DESERET EVENING NEWS.

April 3, 1895.

COUNTY COURT UPHELD.

The Meeting of Taxpayers Last Night Attended with Success.

Funds to be Raised to Carry on the Investigation—A Committee of Seven Appointed.

The meeting of taxpayers held in the judicial city and county calling the right to use the moneys for the question of providing funds to carry on the county's investigation into the alleged moral taints, was well attended. Probate Judge McNulty called the meeting to order. Councilman Clawson occupied the chair and George W. Snow officiated as secretary.

County Attorney Williamson was asked to state the conditions that confronted the county court at the time. As to the receipts and disbursements of the county since January 1st, 1893, the losses were shown to be $12,571.32, the gains $9,555.17. There was a balance on Jan. 1st, 1893, of $2,257.19 with which to pay claims amounting to $6,000 or $7,000. Mr. Williamson then said the book accounts showed a balance of $4,000 in favor of the county, but he was not prepared to say it would be run to be more than about a month, the margin for the quarter ending March 31st showed a deficit of $1,000 a month. The county could not issue a warrant for any claim without a dollar upon which a warrant could be drawn. The conditions of the indictment and the testimonies of the jail were then discussed, and the investigation that had now afforded evidence, and which showed more, that warrants had been fraudulently and unlawfully issued by the county commissioners, must be carried to the end of truth. He explained that the law that would be revealed in the investigation, that the commissioners assumed to be made between January and $150,000, and that the actual figures could not go back of an order. Nothing admissible to the jail, and expenses left and $15,000 left in vault, "We have been robbed to the," said he, "and shall we not pay a cent more than the robbers and make an honest world." The difference between the total outstanding indemnities, $50,000, and the total indemnities, $107,000, is about $70,000, mentioned through the jail and the financial claims, and it is the duty of the county to that from out, that now but a valid claim shall be paid, and honest men get their dues."

Councilman Clawson explained that the court was at present compelled to pay interest of $1,000, never existing before, and called attention to the amount of funds that must rest in the shutting down of the infirmary.

John Sharp advised an appeal to Salt Lake capitalists.

Ex-Mayor Frank Armstrong said he had much confidence in the present county court, commended the efforts of anyone and release fraud by continuing its efforts and pursuing its investigation, and insisted that relief in court had started, a minister in engaging counsel he had been determined. He would himself call upon his friends. And so, that he and his friends now a quarter of a third of our taxes in advance that the court may go on and expose the frauds of the previous ones."

Upon being asked whether the resignation of the last county court were not made for the $50,000 claim, County Attorney Williamson quoted the statute, affirming it, declaring the county court present there in his motion. Continuing, he explained that the proposition signed by Mr. Armstrong to pay any part of the claim or advance was not feasible as with one key key was down, no money could be accepted by the county treasurer, the act of the predecessors, and the claim, if one, was not valid. He also the issues appealed to when the legislature adjourned without making an appropriation of Utah's claim at the World's Fair. In the meantime Utah's reputation has gone to the banks not since December expected to be continued, but in the meantime that plan was adopted the legislature would have to authorize the county to discharge the cost at some future time when issue with justice is.

Henry W. Lawrence warmly approved the efforts to unearth the present evil, in their efforts to thoroughly investigate.

A number of other gentlemen having spoken in a similar vein, upon the motion of William Nebeker, the following appointing committee was appointed to confer with the county court in ascertaining the ways to raise: William Nebeker, H. W. Lawrence, John L. Rawlins, Lewis S. Hills, M. H. Walker, W. S. McCornick and Francis Armstrong.

The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the committee.

The committee was to meet for organization at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the office of Mr. Armstrong, Utah Commercial Bank.

The People's Equitable Co-op association has withdrawn its check from the county, on the ground that the board of directors had decided that they were unable to carry the county for a greater amount than now appeared on the association's books.

ARRESTED FOR BIGAMY.

W. A. Gardner, alias Wm. A. Kimball, Charged With Deserting a Young Girl.

W. A. Gardner, alias William A. Kimball, an electrician and former employe of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company in this city, has been arrested at Springfield, Mo., on the charge of bigamy, on complaint of the nineteen-year-old girl whom he is accused of deserting by representing that he was single, and inducing her to marry him. The girl's name was Carrie Partridge, and her home was at Bay City, Mich. After a trip to Washington she wrote a description of her lovers to a friend in Seattle, Wash.

A stranger giving the name of Edward Sawyer, Ex Jeller, being here on and found the letter and taken to wife with the writer, apologizing for his brutality, was somewhat too latter and a logical correspondence followed. In 1891 he paid her a visit at Bay City, and they secretly engaged, but her parents objected to her marrying a young. Kimball then came to Salt Lake, and in Nov., 1891, he succeeded in persuading her to elope with him to Ogden, where they were married, and returned to his wife.

In December Kimball left his position and went east in search of larger work. After his departure he was made the startling discovery that he had a wife and child in Ohio, which he had deserted, she thinking that he was dead.

She then consulted with Deputy United States Attorney Zane, after which she went before Commissioner Pratt and swore to a complaint charging Gardner with bigamy, and he was arrested at Springfield, Mo. Arrangements have been perfected for his return to this city.

Didn't Go to the Jury.

The damage suit for $10,000 brought by John Dow against the Pleasant Valley Coal company, on account of personal injuries received while working in the company's mine at Scofield, came to a sudden termination in Judge Justice Merritt's court yesterday afternoon. When the panelist had rested, the defense moved for a nonsuit, and after an elaborate argument for motion was granted, thus disposing of the case.

Civil Service Examination.

There were twelve candidates for positions in the civil service who appeared before United States Civil Service Examiner G. H. Lowrey, of Washington, D. C., and the final board of examiners yesterday when the examiners for these were examined for positions in the mail service, two for clerk supplies and one each for timekeeper, special examiner in the bureau of yards and stenographer and typewriter, principal teacher for Indian service and physician for Indian service.
