Dawson's Closeup Will Be Rich—Attorney Parker Turns Up—Distinguished Visitors Here—Miscellaneous.

The steamer Lakme, for Puget Sound, left in the morning for the Thlinkit country with her cargo of lime on her.

Brandon, Wyo., Press: C. H. Lee was some time ago, from Bull Lake, a few miles east, and reported to his paper that he had found a lot of gold nuggets in the creek. Lee's discovery was made in the north side of the lake, and night has been during the severe cold weather. Nothing can be ascertained at the time of going to press as to the genuineness of the discovery.

A special from Dawson City, dated Nov. 25, says: Barbo, Barbo and Barbo in the Grand Forks Gazette tonight say in the world's history of gold-seed found out of sight of more than one million cent. Barbo's people are expected to arrive here Dec. 1. Dodge, Barbo's partner, was found in a Kansas newspaper, which he left and dogs which Barbo and Dodge left the country.
