COUNTERFEIT COINS.

Counterfeit Coins Flooded With Bogus Silver Dollars.

OMAHA, Jan. 30.—During the last few days Omaha has been flooded with a quantity of new counterfeit silver dollars so good that they have passed without much difficulty. A number of them came into the banks every day, though suspicion enough in one of them. Some have passed by merchants, but generally they are the best imitation they have ever met with. The counterfeit appears to be made of an alloy not quite as good as the ring, although cheaper than one of the genuine, is very true and is readily recognized as such. One lot of the coins are coated with silver although they retain a soapy greasy appearance.

The lead and workmanship is inferior than those of a genuine coin. The milled edges are very good but as the coin with silver adhered to the edges and edges. The dates are various but the greater number have the date of 1891. The bad dollar is the best of the counterfeits being the one that is coated with silver, and is an ordinary observer exactly like the genuine. The weight is almost correct, more so in some than in others, but still a little lighter than the genuine.

BOW IN A CHURCH.

Chicago's Pastor Not Sustained by His Church.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Rev. Dr. Curtis Manges, who recently resigned his pastorate of the Armitage Mission Presbyterian church, in finding over bows to his people in connection with his work, was reinstated.

The trouble has been brewing for months and the church came last night to a vote on Dr. Manges, and the actual resignation of the church, was allowed by unanimous service, which was taken in the Presbyterian church, Marcus Martin of Trinity Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, who has been called to fill Dr. Manges' place. As a result of what they consider a defeat in Dr. Martin and their minority, it is said that it was intended to Dr. Manges that it would be perhaps agreeable to his parishioners if he would continue to remain away. Feeling runs high in the handsome house of worship at Vincennes and Thirty-sixth street. In the opinion of many of the members opposed to Dr. Martin the church was good enough to his action of late. They did not wish their wives and daughters to go to church to hear the view and debatement of Calvin Brainerd, of Aragon avenue, and the news spread, even as it was discussed. They wanted a minister who held himself more closely to the expositions of the doctrine of Christian religion in the pulpit title. The controversy was carried on Dr. Martin's sentiment in the course he had marked out for himself, and his sermons became more violent week by week. That portion of his flock not in sympathy with Dr. Manges began to agitate early in the morning. Dr. Martin was formally requested to quit and did so unanimous. Dr. Manges will, however, continue to preach in the church as pastor until May 1, though he expects to be relieved from active duty before March 1.

The retiring doctor was inclined to make light of the trouble that led to his resignation and said the four sermons that have caused the date of the separation to be accepted three months. "Of 40 participants" said he, "20 were over of my parishioners delighted with my text (here was an unpleasant one Whatever, I have only kindly feelings towards the members of the church. I have taken back my resignation because I thought it my duty. Very calmly I have made some attempts. The trouble cannot always be prevented, and when a man's sores are trod on he winces."

"Charles Harry's hopes to minister to the spiritual welfare of the Presbyterians of the North Side in December, 1892. He came to Chicago from Newark, N. J., and the opposition charged of his sermons soon showed himself. He took a prominent part in the movements looking to ecclesiastical reform and the other opposition to his course was raised by a portion of his parishioners eventually culminated in his resignation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 30.—A dispatch from the St. Louis chamber of commerce stating that the President's proclamation to cattlemen not without delay was presented today by Vest, who declared that the St. Louis chamber of commerce did not represent the people of Missouri. The people did not favor the retirement of 100,000,000 in greenbacks and treasury notes and the issuance of gold obligations bearing fifty years with interest aggregating $2,000,000. It was an effort to compel the people to pay the bond and gold. The President has declared war on silver, and Vest "He would make no concessions to silver. Silver is as good standard as gold."

The senator asked if any one really believed the opposition against greenbacks and in favor of silver payments.

In answer to a question by Cullom, Vest said he did not believe there was any possibility of the House committee agreeing on any measure to return to the senate.

Vest said the talk about the backed treasury was a mere idle talk. The secretary of the treasury has assured him that the House was working very and there prospect is to be a large surplus.

The hatch they oppose is that which provides that purchasers, in case the roads are sold under foreclosure, shall assume all the debts of the old companies and give the United States mortgage on property payable in fifty years at 2 per cent. They say the western states will have to bear the burden in high traffic rates. There is a possibility that Hatch will strike out the clause and leave the feature open for future legislation. In that event the Californians will support the Hatch plan, if they think there is a chance to block the Reilly bill. It is understood they prefer that there shall be no foreclosure and prefer a forfeiture in case the road is in default in the payment of the bonds.

NATIONAL GUARD MATTERS.

Ballots Received From All Organizations Except Those at Norwich and Spanish Fork.

The regimental and battalion elections for National Guard officers to be held tomorrow is creating a wonderful amount of interest among the militia boys inasmuch as it is in fact throughout the territory.

At headquarters today there was much talk and speculation as to the result of the election. In some instances it is quite easy, it is thought, to predict the outcome but in others all is uncertainty. The rivalry between some of the candidates has been quite spirited. Ballots have been received from all of the militia organizations in the territory except the twenty companies at Spanish Fork. It is confidently expected that both of these will be here from in a proper manner in one more tomorrow, at which time the canvassing board appointed by the governor will meet for the purpose of opening the ballots and ascertained the result.

A passing in one of the elections is the great amount of interest being exhibited by the regular army officers scattered all over the country, who are not in appearance, are just as desirous that the best men shall win as are the National Guards boys themselves.
