H. A. Fyler and Mrs. McKeon Discharged—A Similar Order in the Embry Case.

It is said, although the saying may be taken with seasoning, that the disappearance of Justice Marshall Adams, of Fyler-McKeon fame, is an insoluble mystery; he has not been seen or heard from since before noon on Tuesday last, and then he was on Third South street.

However credible or otherwise the mystery part of the story may be, his materialization at the bribery hearing yesterday was not brought about, and as a result George Mikes, C. J. Hogg and Hoe Frazer, who were charged with the offense, were found not guilty by Justice Harvey and orders discharged.

A dismissal order was made in the case of the principals—H. A. Fyler and Mrs. McKeon—to which Judge Powers objected strenuously, but to no avail, as Justice Harvey held that as the county attorney did not desire to prosecute the case, his only prerogative was to order the discharge of the defendants, which he did.

A story is going the rounds of a certain amount of hidden treasure which Adams had secreted in the basement of the Dooly building and which it is claimed he extracted from its hiding place on Tuesday morning. The amount is placed at $750, and it is said that Adams claimed he got it there during the panic of 1893.

New State Company.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the county clerk by the New State Mining and Milling company with a capital stock of $250,000 divided into shares of $5 each. The fellow named persons are the incorporators: James Vellek, John A. Batt, Harry C. Beckett, Fred Simon, J. H. Winlon, Robert C. Gemmel and Harry C. Beckett. These gentlemen, with the exception of the last named constitute the board of directors, while James Vellek, is president, J. H. Winlon, vice president, Fred Simon, treasurer, and Robert C. Gemmel secretary.

Students' Society.

The next session of the Students' society of the L. D. S. College to be held Friday, the 17th, will be a highly interesting one. Prof. Marshall, of the University of Utah, will deliver a lecture "On the Advantage of Studying English Literature." All interested in the subject are invited to attend. R. A. FERRIN, Chairman.

Fish and Game Matters.

The following has been received by Fish Commissioner Musser:

DENVER, COLO., Jan. 14, 1896.

Hon. A. Milton Musser, State Fish Commissioner, Salt Lake City, Utah:

Dear Sir—I have been so busy since my return that I have not as yet been able to attend to the little items that I spoke to you about when last we met.

I have received the valve and will send you an entirely new device that I believe will prove perfectly satisfactory. I will also send you a copy of our game and fish laws, and, if possible, will give you a type-written copy of the proposed new law. Yesterday I received a copy of the Utah game laws, which you were kind enough to send me and for which I desire to thank you.

The game case at Grand Junction resulted in the fining of the man Bertholf the full extent of our law, namely $100, and in addition a sentence in two counties to jail.

I will also send you blue prints of the irrigation system that I have.

The method of canning was too much in dispute to do our fish any market, so it seems to add to our game fund as large an amount as possible, I ordered the venison shipped to Chicago, where we are reasonably sure of a good market.

Thanking you for the courtesies extended, I am, yours truly,

JOHN N. CAMPBELL,
State Fish Commissioner.

Mr. Musser sends the following statement: If our officers had been numerous enough to throw of Courtright, there would Bertholf would have been caught and the whole thing closed to the credit of Utah, for the only witness that he killed the evidence at the Grand Junction that week from Utah at my request subsidiaries.

A SURPRISE PARTY.

The Bishopric of the Fifth Ward Given a Hearty and Jolling Reception.

The residents of the Fifth ward turned out en masse in the meeting house last night, in pursuance of an invitation issued to them by the Relief society, to give a "surprise" to the Bishopric. The case succeed was a good one, and contrary to general expectations, worked admirably. It was the regular night for the ward choir practice and negotiations had been entered into between the Relief Society officers and the choir leader to invite the Bishopric to meet with the sisters as they had "special business" to lay before them.

The invitation, however, had been forgotten by the Bishopric, and as they did not arrive on schedule time, the choir leader and secretary were dispatched to the Bishop's house to learn the cause of the delay and strongly urge their attendance. It was feared that this course would betray the secret, but fortunately it did not, and in the course of a short time, the meeting house door opened and in walked Bishop S. M. T. Hodson and his two counselors, E. H. Harrow and W. A. Cowan. Their consternation was completed when they beheld a "choir" of three hundred persons, all waiting patiently for their arrival, that proceedings might be commenced and the delicies spread before them given justice. As the Bishopric entered, the choir sang the new Diamond composition, "Utah, We Love Thee," after which a blessing was pronounced on the food, and the jingling of knives, forks and dishes commenced. During the evening fully three hundred partook of a sumptuous repast, while members of the ward organizations responded with songs, recitations, etc., to the great delight and amusement of all in attendance. Elder A. H. Cannon was present, and in a few well-chosen remarks, eulogized the people of the ward for the feeling of oneness, friendship and union which existed among them. No plentiful were the delicies of life, and so much was left that a children's party was given in the meeting house this afternoon. It was a fine affair and reflected great credit on the promoters.

Exhibition With Gloves.

The Salt Lake Athletic club which has been something akin to a semi-suspended institution of late is ready for business again, and from this time forth will entertain its members with exhibitions like unto those conducted on the top floor of the old Alta club building. Tonight there will be a set to for points only between John Parry, a middle weight puncher from Chicago, and H. L. Carey, a colored hitter from Kansas City. There will also be a series of preliminary bouts. Jim Williams is again instructor at the new quarters.

JAIL FOR MERCUR TOUGHS.

The Tooele County Court About to Build One—New East Golden Gate Contract.

The Tooele county court passed a resolution at its last session, appropriating sufficient funds to purchase a lot in Mercur upon which to erect a jail 12x24 feet, containing two rooms, and to be built exclusively out of two by four timbers. The contractors are required to use not less than 1,000 pounds of spikes in the construction. No expense will be spared in making it a safe place for those violating the law. Herbeman Manukas will receive bids for the erection of the jail at his store in Mercur, up to and including January 20th.

W. R. Boschcreek and Mr. Kisingbury, vice president and manager of the East Golden Gate Mining company have just let a contract to John Lynch & Company for the sinking of a 300-foot shaft, situated east of the Dr. Lamar property. The company is to pay $9.50 per foot and furnish frames, Lynch & Company bound to sink more than 100 feet at the same figure should they tap a vein of water and it interferes with their progress.

Male Infant Found.

A male infant, whose parentage is unknown and whose age is approximated at from three to four days, was left last night on the door step of George Darby, 150 south Ninth East street. The little castaway was taken in and kindly cared for.

DOWN IN ARIZONA.

Stevenson Sees Some Gold Country and Also Fertile Valleys.

MESA, ARIZONA, Jan. 4, 1896.

To the Editor:

On January 2nd our train pulled out from Bowie forty minutes late, but arrived at Benson on time, 8:10 p.m., 65 miles from Bowie. Bishop Peter A. Lindgreen was waiting to take me to Bisbee, six miles up the San Pedro river, where about 220 souls are located. I felt thankful once more to find rest for my weary body from the labors of three meetings, of New Year's day, and my travels. On the 3rd mine host took me a ride to explore Mt. David. "Here," said the Bishop, "is a beautiful township when we have proved that we can develop upon mission work." John K. and Thomas A. McEwan, grandsons of Bishop Alexander McEwan, deceased, have the Bowing well, six hundred feet, that has 150 feet of fine drop. The iron pipe only reaches about thirty feet with the pump, but want of means to pipe the whole depth, yet has water flows about 50 gallons per minute for the past two years. The boys have made a reservoir about 10x12 feet, which can be filled to four feet from the constant flow of bright water. The home or cottage is to be 22 feet high, found by sinking up a pipe of that length perfect safety and from the force we are assured so that they have not yet proven how high the water may go through above the level of the ground. From this lower well they say they and water twenty-five acres of land. The two brethren squatter mining each and can pick other walls. So we think these Utah boys have struck a very good thing in Mt. David, Arizona, and in the San Pedro River. Very fertile, I believe the best situation water in the territory. We say, well done for the pioneers of Bishop Mellon's of the Eleventh ward, Salt Lake City, Utah. Come other wells of a similar nature in the valley, so that the township is likely to be sustained by artesian flow.

Cole is the oldest location of our people in the country. I believe David Abbott died here, and recently Calvin Reed, an old settler from Fort Lewis, Utah county, was laid to rest after doing some hard labor to build up this hard place, which is now likely to become a success by all of water. Elder Christopher Layton's pile of ruins was pointed out, where once his buildings stood; many similar sites were pointed out. The cleansing of water has been "a terror." The settlement is likely to be limited for the present, at least. It has, however, a long history.

After holding two meetings and spending twenty-four hours in Mt. David, the Bishop took me 6 miles to the Southern Pacific railroad, and I was found a seat in Maricopa for seventy-five cents. There are in the city of Maricopa one station, two saloons and two lodging houses; fifty cents will get you breakfast; and a train, a train new one, will take you giddy 35 miles to Mesa City, passing through Tempe on the way, for 27.50. Bishop Peter A. Lindgreen wanted me to say to the Elders passing that he will take pleasure in meeting them at the train at 5:45 p. m., and taking them home again to the next 6:30 train, if they will notify him a day or two in advance, and take it not in preaching. On the 4th we took train to Mesa City. We passed over the Gila river on piles—a broad, flat marsh and only a little water. This was a rather uninviting scenario country until a very pretty open country comes to view. Then we reached what I choose to call the centrifuse. Here and there they stand as sentinels, reaching low to twenty feet high. I have a picture of one that reaches forty-five feet high. These trees look lovely when in bloom.

After waiting for two changes, time one almost out, we came to Mesa City, a land of oranges, lemons, figs, grapes and many good things. I took part in a Priesthood meeting in this city of Saints, and on Sunday held four meetings, including a Seventy's meeting. On Monday I am to ride in a carriage eighteen miles to Phoenix—a neat city of about 3,000 or 4,000 people of whom, with the numerous canals and great Salt river valley and one grove of the cactus trees, I will have more to say hereafter. EDWARD STEVENSON.

The folly of prejudice is frequently shown by people who prefer to suffer for years rather than try an advertised remedy. The millions who have no such notions, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla for blood diseases, and are cured. Be guided by common sense.

The sugar coating, which makes Ayer's Pills so easy to take, dissolves immediately on reaching the stomach, and so permits the full strength and benefit of the medicine to be promptly communicated. Ask your druggist for Ayer's Almanac, just out.

ANOTHER RAMBLER DAY.

The Rambler boys made a great showing in the Ogden races. The first event of the day was the one mile road race, which McCoubrey finished third, taking third prize and third time prize. The same the track race, Joe Black taking second in the reverse. Fowler first, Black second, McCoubrey third in one mile scratch, class B, all "Ramblers" you see here. In the half mile class A, McCoubrey second, Carter third. Half mile, class B, Fowler second, McCoubrey third. Five mile, class B, Fowler second. In this race a man in a yellow suit led the lead and fell, Coulthard and Weiser being immediately behind him, the result was a spill for these parties and the race goes to Evans. The five mile, class A, was another Rambler event, Moe taking first, Joe Black second and McCoubrey third. Fourteen prizes in one day is going some, I tell any one.

Ponies may laugh and people may cry,
And some may be heard to curse and sigh,
But Rambler's win every where they go,
Regardless of how others feel.

Moral—Buy a Rambler! Ride a Rambler and ride it for a Rambler.
