WILL SOON BE SHIPPING.

Nevada Douglas Copper Co. About Ready to Market Ore.

The large traction engine which is to haul ore from the Nevada-Douglas to the railroad and freight to the mine, made its first trip last week Friday, and the run was entirely satisfactory, says the Lyon County Times. The only trouble will be the supply of water, and that will be obviated by the sinking of two wells on the line of road, from which the machine will be supplied. One of these wells will be about two miles from the switch on the Nevada and California road, where the traction engine takes freight, and the other well will be at the foot of Mason pass.

The engine is 115 horsepower, the fuel used being crude oil. The machine is calculated to haul 50 tons to the trip on level roads and will haul about 30 tons on the road it is to travel. The distance from the railroad to the mine is about 16 miles, and the machine will make the trip up one day and back the next. The success of this machine will partly solve the transportation proposition for the Nevada-Douglas people.

MR. NEWHOUSE BACK FROM COAST

Hears Most Gratifying News From Big Cactus Mine Soon After His Return.

MARVELOUS DEVELOPMENTS

Have Been Made on the Six Hundred Level—"It's a Marvel," Says Supt. Moffat.

Samuel Newhouse returned from California today after an absence of about 10 days and soon after reaching his offices in the Dooly block the mining magnate was in consultation with Supt. Moffat of the Cactus mine in Beaver county which now bears all the evidence of being the biggest copper mine in the state, not even barring such recognized bonanzas as the Boston Consolidated and Utah Consolidated at Bingham.

"Mr. Moffat has brought the most flattering report from the Cactus," said Mr. Newhouse today. "In fact, he says the mine is simply a marvel and begs me not to dispose of any of my stock, which of course, I have no inclination to do. The late developments on the 600-foot level are of a decidedly important character and while I have been away the richest copper ore body yet found in the mine has been opened on this level. I have some samples of this ore on my desk and it certainly looks just about as fine as anyone could possibly wish for. Mr. Moffat has begun shipipng crude ore to the market that will average better than 15 per cent copper. This, of course, will not interfere with the operation of the concentrating mill and the usual marketing of concentrate."

While the dimensions of the ore deposits on the 600 have not been determined as far as length is concerned, developments have demonstrated that it has a width of 246 feet. The bulk of this ore is of milling grade, but through it are deposits of high grade stuff that will be shipped direct to the smelters for treatment.

The Cactus is now opened up in such a shape that nothing stands in the way of making an enviable record. With a stream of crude ore and concentrate going steadily towards the smelters it will not be very many months until the company will be in shape to pay dividends. It is said the earnings of the Newhouse Mines & Smelters company for February will approximate close to $125,000, net; while there is no reason to doubt that this record will be improved on during March by about $100,000.

Newhouse stock was in strong demand in the east today and many local orders were placed in the hands of local brokers to buy it at the market. The stock was active between $20 and $21 a share.

Manager Lafayette Hanchett of the Newhouse mines will not return from the coast until Monday next.

Bisbee Ariz., Feb. 26.—Joseph Cannon organizer for the Western Federation of Miners in this district, received the following telegram from James Kirwin, secretary of the Federation, today:

ALTA CONSOLIDATION.

Effort Being Made to Merge Little Pittsburg and Pioneer.

A story has come from New York to the effect that the property of the Little Pittsburg Mining company, located in Alta has passed into the hands of Alexander H. Tarbet, Willard F. Snyder, and others. From the same source it has been learned an effort is being made to bring about a merger with the Pioneer Mining company. The Little Pittsburg property is situated at the head of American Fork canyon and the locations of the Pioneer extend over the summit dividing Little Cottonwood and American Fork canyons.

PLANT ABOUT READY.

Active Reduction of Ores at Ogden Smelter Will Soon Begin.

Manager Bela Kadish of the Utah Smelting company is in the city today and gave out the information that the plant built by that corporation last year would probably be placed in commission in about a week or 10 days. The company has been buying ores for several months and has on hand between 3,000 and 4,000 tons which will be held as a reserve supply. A train load from the Goldfield, Nevada, district has been received recently.

As to the construction of the Tintic smelter by the Tintic Smelting company, which is to be controlled by practically the same interests as the Ogden plant, Mr. Kadish stated that the plans are being drawn and that excavations would soon be started.

BULLION BECK DIVIDEND.

Directors of This Tintic Company Order One Paid Tomorrow.

The directors of the Bullion Beck & Champion Mining company posted a dividend today of 10 cents a share, or $10,000, which is payable tomorrow. This makes the total paid out to shareholders since the organization of the company amount to $2,548,400.

ONTARIO DRAIN TUNNEL.

Ernest Bamberger of the Ontario company is in Park City today looking after latest developments. A report was received at the local offices of the company this forenoon to the effect that the drain tunnel had been cleared as far as No. 2 shaft. Contrary to expectations, however, the men employed on the work found little water in the shaft.

A syndicate is being formed to develop the Sahara group of claims in the Duck Creek district of White Pine county, Nevada. The property was secured last fall by A. J. Davis and William H. Tibbals of this city.

Three big sixteen-horse freight teams have arrived at Wonder, in Churchill, with the water pipe and other material for the Wonder Water company and it will not be many more weeks before the camp has a first-class water supply. The town will be supplied with sufficient water for fire fighting purposes and there will be plenty for mills and other enterprises.—Elko Free Press.

MARKET UNABLE TO HOLD RALLY

First Prices Moved Upwards With Vigor on Small Volume of Business.

LOW PRICED STOCKS SOLD.

This Helped the Bears, Precipitate Fall in Reading Completing Bull Rout.

New York, Feb. 27.—Opening prices of stocks moved upwards with some vigor, although the volume of dealings was moderate. Anaconda rose 2. Pennsylvania, Great Northern preferred, Atchison, Smelting and Sugar gained a point and Union Pacific and Reading a large fraction. The opening advances were not maintained long and prices fell back to where they left off yesterday or below. Missouri Pacific seemed to be without support, and the same condition existed to a less degree in Union Pacific, Atchison and Rock Island.

Weakness in the group of southern railway stocks kept the general tone heavy in sympathy.

Bonds were heavy.

Selling of various low priced stocks added the bears. A precipitate fall in Reading completed the rout of the bulls and there was a noutpouring of stocks of all classes which caused average losses of 1 to 1½. Recognized leaders were thrown upon the market in large amounts. Rallies which extended to a point in some cases were succeeded by a new dip. Reading was forced below 113 and a few stocks sold slightly lower than before. The market steadied again and became very dull.

LITTLE CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH

Sixteen Perish in a Fire in the Hochelaga School of Protestant Commission, Montreal.

PRINCIPAL ALSO PERISHED.

Pupils in Kindergarten Started Out, Found Hall Full of Smoke and Refused to Go Further.

Montreal, Feb. 26.—Principal Maxwell and 16 children perished in a fire this afternoon in the Hochelaga school of the Protestant school commission.

The fire was first noticed by workmen employed nearby. The teachers were notified, and the work of getting the children out of the building began. The kindergarten department was located on the second floor, and it was here that the loss of life occurred. The children were started out, but found the lower hall full of smoke and refused to descend. They retreated to the rooms whence they had come.

The fire by this time was making its way upward, and the smoke growing so dense that even the experienced firemen could not stand it. Firemen tried to get Miss Maxwell to go down the ladder, but she refused and rushed back into the back part of the building in search of the children. Later she was found lying on the floor with a child beside her. The deaths were caused by asphyxiation. There were no fire escapes in the building.

Miss Sarah Maxwell, principal of the school, was 21 years old. The children who were killed ranged from 3 to 8 years.

It is asserted at the office of the building that official notice was served on the school commissioners in November, that not only this school, but 50 others in the city, must be provided with fire escapes at once. None had been built at the Hochelaga school. Another point to be explained is why the kindergarten class had been taken to an upper story.

A pupil in the second class said there was a bell in Miss Maxwell's room which was used when fire drill was given and which could be heard all over the building. This alarm was not sounded.

IDAHO LEGISLATURE.

House Passes Bill Limiting Grazing Of Sheep.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 26.—The house passed a bill appropriating $15,000 to provide for participation by the state in the Yukon Pacific exposition at Seattle.

A bill of great importance to sheepmen and settlers amending the two-mile limit law for grazing sheep was passed by a vote of 29 to 19. It reduced the limit from two miles to one. This law prohibits the grazing of sheep on the public range within two miles of a habitation or a possessory claim. The old law, making the limit two miles, was recently sustained by the supreme court of the United States. The sheepmen, alarmed at the situation, then asked the legislature to make the limit half a mile and add some other provisions. After nearly two days' debate they were successful in getting this one change.

A BOLD HOLDUP.

San Francisco, Feb. 26.—A holdup of uncommon daring, which netted the perpetrator about $1,000, occurred tonight at Broadway and Fifteenth street, Oakland. A short, heavy set man, the lower part of his face masked with a red handkerchief, entered a saloon, presented a gun in each hand and commanded the three occupants of the card room—among them the proprietor of the saloon—and the bartender and a customer—to put up their hands, promising to shoot if they refused.

His order obeyed, the highwayman forced the occupants of the resort to hand over to him about $800 in money and two checks for $80 and $100.
