THE ORIGIN OF CHOLERA.

Interesting Paper Read Before the Hygienic Congress.

Dr. Harts Tells Where the Disease Comes from and What the Danger of It Really Is.

DENVER, Sept. 8.—At the session of the hygienic congress an interesting paper on cholera was read by Dr. Elmer Harts. He argued that the disease came from the valley of the Ganges, where there is an utter disregard of sanitary precautions and where the people habitually drink polluted water. Dr. Harts said it seemed impossible could ever touch and rub cholera patients with impunity. The danger consisted of the swallowing of the cadaveric, which, the doctor contended, lived two lives, one in the human body, multiplying within the patient and poured forth by him stoutsanitly, and the other outside the body in damp ground, dirty water, etc., to be swallowed by someone else in order to start again its destructive course. Cholera, he said, is spread abroad by pilgrims to Mecca and elsewhere. The government of India must watch the fairs and festivals of that country, and Europe, by international agreement, should guard the pilgrim track by isolating early cases. The Indian of Turkey ought to adopt measures for the thorough sanitation of Mecca, which is a nursery of cholera.

On the conclusion of the reading of the paper a resolution was adopted approving the full approval of the congress of the Dresden convention regarding the disease.

Transcontinental Rates.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Transcontinental lines considered to take a week's rest before continuing their efforts to reorganize the association. When they met this morning the Great Northern informed the conference that it could not consent to enter any agreement until the demanded differentials be allowed on business from St. Paul and points east thereof routed over the Oregon Railway & Navigation company, be considered.

Way in transcontinental passenger rates may reach. Rates to transcontinental territory and Utah common points will also suffer materially. The Union Pacific, Rock Island, Burlington, Santa Fe and Denver & Rio Grande have made a side agreement, however, to stand by each other, and they will be in a strong position to compete for business to Northern Pacific points via the Missouri river and Ogden.

THE IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

Resolutions Adopted—The Convention Adjourns Sine Die.

DENVER, Sept. 8.—The national irrigation congress resumed consideration of the reports of the committee on resolutions today.

The resolutions were amended and changed to read as follows and unanimously adopted:

The national executive committee of the irrigation congress is hereby instructed to prepare a series of bills for presentation to the Congress of the United States, embodying the following propositions:

1. Repeal the desert land law.

2. Whereas, the public land states are already vested with power, under the Carey law, to undertake the reclamation and settlement of one million acres each; and whereas, there is wide diversity of opinion concerning the best policy to pursue with relation to the remaining irrigable lands, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the proposition contained in sections 4 and 5 of the report of the majority of the committee on resolutions is reported back to the several state irrigation commissions, with instructions to endeavor to report to the fourth national congress a more definite and satisfactory plan for the reclamation of arid public lands through the co-operation of national and state authorities.

3. That there shall be appointed a national irrigation commission, vested with the supervision of such irrigation works as may be constructed by the Federal government. The national irrigation commission shall also be charged with the work of making an immediate investigation of the problem of interstate streams, and report to the Congress of the United States as early as possible a measure providing a means for the speedy and final adjudication of questions between states, and a plan for the division of streams on a basis of justice and equity.

4. That the several territories be included in the provisions of the Carey law and any other laws asked for to be provided in these resolutions.

5. That sufficient appropriation be secured from the general government for carrying on the work of discovering waters applicable to the reclamation of arid lands, and for the prosecution of surveys necessary to determine the locations of lands susceptible of irrigation, and the selection and segregation of reservoir sites.

6. That reservoir sites heretofore reserved by the government shall be released and made available upon appropriation therefor by states and territories.

The following were adopted as a part of the report, but not referred to the national executive committee:

Be it resolved, that it is the sense of the Congress that the President of the United States immediately take such steps looking to the appointment of international commissions, composed of representatives of the United States, Mexico and Canada, whose duties it shall be to thoroughly examine into and determine questions arising between said nations in cases of the waters of rivers partly in each of two countries, or serving as a boundary between them, and to settle upon a basis and method for the equitable division and use of the waters of such streams where required for irrigation.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives, in Congress Assembled:

Your memorialists, the third national irrigation congress, in session at Denver, Colo., beg to call your attention again to arid and subhumid lands, and to represent, in relation thereto, as follows:

That the subject of irrigation, considerable a most fruitful field of national legislation in behalf of homeseekers.

That about two-fifths of the total area of our whole country is without a sufficient rainfall to make it habitable, and, therefore, it is to constitute the homes of a happy people of the present generation or of generations to come, it must be irrigated.

That the great work of discovery and distribution of our waters, which must precede the intelligent location by the homeseeker and the actual work of reclamation, is too great and expensive to be most comprehensively undertaken by individuals, and this congress therefore, most respectfully and urgently petitions you to make adequate appropriations for aid to have conducted in the most comprehensive and practical manner, an irrigation survey, in charge of experienced and competent irrigation engineers. We also urge that, as such work progresses, you enact such laws and repeal such other ones, if any, as may be necessary to meet the conditions found to exist as the results of such surveys.

That portion of the report of the committee referring to state legislation was adopted, after which the congress adjourned sine die.

THE LYNCHERS.

Their Plot Laid Bare and the Conspirators Will be Jailed.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 8.—The whole plot of the lynching of six alleged negro incendiaries near Millington on the night of August 31st has been laid bare and twenty or more conspicuous men implicated in the conspiracy will be in jail. Robert McCarver, son of J. A. McCarver, sheriff of Shelby county, is the man who caused the conspiracy. In his testimony he said he was invited to participate in the lynching by H. N. Smith, one of the men now in the county jail under indictment for complicity in the lynching. Smith gave McCarver the names of the men who composed the mob, and told how the negroes would be arrested by Detective W. S. Richardson, placed in a wagon and driven to Big Creek swamp, where they would be in waiting.

When the invitation to assist in the assassination was given to young McCarver it was represented that his father knew of it, and that Judge Cooper of the criminal court was not in the dark. The representations were made to induce young McCarver to join with the intention, if possible, of siding Sheriff McCarver in the affair, through his son, so his hands would be tied if an investigation should be instituted by the authorities. Young McCarver declined to join the mob, and the day after the lynching disclosed the details of the plot to Joseph Toles and Hoffman.

THE WAR IN COREA.

Chinese Forces Said to Be Concentrated and Starving.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 10.—It is reported that the Chinese forces are entrenched in Northern Corea, without supplies, and are killing their ponies for food. All the foreign employes in the Japanese dockyards have been dismissed. This was done in order that the extent of the injuries to the warships of the Japanese navy should not become known.

Mouth sickness is reported to prevail in the Chinese camps. It is rumored that 20,000 Chinese troops are encamped on the north bank of the River Imchin, waiting for favorable weather to attack the Japanese position a few miles south of the Imchin.

THE NEW SHING INCIDENT.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 8.—The Northern Pacific liner Rikii, from Yokohama, brings interesting advices of the war in the Orient. The reason given by the commander of the Japanese warship Naniwa Kan, when asked why he fired upon the New Shing, seeing she was flying the British flag, is now given for the first time, and is certainly pertinent—"because she was sailing under false colors; was carrying Chinese troops, and had been sold to the Chinese government and being used for it."

Notwithstanding this explanation the same papers which give it publicly announce that the sum of $750,000 has been agreed to by the Japanese government as reparation for the sinking of Captain Galewski's vessel and compensation to those dependent upon the Europeans lost with her.

It is almost impossible to get any reliable war news anywhere in the west, even in Shanghai. The ship the steamer passed very close to the Pei Chow forts and saw the Chinese garrison drawn up in line. They were all attired in flowing sack gowns of gaudy color and had high three-cornered silk hats, and presented a curious spectacle.

China is now hurrying an army of hundreds of thousands of men through northern China to Corea, but as they are subsisting on the products of the country through which they are passing, and most of it is mountainous, it is hard to say with what success it will meet.

At the smaller Chinese ports all manner of outrages have been committed on resident Japanese and in some places Portuguese have been robbed. At Tien Tsin the child of the Japanese consul was abducted and when he took his leave to return to his country, his legs and arms were tied and he was carried to the wharf with a bamboo stick through his arms.

UNCLE SAM INTERESTED.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—The Republique Francaise says it regards the reports that the intention of Japan to attack Shanghai as proofs that Great Britain is sowing a private to interfere in the war between China and Japan. But this, it adds, the United States, France and Russia would not permit.

CHILE NOT SEARCHING HER FLEET.

BUENOS AYRES, Sept. 8.—A dispatch from Valparaiso says that the Chilean government has made a formal denial of the report that half the vessels of the Chilean navy had been sent to China.

POLITICS IN NORWAY.

The Present Conservative Ministry Determined to Dissolve the Union.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 8.—The most important political campaign in the history of Norway is now going on. Numerous meetings are being held, and the two leading parties, the Right and Left, are rousing every inch of ground. The first excitement in the election resulted favorably to the radicals, but later on the conservatives were victorious in several districts. This alarmed the party of the Left, especially as there was a split between that party and the socialists. Some kind of a deal had to be made, and the Left decided to permit Lohn the place from one of the promoters of the socialistic party—the demand for universal suffrage, with the help of the socialists, the Left hoping to secure a majority for its candidates who are in favor of a separate minister of foreign affairs for Norway and also of separate consuls. In some judicial courts of the country no cases can be heard or taken up, the reason being that the judges have deserted their benches and are traveling through the country making speeches in the interest of the radicals.

Should the election result favorably to the radicals, the Swedish Riksdag most immediately act in regard to the consular questions, as the constitution of Sweden says Sweden and Norway shall have mutual consulates. The radical Norwegian party has now, if any, friends in the Swedish Riksdag. At present more than forty of the members are peasants. The feel have liberal ideas, but are conservatives as regards the claims of the party of the Left of Norway, and most of them regard the consular question as one that can only be solved by a war of the dissolution of the union.

The health of the Crown Princess Victoria, who is a granddaughter of the late Emperor William, is growing worse, and a public secret is that she is slowly dying from consumption.

The Pullman Competitors.

HIAWATHA, Kan., Sept. 8.—President Myers and Secretary Allen of the Pullman Employes' Co-operative Society have been in the city for the past three days examining sites for their proposed manufacturing plant. They met a large number of citizens and submitted a proposition looking to the erection of a plant. The people here are enthusiastic, and the necessary stock can be raised without any difficulty.

The Germans in Africa.

ZANZIBAR, Sept. 9.—Advices have reached here from Kilwa, a German port on the island of that name, off the east coast of Africa, showing that tribesmen attacked the place while the troops of the garrison were absent. The telegraph has since been cut and no further news has been received. It is reported the town of Lindi is also threatened by the natives. Two German warships have been dispatched to Kilwa.

Trouble in Cuba.

MADRID, Sept. 9.—A dispatch from Havana, Cuba, reports a riot has occurred at Villa Franca, near that city, owing to the discontent caused among the inhabitants by the sale of common land. A mob made an attack upon those who had purchased the land, and did considerable damage to their property. Further trouble, leading to bloodshed, is feared, and troops have been sent to prevent it.

Assorted the King.

BERLIN, Sept. 9.—The Frankfurter Zeitung publishes a report of a mobile demonstration against King Alexander of Servia recently. It says that at Appatovatz, Servia, a mob threw a number of stones at the railway carriage of the king as it was passing through that place. The king and his suite had narrow escapes from injury.

The Forest Fires.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 9.—Forest fires were renewed again today in this region by a heavy southwest gale, which steadily increased in force. There was great excitement here and the sensation was intensified by the breaking out of forest fires in the city limits. Fire crept around in the undergrowth at Oneota and caused some apprehension. Then an alarm came in from Duluth Heights, a suburb, which is surrounded by timber. The fire department sent up a detachment, which a little later sent for a fire engine. Then excitement was at its zenith, for news had been coming of the stampeding of a St. Paul & Duluth passenger train because of fire on all sides of it, and Mora, on the Eastern Minnesota road, was reported on fire.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 9.—A gale of wind was blowing in the neighborhood of Mora and Milaca, on the Eastern Minnesota line, this afternoon, and the smouldering forest fires were quickly fanned into a furious blaze, which for some time threatened Mora and Milaca.

The last report from Mora received was that the town was in immediate danger.

There was a state of terror among the refugees at Pine City, for it was feared another cyclone of fire was at hand.

THE HINCKLEY HORROR.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 9.—A Hinckley, Minn., special to the Pioneer Press says: This has been a quiet and gloomy outlook. The searchers after the bodies of the victims of the great forest fires are resting, but will resume their work in the morning.

Coroner Lewis and party went to Sandstone today, where they buried eighty bodies. There were no religious services here today, no clergyman being present, and a number of the people went to Pine City to attend the memorial services in that city.

Five bodies were found last night in a cellar on a hill by the Kettle river and were buried where found. It is believed here the death list in Pine county will exceed 500, as something like 100 are still unaccounted for.

Disgraced Militiamen.

MONTICELLO, Iowa, Sept. 10.—The annual encampment of the First regiment of the Iowa National Guards ended last night. The regiment was to break camp this morning, but about 150 of the militiamen did not wish to stay in camp all night and about 11 o'clock made a rush through the lines. About sixty of them succeeded in passing the line. They made a raid on the cutler's stand and then marched through the streets of the town. Col. Malti sent a detachment of 100 guards in pursuit, who met them in front of the opera house. The deserters at first refused to accompany the guards, but after three or four of them were pressed with bayonets they submitted and were taken back to Camp David on. It is expected that the disgraced militiamen will all be discharged.

A Big Load of Ore.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—The big steel steamer E. H. Curry arrived at South Chicago last night with the heaviest cargo of the great lakes. It consisted of 2,117 net tons of iron ore, in addition to fuel, and came from Escanaba. The Curry drew 16 feet 2 inches, which is possibly the deepest draft any lake channel has ever been loaded to. Notwithstanding this, the ship labored her alongside the dock of the Illinois Steel company, where it is hoped the record for rapid unloading will also be broken today.

"Yes, sir, I have been successfully treated by Drs. Shores & Shores for a very serious trouble and I am now one of the many who stand ready to recommend and praise these eminent physicians.

MRS. METTIE MILLER, 30 THIRD EAST STREET.

"When I went to Drs. Shores & Shores I had been a sufferer from catarrh for twelve years. The disease had affected my head, eyes and throat and in fact my whole system to such an extent that I was absolutely miserable all the time. My head and nose were stopped up, throat and eyes were sore and painful; I was continually hawking and clearing my throat; I had no appetite; my sleep did not refresh me at all, and I was weak and nervous and run down generally.

"Now, since my treatment with Drs. Shores & Shores, I am like a new woman. I feel splendid in every way and unalloyed thanks are due to them and I show to all in need of a good physician."
