NORSTROM ON TRIAL

For Disturbing the Peace of Mrs. Annie Hilberg, a Widow.

HE BROKE INTO HER HOUSE

On Two Occasions, Says the Lady—State Auditor Will Proceed Against County Clerks.

Carl O. Norstrom had a hearing before Judge Hiles this morning on a complaint filed by Mrs. Annie Hilberg charging the defendant with disturbing the peace.

Mrs. Hilberg was the only witness in the case, the defendant declining to testify. Mrs. Hilberg testified on direct examination that on the night of July 13 of this year, Norstrom came to her place about 11 o'clock, prowled around the house until midnight and broke open the screen and door of her house. When she screamed, Norstrom went away, but returned again at 5 o'clock in the morning. About two weeks previous to that time Norstrom came now night and got in through the window and assaulted the witness whilewife was in bed.

Upon cross-examination Mrs. Hilberg said she first became acquainted with the defendant when she moved her furniture. She got him to assist her because he never seemed to have anything to do. He came to the house several times as he passed through the lot to his own house. At first he talked very kind and nice but afterwards became so he knew she had no husband to protect her, Norstrom began to talk rough and nasty. Has never "allowed" the defendant to visit her—he simply came whether she liked it or not. He was "no company" for her and she did not like him. She couldn't help it, however, when he would come to visit her. When he first broke into the house about two weeks previous to the evening mentioned in the complaint she told him she would not have him arrested if he would never molest her again. The reason for not having made complaint of his first assault was that Mrs. Hilberg was afraid of newspaper notoriety and of the scandal that would naturally follow an expose of the circumstances.

Mrs. Hilberg also testified that she had never visited the defendant at his own home. She had, however, visited a widow lady living next door to the same house. Had once helped Norstrom drink a bottle of beer which he had brought to her house on one of his unwelcome visits.

Judge Hiles took the case under advisement until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Clerks Been Warned to.

State Auditor Morgan Richards Jr. says that notwithstanding the fact that the board of county commissioners of Salt Lake county passed a resolution calling that the suit to recover the clerk's fees turned into the county treasury be brought against the county and not the clerk, he has informed County Clerk Hanson that suit will be brought against him personally as such officer to recover the fees monthly. The auditor says the State law is very plain upon the matter and any other process except against the clerk he deems irregular. Not only will Mr. Stanton be proceeded against but all other county clerks will be treated likewise. Suits to recover will be a close immediately. The fact that no face their salaries left county treasuries was occasioned of under a misapprehension of the law, of that class officials were entered by the auditor and he has no fault the auditor's action in the matter.

Quarterly Conference.

FILLMORE, Utah, August 25, 1896.—Millard Stake Quarterly Conference was held at Deseret Sunday and Monday, August 23 and 24th, 1896, President Ira N. Hinckley presiding. There were present: Elder Francis M. Lyman of the Council of Apostles; Elder Jonathan G. Kimball of the First Council of Seventies; Elder Levi Richards of the Sunday School board; Elders Ira N. Hinckley and Devit H. Watson of the Stake Presidency; members of the High Council, a majority of the Bishops, president of the quorum, etc.

The weather was fine, and the meetings well attended both days. Bright Wave was the only one not represented; this was on account of sickness.

Sunday, 10 a.m.—President Hinckley called the meeting to order, and after singing and prayer, he made the opening remarks explaining his presence with the opportunity of meeting with the Saints in quarterly conference; gave a report of the conditions of the Stake which was in the main very good. The Stake Presidency had, since last conference, visited every ward in the Stake, and held ward conferences.

Bishops Milton Moody of Deseret, William H. Pratt of Hinckley, John Ryder of Oak, Ay Stephenson of Holden, T. C. Callister of Fillmore, Peter Anderson of Oak Creek and L. N. Christiansen of Leamington, gave favorable reports of their respective wards.

Elder F. M. Lyman said the discontinued association ought to resume their meetings one time in September, and not wait till spring to visit. I wants to tell whenever changes were made in future to arrange so that a president could have his counselors in the same ward where he lives so that they could meet often and counsel together.

2 p.m. After the opening exercises the sacrament was administered by the Bishopric of Deseret, while the choir sang a sacramental hymn, after which Elder Levi Richards spoke a short time upon the duties of parents to their children, and the importance of Sunday school work. He advised parents to encourage their children to Sunday school seriously.

Elder J. G. Kimball spoke about the importance of faith, as we cannot please God without it. We do not need to be rich to please him, but if we center our hearts upon money we will lose the fight of the Lord. If we criticize evil doing we will not become popular, but it is not always good to court popularity. He prophesied that the Lord will yet bless the Deseret land fortunately as it looks, if the people will keep His commandments.

Sister Zina D. H. Young of Salt Lake made a few excellent remarks, and after singing and prayer conference was adjourned till next day at 10 a.m.

Monday, 10 a.m.—After the opening exercises Elder David H. Stevens spoke a short time on the general duties of the Saints, etc.

Counselor N. S. Stewart of Meadow reported that wards in a very good condition. Some of the people had sustained considerable damage from floods.

Elder James Abraham reported the Kanosh ward in the absence of the Bishop, who was sick to attend.

The General and local authorities were presented by Elder Christian Anderson, and they were all unanimously sustained.

Patriarch C. N. Smith of Novice Stake spoke upon early Church history; referred to the land of Jackson county and some of the prophecies concerning it.

Elder F. M. Lyman read from the Doctrine and Covenants the revelation concerning the New Jerusalem, and said the words were very reliable and will fulfill all His promises, but man is very unreliable, and many crook their covenants. The Lord cannot establish His Zion with a rebellious people. It is wrong to drink tea and things in other things forbidden, and the example set by many in this matter is demoralizing, for these offenses are mild compared with the grosser sins, such as adultery, etc. Men are guilty of these and committed in the heart.

Two p. m.—After the opening exercises Elder Levi Richards again addressed the conference, and spoke of the rise in the Church as the signs of faith in individuals where there are no sick there is no faith.

Elder Christian Anderson spoke about the morality and effect of the morality of the Priesthood in the Church. In the Gospel are remedies for every evil. The time of priests was foolish when their children go astray, yet, and according to the laws of nature.

Elder J. G. Kimball related some of his experience in his own impressive manner, and gave some excellent instructions to the young—married and single. Spoke also on the principle of repentance and forgiveness.

Elder F. M. Lyman read from the Doctrine and Covenants in relation to the proper preparation for baptism, and commented very instructively thereon. Before baptizing applicants there should be called a special meeting for the purpose of instructing them and they should be required to covenant that they will serve the Lord and keep His commandments. Bishops should see that no person is baptized who has not repented. Bishops are judges, and it is a day of judgment. Do not send unworthy people to the House of the Lord everywhere, for you will be held responsible.

President Hinckley made a few closing remarks, and announced that the conference would now be adjourned for three months, the time and place to be decided on hereafter. He also complimented the Deseret choir on their excellent singing.

This ended another of the best conferences held in Millard Stake of Zion.

CHRISTIAN ANDERSON, Clerk.

These Nights at the Lake.

The enterprise shown by the Saltair Beach management is something which the pleasure-seeking public seem to appreciate, as the resort is fairly attended every day. This week those going to the beach are entertained by a splendid specialty program carried out every evening just in front of the pavilion. The cats are the same as those witnessed at the recent Carnival of Mirth, and consist of tight rope walking, roller dancing, tumbling, juggling, etc. The show, for such it is, lasts a little over an hour, after which dancing is indulged in until the departure of the last train for the city.

The scene of the Lake, these beautiful moonlight nights, is one of unsurpassing loveliness and the cool and refreshing breezes make one feel that in life there is certainly something that is pleasant and worthy of appreciation.
