THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

He Reviews the Work of the Year at Considerable Length.

The fourth annual meeting of the Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce took place at the rooms of the institution, Second West Street last night. There was a large attendance of members, and much interest was evinced in the proceedings. Acting President Simon presided.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

The following document was read and adopted:

To the Members of the Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce:

Gentlemen—Through the resignation of our president it becomes my duty to submit to you the annual report covering each work of the Chamber of Commerce, the different committees and the ministry performed during the year. Considering the recent changes which have been made in the city within the past two years, during the policy of a decided conservative element for many years, and the uncertainty, from, we have not reason to congratulate ourselves upon the good conditions in which we find the interests of the city, and the encouraging prospects at the close of the year. This definitely proves and the fact was right in the main, as it relates to the business, as a whole, that changes cause a great deal of uneasiness, but change must be made, and we must learn to look with hopefulness, and to make the best of the inevitable. Popular Opinion is perhaps slow to keep healthy almost necessary, but the right cure of the ailment
