DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Friday, July 14, 1893.

FRAGMENTS.

Hon. Joseph E. Wanamaker was one of the delighted visitors at Saltair yesterday afternoon.

The county clerk this morning issued a marriage license to Enos Jackson, 21, and Ellen Farmington, 18, both of Salt Lake City.

Judge Zane will hold court tomorrow for the hearing of motions, but Judge Sutch will not sit again in the Third district court till Monday morning. In legal circles business is somewhat quiet.

The Union Pacific has just received a new lot of folders descriptive of the country through which the line passes. A special feature of these is the excellent relief map of the various sections dealt with. Towns are classified as the Great Salt Lake Basin, in the Rocky Mountains, The Great Plains, The Texas Panhandle, the Columbia River and The Pacific Slope. These maps are valuable as giving a good idea of the contour of the country. The descriptive matter is well arranged.

Memory Lecture.

Prof. Lotsette will give a free lecture on "Memory Training" in the Assembly Hall next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The foregoing having been announced, I would recommend that the Bishops of the wards of this stake notify the people accordingly next Sunday evening.

ABOUT M. CANNON,
President of Stake.

Saltair Excursions.

The following list of excursions are booked for Saltair Beach:

July 15—Denver and intermediate points.
July 16—The Manufacturers of Salt Lake, Logan and north counties.
July 17—Bingham.
July 20—Knights of Pythias.
July 21—Grand Sunday schools and three wards from Ogden.
July 22—Free and intermediate points.
July 24—Grand Army of the Republic encampment from all over the Territory.
August 6—The colored folks from all over the Territory.
August 8—Young Women's Press Club from Nauvoo.
August 11—Young Ladies Mutual Improvement association from the whole State; this will be one of the most prominent days of the year.
August 31—The Central Band of Texas.
September 4—Ladies day will be strictly celebrated by the bicycling stable congress at Saltair Beach. This promises to be the largest congregation of Labor Day ever known in the Territory.

Incorporations.

Late yesterday afternoon two sets of articles of incorporation were filed with County Clerk Maloy. In regard to the Judson Drug company the incorporators are Wm. A. Nelden, John J. Judson, Willys H. Monson, Sarah O. Nelden and Edward C. Smith, and a general drug business will be carried on. The capital stock is $100,000, divided into 1000 shares of the par value of $100 each. Wm. A. Nelden, president, John J. Judson, vice-president, Edward C. Smith, treasurer, and Willys H. Monson, secretary.

The Free Methodist church also filed its articles of incorporation. The incorporators are H. L. Carter, Fannie Lyman, S. C. Lyman, A. C. Carter, D. Perkins, J. M. Perkins and Maria Hansen.

He Doesn't Pay Up.

Judge Zane, during yesterday afternoon, granted an order calling upon Washington H. Kimball to show cause in open court, on the 29th ult., why he should not be punished for contempt of court.

The offense alleged is failure to pay certain money to the woman from whom he was divorced (on the wife's petition) in December, 1892. The order then made was for the payment of $25 per month alimony and costs, amounting to nearly $40.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

Destructive Work by Grasshoppers in Weber County.—The Ground Squirrel Troubling Southern Farmers.

Following is a brief review of the last report of Observer Salisbury:

Conditions have not changed much since the previous week, the dry spell continuing unbroken. The week was one of constant sunshine, at times very hot. Crops having plenty of water made the usual growth.

Although localities differ as much in the state of advancement of the various crops, wheat as a rule is headed out everywhere. On high lands, owing to the extremely dry summer, the straw will be very short. Winter wheat looks more promising than spring wheat. Unless rain comes soon the latter will not fill well. Potatoes are well advanced, and are doing well.

Grasshoppers are doing some damage to hay fields in Weber county. An animal pest, the ground squirrel, is troubling farmers in the vicinity of Teasdale. Melons have set and are partly grown at Moab.

Curing the first crop of hay being now practically over for all sections, rain at this time would do untold good and no harm.

SUMMER OUTING.

Contemplating a Northern Trip.—Where to Make It.

The advantages of the health and pleasure resorts of the Rocky Mountains, and particularly of the Great Salt Lake Basin, are becoming well known and recognized all over the world, and tourists from every clime pour in in almost continuous stream. Our own unsurpassed sanitorium, the Great Salt Lake, holds well its place in the lead, and obtains the lion's share of patronage.

With many who are familiar in their experience with the lake sections of being within a half hour's ride, there is a desire to make a special summer's outing to some more distant locality, and each season Northern Utah and Southern Idaho, particularly Cache, Bear Lake and Snake River valleys have afforded a pleasant change of scenery and surroundings to many residents of Salt Lake and vicinity, and doubtless will do so again this year.

A number of Salt Lakers also contemplate making a trip to Yellowstone Park, now that a reasonable degree of comfort at a moderate cost is provided for in travel. The most suitable time for such a visit is a matter of consideration to the intending "tourist," and on this subject Mr. Henry Finnis, senior member of a leading mercantile house in Rexburg, Idaho, gives some good advice in a letter just received by a gentleman in this city who contemplated going that way. Says Mr. Finnis:

I would advise you, however, not to start until the middle or latter end of August, as by that time the flies, mosquitoes and high water will not be an impediment to our pleasure. By that time, too, the tourists will be most plentiful in the Park, and the scenery at its best."

The trip to the Yellowstone need not occupy more than twelve or fifteen days, and can be made in less. From Beaver canyon eight days are necessary for comfort. The stages leave that station daily at 5 a.m. The first day Snake river is reached in a 45-mile drive. The second day's ride of 35 miles is through pine woods, by Henry's lake, up Tyghee pass and the north fork of the Madison into the Park. The third day only covers 16 miles, but is in the Park, and is intensely interesting, from the fact that the trip is from Firehole basin into the upper Geyser basin, where the "Giantess," "Old Faithful" and others of the greatest geysers in the world are located. The fourth day's ride of 22 miles takes in the Yellowstone Falls and Grand canyon; the fifth day Mammoth Hot Springs, 25 miles, the sixth back to Fire Hole basin, 40 miles; and the seventh and eighth days again to Beaver canyon, a total distance of 315 miles. The tour is one that brings a good deal of information as well as pleasure.

Samoan Conference.

The semi-annual conference of the Tutuila branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was held at Pagopago, Saturday and Sunday, May 27th and 28th, 1893. The Saints seemed to have partaken of the good spirit that animates true Latter-day Saints on such occasions, and assembled from all parts of the island.

The first meeting commenced Saturday, May 27th, at 10 a.m., local president A. L. Green presiding. The following named missionaries were present: Elders George E. Browning, A. L. Green, A. W. Harding, F. V. Van Cott, H. E. Diamond, J. W. Barton, Wm. Low and James Hicks; a number of natives holding the priesthood were also present. Elder A. L. Green called the conference to order and offered prayer. Elder Wm. Low was the first speaker; he gave some good and timely advice and encouraged the Saints to be valiant in the cause of truth. Elder F. V. Van Cott followed and dwelt upon the principle of baptism.

At 2 p.m. Elder Green presented the names of the authorities, both local and general, which were unanimously sustained. Elder James Hicks followed with remarks on the Kingdom of God. At 7 p.m. a Priesthood meeting was held; besides the missionaries the following native holding the Priesthood were present: Isaac, Fiatoia, Vitali, Tuli and Salele. Elder Geo. E. Browning spoke on the duties and responsibilities of those holding the Priesthood, and gave many valuable instructions. Elders F. V. Van Cott, James Hicks, A. L. Green and the native present each bore testimony.

Sunday morning, May 28th, the first meeting convened at 8 a.m. and Elders H. I. Diamond, A. W. Harding and A. L. Green were the speakers; they dwelt upon the first principles of the Gospel and the personality of God.

At 10 a.m. Sunday school was held. A very interesting programme was carried out, consisting mainly of answering questions concerning Church history. The Articles of Faith were also recited. Elder Geo. E. Browning addressed the school, encouraging the children in their labors. Elders Jas. Hicks and F. V. Van Cott (to whom much credit is due for the intelligence displayed by the children) then presented them with some prizes hand-bill by the Elders.

The Saints again assembled at 4 p.m. and President George E. Browning addressed the congregation; he desired the assistance of the Holy Spirit, that he might be led to utter words of encouragement and advice to the Saints assembled. He advised the parents to take an interest in their children and endeavor to erode in their hearts a love for the principles of the everlasting Gospel.

After the meeting three baptisms were performed.

Evening meeting was held at 7 p.m. Those who were baptized in the afternoon came forward and were confirmed by President George E. Browning and Elders Green, Low and Van Cott. The Saints were invited to occupy the time as the Spirit might direct. Iata, Peamoli, Fashatala, Mamoga, Lepale, Aunoa and Lilo—children from six to eight years of age—arose and bore their testimonies, as did also some of the Saints present. President Browning made a few remarks. Elder Low bore his testimony to the truth of the Gospel, after which conference was adjourned.

Jottings From England.

A private letter from Elder Henry Lunt, who is now laboring as a missionary in England, contains the following:

On Tuesday Brother Stadfled and myself went to Chester to attend the royal agricultural show which was a grand affair. We spent the whole day looking at the display that was there. The whole thing covered an area of 130 acres. In the afternoon the prince of Wales and others of the royal family visited the fair. We stood close by the side of the prince's carriage and had a good look at him. There was 21,000 people at the show on the day we were there and sometimes we could hardly move about. I enjoyed it very much. In the evening we walked down to the Dee River, about three miles, where we saw a most beautiful sight. After dark, one side of the river for two miles, was lighted by Chinese lamps in all colors, making a fine sight. At 10:15 the fireworks began and for miles the whole country was brightly illuminated. The scene was witnessed by many thousands of people from all parts of the land.

The prince and his party came down the river in boats and were greeted by the people. The bands of music, and the noise of the fireworks, together with the clapping of hands and shouts of the people almost made the earth shake. It is said the illumination cost $25,000, and I don't doubt it. When it was all over there was a great rush for the railway station which was about four miles distant.

"The weather is still fine, we have had no rain for a long time. It looked as though it would rain when I got up this morning but it has all blown over again. The crops in the fields and gardens are needing water badly. In some parts of the country water is getting very scarce. If this kind of weather keeps up I don't know how it will be with the grain crop. I don't think it will be much good. Last Sunday was the warmest day known in England for over one hundred years. In fact I felt it almost as hot as in July at home. Where the hay has been cut the stubble looks just like it does at home.

OBITUARY.

BROWN.—At his father's residence in Mill Creek, July 13th, 1893, at 9 p. m., Frederick Gilbert Brown, aged 21 years and 1 month. Deceased had been suffering for his approximately three weeks from a bad cold, so bright and so promising a young man. He was so universally esteemed and admired by all who knew him, and his death was a great shock to his numerous relatives. His sickness, resulting from inflammation produced by an injury over the stomach and bowels, the whole sickness, could trace back not more than two weeks' duration. The little boy was a great favorite in the church, and in full fellowship and greatly respected by his associates. The loss is felt by all the more severely as being the only son in a family of eight.

Funeral services will be held in the new brick school house opposite the L. D. S. chapel, Mill Creek, Friday, July 14th, at 1 o'clock p. m.

The Arnold-McNally-Austin Concert at the Congregational Church tonight will prove a feast for lovers of music. Admission, 50c.
