DESERET EVENING NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 17, 1895.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

The Fort Douglas Sewerage Question Bobs Up Again.

CITY PRISON PLANS ADOPTED.

Cuba After the Salt Lake and Fort Douglas Railway Once More.—Miscellaneous Business.

The City Council met in regular session last evening, President W. S. McCornick presiding. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The Proceedings.

A claim was presented by A. S. Kendall asking for $1,000 for services rendered, referred to city attorney. Other communications of a minor nature were disposed of by referring to the proper committees.

NO BAY WINDOWS.

The city attorney presented a report regarding the building of bay windows on East Temple street, stating that he considered that the council could not safely allow such fixtures to be erected. The same official was allowed $75 for contingent expenses.

WANTS ANOTHER CLERK.

The superintendent of water works notified the council that on account of extra work another clerk would have to be employed. Referred to committee on waterworks.

FORT DOUGLAS SEWERAGE.

The board of health reported the condition of the sewage question at Fort Douglas, and while that a nuisance existed there in that respect, Councilman Cohn stated that that matter had been before the council a year ago, which had made investigations and reported thereon, but nothing had been accomplished since the time. Referred to the sanitary committee, with city engineer included.

The report of the police justice was presented and filed.

In the matter of city lands the committee recommended that the plats be corrected up to date.

THE CITY PRISON PLANS.

The prison committee reported on the plans of the proposed new city jail, and recommended that the plans submitted by Architect Fred A. Hale be approved and that bids be advertised for, the contracts for each part of the work to be let separately, and the bids to be presented not later than July 23. The approximate cost of the building would be about $25,000. Allowances had been made for utilizing some of the material in the old jail, thus reducing the cost of the new structure to an extent.

Councilman Young thought it would be a good idea to settle upon the question of building a jail before advertising for bids for the erection of the same. Said that he would not favor building it until the pollution was taken out of our canyon streams and the indebtedness on the gravity sewer liquidated.

O'Meara insisted that the proper mode of procedure would be to advertise for bids and then present them to the Council, when they could decide as to whether or not they desired to build one.

President McCornick in seconding Young's motion, noted that the plans did not provide an equal accommodation for women with that of the men. Says he, "Don't you know they're on an equal footing now?"

Mr. Handy replied that they did not exercise their rights as the men do.

The committee's report was amended by extending the time of receiving the usual July 25th, and adopted by a vote of 12 ayes and 1 no.

The report on the awning ordinance recommended that the merchants be allowed to retain their awnings as a shield during the summer season, which report was adopted.

PERMIT TO THE CIRCUS.

The Wallace Show Co. was allowed the use of the Pioneer square for the sum of $50 for the first day and $25 for the next.

CEMETERY RECORD.

The transcribing of the cemetery records was let to G. S. Willis for the sum of $100, he being the lowest bidder.

COHN'S OLD ENEMY.

A very lengthy resolution was offered by Councilman Cohn, and read by the recorder. It set forth that the Salt Lake and Fort Douglas Ry., by its tracks and embankments, in the eastern part of the city, was committing a nuisance which should be abated without delay. It had forfeited the rights of its franchise by failing to use its tracks for more than a year last past, the track had not been built in conformity to the grade of the street, and all in all was a detriment to the rise and progress of this beautiful city. In conclusion the resolution provided that unless said company within a stipulated time conformed to the requirements of its franchise, that all the rights and privileges contained therein be denied them.

After the resolution had been read, Mr. Cohn arose to make an explanation. He said that although it had once been turned down, he brought it up again, as he considered it a duty. Half that such a nuisance would not be tolerated in any other city in the United States and thought it should be abrogated without delay.

Mr. Corum did not favor the resolution as it embodied too much, besides it was not such a nuisance after all, and he was under the impression that if a railroad asked for a franchise to the western part of the city, they would very likely get it, thought the Council catered too much to the wants of the eastern part of the city.

A motion was made to refer it to the committee on streets, which was opposed by O'Meara on the ground that Mr. Corum, the chairman of that committee, was prejudiced and had declared he would vote against it. After a great deal of discussion it was finally referred to that committee.

O'MEARA VICE MASON.

Mr. Morris tendered his resignation as a member of the board of equalization, which was accepted and Mr. O'Meara appointed to succeed him. The bay window ordinance was then announced, and the appropriation bill approved.

TO MEASURE WATER.

Chairman Dorman, of the board of public works, was appointed a member of the board of arbitrators to measure waters in Parley's canyon stream, after which Council adjourned for one week.

Watermaster Wilcken Explains.

City Watermaster Wilcken last evening made the following statement for publication in the NEWS in reply to the article by "A Citizen":

"Early this spring my deputies made a canvass of every piece of property which is entitled to water and in accordance with section 2 of the ordinance covered to certificates were made out for each piece, stating the amount of water that the owner of each was entitled to and the time when he could use it. These cards were placed in the hands of my deputies to deliver and nearly all have been given out, but if any have not, it is because the deputies could not locate the persons entitled to hold the certificates or because they have not done their duty. However, if any person who is entitled to a card and has not received one will send me a note with his or her address, or see me personally I will see that they receive one."

Dr. Maeser Will Speak.

Dr. Karl G. Maeser will, this evening, address the teachers of the Summer school upon the subject, "Ultimate Aims of Education." The address will be given at the main University building. Utah's veteran educator should be greeted with a full house.

THE STATE ROAD SCANDAL.

It is Forcibly Brought to Light Again by an Official Visit—Good Wills and Maradas.

Yesterday afternoon an invitation was tendered a NEWS man by the county selectmen to accompany them on one of their frequent inspection trips. This time the ride was taken to Murray via the State road and the purpose was to see how the work on the road was progressing.

The selectmen during the day had been in one session of the county court and two sessions of the board of equalization, and the ride was a pleasant change. The trip was taken in the hearse belonging to the county infirmary, and Selectman Roberts handled the reins and he did it just as athletically as he does when acting as exalted ruler of the board of equalization. Two fine nags, driven fairly up the county, were examined. One has a flow of 100 gallons a minute and the other 250, and both is not a fair well to the county from the point.

As soon as the city limits were passed the road was all that could be desired, and this condition continued until Twelfth South street was reached, but from there on all the road that was macadamized by the former selectmen and which cost the county over $15,000 a mile, was very poor. The covering, which should have been finely crushed stone or slag, consisted of about one half dirt and the other part stone, and since it was put on most of the dirt has been carried away in dust. The consequence is that the bare sharp pieces of rock which were placed in as a foundation appear all over the road, although the loose stones have been removed twice this year.

From Thirteenth South to below Hustler's mill there is a strip of about a mile which was not touched by the other selectmen, and the present county representatives have seized the opportunity to show what they "can do." There is first laid a layer of slag or very coarse quartzite, and this is rolled until compact. Then two more layers of quartz are placed upon the first, the latter being the finer, and each is rolled heavily. Upon these is placed a layer, about two or three inches thick, of shale, and this is also rolled. A portion which has been completed is almost as hard and smooth, where it has been traveled upon, as the asphaltum pavement of the city.

The quartzite is obtained from Mill Creek canyon and the shale from the Cottonwood. Instead of being crushed by engines all the material brought down is run over stands of heavy screens, and those all too small are rolled in and only stone of the proper size is retained.

The work is under the personal direction of the selectmen and every cent paid out, they say, is for labor, as they hire the men themselves and there are "no employments." Tee loads cost $1.5 each after screening and being hauled, and the total expense for the mile, it is estimated, will be about $5,000.

LIKE CENSUS TAKERS' CALVES.

Vicious Dogs Make It Warm for the Collectors of School Population Statistics.

Salt Lake canines have again developed an over-fondness for the large and luscious calves of school census enumerators who are now on their annual rounds collecting statistics for the year 1895. Last year there was an epidemic in the same direction and canines were pretty badly bitten. This year two have been made victims to an extent that has proved painful if not actually dangerous.

J. A. De Valley while making his rounds yesterday was bitten by a dog belonging to F. J. Fulton and on reporting his experience at police headquarters last night the offending Fido was ordered slain and sent to the crematory. Monroe Roach was taking a similar course in the vicinity of Third West and Eighth South streets. This home-protector, school-census-enumerator-defying "pup" was also put down on the list of the condemned.

Hereafter when citizens see a stranger enter their yard, with a book under one arm and the end of the other tightly grasping a formidable club or a loaded cane, depend upon it that he is simply collecting school population statistics and that he is determined to defend himself at whatever cost and that he is not yet reconciled to the proposition of being mowed up by a pyrophobia-producing bound.
