By Telegraph to the News.

SEIZED AND DETAINED

An American Vessel has Some Trouble at San Salvador.

NEW YORK, August 11.—The superintendent of the Pacific Mail Steamship company was advised today by the company's agent at La Libertad, San Salvador, that the "City of Panama," which had been seized on account of having political refugees on board, had sailed from that port direct for San Jose de Guatemala. The agent also stated that the cargo had been discharged at La Libertad and the communicate at that port refused to dispatch the vessel.

Vice President Hunston of the Pacific Mail Steamship company said this afternoon that he had received a dispatch stating that the "City of Panama" had been seized and detained at La Libertad by the authorities of San Salvador because there were political refugees on board. The details are very meager, the dispatch having evidently been "written" with great care by the San Salvador officials. General Lebron is a passenger on the "City of Panama." He is a political refugee, bound from Corinto, Nicaragua to San Jose de Guatemala. How the concerns the San Salvadoreans is not stated, but they demanded the surrender of Lt. Union. Captain White refused to comply with the order, and the commandante of the port refused him clearance papers. He stated without them, telegraphic information to the agent at Panama, who advised him to make the port of San Jose de Guatemala direct, fearing the wrath of President Ezeta, who has an armed force at Acapulcia. Captain White, no doubt, had to stop at La Libertad to let off passengers. There he was told that his ship would be confiscated unless he gave up five political refugees, whose names are not given. He again refused to deliver up the men, who were under the protection of the American flag. He was not allowed to proceed on his voyage. Nothing further has come from Captain White. The matter has been referred to the State Department at Washington.

The San Salvador Consul said today that he had received no advice concerning the action of the steamship. He was aware that there was trouble between the company and the authorities, but did not know it was of such a serious nature as would cause the detention of a vessel. He expects to see advice word from there soon.

Councilman Bullock said that he would be wanted to know just what citizens borrowed the money from Bardsley after he became city treasurer, and he added that he knew of a lot of those who did so before his election to that office was very small. It was finally decided to allow Bardsley to give a copy of all the transactions in which Bardsley paid money to others, and he began reading an account of the loans. There are hundreds of them, some of them ranging from $25 to $25,000. The expert had not gotten far into the lengthy statement when the committee took a recess until Monday.

The value of these debentures is calculated upon an estimate of the assets of the company.

The company will have a margin of £1,400,000 after providing for the first debentures, and its annual profits will amount to £300,000. By Telegraph to the News.

PLEVIAL EXPERIMENTS.

The Rain Expedition Has Made Two Successful Attempts.

MIDLAND, Texas, August 11.—The United States department of agriculture rainfall expedition has so far made two successful experiments. One of the party in an interview said today that Saturday and Monday a preliminary trial of a part of the rainmaking apparatus was had, and about an hour after the explosive heavy clouds gathered and rain fell over many miles of surface. We do not think the explosions actually produced the clouds, but they were undoubtedly instrumental in precipitating the moisture which the clouds brought to that locality, and greatly increased the intensity of the storm. The amount of the precipitation was greatest in the vicinity of the operation. We will continue to make tests as to the density of the air in the sphere, so that the bombs may be adapted to most every possible condition. When sufficiently satisfied upon these and similar points, a decisive experiment will be made. The rain today was the first good rain in this vicinity for several months.

The Advertiser says: We gather from Balfour's vague remarks that there will be no large franchises and no artificial restrictions upon the choice of the shorters. However legislatively framed, the bill will enormously strengthen the demand for home rule, and make the Unionists set a more rebellious face than ever.

SUICIDE BY ANODYNE.

THE TERRIBLE ACCT. DOES NOT PREVENT THE USE.

No poison brings death with more unrelenting agony than ammonia, but that fact does not seem to discourage suicides. The case Hathaway, who deliberately swallowed a fatal dose of the drug in New York recently, is only one of hundreds, many who have gone the ammonia route to death in spite of the excruciating pain. Dr. Blyth has recorded thirty cases of ammonia poisoning in New York within the district of which he is health officer, Professor Mitchell mentions twenty-two cases, and four have occurred during the short time Dr. Jenkins has been connected with the coroner's office in New York.

Cases of slow poisoning from ammonia are of constant occurrence among men who work in its manufacture, even in decomposing substances which give it off in considerable quantities. Ammonia, slowly and from day to day takes into the system, causes the complexion to lose its freshness, and the end of such cases get heavily impregnated with it has a disagreeably blotched and discolored appearance.

Taken into the stomach from day to day in even the small quantities used to adulterate food, such as taking powder, it not only injures the complexion but attacks the lungs, the stomach, and is the source of much general ill health.

The recent rapid increase in the use of ammonia for household purposes, and the constant increase in its manufacture, have made it one of the most easily obtained poisons and, although everybody is familiar with it in some form, there is a surprising amount of ignorance of its dangerous qualities. Its use as an adulterant in any food preparation is simply a crime, and as a crime should be punished.
