FRAGMENTS.

JUDGE BARRON will sit as a Third district court motion calendar.

THE Twenty-first quorum of Elders will meet in the Nineteenth ward meeting house this evening, at 8 o'clock.

CHIEF JUSTICE ZANE will start on a business trip to Colorado tomorrow morning, but will return on Monday next.

ONLY one small order was entered in the Probate court this morning. The sale of real estate in the matter of the estate of John Lawson, deceased, was confirmed.

This is University Field day and hundreds of Lagoon students and their friends went out to Saltair to enjoy themselves as only students can at the close of a year's hard study and enthusiasm.

THE Territorial board of equalization drew all its time this morning to the examination of returns sent in from various sources. They will probably have a report early every next week.

ARTICLES of incorporation of the Third Presbyterian church of Salt Lake City will be filed with County Clerk Myers at a late period of today. Messrs. Wm. M. Scott, Edward V. Silver and Thomas Langham are the trustees.

A STAN of high-stepping, strong-blood horses attached to a saucy run westward towards the Union Pacific depot about 9:20 last night. In the vehicle were four persons and it was with the greatest difficulty that the driver prevented a collision or accident before stopping the fiery steed.

AT HIS OLD TRICKS AGAIN.

George Loomis, the Ex-Convict, Following His "Profession" in Florida.

The news has reached this city that George Loomis—the notorious crook whose name figured so prominent in the investigation, some time ago, into the charges brought against ex-Marshal Parsons—has been arrested in Florida for burglary. Loomis, while undergoing sentence in the Utah penitentiary, was pardoned a few months ago by ex-Governor Thomas, and his release greatly displeased the then district attorney, Mr. C. S. Varian, who entered a strong protest against the Governor's action. The offense for which the prisoner was serving time was burglary at a house in Ogden, and he fired at the officer who arrested him. It will be interesting to known what becomes of the "master of keys" for unlawful use in penitentiaries this time.

Spilled the Ice Cream.

Yesterday afternoon an ice cream wagon belonging to Mr. Dahlgren was being driven by the proprietor's son, a youth about sixteen years of age, along Third South street, near State, when the horse took fright at a passing street car and ran away. After going a short distance it made a sharp turn, tipping the vehicle over. The driver of the wagon was demolished, and the ice cream poured out in the dusty roadway. The driver was severely bruised about the head, and for a little time it appeared as though he had received serious injury. After he had rallied and been examined, it was found that the bruises and cuts he received were not of a dangerous character.

LIST OF TEACHERS AND SALARIES.

Preparations to Sell the Late Issues of Bonds.—Report of the Board's Treasurer.

The city school board met in regular session last evening, all the members being in attendance except Pratt. President Nelson occupied the chair.

The result of the recent election for the issuance of $225,000 twenty-year school bonds was officially reported upon. It showed 827 affirmative and 232 negative votes, and 4 blanks.

The president and clerk were directed to file a certificate and affidavit of the result as required by law.

Charles Fallentine and forty-five others, residents of District No. 23, asked the board to select one of the proposed new sites in their district for the erection of a building, as at present they are compelled to pay a rental of $600 a year for a structure that will accommodate only seventy students.

The committee on sites and buildings reported that they had interviewed the city engineer in regard to the feasibility of establishing permanent grades on the streets adjoining the Washington school site, and especially Peach, from First West to Centerstreets, and recommended that the clerk be directed to petition the City Council in behalf of the board to have said grade established as soon as possible. Adopted.

Ware & Colwell submitted sketches of eight and twelve room buildings, which they offered to furnish plans for at the following prices: Twelve room diagonal building, $750; eight room building, $500. For duplicate plans of Jackson school, including any alterations desired and a different exterior, $750. Committee on sites and buildings.

The committee on sites and buildings reported that they had conferred with the contractor, S. C. Shirtcliff, for the erection of the Western school building, and also with his bondsmen, Kidder and Gibson, and that it was not probable that the quality of pressed brick required by the specifications can be obtained in time to complete the building by September 1. Hence they recommended that the first quality, white wire cut common brick, of uniform color, be substituted, in consideration of which the contractor had agreed to deduct $1,000 from the contract price. They also recommended that the entire contract be transferred to the bondsmen, and that they be given until September 1 to complete the building, and that the sum of $100 be deducted from the contract price as liquidated damages for each and every day that the said building is not delivered ready for occupancy after September 1, 1893.

Pike moved to amend the report by adding that the written consent of the contractor be obtained to the transfer of the contract to his bondsmen. Carried.

The matter was then referred back for further report.

The same committee recommended that A. F. Parshall be employed to furnish the blackboard for the Jackson school building, at 55 cents per square yard, which is 60 per cent of the cost paid for the blackboards now in the schools. Adopted.

SALARIES OF TEACHERS.

Suit for Divorce.

In the Third district court late yesterday afternoon, Maisel Constantine filed an action for a divorce against William Constantine on the ground of extreme cruelty. Plaintiff says that she was married to the defendant in Pennsylvania seven years ago. Shortly after the marriage her husband began to treat her cruelly, and has continued to do so since that time. In September, 1892, he choked and otherwise maltreated her until she was overcome by nervous prostration and she left him, to return in a short time at his earnest solicitation. Shortly after her return he spat in her face and thereat her out of the room, telling her not to return. For this offense he was arrested, found guilty of assault and fined. At a still later date he threatened to kill her and she again left him, to return no more. She prays for a decree of divorce and that she be awarded the custody of the six-year old daughter.

A Further Word on the Hawaiian Question.

We have only one further word to add at this time to our former discussions of the Hawaiian question: If the United States shall definitely refuse to accede to Hawaii's request, this country must not stand in the way of Hawaii's pursuing any further course that she may choose. Let us play no disgraceful dog in the manger part. England, at least, appreciates the incomparable advantage of Hawaii as a point of call between Vancouver and Australia, and while England realizes the priority of the claims of the United States and is willing that this country should obtain the islands, she will not feel herself compelled, in case of our refusal, to turn a deaf ear to the overture that will doubtless be made to her by Hawaii. England will be perfectly justified in accepting Hawaii's proposal, and she will at once proceed to fortify the islands as impregnably as Bermuda, Malta and Gibraltar.—San Francisco Bulletin.
