

AT ST. JOHN, KANSAS.

Incidents of the Progress of the Work There.

Sedation of a Meeting House Belonging to the Saints—Widowhood of St. John People.

St. John, Standard Co., Kan., Sept. 7, 1895.

Editor DISNEY NEWS:

Our party arrived at this place at 12:15 this morning, all well. We were joined at Russellton, on our way here, from Burton, by Elders Wallace, Vining, Bowring, Margott and others, on their way to conference from their fields of labor. It was a happy occasion to meet friends from Utah. Elder Wallace was poor in health, but will soon recover. He is improving.

After writing you from Denver, in the afternoon we took the Nineteenth street cars east, which runs through the heart of the city, to the eastern, northeast, northern and southeast boundaries of the city. The two sides with houses, give a view of Denver and its gardens and beautiful residence, and other points of interest, not leaving out the Union depot 700 feet long. The tower in the night it is in the house.

We left Denver just at evening, in a comfortable spring-back chair, arriving at Elkhorn about 10:30, where we took a cross-country road of the Platte valley, 50 miles to Burwell. We left Burwell 15 minutes in time. It is 80 miles from Burwell to St. John. We arrived at 12:15 P.M. We were met by the Rev. Mr. H. M. Blasius, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who had a good time giving instructions. In the evening we had a general meeting. The tolling bell caused the people to fill the church. With others, we made a good time.

The services were received with every appearance of good will. We were invited from the hand of the family of Mr. Calvin Glasscock, a gentleman who donated several lots in the town, for the purpose of building a meeting house upon. There are some peculiar circumstances connected with this site, but the church building when it is built, the members will have a good time.

The members will have a good time.

Edward STEVENSON.

subscribed towards moving a beautiful church building up to the grounds, and we are about putting a new pump on the water tank, and a new pump for the planters. The mayor, officers, and several preachers (Bishop), are an accompaniment.

We are invited to remain over Wednesday and give a lecture in the pavilion, on our travels to Utah, especially there, and our irrigation system. The water system here is very good. Water is twenty feet below the surface, and the pressure of minimum. The water seems to be very sweet and pure. It can be drawn up easily for irrigation purposes. The water is almost constant here. Were we to build a large tank, the people say they would be costly, the atmosphere is so different from our mountain air. We are invited out after, and hope that we would be welcome to two houses and furnish a lot of fun.

I expect that the minutes of the elders will be finished before I leave that portion. Only I will add that the Church visiting stands upon an entirely different basis than education, and our people will be welcome to two houses and furnish a lot of fun.

The school is now open, and the teacher is the teacher of the great.

EDWARD STEVENSON.

Utah County Teachers' Association.

CASTILLE, UTAH, Sept. 14,

1895.—The first annual session of the Utah County Teachers' Association was held at this noon.

The following organization was elected:

Vice-president, W. H. Hawings,

Secretary, Miss F. Swanson,

Corresponding secretary, Clara Gosscock.

Executive committee, C. E. Christie,

John C. Johnson, Frank A. Hause,

George, Spanish Fort; S. S. Taylor,

Peyson, D. H. Riddle, Pleasant

Grove; W. B. Calderwood, American

Fork; J. W. Clark, Leth; T. F. El-

Chorley; J. Z. Vining, of Alpine;

Assistant chairman, F. H. Kelley,

Springville;

Organist, Prof. Giles.

Atmospheric, the University of Utah, and the public schools.

Intelligence is dispersed upon the subject here.

Education, while the teachers in the schools are not fully educated, their knowledge is not fully developed.

There are some peculiar circumstances connected with this site, but the church building when it is built, the members will have a good time.

The members will have a good time.

EDWARD STEVENSON.

What a Present!

H. M. Blasius, senior member of St. Louis, writes:

"I have been left with

affectionate wishes, including the result of my visit to the West.

My wife and I are looking forward to our return home.

Our son, George, has been a good boy, and has been a good boy.

He is a good boy.