WITH THE STRIKERS.

A Trump Was Yesterday's Total of Injuries at Cripple Creek.

ALL QUIET NOW AT McKEESPORT.

Deputies, Strikers, Knives, and Ties on the Track Cause one Ohio Road to Withdraw Its Trains.

CRIPPLE CREEK, June 8.—A trumpt of the miner was the extent of the injuries inflicted in the skirmish between deputies and miners yesterday. The man who was crowned by the advance of the deputies towards Bull Hill to receive serious injuries was not fatally hurt.

THE SAN CARLOS PRISONERS.

The situation became warlike at 10 o'clock when the entire force of deputies started for Bull hill with Gatling guns. General Adams says the deputies will take the hill or sacrifice every man in the command. General Brooks has ordered the deputies to halt and return the Gatling guns, but the order was ignored. Orders were at once given the militiamen to fall in upon the opposing forces or prevent a meeting of armies. Ten minutes after the bugles sounded there was a terrific wending of adieu at Altman, calling women together for the battle. Deputies and citizens were expecting battle in a few moments. Gen. Brooks was in his positive promise from Governor Rowett that no advance would be made toward Bull Hill by the militia today.

11 a.m.—Two hundred deputies joined by Gen. Adams are near the opposite place on Carbonate Hill, held by the miners.

12:30 p.m.—A telephone message from Secretary Gen. McMillan, of the Miners' union, states that no reinforcements will be offered to the advance of the deputies on Bull Hill. A majority of the miners for whom warrants have been issued, have already scattered over the hills. Johnson, the sheriff, is believed to be a captive. The men who remain will go to work and protection of the deputies, who still are possession of all the mines.

C. W. Wright, and W. A. McClelland, of Colorado Springs, were accidentally shot today by a deputy who applied a gun carelessly. Wright was wounded in the groin and is not expected to recover. McClelland was wounded in the knee.

THE MILITIA TAKE POSSESSION.

Gen. Bell as at the head of the state troops intercepted the deputies and ordered Sheriff Bowers to send them back to camp. After some parleying bowers complied. The militia now hold the key to the situation. General Brooks rode in front of the deputies' lines and shook hands with the men. Three cheers were given for the militia. The militia will take possession of the mines as soon as order is received from Governor Waite and a greater part of the deputies will be sent home probably tomorrow. General Adams was raising the guns on Bull Hill, only three quarters of a mile away when the troops headed off the deputies. The miners' leaders are fleeing in all directions.

QUIET AT MCKEESPORT.

McKEESPORT, June 8.—The crowds have dispersed and quiet prevails. It is safe to say that nothing but an attempt to run the Tube works will now occur or the introduction of deputies would cause an outbreak.

THE TRAIN DIDN'T RUN.

MARION'S FERRY, O., June 8.—This morning an unsuccessful effort was made to run trains on the Cleveland, Lorraine & Wheeling railroad after the week's tie up. Two were placed on the track, dynamite was used, a bridge was fired, knives were exhibited and the train was run back. The bridge at Whisky Run was burned and troops have been ordered to the field.

MADISON, Mo., June 8.—General Manager Crandal and Superintendent W. E. Smith, of the Kansas & Texas Coal company, who are guarding Sheriff Rock, report that another attack was made last night on a mine which negro miners were at work. Teller suggested that the resolution be modified to confirm the supply simply to the advisability of releasing the Stanford estate without touching the validity of the claim, in order not to affect other claims which the government might have.

Hoar agreed to modify the resolution in accordance with the suggestion.

Teller recounted a conversation he had had with Stanford shortly before his death, in which he expressed his intention to transfer as rapidly as possible the title of that portion of his estate which he intended to dedicate to the Leland Stanford Jr. University.

White, Calif., said suit was brought by the United States against the estate of the late senator was instituted to prevent the distribution of the estate before the debt owing the government from the Central Pacific, of which Stanford was an original stockholder, fell due. There had been no desertion on the part of the attorney general. The suit could not have been instituted before Stanford's death under the statutes of California under which the corporation was organized.

Allen, Neb., moved to lay the resolution on the table. The motion was carried, 24 to 18 as follows:

Yes—Allen, Berry, Blackburn, Caffery, Coke, Daniel, Faulkner, George, Harris, Hunton, Jarvis, Jones (Ark.), Kyle, McLaurin, Martin, Mills, Mitchell (Wis.), Murphy, Pasco, Pettigrew, Smith, Turpie, Vest, White. Total, 24.

Squire Skeggels drove to Camp Kelly. Arriving there he was escorted to a log heap ten feet in height, shaded by trees. The bridal party was assisted to mount the pile, and General Kelly sounded his bugle, upon which 1,100 men surrounded them with bare heads. After the couple had been pronounced man and wife, the bride, overcome by emotion, fainted, but was restored to consciousness in a few minutes.

Repeal on Jenkins's Famous Order

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Representative Wm. A. Stone, of Pennsylvania, today submitted a minority report on the investigation of Judge Jenkins's decision against the Northern Pacific employes. The report is signed by Stone, Hay and Powers. It takes the ground that if the judge had been informed of the violation of injunctions then the majority should have recommended his impeachment; but as the majority gives him credit for sincerity of purpose, no action should be taken by Congress until a higher court decides when the law is on the appeal from Jenkins.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The committee investigating the sugar trust received session today. H. L. Terrell, who represented the refiners here while the tariff was under consideration in the committee, was examined. It is understood that Terrell said he had no knowledge of any of the statements published concerning the alleged improper sugar trust influences in forming the schedule of the tariff. When asked as to the report written by Edwards, of the conference at the Arlington hotel, overheard by Gaston, Terrell said he spent the evening in a room at the hotel with the gentlemen whose names were given by Edwards, namely: Senators Brice and Smith, and H. O. Havemeyer and Henry H. Rose, of the sugar trust. He said they discussed the schedule of sugar and had referred to probability of tariff legislation in the interest of sugar; but he denied that the conversation had been of the character represented by Edwards, of that there had been any preference to the enhancement of the value of the sugar stock for the purpose of influencing legislation. Terrell acknowledged being present at Senator Camden's room opposite the Arlington when Jones met Havemeyer.

APPEAL TO GOV. FISHBACK.

Strikers Threatened With Ejection Call for Protection.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 8.—Governor Fishback has received the following message from the strikers at Coal dale, I. T.:

"We, residents of the Indian Territory, demonstrated striking miners, are informed that a large portion of our number, variously estimated at 5,000 to 8,000 persons, men, women and children, together with their movable personal effects are to be summarily ejected from the territory regardless of the justice of our opposition to a most heartless and disastrous reduction of our wages. Whether we will be thrown upon your soil or that of the states of Kansas or Texas, we know not. The sympathy decisive person will be inflicted upon either state without its most strenuous opposition, we do not cannot.

"We therefore call your attention to the fact that this compulsory immigration is in direct opposition to our most earnest protest and without our consent, and pray you to make the safety of our families—helpless victims between two fires—your concern as far as lies in the power of your duties."

The governor responded that the government had the right to remove intruders and that he could not prevent those from coming to this state.

The trouble grew out of the fact that the receiver appointed by the United States court of the Choctaw coal company, which operates the mines at Hartshorn and Anderson has called on the United States government for troops to remove as intruders the miners who are on a strike and who threaten violence to the men brought in to fill their places. It was thought a conflict would be precipitated, but thus far trouble has been averted, though the strikers say they will resist ejection.

THE PIG IRON MARKET.

Somewhat Increased Buying But Prices Unchanged.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 8.—The Iron Trade Review says: The pig iron market has seen somewhat increased buying by jobbers and foundry and forge, with continued firmness in grades which are short of supply, but generally speaking prices are unchange. A few spot lots have changed hands at $1.75 and off grade iron has brought our little less. Valley furnaces have made very little future delivery in the past week. At Pittsburg 5,000 ton sale for delivery in thirty days after execution was made at $12.00. In Ohio there is but little disposition to make engagements for the future, but it is agreed that there will be no appeals to the low prices that prevailed during the strike. Heavy spot transactions are noted at Erie at Pittsburg and Wheeling. Some rolling mills have had to stop the past week because coal could not be had. Foundries have been better able to get coke where they were willing to pay the price. Finished material is bringing better prices.

Where orders are urgent buyers of bars and of structures are inclined to accumulate themselves to make that are in stock that are in mills where there is not too great a depletion from their requirements.

It is believed that the accumulations of suppressed business during the coal strike will keep the mills busy for weeks after they start up.

To Adjust the Debt.

The new plan provides for the issuance of three per cent bonds, interest payable semi-annually, to run fifty years. Besides the companies are to be required to pay in semi-annual installments the entire debt in fifty years. If the interest on the bonds is in default ninety days the government may foreclose.

A MILITARY FUNERAL.

The Body of the Late Major Walker Laid to Rest in Mt. Olivet.

All that was mortal of the late Major Walker was laid to rest in Mt. Olivet cemetery today. The funeral was of a military character, and the services were very impressive and interesting.

There was no ceremony at the residence and the remains were conveyed to the Catholic church, where Bishop Scanlan celebrated requiem mass and presented an earnest and eloquent funeral sermon. A choir of mixed voices rendered sweet and touching music. Colonel Blair and his staff acted as honorary pall bearers, while six sergeants from the Fort were the pall bearers in fact. A Happy "House-Warming."

The handsome new residence of Ex-Mayor Francis Armstrong, at the corner of First South and Seventh East Streets, was the scene last evening of real festivity and a genuine flow of reason and rejoicing. The guests, about seventy-five in number, included the First Presidency and the Presiding Bishopric of the Church, also the Bishopric of the Eleventh ward, as well as many business associates and neighbors of the host—all sincere friends of himself and his estimable family. A bountiful repast was partaken of at 9 o'clock, the presence of the least being added by sweet music from adjoining parlors; after which the visitors assisted themselves of the freedom of the house to explore its many rooms and admire its elegant appointments. Commencing in the parlors at 9 o'clock, a dedicatory prayer was offered by President George Q. Cannon, followed by a timely—inspiring, instructive and congratulatory in their character—from President Wilford Woodruff, George Q. Cannon and Joseph F. Smith. All felt to bless their blessing on the family, with the wish that peace, happiness and plenty may always be their portion.

The house is attractive and well-appointed in every respect, while its furnishings are complete and in the best of taste; and there is no part of it that is one will be good for the smallest people that inhabit it.

A BLACK LIST CASE.

A Protective Association Charged With Threatening Libel.

JUDGE POWERS, COMPLAINANT.

An Investigation That Will Be Noted With Interest by the Business Public—Police Court.

Judge Powers was noted to appear in the Police court at 2 o'clock this afternoon as complaining witness in a case in which Parmele G. Luke, John W. Judd, T. G. Webber, S. H. Hill, Thomas R. Stevens, Nathan Heath, C. H. Dunn and Louis Cohn as officers of the Mechanics' Protective association, are charged with threatening to publish libel.

The action arises out of the following letter which is a part of the complaint and explains itself:

MR. O. W. POWERS:

Twice within the past twenty days I have had occasion, as attorney of the Mechanics' Protective association, to call your attention to a bill of $21.50, owing by you to Wells & Dunn company.

I am under the necessity of informing you that unless the same is paid within ten days from the date I will send your name, address and the amount of the bill to every merchant in your city, and request them, in accordance with an article of agreement, no credit will be extended to you until the same is paid. Desiring, if possible, to save your future credit, we now inform you this is positively our last request. Any adjustment within that time will stop further proceedings. To avoid mistake, reply on the back of this above.

Yours respectfully,

PARMELE G. LUKE,
Manager Mechanics' Protective association.

This association is established to afford protection in giving credit.

It is further set forth in the complaint that the representations contained in the letter are false, scandalous, malicious, defamatory and contrary to law.

Judge Powers alleges that since he paid the bill referred to he has received three letters, the last of which is made a part of the complaint as quoted above. Mr. Luke was placed under arrest and released on his own recognizance on the understanding that he would appear in court when the case should be called.

On the opening at the police court this afternoon Attorneys Varian and Dunaiy appeared before Justice Smith to behalf of Judge Judd and other defendants. They gave notice that they would file a demurrer to the complaint setting forth that the facts stated do not constitute a ground for action.

The time for arguing the demurrer was set for Tuesday afternoon next at 2 o'clock. Attorneys Arthur Brown and Dennis Ellchner will prosecute.

THE GRIMES SHOOTING CASE.

The Story of the Trouble Told By a Divorce Seeking Wife.

Henry J. Grimes, the carpenter arrested on a charge of assault with attempt to kill his wife, appeared in the police court this morning to answer to the complaint. He was represented by Judge Powers. B. F. Coal, who was associated with Assistant County Attorney Eichner in the prosecution, withdrew from the case. After some dispute as to whether Mrs. Grimes was an eligible witness, she was placed on the stand and testified that on the morning of the trouble she went down town to consult an attorney with a view to securing a divorce. Returning home she informed her husband of that fact, whereupon he seized a flask of whisky, drank almost a pint, got a shotgun and declared: "If you have done that I will kill you."

"I was not," said the wife tremulously, "afraid of the man at that time; it was the whisky that frightened me, as I knew Mr. Grimes was a desperate man when under the influence of liquor. When he leveled the gun at me I screamed and ran out of the house. As I was hastening away I heard a report of the gun and informed the neighbors that I believed John had killed himself. After that I remembered no more."

Mr. Eichner here moved a dismissal of the case. The court sustained the motion and immediately afterwards Grimes was arraigned on a charge of resisting an officer. The latter being ex-Jailor Raleigh. The result was that the defendant was held to await the action of the grand jury. His bonds were fixed at $150 but being unable to secure them he was compelled to go back to jail.
