A Logan Boy of Fourteen Meets With a Bad Accident While on Horseback.

EXTENSIVE CATTLE PURCHASES.

Fearful and Fatal Fall From a Balcony.—Street Improvement in San Diego, Cal.

A three-year-old geranium plant was presented to the San Diego Chamber of Commerce a few days ago that measured eighteen inches in circumference.

Col. J. H. Breed, a merchant of Winslow, N. M., shot and instantly killed Wm. Pierce, a merchant, on Monday night, by accident.

About a week ago a serious land slide took place in the Logan and Richmond canal near its source and the supply of water in Logan has been interrupted most of the time since.

Citizens interested in street improvement and beautifying the city of San Diego are urging tree planting, and have not able to bear the expense they are furnishing trees free.

Cheyenne Sun: The World's Fair commissioners have the Wyoming marble and coal for the state World's Fair exhibit. The marble is from a ledge miles in extent and the coal from a fourteen-foot measure.

A freight agent of the R. G. W. Ry. came up on Monday to ascertain what could be done to pacify the people who want a reduction on freight rates. He is not authorized to offer the people any reduction on the exorbitant freight rates from Toledo, or any relief whatever.—Richfield Advocate.

There is a movement on foot to establish a creamery at Bennett valley, Sonoma county. The farmers of that section have been keeping a few dairy cows, but the milk products being more than the demand, they have decided upon the step. It is said that the milk from 250 to 300 cows will be sent there the year round.

Quite a scramble has been going on between several Richfield citizens in an endeavor to improve and thus secure the right of purchase of university land, says the Advocate. Where plots had been set by one man for a fence, others have regarded that as not being an improvement, and have been plowing up the land.

The deputy assessors of San Diego, Cal., have been able to collect the poll tax from only about seventy-five Chinese, and to scare the 500 remaining they have arranged to arrest them or more that can be identified and take them before the police judge for misdemeanor, which will compel each to pay $10 fine. The officers think the other Chinese will then pay $2 apiece to save themselves.

A ranchman near Grover says that a war has been opened on gophers, which have heretofore wrought ruin in grain fields. The carcass of a single gopher is filled with strychnine and laid on a "run." The little striped squirrels are cannibals and feast from the remains of the dead. In this way scores have been killed.

Joseph Cosmelli, representing B. F. Sonsoles of Salt Lake, has been making numerous cattle purchases throughout the country of late, says the Helena (Nev.) Lode, particularly in Steptoe and Cave valleys and over in Steptoe and Skelhorn. Stewart McAnich was also a contributor, having included in the sale a number of choice steers from his land. The prices are a little in advance of those paid last year, notwithstanding that the condition of the cattle from the recent storm is poor.

A statement in a Nevada paper that the gauge of the Virginia and Truckee railroad is to be changed from broad to narrow gauge between Mount Rose station and Reno is pronounced absurd by officials of that road, as change of gauge would necessitate two transfers of freight from the Central Pacific to Virginia. The report that the line of the Carson and Colorado railroad is soon to be extended from its present terminus at Keeler to Port Hueneme, south of Santa Monica, is officially denied.

Abraham Hansen, a boy about fourteen years of age, was riding a horse on Monday in the fields near College ward, Logan, when a rabbit jumped from some brush directly in front of the animal, causing it to jump suddenly. The boy was thrown off and the horse, which was sharp shod, stepped on his head. One of the sharp heel cualks entered just under the jaw bone, near the chin, and forced its way through the flesh and bone into his mouth. The jaw bone was badly broken and the leg spat out several pieces of bone before reaching Dr. Ormsby's office, where several other pieces were removed and the ragged looking wound sewed up.

A report has reached Phoenix that a band of Apaches, heavily armed, were eighty miles out from Phoenix, in Cave Creek. They have entered houses and demanded provisions and everything they wanted. A little boy, the son of J. A. Hoskins, a station master near Phoenix, rode rapidly to the settlement twice, and fifteen armed men came to the rescue. The Indians said they had no permit, and needed none, and were going to the Colorado River. They also stated there were ten more of the party. Many other horse tracks were seen. Even children carry pistols and carbine belts. No one has been hurt as yet. The citizens of Cave Creek think the Kid and his band are going to join the Mojaves near White's mills.

While the section of country around Great Falls, Montana, is enjoying spring days continued severity along the Canadian border is known by the terrible physical condition of four Austrians and a German who have just arrived there on musical treadmill. Two of the party had badly frozen feet, all were suffering from snow blindness, and they tell almost incredible stories of what they suffered from snow and cold. On Thursday, in company with six Englishmen, they started from Maple creek, on the Canadian Pacific, to walk to Havre, a distance of 150 miles. Fifty miles out the Englishmen turned back, but the Austrians and Germans pressed on and finally, nearly dying with cold and hunger, reached Havre.

William McLane, a native of Canada, age 50, fell from a balcony at the city and county hospital at San Francisco the other night, and was almost instantly killed. The deceased was a patient at the hospital, having been admitted on March 21, and was being treated for a bad case of heart disease. As to apparently the rest with all patients suffering from heart disease, McLane was short of breath, and while the nurse's back was turned for a minute, he went to the balcony for a breath of fresh air. Nobody saw him fall from the place, but as the railing is only two feet for instalings, the probability is that he became dizzy and pitched over the rail before he could save himself. He was picked up by the gatekeeper and carried inside, but he died before anything could be done for him.
