AFFLICTIONS OF THE LEGISLATORS.

Misfortunes of the Members Have Been Many and Painful.

THE LONG LIST OF DEATHS.

Fathers, Mothers, Children, Grandchildren and Nephews Pass Away —Constant Clouds of Sorrow.

The lot of the Third Legislature of the State of Utah has not lain in pleasant places. Its career has been a remarkable one. It has been tried and tried by personal bereavement and family sorrows until serious rumors were almost precipitated. To make the trials greater frequent troubles and losses of a personal character have punctuated the proceedings. The misfortunes of members were many. The sensations that were spread, the charges that were made and the investigation which followed, exclusion and expulsion would have been easily in the bereavements referred to. From the very outset members were reminded of the uncertainty of life. While no member was called to the land from which "no traveler returns," yet those who were near and dear, cleared the summons of the Grim Reaper, touch to the sorrow and affliction of those left behind.

Representative Lloyd lost his father and was excused for several days on that account. Then the respected son of Representative Christiansen passed into the sleep of death, and later a brother with a wife and large family met with an accidental death. Representative Brameveit, too, was compelled to absent himself through the demise of his father, a man who had lived long and usefully. Representative Clyde hastened to the bedside of his octogenarian father who was reported as drawing near the close of life's earthly existence. The journey was made on a special engine for a part of the way and through deep snow for the remainder, with the temperature at 32 degrees below zero. The old patriarch rallied, but for time the sequence to mortality is thought to be very brief.

Representative Bennett mourns the death of his venerable father, who passed away on the 4th inst. Representative Richards lost a child from scarlet fever, early in the session, and was detained at home for a week or more. The home of Mrs. Horne was also saddened by the death of an idolized brother; another Member was called on to the hospital and operated upon for appendicitis. Representative O'Neil was summoned home by telegraph to minister to what was believed by all to be the last wants of a darling daughter. In this instance, however, a change for the better came and Mr. O'Neil returned to his post of duty after a life of extreme hardship. Representative Greenwood was away for three or four days on account of the death of a grandchild, and Representative Welch left for Idaho last evening to be present at the deathbed of his wife's father. The wife of Representative Smith is dying of quick consumption.

Several members were called away temporarily on account of accidents in their families. The 13-year-old son of Representative Macduffie had a portion of one of his hands blown away by the premature discharge of a shot-gun. A few days afterwards it transpired that the local treatment which the lad was receiving was not effective and he was threatened with the loss of the limb, if not his life, and he was accordingly brought to Salt Lake where he received surgical attendance. A four-year-old son of Representative Miller was also taken to the hospital and operated upon. A few days ago Minnie Clark Swenson received word that a little son of hers had contained serious injuries and came near being killed by a wild horse kicking a fence upon him and fracturing his skull. The child had a narrow escape from death but is now on the road to recovery.

Senator Tanner, who lost one child, went home by special train to see another that was dangerously ill.

Senator Evans was absent for a day or two on his mother-in-law being killed in Lehi. A young brother of Senator Sweet had a hair-breath escape a few days ago, by jumping from a train. He was not so fortunate a week. Representative Fisher was called home one day to attend the funeral of his father's sister.

But the legislators themselves were not alone in these afflictions. Congressman King, who was the leading senatorial candidate when the Legislature met, had a child, and for weeks his home was under quarantine. His strongest competitor, Hon. A. W. McCune, submitted to the loss of a nephew, a bright and promising young man of 22 years.

Then several of the legislators themselves have been seriously ill. Senator Wright was unable to leave his room for days. Senator Peery kept to his room for two weeks. Representative Peterson ventured out of doors against the advice of his physician. Representative Fullmer is confined to his bed with an attack of acute kidney trouble and Representative Lloyd has not been able to attend the Legislature for days.

TAKING A TRIP WEST.

Hon. Francis Armstrong, who has been quite ill for some time, intends to leave for San Francisco tomorrow with his wife and daughter. He expects to visit the City by the Golden Gate, then cross the Pacific to Honolulu, and even further west. The trip is taken for Mr. Armstrong's health, and he realizes the benefit he so much desires.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our best one suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor, as Mr. Abney (N. Y.) discovered recently at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very near unconscious. Neglecting the doctor he left, and for him to come at once or the return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and he says it did give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor was gone, and the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Stock, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends and to be a constant demand for it from that part of the country.

We have saved many dollars since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our family. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of our family or myself begin to catch cold we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill. for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. MEARS, RYLE, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie, Bedford county, Pa.

HOUSE REFUSES TO ADJOURN.

Representatives Betts, Jackson and Others Made the Attempt,

BUT THE MOTION IS LOST.

Workers Against Reconvening Joint Assembly Behind the Movement—Don't Want a U. S. Senator.

A surprise was sprung in the House this afternoon, when Representative Betts from Utah county moved that the members adjourn sine die. The motion received a prompt second from Representative Jackson, immediately behind whom sat Henry M. Ryan, leaning forward making whispered suggestions. For a moment Speaker Robertson hesitated and refused to put the motion. Finally he yielded, but said that several bills were yet undisposed of, among them the appropriation and revenue bills. Jackson rejoined by saying that the record could be made to show that the resources were passed before adjournment and the Speaker could so sign them.

"But I will not give the record with such a falsehood upon its face," responded the Speaker as he brought his gavel down upon his desk with emphatic firmness.

"Well, I want to go home," cried out Betts.

"Well, go home," exclaimed the Speaker.

"And it will be a good thing if you do," chimed in Shepard.

The throwing members voted aye on the proposition that the House now adjourn sine die.

Betts, Clyde, Fisher, Greenwood, Harris N. J., Ivers, Jackson, Johnson, Miller, Murdock, Sweet—12.

Those voting in the negative were Bennett, Brameveit, Vallentine, Cressley, Farr, Forman, Hansen, Harris, C. E., Holmgren, Horne, Law, Lloyd, Mangelsen, Maughan, O'Neil, Parry, Redd, Robinson, Robertson, Shepard, Stewart and Mr. Speaker—21.

TO WAIT UPON THE GOVERNOR.

After twenty-four hours of manifest anxiety and worry, Jackson, as a motion, moved on less than a score of votes, carried the appointment of a committee to wait upon the Governor and notify him that the Legislature was ready for the last bills and that he had anything further to communicate to it before it adjourned. The Speaker appointed as such committee Jackson, Robinson and Hansen, the last named however requested to withdraw from the committee. Permission was granted and Stewart appointed in his stead. The committee promptly proceeded to carry out its instructions, but immediately returned to the House with the information that the Governor, who had spent the hour of the night considering bills, had not yet reached his office.

CONFERENCE ON APPROPRIATIONS.

On motion of Mansfield, the Speaker appointed a conference committee to meet with a like committee from the Senate to arrive at some conclusion regarding the amendments made in the House to the revenue and appropriation bill. The chair appointed Mansfield, Crosby and Fisher. Immediately after adjourning this committee a communication was received from the Senate, stating that it had refused to concur in House amendments to the appropriation bill, and announcing that it had appointed a conference committee consisting of Senators Thomas, Nebeker and Shortlidge, and requesting the appointment of a like committee from the House. Also that it had refused to concur in House amendments to the taxation and revenue bill and that it appointed Senators Thomas and Nebeker as a conference committee, and requesting that a similar committee be named by the House.

SENATE.

A desultory session of the Senate was held this morning, mostly taken up by the reading of House bills and resolutions, while the Senate waited for the House to complete consideration of the general appropriation bill.

House bill No. 17, by Lloyd, to refer then to certified record of his salary, was killed by being laid on the table.

House bill No. 18, by Lloyd, relating to the recording of brands for stock, was put on final passage and defeated by a vote of 5 ayes and 8 noes. Wright changed the vote from aye to nay, after stating that he had refused to concur in House amendments to the appropriation bill, and announcing that he had been given to understand that the conferees of the House would not agree upon one.

House bill No. 19, by Lloyd, to refer then to certified record of his salary, was killed by being laid on the table.

House bill No. 20, by Lloyd, relating to the recording of brands for stock, was put on final passage and defeated by a vote of 5 ayes and 8 noes. Wright changed the vote from aye to nay, after stating that he had refused to concur in House amendments to the appropriation bill, and announcing that he had been given to understand that the conferees of the House would not agree upon one.

The tables being cleared the senators "sandbagged" the three p. m. session, awaiting the action of the House on the general appropriation bill.

Late in the afternoon the following bills passed the Senate:

House bill No. 12, by Jackson, providing that all State printing be done in the State of Utah, if the county was found by a vote of 12 to 2. Senators Wright and Shortlidge were seated in the affirmative and Senators Hill and Peery, making minor changes in the form of county treasurers' receipts, was passed by a vote of 13 to 1.

House bill No. 13, by Peery, making changes in the method of collecting State taxes, passed by a vote of 13 to 1.

On Motion of President Nebeker the rule of interest on fifty hours was made six per cent, instead of five per cent, on the amount of the bill. House bill No. 24, giving the State land board power to make loans.

The names of James Sharp and W. W. Riter failed to receive confirmation in the Senate, and the Governor was so notified. Objection to these gentlemen was made on the ground that they are advocates of the single gold standard. Howell defended and Sonnet and Evans opposed these names.

R. B. Anderson's appointment failed of confirmation as bank examiner, as did also the appointment of Wesley K. Walton as land commissioner. These two appointments, with that of Milton Bowman as a member of the State board of education, were objected to, but action was not taken on these appointments yesterday.

These nominations were unanimously confirmed. Dr. White of the State board of medical examiners was turned down on the statement by one senator that the board had been sued for malpractice. Mrs. Cannon defended Dr. White's nomination, saying that she knew nothing of the alleged case of malpractice against the doctor, but if it were true, some of the best physicians of the world have been sued for malpractice without being guilty of it.

RIO GRANDE WINS IN DAMAGE SUIT.

Supreme Court Affirms Judgment of Lower Court in a Railway Case.

PLAINTIFF WAS CARELESS.

H. Weber Secures His Release—Manslaughter Convicted—Sentence of Two Colored Men.

The Supreme court handed down an opinion today in the case of James P. Johnson, appellant, vs. the Rio Grande Western Railway company, affirming the judgment of the trial court.

This case was an appeal from a judgment of non-suit entered in favor of the defendant company by Judge Jacob Johnson of the seventh judicial district.

Plaintiff sued the defendant company to recover $15,000 damages, alleging that the defendant negligently backed a train of cars up its track at Winter Quarters, where plaintiff was employed, without giving plaintiff warning of the approach of the train. The defendant alleged that plaintiff did not use reasonable care to avoid the train.

The court finds that there was no evidence to warrant the case going to the jury; exonerates the defendant from all blame and holds that the plaintiff failed to exercise reasonable and ordinary care for his own safety.

Justice Miner delivered the opinion, which is concurred in by Chief Justice Bartch and Justice Baskin.

WEBER IS DISCHARGED.

Prosecution Concludes it Hasn't a Case Against the German.

H. Weber, the polished German, who has been confined in the county jail for several months past awaiting trial, is a free man again. Today the prosecution determined it hadn't a case against him, and therefore moved for a dismissal, which was granted. It was only a couple of weeks ago since Weber was tried for the larceny of a horse and rig belonging to E. D. Hoit Jr. The trial resulted in a disagreement, being hung by the jury.

Weber is an extremely sensitive fellow and was never known to joke. He feels very humiliated over his confinement in jail and vows vengeance on those who were instrumental in getting him there. The Tribune's remarks on his mines, meat, or German sausage, out of the reporter who, in his paper, referred to him as the "Flying Dutchman."

Gets Two Months Each.

Two months each in the county jail was the sentence imposed by Judge Norrell today upon J. H. Freeman and Albert Edwards, the two colored men who pleaded guilty on Monday to petit larceny. The defendants were originally charged with housebreaking, but that charge was withdrawn by the county attorney, and the men were persuaded to enter pleas of guilty to the lesser crime. The place they were accused of entering is a lodging house on Commercial street, kept by James W. Searles. A similar case against Freeman was dismissed on motion of the prosecution.

Judgment Set Aside.

The judgment and default recently entered in the case of T. R. Jones vs. John M. Pyne, was on motion of the attorneys for plaintiff, set aside by Judge Norrell today.

Manson Is Contested.

W. A. Manson, on trial yesterday for assaulting his five-year-old stepdaughter, was convicted by the jury last night of an attempt to rape. The defendant will be sentenced Friday.

Jurors Got Lunched.

All the jurors sworn in Judge Cherry's court were entered today at 10 Monday morning. Three doing service in Judge Norrell's division got off until Friday morning.

Dismissed and Continued.

Judge Cherry today dismissed the case of the Mercer Medical company vs. W. A. Nelden for want of prosecution, and continued the case of Joseph S. Rawlins vs. Mrs. Mary Ann Rawlins, with the privilege of bringing it up tomorrow.

The case of Hendrie Bothoff vs. Donald Ryan et al was continued indefinitely.

It was learned at the office of the company today that work on the east South Temple street extension would begin at once now that the Supreme Court had decided in their favor.

Got Through if Late.

No. 3 westbound over the Union Pacific arrived at Ogden at 1.15 p. m. today. It should have been in at 3.30 this morning. It was held by the snow. There is no blockade on the road north, as the overland flyer was only an hour behind time this morning.

President Cornish of the Oregon Short Line began his labors this morning in the general office here. The heads of the various departments were in consultation with the president all day. The various details of the proposed improvements will be gone into, and action upon them be determined. There was nothing ready to be given out at a late hour this afternoon, as the officials had not come to any conclusion on the subjects considered.

Mr. Cornish will be in the city for some days yet, and will take a general trip of inspection over the system before returning East.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Today was pay day in the Rio Grande Western offices.

J. H. Thompson, traveling passenger agent of the Rock Island, is in the city today.

Frank McLeod, excursion agent of the Chicago & Rock Island, came in this morning from Portland, Oregon.

A "round robin" went the rounds of the railroad offices last evening, extending the congratulations of the fraternity to Commercial Agent Kessler of the Missouri Pacific upon his prospects of joining the noble army of benedicts.

J. W. Reeve of the O. S. L. freight department said this morning that he made a mistake the other day as to the rate on emigrant movables to Deming, N. M., and El Paso, Texas. What he intended to say was that it would be $1 per 100 pounds, making the rate per car $200 instead of $100, as was given.

Live Stock Agent Hadnall of the Midland left this morning for the south. The Midland people are using every effort to open their line, but owing to the immense quantity of snow along the track, work is very slow. The officials here can tell no time when the line will be open.

The second east-bound Tavenner excursion, consisting of seventy people will be in Salt Lake over the Rio Grande Western tomorrow morning. The excursionists will spend a day sight seeing around the city and will leave in the evening for the East over the Rio Grande.

H. N. McGraw, formerly an appointee to a land office position here, has resigned from Washington, and has left his commission as army transportation agent of the war department, with headquarters at San Francisco. Private business was taking to the railroad offices this morning.

The adjourned meeting of the Western Passenger Agents was held at St. Louis yesterday. The report of the committee appointed at Chicago March 8th to recommend a basis for excursion rates was received. It recommended a basis of one fare plus a charge of two cents, two dollars etc. It was decided that this was impossible of adoption, owing to the National Educational Association at Los Angeles.

J. T. Fulton, Salt Lake agent of the Phillips-Jackson Excursion company, came in this morning from Portland, Oregon. While on the outward journey he stopped off at Spokane to see the O. R. & N. train. When this side of Meacham a huge rock came tumbling down from the mountains. It caught and smashed the pilot on the engine. Before the train could be started, the steps on all the cars were torn away upon the side where the rock had lodged. No further damage was done.

A subject of great interest to railroad circles this morning was the probable action of the western passenger agents at St. Louis today. Upon the outcome of this meeting depends the question as to whether there will be a general reduction in second class rates on the southern trans-continental lines, to offset the recent action of the Great Northern in making a $15 rate from St. Paul to the coast. All of the roads with offices here are interested in the outcome.

W. G. Chase, general superintendent of the Wagner Palace Car company; W. B. Kniskern, general passenger agent of the Chicago & Northwestern, and C. H. Wager, superintendent of the western division of the Wagner Palace Car company, together with their wives, will be in the city at 8.35 a.m. tomorrow. The party come from Portland, Oregon, directly to Salt Lake. They have been in California, and are making a tour of the country in the Wagner private car "Conway." They depart for the east tomorrow evening over the R. G. W.

"ACTIVE" STATE OF THE MARKET

Again Demonstrated in the Pit of the Utah Exchange.

THE SALES WERE VERY FEW

Joe Bowers Was the Feature in the Trading—Afternoon Call on the Old Board.

The "active" condition of the stock market was again demonstrated this afternoon, when the members of the Utah Exchange got together for business. Along the line they went with scarcely a sale until Four Aces was reached, when 1,000 shares changed hands at 27½. Then they took up Prince at 10½ cents, and Golden Eagle at 6½, after which Joe Bowers was handled, this stock showing more activity than its neighbors and selling to the tune of 2,000 shares between 15 and 16 cents. Northern Light displayed life at 62 and below, while Gold Hill threw down 1,000 at 3½. Silver City Consolidated, 1,000 at 1½, and Boston-De La Mar 1,000 @ 1½. A due of Ballweter at 1½ closed up the day's business, when the brokers scattered until 7:30 this evening. The sales amounted to 11,900 shares, with a value of $1,618.24.

Smelter Agreement.

The Engineering & Mining Journal has been furnished with an advance copy of the agreement for the formation of the American Smelting and Refining company, which includes all the principal smelting works in the United States, with the exception of those owned by Guggenheim Brothers. The agreement has thirteen points in full, showing that the combine takes in the Hanover, the Pennsylvania, the Germania and the Consolidated Kansas City, all operating and doing business in this city. This is exactly in line with the statement in the "News" several weeks ago to the effect that the Utah smelters were in the combine, despite the denials of their local managers.

LINE ON SOUTH TEMPLE ST.

Supreme Court Decides in Favor of Salt Lake Street Railway Company.

Work of Constructing the Road May Now be Proceeded With, Unless City or State Should Interfere.

The Supreme court has delivered an opinion in the case of John Dern et al vs the Salt Lake City Railway company, affirming the judgment of the court below.

The plaintiffs in this case, all residents of east South Temple street, commenced injunction proceedings against the defendant company last June to prevent it constructing a line further east than E street. The matter was heard before Judge Hiles, who denied the prayed for writ, when an appeal was taken.

The effect of the decision is to allow the street railroad company to proceed with the work of laying the track, if it feels like it, unless the State or city could take steps to prevent it.

The opinion is quite a lengthy one, and the following extract is here given:

"The defendant company began soon after its organization in 1872, under its articles of incorporation and franchises granted by the city, to construct and operate its road, and from time to time thereafter as it amended its articles in pursuance of the statutes authorizing the same, it took and received such additional franchises by the city, it continued to extend its railroad in the city, and operated the same up to the present time. During the whole of that long period of about twenty-seven years no objection has been made either by the Territory, city or State, and no legal proceedings have been instituted to interfere with the defendant's operations, until the present suit.

"The State could have intervened in this suit and assisted the plaintiff in obtaining an injunction if it desired to enforce a forfeiture of any of the rights of the defendant corporation, under its charter and city franchises. The city was made a party to the suit, but it does not, as it could have done if it so desired, join with the plaintiffs in the effort to obtain an injunction to stop the defendant. In place of actually participating in the suit it entered into a stipulation with the plaintiffs that the city was only a nominal party to the suit and that no costs of any kind should be taxed against it.

"The failure for so long a time to institute legal proceedings to forfeit any of the rights granted by the franchises or charter, and allowing and the repeated granting to it of additional franchises, is a waiver of all defaults on the part of the defendant company up to the time of the granting of the last franchise to the defendant.

"The franchise of the defendant company having been accepted and acted upon, gave valid and binding contracts between it and the sovereignty which authorized the granting of said franchises, which contracts which granted the same in pursuance of said authority, and as the defaults of the defendant company up to the 15th day of March, 1898, were waived by the State and city, the plaintiffs, being strangers to the contract, have no rights whatever to prevent the defendant from exercising all of the rights granted to it by said franchises. Until the State or city shall move in the premises, the defendant company, in restraining the defendant company, it has the right to enjoy all the privileges granted by its charter and franchises."

The opinion is written by Justice Baskin and concurred in by Chief Justice Bartch and Justice Miner.
