REPUBLICAN CONTENTIONS.

Harrison's Administration Not Endorsed in Colorado.

DENVER, April 27.—The Republican State convention met here at noon. The sentiment of the delegates is solid for the free coinage of silver, and there are threats that if a resolution be not made to favor free coinage it nominated, a new party will be organized. The delegation to Minneapolis will favor any one nominee for free coinage.

The convention was called to order shortly after 11 o'clock and Charles Johnson, of Pueblo, was chosen permanent chairman. A committee on credentials and resolutions was appointed, after which the convention proceeded to the selection of delegates-at-large. Ex-Governor A. C. Wolcott, Harry H. Tiffet and Congressman Lowrey were put in nomination. The delegates proceed to go with a free coinage resolution in their mouths. They closed for several minutes, and when opened was noticed the nominations were seconded by every delegate in the convention and the gentlemen declared unanimously elected. The names for Harrison in all probability will not receive a single vote in the Colorado delegation to Minneapolis. Hon. J. W. Rusk was unanimously selected as the fourth delegate. After the selection of alternates the convention took a recess.

When the delegates reassembled the committee on resolutions reported. The platform adopted was endorsement of the principles and principles of the Republican party, opposes coalition of the silver bloc in the Senate or elsewhere, stands upon such terms as will only protect the rights of some section in the public domain, says the old monetary system of silver is best, opposes the Sherman law, which compelled the purchase of the coin, the farm and the workshop, and resulted in unprecedented prosperity, gives credit to the victories of our country, and benefitted only the money kings at the expense of the people, declares belief that the question of free coinage of silver is the principal issue now before the American people and that steps should be immediately taken for the coal region in Colorado, declares that it values the continuance of a law providing for the free and unlimited coinage of silver and wishes the delegates to Minneapolis the Right made by the Colorado representatives in the interest of the white metal as representing not only the sentiment of the Republican party in Colorado, but also of the whole Rocky Mountain mining region; endorses the diplomatic achievements of James G. Blaine and the doctrine of reciprocity; instructs the delegates to the Minneapolis convention to oppose the nomination by every honorable means of any man for the office of President or Vice-President who is not known to be loyally in favor of the enactment of a law providing for the free and unlimited coinage of silver. The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

The election of Secretary Blaine's name brought forth prolonged cheers.

General Minnehy (Custer county) offered a resolution endorsing the administration of President Harrison. Instantly three dozen were on their feet asking for recognition. The greatest excitement continued for several minutes. A number of speeches were made against the resolution. The resolution was killed by a vote of 423 to 2. The convention then adjourned sine die.

THE BERGEN REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 27.—The State Republican convention was called to order by Chauncey I. Filley, chairman of the State central committee. Filley addressed the delegates in the interest of harmony and united action by the party, and hoped the convention would nominate ex-Congressman Major William Warner of Kansas City for governor. Judge T. A. Sheldon of Kansas City was chosen temporary chairman, the usual committees were appointed, and the convention took a recess until 2 o'clock.

When the convention reassembled, the following gentlemen were unanimously selected: President, C. P. Burton of Nevada, with vice-presidents from each congressional district.

R. S. Rogers of Osage county offered a resolution instructing the delegates to vote for the renomination of President Harrison. Ordered referred to the platform committee, with instructions to report it back favorably to the convention.

Nominations for delegates-at-large were then made, and after the roll had had Major William Warner of Kansas City, Chauncey I. Filley of St. Louis, Gen. J. S. Rodgers of St. Louis were elected, with the fourth position unfilled.

A recess was taken.

The nominees for A. C. Dawes was chosen as the fourth delegate. The electors at large chosen are S. F. Scott of Kansas City and D. P. Dyer of St. Louis.

The convention adjourned until to-morrow.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION IN OHIO.

CLEVELAND, O., April 27.—The Republican state convention met here this afternoon. Hon. Charles P. Griffin of Toledo was made temporary chairman. He delivered a brief address in review of the records of the Republican and Democratic parties, state and national. Popular interest here this morning was so fashionable as have been lacking ever since. The method to that he has now succeeded in breaking the state for delegates at large to the national convention, and that he will have a larger representation than was accorded him. The congratulation of the State central committee is said to be a decided victory for Sherman.

Judge King, in introducing Chairman Griffin, contrived to raise before the convention the name of McKinley, bringing out demonstrative applause. When he referred later to Secretary Blaine, an equal of applause followed from all sides of the hall. President Harrison's name was also literally showered. Chairman Griffin, however, did not dwell in a warm tribute to ex-Governor Foraker and bedecked cheer loose again.

After the reading of the various committees, Congressman Ketcham moved to adjourn for one hour, on the ground that delegates could attend the ball game. The motion was unanimously carried and the convention took a recess.

The situation tonight is that the Sherman forces are apparently more than ever determined to pass over of the delegates at large from Ohio to the national convention at Minneapolis, and the Foraker adherents insist that they should at least have two. It is reported that the friends of A. L. Conger from the possibilities was one of the developments of the evening.

The committee on permanent organization has decided to recommend Mr. Kinley for permanent chairman. The platform committee is said to be practically agreed upon a platform embodying Harrison's administration and McKinley's name as governor, besides indorsing the McKinley bill, inserting a separate wool plank, as well as an emphatic declaration of Ohio's great remaining entire for, adhering to the silver question, on honest dollar is demanded, direct instructions for Harrison were not specifically omitted in deference to McKinley's contingent candidacy, and also because some of Foraker's friends, it is said, it was feared, endeavor to defeat them.

NEW JERSEY REPUBLICANS.

TRENTON, N. J., April 27.—The Republican State convention met at noon. The platform endorses Harrison's administration, opposes the McKinley policy, favors reciprocity, declares in favor of protective tariff, opposes all attempts to debase the national currency, and on polishing opposition to the silver coinage. A. Rich was made temporary chairman, and delivered a lengthy speech. After the appointment of committees a recess was taken.

When the convention convened the temporary officers were made permanent, and the election of delegates-at-large, with, the result in the choice of General W. J. Sewell, Garret A. Hobart, George A. Halsey and John Z. Jillet. Resolutions were then read and adopted. Some opposition was made to the resolutions because they did not mention Blaine. After adjoining the party action would be in Congressman Hart, the convention adjourned.

NEW HAMPSHIRE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

CONCORD, N. H., April 27.—The Republican State Convention met at noon. Hon. Charles H. Bell, the permanent chairman, addressed the convention, congratulated Harrison, McKinley and Blaine and whose name commands the Right made by the Colorado representatives in the interest of the white metal as representing not only the sentiment of the Republican party in Colorado, but also of the whole Rocky Mountain mining region; endorses the diplomatic achievements of James G. Blaine and the doctrine of reciprocity; instructs the delegates to the Minneapolis convention to oppose the nomination by every honorable means of any man for the office of President or Vice-President who is not known to be loyally in favor of the enactment of a law providing for the free and unlimited coinage of silver. The resolutions were unanimously adopted.
