STEWART EVASIVE.

He Refuses to Confine the Charges Made to any Individual Case.

THE CLEVELAND DEBATE AGAIN.

Senator Voorhees Pays a Glowing Tribute to the Character of the President.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—To the Senate Palmer wanted Stewart to indicate a single instance to which the President had employed patronage to control a senator or a member of the House.

"Why, my dear sir," said Senator Stewart in a patronizing way, "these charges have been made in the public press; they have been brought home here, and before I indicate any one, will you deny that patronage has been given to those who will support the administration measures?"

"If the senator himself, upon his own responsibility as a senator," replied Palmer, "will make a charge of that sort, I will confess it, if I believe it to be correct, or I will deny it, but the idea that the President of his friends are to deny charges made against him in the papers seems to me most astounding."

Stewart reiterated that the charges had been made in the papers.

"Will the senator name a single senator whom he knows or believes has been influenced by the patronage of the President?" asked Palmer.

"Does the senator want me to make a personal matter of this, and dwindle this down to this say?" asked Senator Stewart, and then, as it discussed, "Oh, pshaw!" He asked Palmer if he would vote for a resolution authorizing an investigation of the question.

Palmer said he would when Stewart would name a charge against any senator or member of the House.

"I do not want to confine it to one senator or member," said Stewart, amid laughter, "investigate them if you dare."

"I will," replied Palmer; "whenever the senator brings forward a charge against any individual in the Senate I will vote for an investigation."

"When I make a criminal charge against a particular individual," said Stewart contemptuously, "the senator from Illinois will allow it to be investigated, but he will not protect the honor of his Executive in dropping these wholesale charges; he wants me to make a criminal charge against a senator."

Stewart then read a long article from the San Francisco Examiner, commenting upon the course of the President. He closed his speech with a passionate indictment of Cleveland as a master that stalked through the country, breaking down the interests of seven states and territories, that claimed to direct the legislation of Congress, and whose voice now came to order last week on the east front of the Capitol, rebuking the senators.

Morgan rose to a personal explanation, referring to an article in the New York Times today, that no honorable Democrat could listen to that part of Senator Stewart's speech criticising the President and continue to act with him in obstruction of repeal. "Unless, as we fear is the case with Senator Morgan, he is so implacable and unreasonable an enemy of the President that he subordinates the highest question of privilege and public interest to the gratification of public revenge."

Morgan said he was very happy to state that between the President and himself there existed the most cordial personal relations. They had always existed, and he hoped they ever would. He thought he differed with him upon no question vital to the country or to the Democratic party.

Mr. Voorhees then rose and said: "I am very glad to hear the remarks of the senator from Alabama in regard to the assault made upon the President of the United States for the last two days. I desire to simply account for the total silence on this side of the chamber by stating that it has not been thought necessary to say a single word in defense of Grover Cleveland. I have reason to believe that the other side of the chamber and all over the country his defenses have been fully made by the American people themselves. Whatever the senator from Nevada (Stewart) may have found of fault in his career, the American people have not seen it in that way; whatever of criticism the senator from Nevada may have indulged in the American people have not echoed that criticism of him. Nobody is perfect, human nature is infirm; the brightest characters are not infallible; but I venture to say that in American history the career of Grover Cleveland, his character, his achievements, his honor, his patriotism and his ability will stand with the foremost in spite of all assaults that may be made. Whoever differs from him or agrees with him, nobody fails to recognize his stalwart and powerful character, breadth of mind and high integrity.

"I hope, Mr. President, this little tribute may be taken as sufficient to account for the fact that we will not feel called upon to enter into any defense of the President of the United States unless something far more important may be charged against him than has been up to the present time."

After a short executive session the Senate adjourned.

WASHBURN'S OPERATIONS.

He Speculated and Lost Other People's Money.

BOSTON, Sept. 26.—At the regular meeting of the stockholders of the Old Colony Railroad company today, a sensation was sprung when it was announced that Treasurer John M. Washburn had been misappropriating the funds of the company. Washburn, it was said, started several years ago to take the company's money to speculate with. He lost in his speculations. The securities were turned into the company as cash at the price Washburn paid for them. As they deteriorated in value during the last few months Washburn had taken more money, and finally it could be no longer concealed from the auditors.

Last Wednesday Washburn left his office, but did not go home, and his family was much worried. He came back the next morning in a pitiable condition, saying he had walked around all night.

Washburn is 73 years old and has been treasurer of the Old Colony for about thirty years, and treasurer of the Old Colony Steamboat company since from the time it started. He is also treasurer of the Union Freight Line. Whether these concerns lose anything is impossible yet to say.

The Darlington Train Robbers.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., Sept. 26.—The inquiry inside the jury investigating the Darlington train robbery Sunday night, shows that the robbers were shot down in cold blood and that the police made no attempt to capture them. The post mortem examination of the bodies of Rickler and Hugo Gaetz showed that they were literally riddled with bullets.

ALLEGED COUNTERFEITERS.

A Million Dollars in Green Goods Seized.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—An extensive counterfeiting plant was raided at Livingston last night and Angelo Delmico and his alleged wife were arrested. The police secured a million dollars in counterfeit bills. There are four in the gang altogether, two men and two women. Before State Court commissioner Bellows at Brooklyn today Delmico was held in $500 and the women in $2000. It seems that Delmico is an expert engraver and had charge of an extensive plant in Argentine Republic. On account of revolutionary troubles he resolved to this country and entered into an arrangement with a man named Potts to make counterfeits of Argentine currency. The women were to dispose of it for good American specie and bills.

A Lumber Trust.

CLINTON, IA., Sept. 26.—Articles of incorporation were filed here for the Mississippi Lumber company. The capital stock is $1,000,000. Chauncey Lamb, Artemas Lamb, Lafayette Lamb, W. J. Young, W. J. Young, Jr., and Courtland Young, all of this city, are the incorporators. The officers are F. Weyerhauser, president; Artemas Lamb, vice president; R. L. McCormick, secretary and treasurer.

Disastrous Collision.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—A special to the Republic from Fort Worth, Tex., says: Ranger reports were received here tonight of a wreck on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway near Hillsboro. Fifty miles south, in which, by a collision between a south bound train and a bridge construction train, nine men of the bridge gang are reported to have been killed.

Made a Confession.

HARRISBURG, PA., Sept. 26.—Benjamin Tennis, a farm hand, confessed today that he outraged and murdered little Agnes Wright, near Hummelstown one week ago. Tennis was arrested this morning while cutting corn. He broke down immediately. Tennis is 42 years old, a widower and a father of seven children.

DYNAMITERS WANTED.

Reward Offered for Their Capture and Conviction.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—Rewards amounting to $3700 are offered for the arrest and conviction of the dynamiters who caused Saturday night's explosion. Fifty pounds of dynamite, stolen from Golden Gate Park, was found last night in a room on Third street, and it is thought this may afford a clue. Tracy, Thrift and Woods, the men arrested for the crime, still declare their innocence. The condition of Bernard and Curtin, the two survivors of the explosion, was slightly improved this morning.

Angry Celestials.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Tonight a patron of a Chinese laundry kept by John Sam and Tin Sing became involved in a row regarding clothes and knocked a Chinaman down. They followed him, each with a butcher knife, and attacked the first man they met. This was Jacob Rubinsky, and he was fatally stabbed. Louis Feldenberg and Samuel Ackerman were also badly cut. The Chinaman's assailant escaped, however. The assailants were chased into the laundry by an angry crowd, but the police arrived in time to prevent trouble.

Indians Suspected.

YUMA, ARIZ., Sept. 26.—Postmaster Fisher of Gila City and Robert Roberts were murdered there yesterday by having their skulls crushed. One body was found in the post-office and the other near it. The murderers are believed to have been Indians who were mining near Gila.

A Jury's Verdict.

ROANOKE, VA., Sept. 26.—The coroner's jury rendered a verdict tonight, as the result of their investigation into the cause of the deaths of the eight men shot down during the riot Wednesday night. Their finding is to the effect that the men came to their deaths by weapons in the hands of men or officers of the Roanoke Light Infantry, under command of Captain John Betts and other officers, and the evidence showed that he was acting under the instructions of Mayor Trout.

A Vessel Lost.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The agents of the Atlas Steamship company received a cabegram from Kingston, Jamaica, which says the steamer Jason foundered at sea a fifteen marked Atlas. No other particulars are given but there is unquestioned proof that the unfortunate vessel is lost.

The Gillmore Murder Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—The sensational Gillmore murder case took a new turn today when the marriage contract between Dr. E. P. West and Annie Bailey, who the police say was West's accomplice in the murder of Rice Gillmore, was recorded. This marriage, it is claimed, was contracted so that Annie Bailey, who acted as nurse for Dr. West's patients, could not be compelled to testify against her employer and lover. As West is now in jail, the regular marriage ceremony could not be performed, so the contract was recorded. West's preliminary examination was postponed until tomorrow at the request of the prosecution.

For the Admission of New Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Senator Faulkner today introduced a bill providing for the admission of the territory of New Mexico as a state. The bill provides for a constitutional convention to be held at Santa Fe on the first Monday in December, 1893, the constitution adopted by the convention to be submitted to the people of the territory for ratification at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March, 1895, and if the constitution is shown by vote to be acceptable to the people of the territory, the president is to be notified of the result and requested to issue a proclamation for the admission of the state. The bill makes a liberal allowance of lands for public schools and state buildings.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

Bismarck Said to be Dangerously Ill and Very Weak.

Canada and the Sandwich Islands—Contradictory Rumors from the Argentine Republic.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Standard correspondent at Berlin, in a report about Prince Bismarck, quotes various papers to show that the ex-chancellor is still very weak. The prince now talks of remaining in Kissingen for the winter.

A dispatch from Kissingen says Bismarck's illness is dangerous. The family does not approve the suggestion of Emperor William to visit him, so they fear the slightest increase of excitement might prove fatal.

Prophesying of Evil.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Times in a financial article says: Several American exciting issues will shortly mature. Although the European lenders would eagerly be glad to borrow them, it is feared that if the United States Senate persists in the present course, several of these bonds would have to be regarded by shipments of gold to the east.

Money Dear in Holland.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Holland is selling stocks on this market, owing to the tightness of money in Amsterdam, where the rates are quoted from 7 to 8 per cent. Heavy forced liquidations are expected.

Canada Protects.

MONTREAL, Sept. 26.—The Montreal Star has a startling editorial, proposing annexation of the Sandwich Islands by the United States, as it constitutes the Malta of the greatest of oceans. The Star says: "With Hawaii independent of the United States, we can join with America in a winning fight for control of the Pacific, but with our connection broken at the middle the fight for a place in the commerce of the Orient is made unnecessarily difficult.

The Argentine Rebellion.

BUENOS AYRES, Sept. 26.—The insurgents have so much confidence in the success of their cause that they have already organized a provisional government and have received assurances from various sources. The friends of Peixoto are doing their utmost to save his life, but there is no doubt that he is in great danger.

An exciting skirmish took place today in the outer basin of this harbor between some torpedo boats which joined the revolutionists and vessels of the Argentine fleet. The attack was made by the torpedo boats, but the loyal men-of-war were prepared for it, and not only beat off the insurgent vessels, but later took the offensive and captured the rebel boats and crews.

Letter—The commanders of the two torpedo boats concerned in the attack on the government fleet were instigated by Colonel Espina. After the attack the government authorities succeeded in arresting him and he will probably be shot.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—A Buenos Ayres dispatch says: General Pellegrini, at the head of the government troops, has recaptured today the city of Tucuman. Pellegrini and staff and 1500 infantry marched to the building where the junta was sitting. All the members were taken prisoners and locked up under a strong military guard.

CATARRH SINCE A BABY

Was the condition of Miss Craig of Denver, Colorado. She writes a personal letter to Dr. Mansfield and Associates:

"Friends should watch their children closely, and when they see that their little ones are troubled with some sickness, they should at once seek the best medical advice, and not let the disease fasten itself upon them, and thus be a life long sufferer. I was a sufferer from catarrh since I was a baby, and I know what I speak when I say that I am now cured by the treatment of Drs. Mansfield and Fisher. I am now 21 years of age, and I know I owe my life to the skill of these gentlemen. I was given up by other doctors, and I would have died had it not been for the treatment of Drs. Mansfield and Fisher. I feel as well as any girl of my age, and I know I owe my life to the skill of these gentlemen. My appetite is good, my sleep is refreshing, and I am in good health. I shall be happy at all times to recommend the treatment of Drs. Mansfield and Fisher to any who may be suffering from catarrh or other chronic disease."

MISS DELLIE CRAIG.

Corner 21st and Curtis streets, Highlands.

"I am seventeen years old and have been afflicted with catarrh since I was two or three years old. During all these years I have constantly suffered from an abscessed ear and catarrh. I thought for years the discharge from my ear would consume me and I would rather have died a thousand times than to have suffered as I did. My appetite at times was good, but after taking food I would be so bloated and distressed, and have such pains for three months I was prepared to say that my stomach is ruined, and I dreamed of nothing but my sickness and their treatment to all who may be suffering from catarrh or other chronic disease."
