizens who declare the new law is impracticable and distasteful. Dispatches received here from Fort Dodge, Lemars, Creston, Council Bluffs and several other towns in western Iowa are to the effect that the new law does not answer the purpose and that the old fine system of regulating saloons will be continued.

Stricken with Paralysis.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—L. J. Morion, a pioneer merchant of Grand Rapids, Mich., who with his wife has been touring about the state for several weeks, was stricken with paralysis yesterday afternoon as he was walking on the street. The stroke seemed to affect his eyes only and Mr. Morion became totally blind. Doctors say the blindness is permanent.

A Musician Dead.

LONDON, March 29.—Hayden Parry, the musician, is dead.

Murdered in Africa.

PARIS, March 29.—Advices from Grand Bassam, Western Africa, are to the effect that Pelle, the administrator of that district, has been killed in an engagement with natives. It is reported that Dodney, the administrator of Cassamance, Senegambia, has been murdered by natives.

THE COXEY ARMY.

Fourteen New Recruits This Morning.

SALEM, O., March 29.—Coxey's army passed a pleasant night in two hails and enjoyed fair comfortable accommodations. They breakfasted on coffee, bread and jelly, while the officers had pies and meat. The camps grumbling among the rank and file, but they were quieted with promises. Snow has fallen all night making the roads between Salem and Columbiana very miserable. As Coxey did not arrive on the morning train, orders were given and the start was made at 10 with fourteen new recruits who joined at breakfast. Provision depots are being established along the route and surplus supplies are being shipped ahead. The march continued to fall throughout the morning.

A Stormy Voyage.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The White Star steamer Teutonic arrives from Liverpool after an exceedingly stormy passage. She experienced a hurricane lasting Sunday and Monday, with very high seas. Several of the crew and passengers were severely hurt.

Smallpox in Chicago.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 29.—The state board of health is informed that there are more cases of smallpox in Chicago than ever before known. There were 341 cases reported from March 17 to March 23 so that, if it were better reported necessary. The pest houses are full, over 300 patients being in them. One case is reported at Alton and the disease is reported as having appeared at Hoopeston, Vermilion county.

A Famous Scholar Dying.

CAMBRIDGE, Eng., March 29.—Prof. Hermann Sidgwick, the famous Greek and Latin scholar, librarian of the University of Cambridge and one of the editors of the last edition of Encyclopaedia Britannica, is dying.

Medical Congress.

ROME, March 29.—The international medical congress opened here today.

Parnell's Judge Dead.

LONDON, March 29.—Baron Hannen, lord of appeal in ordinary, is dead. He was president of the commission which tried the charge against Parnell in 1889.

No Cause of Fear.

LONDON, March 29.—Ambassador Bayard, in an interview today in regard to the Behring sea negotiations, said there is perfect good feeling between the two governments in regard to the pains and methods of enforcing award. He stated the idea that there has been danger of contrabanding from the seals was made, saying, in conclusion, "No difficulty whatever need be feared between the United States and Great Britain on this subject."

Two Emperors Meet.

ARKADIA, March 29.—Emperor Francis Joseph was met at the railway station this morning by Emperor William. Triumphal arches spanned the streets through which the two sovereigns passed and an enormous crowd cheered them as they rode by. After being conducted to the residence prepared for him, the emperor of Austria had a visit to the emperor of Germany and partook of luncheon. The emperors will take call on the German emperor's yacht later. Subsequent to a visit to Corfu they go on board the German warship Mosbe.

Thrown Out of Employment.

HAMILTON, Ohio, March 29.—Lakeside and Little here closed down last evening on account of lack of orders and over 200 men and boys are thrown out of employment. The works have been in operation only five weeks after an idleness of six months.

A Cold Wave Out.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, March 29.—The mercury fell rapidly last night and an intense cold wave is on. It is anticipated that much further damage will be done to fruit and crops.

THE MERCURY FALLING.

LUDLOW, Iowa, March 29.—The heavy snow storm ceased late last night, six or eight inches having fallen on a level, considerably drifted. The mercury is falling very rapidly since the snow ceased.

Woman Suffrage.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 29.—About twenty of the leading women of this city interested in church and benevolent work have organized a woman's suffrage association. Mrs. McLendon, a member of an aristocratic family, was elected president. The idea is to discuss the question of woman suffrage so as to have a good report to make to the national association which meets here next year.

THE THREE DAYS' GRACE.

Milwaukee Banks to Give Notice to the Public.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 29.—The last Wisconsin legislature passed a law doing away with the three days' grace on promissory notes, the law to take effect April 8th of this year. There has been considerable discussion as to what effect the law would have on paper issued on or before April 8th. For this reason the bankers of Milwaukee issued the following:

"By the advice of counsel, to whom we have full confidence, the banks of Milwaukee have concluded that the law abolishing the three days' grace in Wisconsin will take effect and be in force April 8th, 1894. We conclude that the act applies to negotiable paper issued on or after April 8, 1894, and not to paper executed prior to that date. We do not believe that the law can apply to negotiable paper in existence at the time it was passed because it would impair the obligation of the contract; nor to negotiable paper executed on or before April 8, 1894, because it does not take effect until that date, and there are no words evinding any intent of the legislature to make the act retroactive."

A SERIOUS PROBLEM.

Iron Pipe Destroyed by an Electric Current.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 29.—The water department was called on last night to repair a leak in a six inch water main. When an excavation was made and the pipe exposed it was discovered that a small section of it had been eaten away by the action of the electric current from the return wire of the St. Louis and Suburban railway. It has been known that these wires have been dangerous when placed in too close proximity to lead pipe, but little is the first time that the experience of the department where the iron pipes have been attacked. It is generally a serious problem as there is no telling it or far this corrosion has extended.

Why He Stole It.

Tom Sullivan, a down-at-the-heel individual, last night stole a hand satchel from a store and then went to the police station, confessed his offense and asked to be locked up. His request was granted and this morning he appeared before Justice Smith and stated that he had stolen the satchel because he was ill and needed a place to rest and keep from starving, and felt that it would be easy and proper thing for him to do to secure food for partaking. This suggestion from the prisoner was quickly acted on and he was sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment in the city jail.

The Same Old List.

Chief Justice Merritt is doing duty on the law and motion calendar this afternoon.

FIRE CHIEF DEVINE.

He Pulls In His Answer to The Writ of Mandate.

MONTAGUE'S GRIEVOUS ILLNESS!

A Crowd Hop at Poore's Hall and the Last Legislature.—Today's Hearing in Court.

The "arrest" of the hearing in Chief Justice Merritt's court was the leading topic with the attendant last week in Fire Chief Devine, at the instance of Charles H. Montague, a disposed plaintiff of the fire department, calling upon the defendant to show cause why the petitioner should not be by him restored to his former position.

The existence of Montague's complaint was that he had been a member of the Salt Lake fire department since the year 1881, and that on March 21st of the present year he was discharged by the defendant without probable cause and without any charges having been preferred against him. The petition was lodged under the provisions of Poore's Fire and Police Commission bill, passed by the late territorial legislature.

The parties to the proceedings were represented respectively by counsel, and by Judge Powers and Attorney U. S. Stump and Fire Chief Devine by City Attorney Hoge.

The defendant, this morning, just after the opening of court, filed his return and answer to the writ, setting forth the various reasons why he thinks the petitioner should not be restored to position of foreman. He denies (1) that Montague was at any time discharged without cause or contrary of law; (2) that the discharge proceedings were in parte, so that no charges had been preferred against him. He then goes into a long and lengthy recital of cases in which he claims he has treated him with esteem in the course of his duties, which produces a most cool and offensive smell, rendering the air in the vicinity of the fire department and adjoining rooms and almost unendurable; that he was periodically affected with fainting and sickness to particular, so much so that the fire department and that at such times the fire chief was compelled to, and did, appoint another person to take his place and act in his stead; that Mr. Devine, as "foreman" in and and tended to lessen the efficiency of the department." That it was necessary in the interests of the fire department where Montague had been heretofore employed for other employes to sleep on alternate nights in the same room occupied by Montague the previous night, and "that he had was rendered offensive from the smell of stench left by him to such as slept with him." That he was noted for his "habitual use of language not fit for any place the law would have on paper issued on or before April 8th. For this reason the baskets of Milwaukee issued the following:

"By the advice of counsel, to whom we have full confidence, the banks of Milwaukee have concluded that the law abolishing the three days' grace in Wisconsin will take effect and be in force April 8th, 1894. We conclude that the act applies to negotiable paper issued on or after April 8, 1894, and not to paper executed prior to that date. We do not believe that the law can apply to negotiable paper in existence at the time it was passed because it would impair the obligation of the contract; nor to negotiable paper executed on or before April 8, 1894, because it does not take effect until that date, and there are no words evinding any intent of the legislature to make the act retroactive."

A SERIOUS PROBLEM.

Iron Pipe Destroyed by an Electric Current.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 29.—The water department was called on last night to repair a leak in a six inch water main. When an excavation was made and the pipe exposed it was discovered that a small section of it had been eaten away by the action of the electric current from the return wire of the St. Louis and Suburban railway. It has been known that these wires have been dangerous when placed in too close proximity to lead pipes, but little is the first time that the experience of the department where the iron pipes have been attacked. It is generally a serious problem as there is no telling it or far this corrosion has extended.

Why He Stole It.

Tom Sullivan, a down-at-the-heel individual, last night stole a hand satchel from a store and then went to the police station, confessed his offense and asked to be locked up. His request was granted and this morning he appeared before Justice Smith and stated that he had stolen the satchel because he was ill and needed a place to rest and keep from starving, and felt that it would be an easy and proper thing for him to do to secure food for partaking. This suggestion from the prisoner was quickly acted on and he was sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment in the city jail.

The Same Old List.

Chief Justice Merritt is doing duty on the law and motion calendar this afternoon.

Fire Chief Devine.

Continued from page 1.

Montague, in his return, said he did not desire to have this matter decided on any technicality, but simply to save the time of the court and the law as to whether the head of any department of the city of Salt Lake was superior and above the Legislature of the Territory of Utah. The question had been raised in these cases of departments either in this city or the city, and they had no power, right or authority to expend or disburse any money under them. He insisted that this act bestows law as soon as the governor signed the same, and says positively remarked that there shall have been a something which moved the Legislature of the Territory to the passage of such a law as this. Counsel then retained to advert to the many needs which had taken place in the most pertinent shall; and both he and Judge Hoge spoke at length upon the law bearing on the subject at issue. This act, said Judge Powers, from beginning to end, certainly provides that men who had been in office it secured to them the rights they had already established, and gave them the reward of building up, here and in Ogden, the particular which were the pride of the city, and which should not be subjected to the whim of the politicians who might be rewarded by a departmental office. Montague, he continued, had no remedy except by mandamus. The intention of the Legislature was to put an end to the rewarding of word politicians and of the near friends of the chiefs of the different departments and hold up here what the Legislature had already been laid down a better fire and police department than existed anywhere else within the United States.

Attorney Stump made some supplementary remarks, and

Judge Hoge made the closing argument, with several hits at Powers. He said, was the father of this bill, but who was its mother? It was hard to imagine; at any rate the mother must have been a "stepmother" to have produced such a bantling as had been now produced in court. (Laughter.) Wouldn't Orlando Powers, if he had a child, wearing suspenders ever has been without pieces of legislation, and one that if there is any possible show for the course of this Territory to place the same in the hands of the judgment upon it should be condemned, this particular bill is one of the many measures that it would be better for the last Legislature to forget the future and damn it almost to eternal infamy." (Laughter.)

Judge Powers had been temporarily absent from the court room while Judge Hoge was referring and referring to the bill as "this bastard bantling," between times he took the first opportunity of remarking—

"The mother was not a Salt Lake City office holder!"

Judge Hoge—The father, I understand, wants to be. (Laughter.)

Judge Powers—Not much; it he has to deal with some of those hoons about him. (Renewed laughter.)

Judge Merritt, at the close of the arguments, which consumed the entire afternoon, intimated that he would render his decision at some time between now and Monday next.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

In the case of Charles Roberts et al vs Salt Lake City et al the demurrer to complaint, argued yesterday, was sustained. An exception was taken and twenty days allowed to amend.

Martin Lewsen vs the Tintic Iron Co, et al. Motion for new trial, also argued on Wednesday, overruled.

J. H. Pritchett et al vs the Brigham Canyon Mining Co. Plaintiff allowed till April 20th to file amended supplemental complaint.

Eighth Ward Entertainment.

The Young Ladies Association of the Eighth ward will give an entertainment on Friday evening, March 30th, in the Eighth ward meeting house commencing at 7:30. The first part of the program will consist of songs, recitations and vocal and instrumental duets, in which Professors Horace S. Ensign, John P. Sheets, Thomas Ashcroft and Mr. John Evans will appear. At 10 o'clock the floors will be cleared and dancing will begin. A fine band and caller are engaged. If you will come you will spend an having a good time. Prizes are for the benefit of the poor. Admission 25 cents.

LAW AND MOTION.

Orders Made On This Calendar By Judge Barich.

In Judge Barich's court today the following orders were entered:

O. W. Morris assignee, vs H. S. Rapp. Demurrer to amended counter claim and cross-complaint sustained.

Utah Loan and Building association vs Isaac V. Jenny et al. Demurrer to complaint sustained; ten days to answer.

Alfred Green et al vs Wm. Atwood. Demurrer to complaint overruled. Motion to strike out part of same sustained; ten days to amend complaint.

Hyrum Lindsay et al vs the Salt Lake Bicycle Co. Motion for a new trial overruled.

Board of Education vs Wm. Lauer et al. Demurrer to answer and cross-complaint of J. A. Smith & Son by defendant Thos. Malloy, and demurrer of defendant Wm. Lauer to same overruled; fifteen days to answer.

The Copper vs Park City Bank. Motion to dissolve writ of attachment sustained. Plaintiff asked for twenty days' stay to prepare and petition appeal and the board of commissioners this evidence, and when it did, from the presumption of law was that the board would necessarily what that section of the law required of him, and report what he had done in the matter for his consideration, and that was the proper construction of the statute, the relentless waters he had merely stated it might happen and the fire department would be materially injured. The counsel denied that this was a violation of the petitioner without any notice, but contended that in the case of suspension it is expected to the board of commissioners when appointed. A word of assurance would a French Dictum.

Judge Clawson, in his reply, said he did not desire to have this matter decided on any technicality, but simply to save the time of the court and the law as to whether the head of any department of the city of Salt Lake was superior and above the Legislature of the Territory of Utah. The question had been raised in these cases of departments either in this city or the city, and they had no power, right or authority to expend or disburse any money under them. He insisted that this act bestows law as soon as the governor signed the same, and says positively remarked that there shall have been a something which moved the Legislature of the Territory to the passage of such a law as this. Counsel then retained to advert to the many needs which had taken place in the most pertinent shall; and both he and Judge Hoge spoke at length upon the law bearing on the subject at issue. This act, said Judge Powers, from beginning to end, certainly provides that men who had been in office it secured to them the rights they had already established, and gave them the reward of building up, here and in Ogden, the particular which were the pride of the city, and which should not be subjected to the whim of the politicians who might be rewarded by a departmental office. Montague, he continued, had no remedy except by mandamus. The intention of the Legislature was to put an end to the rewarding of word politicians and of the near friends of the chiefs of the different departments and hold up here what the Legislature had already been laid down a better fire and police department than existed anywhere else within the United States.

Attorney Stump made some supplementary remarks, and

Judge Hoge made the closing argument, with several hits at Powers. He said, was the father of this bill, but who was its mother? It was hard to imagine; at any rate the mother must have been a "stepmother" to have produced such a bantling as had been now produced in court. (Laughter.) Wouldn't Orlando Powers, if he had a child, wearing suspenders ever has been without pieces of legislation, and one that if there is any possible show for the course of this Territory to place the same in the hands of the judgment upon it should be condemned, this particular bill is one of the many measures that it would be better for the last Legislature to forget the future and damn it almost to eternal infamy." (Laughter.)

Judge Powers had been temporarily absent from the court room while Judge Hoge was referring and referring to the bill as "this bastard bantling," between times he took the first opportunity of remarking—

"The mother was not a Salt Lake City office holder!"

Judge Hoge—The father, I understand, wants to be. (Laughter.)

Judge Powers—Not much; it he has to deal with some of those hoons about him. (Renewed laughter.)

Judge Merritt, at the close of the arguments, which consumed the entire afternoon, intimated that he would render his decision at some time between now and Monday next.

SHERIFF'S SALES.

In the case of Charles Roberts et al vs Salt Lake City et al the demurrer to complaint, argued yesterday, was sustained. An exception was taken and twenty days allowed to amend.

Martin Lewsen vs the Tintic Iron Co, et al. Motion for new trial, also argued on Wednesday, overruled.

J. H. Pritchett et al vs the Brigham Canyon Mining Co. Plaintiff allowed till April 20th to file amended supplemental complaint.

Eighth Ward Entertainment.

The Young Ladies Association of the Eighth ward will give an entertainment on Friday evening, March 30th, in the Eighth ward meeting house commencing at 7:30. The first part of the program will consist of songs, recitations and vocal and instrumental duets, in which Professors Horace S. Ensign, John P. Sheets, Thomas Ashcroft and Mr. John Evans will appear. At 10 o'clock the floors will be cleared and dancing will begin. A fine band and caller are engaged. If you will come you will spend an having a good time. Prizes are for the benefit of the poor. Admission 25 cents.

LAW AND MOTION.

Orders Made On This Calendar By Judge Barich.

In Judge Barich's court today the following orders were entered:

O. W. Morris assignee, vs H. S. Rapp. Demurrer to amended counter claim and cross-complaint sustained.

Utah Loan and Building association vs Isaac V. Jenny et al. Demurrer to complaint sustained; ten days to answer.

Alfred Green et al vs Wm. Atwood. Demurrer to complaint overruled. Motion to strike out part of same sustained; ten days to amend complaint.

Hyrum Lindsay et al vs the Salt Lake Bicycle Co. Motion for a new trial overruled.

Board of Education vs Wm. Lauer et al. Demurrer to answer and cross-complaint of J. A. Smith & Son by defendant Thos. Malloy, and demurrer of defendant Wm. Lauer to same overruled; fifteen days to answer.

The Copper vs Park City Bank. Motion to dissolve writ of attachment sustained. Plaintiff asked for twenty days' stay to prepare and petition appeal

WATERWORKS TEST.

The System at Forest Dale Found to Work Satisfactorily.

LARGE SUPPLY OF GOOD WATER.

From the Fire Hydrants, Water Can be Thrown Over a Three-Story Building.

Last evening a number of both were made of the new waterworks system in Forest Dale, south of the city, which proved in every way satisfactory. In case of fire a twenty-story building can be easily covered up a stream of water from the hydrants in the upper part of the town, and in the central and lower portion immensely smaller can be thrown over, so the water will go to a height of over 100 feet. This is by the pressure on the mains alone. When the proposition which has been made to put in a fire engine is carried out buildings of any size will have full protection.

A few days the suggestion was made that a Spanish-fork system should be put in the pretty residence town, and the property holders organized the Forest Dale water company. Various methods were examined and estimates secured. The company incorporated and the county granted a franchise authorizing laying of pipes in all that section of country.

In early days the water was developed from springs above Forest Dale, and was used for what was the well known Forest Farm, then owned by President Young, so that the land owners there also became the owners of the water. For this there have been numerous law suits, substantial reservoirs to protect the springs from being tainted by stocks or other means. These springs now furnish 1,182,000 gallons of water per day of 24 hours, nearly one-fifth as much as City creek, and half as much as Kinkaid's creek, so the supply is abundant for all purpose. An analysis of the water showed it to be of excellent quality.

To be paying for the system is of one item, of the same grade as the city waterworks system. It was purchased of the Cooperative Wagon and Machine company, except so much of it as could be made at home. The fire hydrants and every piece that could be produced at home were secured here, and those that could not did the work in putting in the system. From the reservoir the first pipes are 10 inch; further down the system it is only five and six inches, and as the water is distributed the mains are brought down to 4 inch, with laterals of 3 inch pipe.

Ten fire hydrants have been placed in position, arranged in such manner that every house in Forest Dale is within a block of a fire hydrant. The value of this arrangement can be easily understood as all the houses in the interior of the district are within reach of two hydrants. The water was turned into the system last January and has been running ever since, and quite a number of the residents have had it in their houses for some time, while others are connecting their dwellings with the mains. But the official test of the efficiency of the company was not made until out evening, when everything was found in suitable shape.

THAT BOMBSHELL.

Belief That an Attempt Was Made to Fire the Deadly Device.

The police authorities are, so far as the public know, just as much in the dark today regarding the identity of the manufacturer of the bomb found yesterday as they were last night. It was stated, however, that a clue had been obtained that may lead to important disclosures, but if such is the case the officers are discreet enough to regale their own methods, so they have no particulars to give out just yet.

The utmost vigilance, however, is being maintained and the most rigid and specific instructions given to the men to exhaust every effort to hunt down the miscreant or miscreants who are responsible for the attempt to kill the community yesterday by the discovery of the bomb. It is now thought, said Chief Pratt to a representative of the NEWS today, an attempt was made to fire the deadly missile, as a close inspection and test has shown that the fuse had been ignited and the detonator broken, while the powder has substance that the fuse contained, Captain Donovan (who knows a great deal about it, owing to the nature of exploded giant powder. The concussion then reached being that the fire burned down to the powder and exploded it, but failed to explode an ounce of it being so perfect article. In the meantime there is still a great deal of mysterious in official quarters.

For Throwing Dead Kittens.

Fred Washington, the notorious young deputy dog catcher, and Thos. Joseph, a white boy, were before Justice Smith this morning charged with throwing the remains of an old spotted named Williams, who resides on Victory alley. The specific wrong-doing of the defendants consisted of throwing dead kittens at the door and through the windows of the residence of the complaining witness. Proof of such it appears the young men have been engaging in repeatedly of late. They were made the subjects of a most earnest lecture and then told to be smart to go their way and to be more careful in the future.

Seigniorage Bill Vetoed.

President Cleveland's message accompanying the veto of the Bland seigniorage bill will be found on page five.