Interesting Event Arranged by Committee of National Rifle Association.

INTER SCHOLASTIC MATCH.

And Is for the Inter-School Gallery Championships of United States—First Contest of This Kind.

Washington, D. C. Feb. 19.—An interesting competition for school boys has been arranged by the executive committee of the National Rifle association. It will be known as the "Inter-Scholastic Rifle Match" and will be for the Inter-School Gallery Championship of the United States, to be shot this year for the first time. The match will be shot on the galleries of the various schools which enter, the shooting taking place on any date between April 12 and 24. It will be open to teams of 10 pupils from any public school, preparatory high school or private school, not conferring degrees. Where the school has a club affiliated with the national rifle association no entrance fee will be charged. Other schools may enter teams on the payment of $2. The distance will be 50 feet and the N. R. A. target with a one-inch bulls-eye will be supplied by the N. R. A. Each string will consist of five shots and 10 shots will be fired in a standing position, and ten in a prone position, with two sighting shots for each position. Any .22 caliber rifle may be used which has sights in front of the hammer; any ammunition may be used.

The competition is open to bonafide scholars only and a certificate to this effect must be filed with Lieut. Albert S. Jones, secretary of the N. R. A., Washington, D. C., which organization will designate a judge to represent it at each school. The prize will be a handsome new "Championship Trophy," to be held by the winning school for one year, and medals to the individual members of the teams. The National Rifle association now has affiliated with it about 35 school boy clubs, all of which are expected to enter the contest.

THE TROPHY.

The match, for the 1909 gallery championship of the United States, will be shot on the local ranges at any time between March 15 and 27. Targets will be furnished by the N. R. A. and the distance will be 50 feet. This match is also for teams of 10 bona fide students, with 20 shots for record of which 10 shall be shot standing and 10 prone, two sighting shots allowed for each position. The National Rifle association will appoint a judge to be present when each team fires. The conditions regarding rifles and ammunition are the same as for the school boy match. The trophy is the championship trophy presented by the Forest, Fish and Game society of the United States, to be held by the winning university or college for one year and to become the permanent possession of the institution winning it three times. It was won in 1908 for the first time by Columbia university, of New York City. Colleges having clubs affiliated with the National Rifle association will not be required to pay any entrance fee, but other teams will be charged $2. Colleges which are eligible by reason of affiliation are: College of St. Thomas, (St. Paul) University of Nevada, University of Idaho, Washington state college, Marist college, Atlanta, Ga., University of California, University of Pennsylvania, Delaware college, State University of Idaho, George Washington university (Washington, D. C.), Columbia university, Cornell university, Harvard university, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Yale university.

LEADING PITCHERS OF THE PAST 27 SEASONS

The leading teachers in the major leagues for each year since the inception of organized baseball present an interesting study. Though the national game is undeniably faster than it was, say, 10 or 20 years ago, pitching has kept pace with its growth, and the percentage of victories, as shown by Spalding's Official Baseball Record, averages about the same as when the game was in its infancy.

The records of the pitchers from the beginning of organized baseball to the close of the 1908 season are shown by the following tables:

MARATHON RACE ON ROLLERS THE NEXT

In all probability Salt Lakers will see a Marathon race on roller skates before long. J. M. Reynolds, winner of the Butte Marathon has written a letter to a friend in this city asking if such an event could be arranged. The letter was promptly given to Manager O'Mara of the Auditorium rink, the only place where such an event could be held in this city, and Mr. O'Mara was most favorably impressed with the proposition and stated that if arrangements could be made he would be glad to promote a Marathon on rollers.

Reynolds said he would bring several fast skaters with him, among them being Artie Bell, an old-time bike rider, who has taken up roller skating. Mr. O'Mara says there are a number of Salt Lake boys capable of giving the flatte racers a fast contest. He is now in communication with Reynolds and undoubtedly the race will be given here.

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team and the fast Lehi High School five clash at the "Y" gym this evening, and the game promises to be one of the best of the season. The L. D. S. U. team plays the B. Y. U. at Provo while the U. of U. team has a game on at Logan with the B. Y. C. There is a great deal of interest in all these games and if the L. D. S. PULLIAM GETS AWAY IN SPITE OF "FRIENDS"

St. Louis, Feb. 19.—Harry Pulliam, president of the National League of Baseball clubs, arrived in St. Louis today, accompanied by Stanley Robison, president of the St. Louis club.

Mr. Pulliam arrived without baggage and the attempt of his fellow magnates of the National league to keep him in Chicago was confirmed by friends who came down on the same train.

Pulliam refused to discuss the indefinite leave of absence granted him by the league of which he is the titular head.

"I'm here for my health," said Pulliam. "I'm going to Cincinnati this afternoon or tonight.

"I'm not going to resign. I'll stick to the last ditch. They can fire me, but I won't resign. That's all I have got to say. I'm tired and my nerves are a wreck and, besides, I'm through talking."

FOOTBALL FIGURES FOR PAST SEASONS

New College Rules Have Greatly Improved Game With Reference to Safety.

The revision of the football rules in 1906 has resulted in a remarkable decrease in all varieties of injuries on the gridiron, according to Dr. Edward H. Nichols, medical adviser of athletic teams at Harvard.

Dr. Nichols has made an exhaustive study of the subject in Cambridge and his report, which is interesting to all followers of the gridiron sport, is published in the current issue of the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal. In making the report he has had the co-operation of Dr. Frank L. Richardson, who was his assistant at Harvard last fall.

The recapitulation of injuries to football players at Harvard for the last four seasons shows that there were more injuries, by 22, in 1905, the last season under the old rules, than in the three seasons combined under the revised code, which speaks well for the game as now played.

The following table gives the details:

	1905.	1906.	1907.	1908.
No. of players	79	64	38	79
No. of injuries	105	84	45	83

The report shows that there were five varieties of injuries common prior to 1906 that have decreased materially in number since the game was opened up and the general style of play changed.

In 1905 11 men dislocated the end of the shoulder, while there were only two injuries of this kind in 1906, one in 1907 and five last fall, the most serious being the one which kept Capt. Burch on the side lines in the Yale game.

In 1905 11 players received injuries dislocating semilunar cartilages, there being only one instance of this in 1906 and both last fall. There were 13 ankles sprained at Harvard in 1905, as many as have been sustained during the last three seasons altogether.

The report then shows that the number of injuries a week diminishes toward the end of the season, due partly to the fact that the men are in better condition and that the more skilled players are left on the squad. Many injuries, it is pointed out, come early in the season, when the men are "soft."

MURPHY BESTS SAYERS.

San Francisco, Feb. 19.—Johnny Murphy was given the decision over Maurice Sayers of Milwaukee at the end of a 15-round bout tonight before the Mission Athletic club. Murphy was the stronger of the two men and did most of the leading, but Sayers showed the most cleverness and science. The decision was unpopular with the crowd.

EGAN QUITS GOLF.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—H. Chandler Egan, winner of the national amateur golf championship in 1904 and 1905, and four times winner of the western championship, announces his permanent retirement from tournament play in a letter from Louisville, made public by his father, W. C. Egan, who. Pressure of business is given as the reason.

LITTLE HEBREW MEETS HIS MATCH

Jem Driscoll, English Featherweight, Has Shade Over Attell.

CLEAN AND CLEVER FIGHT.

Battle Ten Rounds in New York—Brittsher a Puzzle to Champion—No Decision Given.

New York, Feb. 19.— Jem Driscoll, the English featherweight champion, and Abe Attell of San Francisco, world's champion in that class, met in a 10-round bout tonight at the National Athletic club, and Driscoll had a shade the better of the contest. They weighed in at 5 o'clock, neither turning the scale at the stipiated weight, 126 pounds.

No decision was given by Referee Charley White, as the laws of this state do not permit decisions to be rendered in boxing bouts. The championship title was not involved in the articles governing the match.

At the conclusion of the contest both men were in good condition and could probably have gone on for many more rounds. The experts who watched their every move were a unit in saying that nothing short of a 20 or 25-round go would be sufficient to determine a decisive superiority of either man.

There was not much betting on the outcome. Even money was offered just before the bout began.

It was one of the fastest and cleverest bouts ever seen in this city. Both men are very quick, but Attell seemed to have more steam behind his blows. Driscoll's left jabs were frequent and he landed them in one, two and one, two, three fashion on Abe's face, raising a lump over Attell's eye in the fifth round.

At 12-fighting the American proved the better, sending in some hard body punches that staggered the British boxer. In the sixth round Attell landed a hard swinging left on the head which sent Driscoll staggering to the ropes. In the seventh Attell reached the face and stomach with telling effect, but Driscoll was willing to mix things up and landed some hard blows over the kidneys. A short right just over the heart made Driscoll look weary as he went to his corner at the end of this round.

Honors were even in the eighth, with both men looking as though they could continue for another hour.

In the ninth and tenth rounds Driscoll had the advantage in the number of blows landed.

CONTEST BY ROUNDS.

Round 1—Driscoll was short with his left, and Attell ripped left and right to the wind. Driscoll's left went to the face three times, and Attell sent left to the wind and crowded Jem to the ropes. Attell missed two swings as Driscoll sidestepped and the American fell against the ropes. He bounded back laughingly. He hit Jem with a left to the stomach. Jem's lightning left found Attell's mouth. It was Driscoll's round.

Round 2—Attell's left went to the stomach, and Driscoll jabbed left to mouth. The American ripped right to stomach and sent his left to the Englishman's jaw. Driscoll put two lefts on the nose and mouth. Jem jabbed three lefts to the eye, and the last one on the mouth rocked Attell's head. They swapped lefts to head. Driscoll's blocking was marvelous, and Attell's was not a shade behind. Attell got to the wind with a good left. Attell's round by a shade.

Round 3—Attell's right reached the ear and Driscoll jabbed nose and mouth. Attell sent three lefts to the mouth, and Driscoll jabbed left to nose and mouth. Jem hooked a left to the eye and battered the stomach with a right. Attell blocked two lefts, but Driscoll's right hook landed solidly on the jaw. A swap of lefts on face was followed by Driscoll's right to the jaw. This staggered the American and Driscoll was in like lightning with three lefts on head. Driscoll's round.

Round 5—Attell jabbed left to the nose, and Jem put Attell to the ropes with a left on ear. Driscoll hit Attell on the ear with a right swing. They swapped lefts on the head, and when Attell ducked a swing, Driscoll sent one to the kidneys. Jem's left shot to the face, and then Attell jarred Jem with a stiff left to the jaw. Both landed short-arm blows on head, and after a clinch Jem sent left to the face and nose. Driscoll smashed the American's eye three times with his left. Driscoll's round.

Round 6—Driscoll blocked a left and hooked a left to Attell's bad eye. Attell jabbed nose with left and Driscoll came back with two lefts to head. Attell hooked two lefts to jaw. Jem slowed up a moment, then came back with two sharp lefts on face. Attell's left went to stomach and Driscoll planted a good left on Attell's wind. Driscoll landed left twice on the eye. Attell hooked a left on ear, then put two light lefts on the face. Jem smashed Attell's eye at the bell. Attell's round.

Round 10—Both men were strong. Jem got a light left on mouth and after a clinch Driscoll sent a left on Attell's bad eye. There was another clinch, and Driscoll landed on chest and hooked a solid left on nose and followed it with a right on ear. Attell's left was checked and Driscoll hammered stomach. Driscoll ducked a swing and they clinched. After the break, Jem shot three lefts to the face, and Attell clinched and hammered the stomach. Jem sent a left to the mouth. It was Driscoll's round.

The honors of the contest were won by Driscoll. No decision was given by the referee but it was the opinion of a majority of the members that Driscoll was entitled to the honors.

MANY FIGHTERS WHO HAVE LETTER "J"

Did you ever look over the pugilistic records and note the famous fighters whose first name began with a J? Queer, but that letter predominates over all others. Look over these few and see if there is any other letter in the alphabet that compares with it as far as Christian name goes: John L. Sullivan, Jim Corbett, Jim Jeffries, Jack Johnson, Joe Coburn, Joe Goss, John Flood, Jake Kilrain, Jack Bernard, Jack Dempsey, Jack McAuliffe, Jem Mace, Joe Walcott, Joe Gans, Jack Blackburn, Jacque (Phil) B. Brien, Jim Britt, Johnny Carroll, Jabez White, Jem Driscoll, Jem Bowker, Jim Stewart, Jim Burge, Jim Flynn, Jimmy Kelly, Jimmy Gardner, Jack (Twin) Sullivan, Jimmy Barry, Jack Jeffries, Jim Barry, Johnny Condon, Joe Jeanette, Jimmy Briggs, Johnny Frayne, Johnny Marlo, John Willis, Johnny Summers, Jahny Murphy, Joe Gecza, Jack Dorman, Jim Hall, Jack Dorney, Johnny Thompson, Jimmy Walsh, Jack Goodman, Joe Bernstein, Jerry Marshall and then we might go on still further and mention such stars as Jem Roche, Jack Palmer, Jewey Smith, Jack Monroe, J. Rudifer Unhole, Jack Thorne and Joe Rodgers. In the words of Woodyard Kindling, can you beat it?

"DOC" MARSHALL SOLD.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Manager Frank Chance of the Chicago National league team today announced the sale of Catcher "Doc" Marshall to Brooklyn and the releasing of Outfielder Hayden to Indianapolis. The Chicago team will leave for Hot Springs, Ark., on March 1. It is planned to bring the team together at Shreveport, La., on March 16 to give them a day's practise before their opening game on the following day.

JEFFRIES THE BEST, SAYS JOHN L. SULLIVAN

(By John L. Sullivan.)

If Jeffries can ever get into any kind of condition again, he would have no trouble ending Johnson's championship aspirations. The big fellow has been out of the game now for several years, and it is a question whether he could get back into the condition he was in when he used to fight.

It would not be necessary for him to be the same man he was three or four years ago to whip the black man. I don't believe Johnson has much class. He has all the natural advantages in his favor, and even at that his work is not of a first class variety.

To me Johnson looks like he lacked the punch necessary to make him a champion. Any real fighter that takes as long to get a man like Burns as Johnson did, must be minus the punch. He could not hurt Jeffries with the blows that wore Burns down, and Jeff would spoil him with one of his terrible smashes.

Of course, Jeffries may not be able to get into shape again. If not, he will have sense enough not to try to reenter the ring. He will probably work right along now with the idea of rounding into condition as fast as possible. If he finds he can make it, I have no doubt but that he will fight again. If he can't, it will be back to the farm for the big fellow.

GIRLS LEARN MANLY ART TO MANAGE HUSBANDS

Chicago, Feb. 20.—An Evanston club has gone on record in favor of instruction of girls in the manly art of self-defense, by an overwhelmingly affirmative vote on the proposition:

"Resolved, that girls should be taught to box."

Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, woman justice of the peace, introduced the resolution.

Aside from the immense advantage according to wives in handling their husbands, one member of the club thought that such preparation would be good training for housework. Another suggested it would be beneficial in event of attacks by holdup men.

One caused a murmur of dissent by seeking to amend the resolution to read:

"Taught to defend themselves from violence in a ladylike manner."

This was voted down.

RACE GAME HOME MAY BE IN MEXICO

First American Derby There Talked of for Next Season.

AN APPROPRIATION IS MADE

Americans to Build Fine Tracks in Exchange for 20 Year Concessions in Mexico City.

A dispatch from Mexico City says: That something tangible is about to result in connection with the proposed racing circuit in Mexico, as well as with the running of the first American Derby in 1910, for which event the government has appropriated $25,000, is evident from the fact that at present some of the prominent members of the American syndicate which proposes to build the tracks in exchange for a 20 year concession, are now in the city.

Matt J. Winn of Louisville, who is named as the general manager of the enterprise, has been here for some time as have J. G. Follansbee, W. H. Kruttschnitt, J.W. Young and Alberto Terazas. The latter is one of the most prominent men of the republic, and he will have the arranging of the contract between the racing people and the Jockey club and the federal district officials, the latter having the power to grant or reject concessions in the district in which the city is located. The federal district is the same here as the District of Columbia is in the United States, and as the city is to be the racing center, the racing syndicate is desirous of having matters definitely arranged here before settling upon other points. The main hitch now is in the [illegible] of the concession. Mr. Terazas [illegible] of his absence states he requested [illegible] case, but it is said that Vice President Corral, who is the administrator of the district, is opposed to so long a term. The racing people, with the expectation of investing in the neighborhood of $500,000 in the building of a magnificent race course and stands in the Colonia Condesa, the site having already been selected, do not think that a shorter concession would justify the expenditure.

PERHAPS THIS YEAR.

Those familiar with conditions in this country expect it will require a few years to educate the people up to high class racing and will entail the expenditure of much money. However, it is generally believed that even if the district authorities do not grant the 20 years, that a reasonable compromise will be reached. Col. Winn says that if the concession is granted the syndicate will have the new track completed by December, 1909. He visited the site in the Condesa last week and was pleased. The plans already have been completed and the grounds inclosed with a wire fence. The races will be run on the turf. The track is but a short drive from the heart of the city through the beautiful Paseo de la Reforma, which extends from the center of the city to Chapultepec, the home of the president, and is considered one of the grandest driveways in the world.

It is known that the state of Chihuahua, in which is located the city of Juarez—across the Rio Grande from El Paso—already has granted a 20-year concession for racing and that work on the course will be commenced shortly. Should the circuit be formed, with Mexico City as the big point, there will be tracks built at Monterey, Guadalajara, Guanajuato and one or two other points.

Gov. Landa y Escando of the federal district announced some time ago that permission would be given for betting on the so-called American style, in addition to the mutual machines, and this statement was hailed with delight by horseloverS here, as the mutual system has proved a huge joke here. The foreign population in this city is a large one and prosperous. This element is a big factor in the races run at different times during the year, and furnishes a large percentage of the speculative feature of the game. The laying of odds appeals to this class, and, everything equal, the bookmaking style of betting will take a quick hold.

S.S.S. THE REMEDY FOR SORES AND ULCERS

The combination of healthful vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed, makes it an especially desirable and effective remedy in the treatment of sores and ulcers of every kind. Since an impure condition of the blood is responsible for the trouble, a medicine that can purify the blood is the only hope of a successful cure; and it should be a medicine that not only cleanses the circulation, but one that at the same time restores the blood to its normal, rich, nutritive condition. S. S. S. is just such a remedy. It is made entirely of healing, cleansing vegetable properties, extracted from nature's roots, herbs and barks of the forest and fields. It has long been recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove every impurity in the blood. When S. S. S. has purified the circulation, and strengthened and enriched it, sores and ulcers heal readily and surely, because they are no longer fed and kept open by a continual discharge into them of irritating disease-laden matter from the blood. S. S. S. brings about a healthy condition of the flesh by supplying it with rich, nourishing blood and makes a permanent and lasting cure. LUKE WINS AGAIN

Marsh Must Pay Commission.

HE SUED AND WAS SUED.

The Merchants' Protective association won his second suit against W. H. Marsh in Judge Armstrong's court yesterday afternoon. The allegation of the company was that Marsh gave it a bill of $981 to collect, that later the men who owed the account paid March $98 and still later the balance. The company sued to recover 50 per cent of the first amount and was awarded it. The suit involved controlling $98 for the recovery of one-half of the bill as collection fees.—Salt Lake Telegram, Feb. 10, 1909.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER CURED OF 3 BREAST CANCERS

Dr. Chamley cured a large cancer in my breast at my home in 1908. Two years before that he cured my mother of large cancer in each breast. We have both been entirely well ever since. Mother and I together know of at least fifty of his almost miraculous cures. Dr. Chamley saved our lives and we will write to anyone sending information about his wonderful painless treatment.
