DESERET EVENING NEWS.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1895.

DONOVAN GETS WILLIAMS.

He Started Back for Salt Lake With the Prisoner Last Night.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Captain Donovan, of the Salt Lake police, reported at police headquarters yesterday morning. He has with him a warrant for the extradition of J. C. Williams, on the charges of burglary and grand larceny. Williams broke into a gentleman's store at Salt Lake and stole cash and other articles to the value of $600. He was arrested here about a week ago. The captain left this evening with his prisoner.

County Court Matters.

The contract for county printing during the ensuing year has been awarded to Kelly & Co., of this city, the firm to give a bond in the sum of $5,000.

The matter of the application of James Hansen for a water right which A. J. Pendleton, ex-said are water commissioner, in 1891 declared the property of Salt Lake City, was referred to the selectmen. The petitioner sets up that the stream was developed while driving a tunnel in Parley's canyon, and demands the use of the same for milling purposes.

The petition of J. H. Miller and others saying that the snowplowing of State road be completed, has been passed to file.

A communication from Secretary Daniels, of the board of control, asking attention to bills approved at the last session, was disposed of in the usual way.

The county court will meet again next Monday.

GLOORY FOR THE INDIANS.

General McCook Describes the Recent Ute Troubles in this Territory—Indian Rights Association Defends.

The Colorado branch of the Indian Rights association passed out of existence Wednesday evening, says the Denver News. An audience of forty or fifty persons witnessed the final ceremonies, in the basement of the Trinity Methodist church. Major General McCook presented prizes to the successful essayists and spoke briefly upon the condition and outlook of Indian affairs. The prize winners were James McKashale and Miss Adaline Gardner, first prize; and Miss Winnifred Kinney and E. M. Antrem, second prize. Thirteen papers were submitted to the committee. The essayists covered the various phases of the Indian question in a highly interesting manner, the general drift being in favor of individual ownership of land by Indians and the inculcation of practical agriculture by capable teachers under pay of the government.

General McCook, in his address, declared that in his forty years' experience with the Indians, he had always found a white man at the bottom of every difficulty. He said that his decisions in cases of trouble between whites and Indians, have always been in favor of the Indians.

"There is a gloomy outlook for the Indians," said he, "There is no part of the Navajo reservation that I would accept as a gift. I couldn't make a living on it. If the money which is spent in Foreign missions was kept at home and expended in providing for the Indians, the returns would be quickly seen. I am a home missionary man and I believe in setting our house in order first before going out to interfere with other parts of the world.

"The 250,000 Indians of our country present an ample field for the exercise of the missionary spirit."

The general told of the 200,000 Navajos under charge of Captain Williams, the Indian agent, who, he said, is called upon to be judge, jurist, father and mother to his unbridled charges. The general paid a high compliment to Captain Williams and described the recent treaties in Utah, having a warm stand in behalf of the Indians. "The land which they moved upon," said he, "was the ancestral home of the tribe and the Indians had more right there than the white men. These Indians are now almost on the verge of starvation and it is only through the regular assistance extended by the government that they will be able to pass through the winter without extreme suffering. You can't take a starving man from your gate, I never parade an Indian for sneering when he is hungry. It is natural for him."

The general described the "fight" the renegade Apaches, and acknowledged that the renegade had intended the Englishmen, that made an end against him. "I have no regret," said he, "I exercised every precaution, whether every water hole in Arizona, but the Kid is caught his own master. I have been told that he is wounded so a service based on the Atlantic & Pacific Railway," here the general laughed and the audience joined in the chorus, "that I believe I don't know whether the Kid is alive or dead. He is the only hostile among 6,000 Apaches. He knows every valley and hill in Arizona and he is the hardest individual to catch in the American continent."

THE UTAH CENTRAL RECEIVERS

They File their Annual Report with Special Master Loomis.

The receivers of the Utah Central railway and its connections, last evening, filed their report with George D. Loomis, special master, showing receipts from the date of their appointment Nov. 27, 1893, to Dec. 31, 1894, $187,780.02. The disbursements amounted to the same, less $103.38 cash on hand. The report states that by order of the court of February 12, 1894, the receivers were directed to use $26,411.47 to pay certain advancements for rolling stock and other materials, and were authorized to use the remainder of the issue as collateral security wherein to obtain loan not exceeding $35,000 at a rate of interest not exceeding 8 per cent. They did not exercise such authority but disposed of the whole issue of $100,000 at par.

It is also set forth that owing to the existence of a combination between the Union Pacific and Rio Grande Western railways, which continued throughout the whole of 1894, the receivers were prevented from entering Salt Lake City over a distance of two miles on the joint and the east, and on account of business depression the two systems near Park City, which formerly carried the road with large traffic, were practically closed down. The revenue from the source in 1893 was $31,926.61, while in 1894 it was only $1,000.00.

Beginning with January 1, 1895, the receivers entered into an arrangement with the Rio Grande Western railway for the year 1895, whereby that company will receive Park City freight consigned to the receivers in Salt Lake valley and to various points and larger with the Utah Central with freight from its line and the east.

Special Notice.

Tickets for the Old Folks entertainment, February 6th, in the Salt Lake Theater, will be distributed on Saturday, February 2nd, and Monday, February 4th, between the hours of 10 and 12, from Savage's Art Store, 12 and 14 Main street.

OLD FOLKS COMMITTEE.

Wasatch Stake Conference.

The quarterly conference of the Wasatch Stake convened in the Stake house at Heber, Jan. 29 and 27, 1895.

The meeting on Saturday morning was called to order by President Hatch, and prayer was offered by Patriarch Thos. Hickens. President Hatch addressed the people, said he had visited all the wards in the stake, and believed there was improvement among the people; he had nothing but commendation for all, as there appeared to be a good feeling prevailing throughout the Stake.

Elder John Henry Smith of the Council of Apostles spoke of the good report that President Hatch had given of the wards; said he believed the Lord placed obstacles in the way of the people to try them; spoke also of the principles taught in the Sabbath schools by the teachers and the verse that was sometimes taught on week days by the same teachers or fathers of the same children, as for instance if the father should call on the son, if he had a load of hay ready for his mother, I want him to give a cup of water if it is within the way to make it hold out to weight.

Benediction by Counselor H. S. Alexander.

The afternoon meeting was opened with prayer by Brother John M. Murdock.

Counselor T. R. Giles said that there was an improvement in the Wasatch Stake, and he hoped it would continue.

Bishops N. C. Morrow, John Walker and Thos. Hickens reported their wards in a prosperous condition.

Elder John Henry Smith said if we judge by the reports, the Wasatch Stake was in a good condition; he spoke of training our boys in the principles of the Gospel; remarked that the devil is the devil's workmen, the Bishops might to draw the boys to them and give them something to do for all the cattle developing upon us is the raising of souls.

Benediction by Elder Wm. Cox.

On Sunday morning the meeting was opened by prayer by Patriarch John Duke.

Bishops Hicks, Tompkins and Lambert reported their wards in a good condition; Counselor H. S. Alexander admonished the people to be faithful to the word of God; Elder J. J. Jones and Joseph S. Harrison spoke a short time, and Bishop R. S. Duke reported his ward.

Elder John Henry Smith spoke of the duties of children to their parents, that the young should honor and respect the aged and aged should respect their children; that those that are placed over them. The question was asked, "Was sound difficult in the Sacrament?" Answered by Elder Smith, that it is the duty of Priests and Elders.

Benediction by Elder W. Dobell.

Sunday afternoon Prayer by Patriarch Galen. Sacrament administered by the Bishopric of Charleston ward. Elder John Murdock spoke a short time, followed by Robert Duke in regard to the devotion and training the young men to assist the Sculptures and prepare themselves for missions. Jos. Lambert reported the Sabbath school, and said the parents do not take the interest in their children that they should, in sending them to the school. E. D. Clyde reported the Elders' quorum.

The local authorities were then presented and unanimously confirmed.

Elder Smith spoke in relation to going into the temple to be married—that a great many of the young men after they are married forget their duties they have taken upon themselves. This is not right; it is better for them to get married in their bishop and wait until they are prepared to go through the Temple; he also counseled the young to keep themselves pure.

Benediction by Patriarch Thomas Hickens.

CHARLES H. GOLDWILER,
Clerk of Conference.

The Cake Club.

This club held its weekly meeting in the Supreme Court room last evening. There was a good attendance of members. After an address by John James on "Pending Hearings" in Utah in the nature of supplemental proceedings to discover certain "legal knowledge within the possession of the said defendant" took place, the judgment debtor passing through his examination.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing three months: President, C. D. Savery; vice president, M. E. Knight; secretary, Fred W. Silvestre; executive committee, J. W. Cherry, R. T. Davis and John James. Mr. James was also elected correspondent of the "Student's Law Helper."

The first annual banquet of the club will take place at the Grand Pacific hotel on Saturday, February 9th.

The Union Pacific.

The American Loan and Trust company, one of the defendants in the separate suits for foreclosure brought by Joseph Richardson, trustee, James M. Hom, trustee of the Utah Southern general mortgage, and James M. Hom, trustee of the Utah Southern extension mortgage, vs the Oregon Short Line & Utah Northern Railway company and others, have filed their answers in the Third district court. All the allegations relative to the mortgages placed on the different portions of the road comprised under the name of the Oregon Short Line & Utah Northern Railway company, the amounts of the several mortgages and the fact of default having been made in the payment of the interest are admitted.

LOGAN.

LOGAN, UTAH, JAN. 31, 1895.

Unfavorable Railway Change.

Logan is now left with only one daily train each way. The U. & N. Railway company has found it to itself better on the Cache Valley branch unprofitable, and the last one ran on Sunday. One mixed train each way will be made to answer the requirements of both passenger and train service. The greatest inconvenience will result to passengers to Pocatello and points north, who have heretofore left as the freight train the passenger on the main line, and would now have to stay at Union Junction from 7 a.m. until 8:35 p.m., if it were not for the fact that M. Thatcher Jr. has started a stage line to the junction for their convenience. The stage will leave in time to reach the northbound train, and will stay until the arrival of the southbound train in the morning, thus securing passengers both ways.

Religious Matters.

The Stake presidency held a meeting at Benson ward yesterday for the purpose of reorganizing the ward, to which an additional area was given at our conference, by the addition of the Riverside school district. In the afternoon they organized a new ward near Wellsville, combining the Hooper and Mendon school districts. The new ward will be known as the Sterling ward.

The principal instructions given during conference were in relation to tithing, Word of Wisdom, and the attention of the young to the paths of virtue. The Gospel in the youth of Zion now has constantly increasing immorality received much attention, and many valuable instructions were given as to the best methods of checking evils of this nature. The members of theological classes were given a hint that where the study of the Bible, Doctrine and Jacob benefit when properly applied, their heads should not become so crowded so with the idea that they know it all, as to lead them to criticize the teachings of the leaders of the Church, or those in authority over them.

Notes.

One street for innocent exposure and four arrests made at one time for gambling, comprises the police court record.

Some mischievous boys stuffed the letter boxes and boxes at the post-office full of paper the other evening. There is a rod in pickle for them.

Father Dowse, an old time resident of Logan, died on Sunday and was buried on Tuesday. Old age and general debility caused his death.

Mr. B. Fifield, of Weston, has died as the result of injuries received by falling from the loft to the floor of his barn. He lived and suffered for a week before the end came.

The court house is being wired for the electric light, and inspections are being made for a similar reception of the Fourth district court, which convenes its session here on the 25th of next month.

The thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero (Fahrenheit) on Monday morning. The members at the normal, Woodruff school, were allowed to return home, and the building has been been heated day and night. The tireless cold did not prevent a good attendance at conference from the settlements.

Peter Hansen, of Providence, died at the residence of his son Carl on Friday last, and was buried on Tuesday. He was born in 1814, joined the Church in 1851 and emigrated from Denmark in 1854. On the trip to Utah he lost his wife and two daughters. He lived in Providence for about twenty years and was widely known and respected.
