ARRIVAL OF GEN. LONGSTREET.

The Veteran Confederate Soldier in Salt Lake on Railroad Business.

General James Longstreet, the distinguished Confederate soldier, arrived in Salt Lake last evening, accompanied by his youngest wife and G. C. Sanders and wife, daughter and mother; Mrs. J. H. Pratt, Misses Susan and Louie W. Hooker of South Carolina.

General Longstreet and party came in over the Rio Grande Western, and they will leave this evening at 6 o'clock, on their journey to the Pacific coast. General Longstreet is interested in railroad construction in Mexico and General Wade Hampton is President of the road. The general is here on that position. The general is here also to be sworn in as a member of the interstate commerce commission, which he is expecting the operations of the different railway systems. Good crops and good conditions are receiving his special attention. The most important matter however, that he has taken up with him is the claim of the southern Pacific railroad against the Union Pacific claims against it.

The party visited the various points of interest about the city today and went to Saltair this afternoon.

Run Over and Ribs Broken.

George Hamett, the twelve-year-old son of Anton L. Hamett of 442 south Fourth West street, was run over by a horse and heavy load on the Residio last evening about 6 o'clock. The boy was riding a bicycle when crashed into by a team driven by one Max Gaudet, who was carrying sand to the city for his station on a charge of reckless driving. Young Hamett had two ribs broken and received several serious body bruises.

SERVICES AT THE TABERNACLE

Elder John Henry Smith Addresses the Saints Sunday Afternoon.

Speaks on the Question of Manasseh and Urges Such Allegiance to the Utah Pioneers.

Elder Henry P. Richards of the High Council presided over the services of the Tabernacle Sunday afternoon August 21, 1898.

The choir sang the hymn:

"Hope is the world's master lever Toward a mountain."

Prayer was offered by Elder C. G. Worley Jr.

The choir sang the anthem:

"Jesus, I my cross have taken."

Elder John Henry Smith of the Council of the Apostles first addressed the congregation. Said he: It is a duty to pay such happiness for the Almighty to bless us as we do today. Our ancestors have contributed to the desertion of the other having engaged to battle in which we are of their number and brought us through to this country. We feel that we are in the hands of the Lord in the glorious mission of which we are the subjects. We know that it was given that God had raised up a people who would be the head
