Idaho Weather and Crops.

Weather crop bulletin No. 23 of the Idaho state weather service for the week ending Monday, September 23, 1895:

The weather during the past week was unusually cold; the temperature on several dates fell below the freezing point and over the eastern-southern section the thermometer registered as low as 19 degrees on the morning of the 22nd. Frosts were of frequent occurrence but as the season is far advanced no material injury is reported except in the case of potatoes and garden truck. The high winds which have caused so much annoyance during the past several weeks are still prevalent.

Showers were reported on several days during the week, increasing the supply of water and putting the soil in good condition for fall plowing. A snowstorm prevailed over the southeastern section on the 21st; snow covered the ground in cephavangig from one-half to more than two inches. This has delayed threshing and other farm work to some extent. Hailst rms have occurred in several localities; one on the 19th did considerable damage to most grain in Blaine county, breaking it flat.

Owing to wet weather during the week threshing has made little progress, but operators are still going on as rapidly as the weather will permit. With good weather the work will probably be completed this week over the extreme southern section; in other parts of the state several weeks are required.

Potatoes are a good crop, though shortened somewhat by frequent frosts; shipments have been made from several places during the week. Grain has been slightly affected by frost, and a week or more of favorable weather is required to ripen it properly. In many places much damage has been done to gulches by recent freshets.

The second cutting of alfalfa is about completed; the crop was generally good, and the hay saved in excellent condition; in some places, however, the wet weather has damaged the crops.

Fruit is doing well.

Shelley Notes.

To the Editor:

SHELLEY, Idaho, Sept. 23, 1895.—On Sunday, Sept. 15, W. J. Dawson, the president of the Y. M. M. I. Association of the Stake and Elder Josiah Richardson, of Annmon ward, were the home missionaries. In the evening Brother Dawson reorganized the Y. M. M. I. association. The officers elected are D. W. Arvie, president; Heber T. Cudd, first, and William Pritchard second counselor; William Augerson, secretary; L. W. Hatfi, assistant secretary; Joseph Pritchard, librarian; Andrew Jensen, treasurer; H. H. Benlshaw, musical director. The brethren gave some excellent counsel to all present, the school house being well filled.

Tuesday our debate came off. The decision was in favor of war being more destructive than drink. No doubt that drink would have been victorious, but it was confined to one, whisky.

Wednesday our Mutual dance came off. The night was very dark and some of the members got the stay-at-home fever.

Thursday night Mr. Rogers lectured on politics at this place. That night was the coldest of the season. When the people awoke in the morning they beheld the ground covered with snow.

The daughter of Brother and Sister Wadsworth, of Taylor ward, has been paying a visit to her parents. Her father is in his 85th year.

Brother and Sister Peterson, of Farmington, Utah, are here and have a very commodious two-roomed house in erection.

Our subject for debate tomorrow evening, the 24th inst., is: Which is preferable, a scold, illtempered wife, or a dirty, goodtempered wife? For the first, D. W. Arvie and Thomas Eldredge, and for the last, E. J. Farnes and David Stephens will hold the argument.

Another big brick kiln has been burned and the brick are ready for sale at the Crawford & Stephens yard note.

J. F. Shelley last week shipped a few carloads of good potatoes. The potatoes have turned out pretty fair, considering. More will be shipped away this week.

The day school have enrolled about twenty pupils. There are many children kept at home yet to work on the field.

The material is here for the ferry boat, which no doubt soon will be building.

The Relief society has been working hard of late in quilt making and sending them out to the poor. Sister Shelley, the president, and her co-workers are doing a good work here. If there is anything to be accomplished for the comforting of the poor families, it is the ladies of that noble organization that will do it.

Elders Wadsworth and Owens, of Annmon ward, were our home missionaries Sunday. LONDONER.
