QUEEN IS CONCERNED.

Sale of Spain Does Not Like the De Lome Incident.

REGRET AT LOSING DE LOME'S SERVICES.

Cabinet Never Got the Letter—He Has Unfavorable Impressions of Spain's Ability to Retain Cuba.

New York, Feb. 11.—A special to the Herald from Madrid says:

Premier Sagasta, commenting upon Senor de Lome's letter, said to the Herald correspondent:

"There is no possible reason why the unfortunate incident should alter the relations between Spain and the United States, which are, and we hope will continue very cordial and friendly, having recently countered many at them.

"As regards regret in much concerned, I can speak only for myself and my colleagues, and we have expressed it to Senor Dupuy de Lome, Minister of Marine, Senor Moret and all the other members of the cabinet were indignant and much displeased with Senor de Lome.

"Mr. Woodford, the American minister here, called upon the Spanish minister of foreign affairs, Senor Gullon, and he said he have expressed to Senor Gullon the regret the affair will not disturb the relations between the two countries.

"Senor Gullon, after Foreign Minister immediately after Foreign Minister Gullon received a cable dispatch from Senor De Lome, admitting that he had written the objectionable letter to his friend in Havana, and lamenting his error. The council of ministers again, the council of ministers assembled and decided to accept the resignation of Senor de Lome and approved the cabinet's action. First Secretary Dubosc will remain in charge of Senor Lome's legation at Washington until a successor to Senor De Lome is appointed.

"The government intends to select a prime man for minister to the United States, chiefly on account of the friendly relations.

"The news of Senor De Lome's plight caused a sensation in political and official circles in Madrid.

"There is much regret at losing the services of a representative with whom the government had been satisfied and of whom much had been expected. At the same time, we have had in diplomatic circles some people expressed surprise at Senor de Lome's having written such a letter."

The report was generally discredited until it was confirmed officially.

Senor Castillo said to the World correspondent: "I never received the letter from De Lome. I wrote him and he gave me a letter reaching me; where or how I do not know. I was surprised at the tone of the letter. I did not think it proper such a communication, which we were still negotiating, should be written in very confidential style in Washington, yet with the reserve naturally called for by his position.

"I believe the Spanish government regrets, or rather is likely to regret, calling upon President Barrios or raising a breach, as President Barrios is a man of very high character and ability. The selection of a new minister is most important.

"Regarding the rumor that the government will appoint soon an experienced diplomat, I thought back from Cuba honorable representative regarding the political and military conditions of Spain. I cannot be denied, however, that Cuba will have a very large part of the troops of this year. The army is composed of the best-tried of the people of the new policy in regard to Cuba, and I can assure you that the spirit of the Cuban people depends on the course of the United States."

INDISCRETION AND FOLLY.

What is Which Premier Sagasta Calls the Contents of De Lome's Letter.

Madrid, Feb. 11.—The Imparcial, referring to the resignation of Senor De Lome says:

"The government was wise to accept Senor De Lome's resignation. His indiscretion and folly recommend the government's action.

"The Liberal takes the same view of the case and adds: "We do not wish to blame the conduct of the Spanish minister for such a theft. The responsibility cannot be confined and those correspondence of Mr. Taylor for stolen."

The Liberal says Senor Sagasta, and in the government of the Associated Press, was assured of Senor de Lome's letter, for in all his economic, social and private addresses Senor Sagasta has never spoke reproachfully of President McKinley. A Madrid dispatch to the Herald says: Senor de Lome's indiscretion and folly for he has released Spain signal service at Washington.

In the question of Senor de Lome's letter, Senor Sagasta was retained. Senor de Lome's letter was received from Havana, the letter of Senor Dupuy de Lome, Minister of Marine, was received by the Spanish Cabinet. It was read to the latter, and it is added, he personally received $1,000 for it.

GRABBING AT BRAZIL.

Behind Oregon's Tract of Land—Proposed Coffee Monopoly.

New York, Feb. 11.—The Herald's Montevideo letter says: Rumors are current in that city to the effect that foreign speculators, probably British, have secured a vast portion of the state of Assiguasca, near British Guiana, and that they have so far received no land office receipts in the matter.

Telegrams apparently reliable are to the effect that a group of capitalists are preparing to monopolize the coffee output of Brazil by wholesale purchase of estates in the coffee producing states of Minas Geraes, Sao Paulo and Spiritus Santo.

Fort Smith Herald.

Canadian Pacific Officials Talk Back.

Montreal, Feb. 11.—The officials of the Canadian Pacific railroad profess to be not at all afraid of the suit by the western Pacific railroad. The appeal from Chicago to the Canadian Shaughnessy has not "Depositing has been tried before, and adopted.

said an official of the road today, "but it has never amounted to very much. The western roads officials have been wrestling with the matter for some weeks, and it has gone from the passenger agents to the highest authorities. Every time the Canadian Pacific was asked to join the conference the same reply was forthcoming. 'Stop your own rate cutting and then we will talk to you.' But the rate-cutting is still going on, and the latest news is that a secret rate of twenty-five cents can be had from Chicago and $12 from New York to the Pacific coast. In the meantime Klondike travel is growing. From advices received by the Canadian Pacific department, the number of people who left the Pacific seaports for Alaska and Yukon points was 1,655 for the month before January 6th and February 1st, inclusive. That number is considered small compared with what it will be in another month.

Famous Bicycle Riders.

New York, Feb. 11.—W. G. Morgan of the National Cycledrom, this city, has received a cablegram from T. W. Eck, the manager, who is now in Paris, stating that Eck has signed several well known cyclers for the races which will be in the international bicycle association. The most prominent of the riders signed is Jaap Eden, the famous Dutch rider and the other is Bob Fitzsimmons. Eck also has Henry Chesar, the middle-distance rider of France, and Doetscheit, the German who has been champion for the past four years and has defeated most of the European riders. It is likely that the riders will be accompanied to this country by M. Suberit, president of the Union Velocipedo Francais, a well known patron of French cycling.

FIGHTING IN GUATEMALA.

Factions Engage in a Fierce Fight Over Succession to Barrios.

Gen. Marroquin's Attempt to Seize the Government for Morales Results in His Death and Defeat of His Army.

San Francisco, Feb. 11.—A special from San Jose de Guatemala of February 10 says:

Civil strife and bloodshed have followed the killing of Barrios. Before the body of the late ruler had found sepulture, the factions were flying each at the others throats, and as a result General Marroquin, the chief supporter of Prospero Morales, one of the aspirants to the presidency, is dead and his forces are seeking safety in flight.

It was last night that Gen. Marroquin attempted to seize the reins of government in behalf of Morales. He made an attack in force on the palace barracks. An assault was also made and resisted, and in the fighting Gen. Marroquin and five others were killed.

There are no such communications, which we were still negotiating, consisting of 2,000 men, headed by Gen. Mejera and Col. Arzapa, have fled from the city.

Today Gen. Toledo, who has been appointed minister of war by Manuel Estrada Cabrera, the president pro tempore of the Guatemalan congress, declared the country in state of siege and ordered the arrest of Gen. Marroquin, Gen. Mejera and Col. Arzapa.

The populace and soldiers are now demanding that Gen. Mendizabal be proclaimed president.

The situation is becoming more complicated and the crisis is acute.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The Guatemalan minister, Senor Lago Arrago, has received no information of the reported uprising following the assassination of President Barrios. He had advices giving only the fact of Barrios's death.

KILLED FOR REVENGE.

Barrios' Murder Was Because of the Killing of Senor Aparicio.

New York, Feb. 11.—President Barrios's assassin was about 27 years of age. For years he was an employe of Senor Don Juan Aparicio, a well known Guatemalan who was killed by a government soldier during the revolutionary outbreak last September while he was in exile in Mexico. The assassin's name was Oscar Sullinger. He was a British subject. Senor Aparicio was wealthy and popular. His death caused great feeling against President Barrios and the assassin's act is the result. He left Guatemala some weeks ago and had presumably been watching for an opportunity to kill Senor Barrios since his arrival. Sullinger was heavy and muscular and he fired so suddenly that the guards could do nothing. After the assassination the foreign ministers in Guatemala called at the palace and expressed their regret. There is little excitement.

Manuel Estrada Cabrera, vice president, has assumed the duties of president and will continue as chief executive until the next election. It is difficult to say what turn events in Guatemala will take now that the man who held power by an iron hand and indomitable spirit not by the will of the people, has been thrust from his seat by the hand of an assassin. His death is the result of his ambition to retain power. He had President Barrios retired at the end of his legal term much bloodshed would have been avoided and his refusal to do so caused the revolution of last September.

Barrios has gone retired with a fortune of $2,000,000 and with the gratitude of the people, and it is acknowledged that he has advanced the country in every branch. There is a scramble among all party leaders now for the presidency, and Estrada Cabrera, although his great popularity and prestige, has a good chance, but it is doubtful under the circumstances if he would be in the office unless at the head of an army.

Columbus, Ind., Feb. 11.—The mysterious disappearance of George Cook, a wealthy oil broker of San Francisco who was visiting his cousin, W. M. Newsom and family, near this city, has excited the greatest fears and it is feared that he has been murdered for his money. The last time he was seen he had $600 in his pocket. Two weeks ago he left Mr. Newsom's home to spend the day at the home of a neighbor and has not since been heard from. He is worth $250,000, a part of this being a tract of 40 acres of land in and about San Francisco. He publicly stated he leave his fortune to Mr. Newsom if he would care for him during the remainder of his life.

Making Canada a Military Power.

Gascoigne, commander of the Canadian forces, and others made it known that in future there will be no interchange between the imperial troops at Halifax and the permanent Canadian corps, so that artillerymen and infantrymen of the various Canadian corps may join the Halifax garrison and possibly in the end go to Aldershot or elsewhere in Great Britain. Modern guns are to be placed in position at some of the Canadian cities. Already six batteries of the six brand-new 12-pounder guns have been provided. Arrangements for four additional corps have also been secured. After the mounting of the field artillery is completed Canada will have sixty field artillery guns of the most improved pattern.

PLAN FOR FINANCIAL COMPROMISE.

Proposed Coins of Gold and Silver Forces Not Likely of Accomplishment.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—A novel suggestion as to the possibility as to obtaining a national movement as to compromise between the adherents of the gold standard and their opponents, is being advanced by Mr. W. R. Herbert of this city. The plan is to coin a new medium consisting of coin certificates payable half in gold and half in silver—a two-dollar certificate for example to be redeemed by one dollar in gold and one dollar in silver coin. If the relative value of the two metals should be now or later established, the value of the other, according to Mr. Herbert would relatively increase and the coin certificate payable in both metals jointly would be substantially effected, the higher fulcrum of the two being now being used for the raising of one arm and the lowering of the other.

FEAR ANOTHER EXPLOSION.

Search in the Pittsburg Fire Ruins Proceeds With Great Caution.

No More Bodies Found—City Council to Consider Forbidding the Storage of Liquor and Ammonia.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 11.—The work of searching for bodies in the ruins of Wednesday night's awful fire was continued through last night by 200 men, but no more bodies were found. The debris is still piled ten feet high, however, and as more than a score of people are still missing, the work will be continued without cessation until it is positively known that no more dead are buried beneath the debris.

That more people were killed, said Chief Bigelow of the fire department, there can be no doubt. He says the walls go down in the midst of a great storm of humanity huddled together in a small space, and while he did not care to estimate the number killed, he says it will be largely in excess of any estimate yet made. The search for the bodies is attended by great danger, not only from shattered walls, but from 175 tanks of ammonia known to still be in the smouldering ruins, and from the fact that the powerful stuff, and its ignition would result in an explosion, which would be fatal to many firemen.

The firemen are keeping a number of streams constantly playing on the ruins of the building. It is thought that precautionary methods will avert further disaster. Mrs. McFadden and her family of eight children, who were believed to have been buried under the walls, are safe. They were found living a short distance from the scene of the disaster, having moved from Mulberry alley only a few days before. Michael O'Hearn, of Oil City, and James Beverly of Grafton, who were among the missing, were also turned up.

As a result of the catastrophe, a resolution was passed by the citizens in quantities of bonded liquor or ammonia within the corporate limits of the city, and the matter will be taken up by Brown has promised the people to see to it that the city council will have a drastic ordinance passed, and if need be legislation to this effect, at the next meeting held at municipal hall.

Most of the victims will be buried tomorrow. The coroner's inquest will begin Monday.

The record of the fire at this time is:

Known dead, 11; missing, 26; injured, 18; property loss, $1,000,000; insurance, about $1,000,000.

Trial for Inciting to Murder the Czar.

London, Feb. 11.—At the Old Bailey today the trial of Vladimir Bourtzeff, editor of the Russian paper, Voloz (voice of the people), and Wolrzych, the printer of the paper, was commenced. The prisoners plead not guilty. The charge against Bourtzeff is that he, as the author of the paper, incited the assassination of the czar. They pleaded not guilty. The attorney general, Richard Webster, who prosecuted, said the charges would never have been brought against the prisoners had it been exceptional, but he added, the prisoners had been directly indicted for the publication of the exciting matter. The trial of the case he disbelieved means contrary to the wildest outrage at the Winter Palace in 1899.

Fatal Thirst Gets Him.

Paris, Feb. 11.—There were the usual crowds at about 11 o'clock in the assize court of the Seine the fifth day of the trial of M. Zola and M. Perreux. M. Zola and Col. Picquart were in the court with bottle crine which they arrived. The court was thronged. The proceedings opened with General Pellieux on the stand.

General Pellieux testified that General Saussier, former military governor of Paris, desired a public trial for Major Esterhazy, but that when it came before for war, ordered that the trial be secret. Nevertheless, the witness added, the court martial refused to keep the entire proceedings secret, therefore it was impossible to contend that Major Esterhazy was acquitted by order of the authorities.

On General Pellieux having the last word, Zola said:

"There are several ways of serving France. You, general, made your campaign, but I will fight with to posterity the name of Emile Zola, and posterity will be my judge."

Col. Picquart was called and narrated how he found the fragments of a telegraphic card in 1896, and concluded therefrom that Esterhazy was corresponding with suspicious characters.

WOMEN FIGHT OFFICERS

Desperate Battle of Constables With a Mother and Her Daughters.

MOTHER AND ONE DAUGHTER KILLED.

Other Daughters Dangerously Wounded—Officers Tried to Make an Arrest and Were Resisted.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 11.—The Times-Star special from Vanceburg, Ky., says:

At Escatapia, this county, yesterday, Constables Cropper and Thacker attempted to arrest an old lady named Crowe who was at her home with several grown-up daughters. Before the officers realized it, one of the girls fired at them like an infuriated tigress with a big knife, dangerously wounding both officers. By this time the old lady and another daughter drew revolvers and the officers realized it was a fight for life. The battle raged for a few moments and after the smoke had cleared Mrs. Crowe was found dead and shot to pieces, and one daughter dead. Those who survived are in a dangerous condition.

DE LOME INCIDENT DYING DOWN.

The Ex-Minister Preparing to Leave for Spain Next Week.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The following statement was given out for publication at the state department this morning:

"General Woodford telegraphed that the minister's resignation had been accepted before he presented the telegram from the department. He added that the first secretary will be placed in charge of the legation and a new minister will be appointed at once. Full reports to follow."

It is believed here that the incident is practically closed. All sorts of rumors were in circulation last night including one that a special cabinet meeting was held at midnight. It was learned positively that no cabinet meeting, formal or informal, was held last night.

The formal notification to this government by Spain that Senor Dupuy de Lome has ceased to represent it as minister will be made to the state department about noon by Senor Juan Dou, first secretary of legation, who will act as chargé d'affaires until the arrival of Senor de Lome's successor. The notification will be purely formal and will state that Senor de Lome's resignation has been accepted and that Senor Dou, the first secretary of the legation.

The retiring minister is actively engaged in preparing his personal effects for shipment and in leave-taking of his friends and the diplomatic corps in Washington. Some of his chattels were sent to New York city today. It is the general belief here that Senor de Lome is leaving this country early next week. He is probably to call on one of the French liners in Havre and then will proceed direct to Madrid. His connection with the Spanish government has entirely ceased and he is henceforth a private citizen.

CONSIDERING AMENDMENTS.

Routine of the L. A. W. Convention Work in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Feb. 11.—All that remains for the national assembly, L. A. W., to do, is the consideration of the remainder of the thirty-three amendments to the constitution and by-laws which were not passed upon yesterday. There were only one or perhaps two of them that will cause much debate. The others, it is thought, will be passed unanimously. The supporters of the local option amendment never which L. A. W. is expected there will be much discussion are feeling rather alarm this morning, on the fate of the local option amendment, they presaged the defeat of their favorite measure. It is presumed that New Jersey and Pennsylvania will be against local option. It was 10:30 a. m. before the assembly came together, the session was a half after the time set for the meeting.

There was a division over the amendment to article 4, section 7, of the by-laws, which was offered by Chief Consul Blocker, of New Jersey, providing in brief that the racing board shall appoint an official handicapper for each state division and that it shall have power to make all rules for its government and the government of cycle race meetings as may be deemed expedient, and to which shall be not inconsistent with those by-laws or the constitution of the league. After considerable debate, in the course of which President Elliott and President Potter rose to make some personal explanations, the amendment was indefinitely postponed.

An amendment to the by-laws was unanimously adopted providing for the payment of a salary of $2,500 per annum to the chairman of the racing board, and that other members thereof shall be allowed such sums annually as the expenses of their office may be fixed or shall be approved by any regular or special meeting.

Six days continuous racing held under L. A. W. auspices was done away with the adoption of an amendment to the racing rules providing that any six-day race held hereafter the contestants will be compelled to rest at least two hours in any six or twelve hours during the contest.

A number of amendments were adopted. One makes registration of professionals shall be entirely under rules to be made by racing board, but that the added, the prisoners had been directly indicted for the publication of the exciting matter. The trial of the case he disbelieved means contrary to the wildest outrage at the Winter Palace in 1899.

Each of the guests bidden to the feast will be required to appear as a vegetable, and as the guests have invited, it may be readily conceived that the dinner table and the waiters will be exhaustively drawn upon, and yet many of the dainties must be duplicated.

Some will appear as onions, potatoes, tomatoes, beets, carrots, pumpkins, squashes, beets and other homely and essential of the garden. It is rumored that some of the fashionable entertainment are being prepared, especially with regard to the supper.

OGDEN MAN INSANE.

Charles H. Wright Brought from Chicago and Committed to the Asylum.

ELECTRICAL DISCOVERIES HIS MANIA.

Buyer & Bringhurst, Springville Merchants, File a Deed of Assignment—Property Turned Over to Creditors.

Special to the "News."

Provo, Utah, Feb. 11.—This morning Chas. H. Wright of Ogden was examined as to his sanity before Judge Dusenberry, in Doctors Pike and Allen and found to be suffering from the mental malady and was committed to the asylum. Joseph H. Wright was appointed guardian.

Wright came home from Chicago on Jan. 31st, while East buying goods for the firm of W. H. Wright & Sons Co., Ogden, of which he is a member. His brother Angus T. Wright went to Chicago after him and brought him to Provo on the 5th instant and left for Western train. The examination was held here to prevent the necessity of taking the patient to Ogden.

The account of the proceedings will be forwarded to the second district court of Ogden, for confirmation and approval. Mr. Wright was very quiet and gentlemanly. He appears to have developed mania through devotion to electricity, inventions, etc. The doctors state there is every reason to hope for his speedy recovery.

This morning a deed of assignment from Buyer and Bringhurst, merchants of Springville to Mitchell D. Chipman, was filed with the county clerk. The firm owes over property estimated at $6,500 for the benefit of its creditors, divided into three classes representing, first class, preferred claims, $5,802.61; second class, $1,377.56; third class, $1,16.66. The three classes rank in preference of payments in the order named.

WORK OF WIND AND STORM.

Stock Have Suffered Greatly in Beaver and Iron Counties—Losses Will be Heavy.

Special to the "News."

Beaver, Utah, Feb. 11.—The remaining Thoreau and Milford residents of this city are unanimous in declaring this to have been the longest and most severe winter for exceeding cold and snow they have experienced since settling here, and it has told greatly on the health of many during the last two weeks.

The blizzard from the north for nearly three days and nights this week, made all travel from here to that district next to impossible, and the snows came round the ravines and gorges in Wild Cat canyon filled, necessitating the men to dig through with shovels and dig out their wagons.

The hole of the Deseret Telegraph company in many places in this and Millard county were blown down, wires broken and the ground frozen so hard and deep, it was impossible to reset them, and will require hundreds of men to put the line in its former condition.

In Iron county, the recent storms were more severe with more snow, and at Milford, the mud and water were the worst ever known there. The cattle and sheep in Millard show herein north and south of Milford in the sand ridges county has not been reported for over a week, only that fed in sight of the division, and all are hunting a change of location. The demand now is for more cattle, which fe
