RUSSIA IN MOURNING

On Account of the Sudden Death of Prince Lobanoff Rostovsky.

A MOST ABLE STATESMAN GONE.

His Demise Likely to Delay the Settlement of the Armenian Question.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A dispatch to the Telegraph from Kieff says that Prince Lobanoff-Rostovsky, Russian minister of Foreign affairs, died suddenly while traveling from Vienna to that place. Prince Lobanoff-Rostovsky was in the company of the czar at the time of his death, and his demise was wholly without warning.

KIEFF, Russia, Aug. 31.—The news of the sudden death of Prince Lobanoff Rostovsky, the Russian minister of foreign affairs who accompanied the czar and czarina on their foreign tour recently commenced, has caused profound sorrow and considerable suppressed excitement throughout Russia. The regret felt is intensified by the belief that diplomatic arrangements between the powers for the settlement of the vexed Armenian and oriental questions may now be broken off, and the czar may be compelled to defer his proposed visit to Germany, Denmark, France and England.

Prince Lobanoff Rostovsky was appointed Russian minister of foreign affairs February 26, 1895, succeeding the late M. de Giers. For years Prince Lobanoff, as he was commonly called, was known as M. de Giers's most [illegible]. When the post of minister of foreign affairs was left vacant by the death of that famous statesman, Emperor William of Germany [illegible] objection to the appointment of Prince Lobanoff. At first it seemed possible that the czar might make another selection. During the visit of Emperor William to Vienna, however, the emperor [illegible] Duke Vladimir [illegible] Prince Lobanoff [illegible] at the Russian embassy in Vienna and [illegible] discussed the situation. The result was that the German emperor signified that he would no longer stand in the way of the appointment. Prince Lobanoff was very friendly to the Vatican, and in December of 1894 he was [illegible] by Nicholas II to convey to Leo XIII the formal announcement of the new emperor's accession. As the views of Prince Lobanoff on the various questions at issue between the Russian government and the holy see were [illegible] conciliatory and moderate, the emperor's choice of an envoy gave much pleasure to the pope, who testified his gratification at the presence of the prince by conferring upon him the order of Christ, the most exalted decoration that it was in his power to bestow.

Prince Lobanoff was one of the most important personages in modern Russian politics. He was one of the descendants of Rurik. The name Lobanoff was derived from one of the ancestors, who was surnamed Lobanoff (high forehead) while Rostovsky was derived from the ancient town of Rostov, where the Lobanoffs were once reigning princes. The prince entered the diplomatic service of Russia at an early age, and was a special protege of the [illegible].

Before the last Russo-Turkish war he was charge d'affaires at Constantinople, and at the close of hostilities returned back to the same city with the rank of ambassador.

After leaving the shores of the Bosphorus he was for a time attached to the ministry of the Interior at St. Petersburg and subsequently was sent ambassador to London. For more than a decade he was Russia's representative at Vienna, where his tact, discretion and wit made him a great favorite alike at court and in society.

Prince Lobanoff was a little more than sixty years of age. He was of medium height and of prepossessing appearance. He was well known in the domain of letters by his "History of Paul I" and for some time past he has been engaged on a history of the reign of Empress Catherine.

Though regarded as an advocate of a strong foreign policy, Prince Lobanoff is known to have been one of the most liberal of leaders of thought and action in Russia. His liberalism was shown by the fact that he was an avowed partisan of a moderate but steady change in Russia—of a gradual political evolution in his country's institutions.

He has distinguished himself since taking the post of minister of foreign affairs by his brilliant handling of the [illegible] pertaining to the Russian policy in the orient, and by his masterly intervention in the war between China and Japan.

Prince Lobanoff never married. He was a man of great wealth and one of [illegible] was the purchasing of silver horse shoes for the horses that he [illegible]. He had a splendid palace in the [illegible] mountains and his pages were the sons of great Tartar chieftains.

SUMMONED TO KIEFF.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 31.—Following the death of Prince Lobanoff-Rostovsky, the Russian minister for foreign affairs, the czar has summoned the deputy of the Russian minister for foreign affairs, M. Chichkine, to Kieff.

PIKES PEAK.

First Accident Since the Cog Railroad Opened.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 31.—The first accident on the Pike Peak cog railroad since it was opened five years ago, occurred yesterday. The heavy brakes on the car prevented loss of life or serious results. The slide bars on the driving wheels of the engine broke, releasing the compressed air brakes. The engineer and fireman saved themselves by jumping. The conductor stopped the passenger car, its couplings being used on the [illegible], by applying the automatic brakes. The engine rushed down the 25 per cent grade at a terrific speed, jumping the track at the curve. The boiler exploded. The train was a special carrying General Manager Frederick Harrison, of the London and Northwestern railroad and a party of English railroad men with ladies.

Li Hung at West Point.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Early this morning Li Hung Chang boarded the despatch boat Dolphin to go to West Point. The viceroy will inspect the military academy. The proposed visit to the squadron off Tompkinsville was postponed.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Li Hung Chang arrived here this afternoon on the dispatch boat Dolphin to inspect the military academy, but owing to heavy rain he did not land and the proposed inspection was abandoned.

Bryan's Journey.

CHATAQUA, N. Y., Aug. 31.—The Bryan party left Lake Wood at 7:30 this morning on the steam launch Ceylon. At Bemis people crowded the dock and shook hands with the nominee. Bryan did not go among the crowd. As the boat approached the landing pier a large crowd cheered.

Another Prisoner Insane.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—It is reported that John Duff, another political prisoner, has become dangerously insane.

LABRADOR INDIANS DYING.

Destitution and Disease Carrying the Aborigines Off.

Their Means of Subsistence Appropriated by New Foundland Sailors and Fishermen.

QUEBEC, Aug. 31.—Sad stories of the gradual disappearance and death from destitution and disease of the scattered Indian tribes of Labrador have just been brought here by the Roman Catholic missionaries, Fathers Guyer and Lecomte, who have arrived from the north part of the coast opposite to and under the jurisdiction of New Foundland. Government aid will be absolutely necessary to the existence of these wretched people during the coming winter. The coasts frequented by them are all but depleted of game and fur bearing animals, and the taking of beaver has been prohibited until 1900 in order to prevent its total destruction. In former years the Indians derived much of the means of their subsistence from the vast quantities of the eggs of various kinds of sea fowl that frequent all these coasts.

Of late years, however, the importance and value of these egg deposits have attracted the attention of the fishermen and sailors of New Foundland, and now they descend in such swarms upon the coast that nothing is left for the Indians, who are driven off as intruders by the pirates, if they seek to share in the bounteous means [illegible] by the sea fowl. The New Foundlanders ship these eggs off to the United States in immense quantities where they are sold to confectioners and biscuit manufacturers.

Another fruitful cause of the spread of destitution, disease and death among these Indians is the facility afforded them for obtaining spirituous liquors, despite all legal enactments to the contrary. There is virtually no enforcement of law upon the coast of Labrador and unprincipled traders from New Foundland and elsewhere, by plying the unsophisticated savage with fire-water, are enabled to obtain from them the entire fruits of their hunting and trapping expeditions.

Some thrilling stories are told of the native savagery of Labrador Indians. Often, impelled by hunger, have they killed and eaten those nearest to them. The influence exerted over the other members of the tribe by their jugglers, or medicine men, is the greatest drawback to the work of the missionaries among them.

"DEATH TO AMERICANS."

Spanish Workingmen's [Favorite] Cry.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—A special to the World from Havana says.

The workmen in a Spanish cigar factory operated by an Englishman named Beer, made a public demonstration Friday night in favor of Spain at which the favorite cry was "Death to the Americans."

General Quintin Banders, after defeating the Spanish forces under Captain Balbuena at Barangua, Pinar del Rio province, wrecking a train and seizing the booty, marched eastward with 300 men, crossing the trocha unmolested through the Piragua hills. He camps at Aguirre, southwest of Alquizar, Havana province, and is reported to be at the ruined sugar mill Mirosa, near Quivican.

The Nanigo, an African secret association corresponding to the Italian Mafia, has taken a hand in politics. Partisans of the Evien gang, accused those belonging to the Zootia of disloyalty in having joined the company of Spanish negro volunteers formed by a negro called Pastor Veila to escort General Weyler. The Zootia gang resented the charge and attacked the Evien men in the Nanigo quarter. Several persons are reported killed and many wounded. Forty negroes have been arrested and the district is held by the police.

The Audiencia court of justice refuses to obey General Weyler's order to remove the Regus judges. General Weyler threatens to abolish the court if it disregards his autocratic order. Lawyers here, Spaniards included, resent Gen. Weyler's interfering with the civil courts.

The Spanish Boat City of Cadiz, has arrived with reinforcements.

Captain Tomasi reports that 300 soldiers, mostly Andalusians of the worst character, mutinied on the voyage. Their leaders had to be put in irons. Nothing serious resulted, however, as precautions against just such a thing had been taken previous to their embarking. They were not allowed to have their arms while on the ship.

General Weyler has ordered that all relatives of rebels must register at the palace. All letters and parcels sent them are to be opened and examined before delivery. Visitors are to be [illegible]. The sheriffs have begun visiting private residences to carry out the order.

Oscar de los Reyes and Juan Miguel Ferrer are to be sent to Chinchas islands.

SECOND CONVENTION.

Gold Standard Democrats Gathering at Indianapolis.

SOME OPPOSED TO A NOMINATION

But the Indications Are That They Will Be In a Hopeless Minority.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 31.—Delegates to the gold standard Democratic national convention began to arrive this morning and talk of the candidates became more general, but nothing developed early in the day to indicate which way the tide might turn.

Florida caused comment by telegraphing to have her banner painted with the pictures of Cleveland and Woods, and "our choice," upon it.

Some delegates are opposed to making a nomination, but indications are they will be in a hopeless minority.

Perry Belmont was among the arrivals today. He came as a looker-on, but will probably hold a proxy from New York.

Senator Vilas will not permit the use of his name in connection with the Presidential nomination, was the news brought here today by Ellis B. B. Usher of Wisconsin. "Vilas does not want the nomination in the first place," said he. "In the second place, he is for General Bragg for whom the state instructed. From what I gather of the situation, it would appear that Henry Watterson will be Bragg's only formidable rival."

Usher said he did not believe there was any warrant for the statement Vilas was administration candidate.

Believed to Have Been Murdered.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Aug. 31.—Last April two Mexicans who claimed to have come direct from Arizona, located in an obscure spot near the edge of Sage creek, in the Bad lands west of here. As they did not engage in farming or stock raising, the principal industries of that region, much curiosity was aroused as to their occupation.

It afterwards developed that they were engaged in manufacturing by a process known only to themselves, a curious sort of beverage out of the common cactus. The liquor, it is claimed, a ready market for their product among the Indians on the Pine Ridge reservation, and of course kept the matter as quiet as possible. But a few cowboys in that vicinity soon discovered their location and have since been accustomed to make frequent visits to the place.

Word now reaches here that a few days ago when one of the cowboys made his accustomed visit he discovered that the cabin of the Mexicans had been burned and the men had disappeared. As they were known to have had quite a sum of money about them, it is believed by stockmen in that region that they have been murdered and their cabin and contents burned to destroy evidences of the crime. An investigation will probably be made.

Men and Money for Cuba.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—A special to the Times-Herald from Muncie, Ind., says:

The meeting held at Salem for the purpose of raising funds to assist Truman Stewart in defraying the expenses of taking 1,000 colored troops to Cuba to assist the insurgents was attended by 1,000 people, and a satisfactory sum was the result from the sale of refreshments and subscriptions. Another man is enlisting the troops in Georgia and they will be shipped from Key West about October 1. Mr. Stewart is a fearless young man, once a candidate for the legislature and is their promoter. Since his plans have been made public he has received hundreds of letters from military men and others anxious to accompany him, and many donations.

No Murder Mystery.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 31.—The finding of the dead bodies of Miss Jennie Bowles and Mrs. Henry Vennemeyer yesterday, started sensational reports similar to those surrounding the finding of the bodies of women in this vicinity recently. Both committed suicide, however, and there was no murder mystery in either case.

WILL VISIT WASHINGTON.

Li Hung Chang Going to See Our National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—At the Chinese legation it is said that it had been determined that Li Hung Chang would visit this city next Thursday, arriving here at night. He will be met by all of the members of the legation, who will escort Li and his suite to the Arlington hotel, where he will stop during the two days that he remains in this city. It is expected that Gen. Ruger, Assistant Secretary of State Rockhill, Colonel Fred Grant, ex-Governor Foster, John Russell Young, the Chinese minister, the Chinese consul at New York and other prominent men will be in Li Hung Chang's party when it arrives. At the legation it is believed that no public official display will take place, but that Li Hung Chang will on Friday be quietly escorted to the Capitol and other public buildings.

The Women in Black.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 31.—Manager Jacob Litt produced The Women in Black, by H. Grattan Donnelly, at the Grand Opera last night. The production was noteworthy because of its novel and picturesque features. The scene presenting Madison Square on election night and closing with a torchlight procession aroused the greatest enthusiasm.

UNION PACIFIC AFFAIRS.

Interest Amounting to $520,000 Not to be Paid.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—It was reported today the Union Trust company not having received any funds for the purpose that the interest on the Union Pacific land grant sinking fund 5 per cent bonds, due tomorrow, would not be paid. No Union Pacific receivers are in town. A story was current that the difficulty arose partly from the fact that the warrants for the transfer funds on which the payment of interest depended have not been signed for a long time.

New York Republican Committee.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The new state Republican committee met here today to organize. There was no opposition to the re-election of Charles Hackett as chairman; John R. Kenyon, secretary; B. B. Odell, chairman of the executive committee. Warner Miller was dropped from the advisory committee which was chosen as follows: Thomas C. Platt, Chauncey M. Depew, Edward Lauterbach, Frank Hiscock, Frank S. Witherbee.

Refused to Surrender Said.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The Cologne Gazette publishes a dispatch from Zanzibar saying that the German consul there has refused the request of the British officials to surrender Said Khalid, who recently assumed the title of sultan and was subsequently driven from the palace by the shells of the British squadron at anchor off the place.

Lumber Company Fails.

HANNIBAL, Aug. 31.—The Herriman-Guery Lumber Co. has failed. The liabilities are $110,000. The assets are nominal. Local banks are caught for large amounts.

The assets may possibly pay twenty-five cents on the dollar.

Carriage Manufacturers Assign.

AMESBURY, Mass., Aug. 31.—Miller Brothers, carriage manufacturers, have made an assignment. No statements are given out yet.

Gold Deposits.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The total deposits of gold in the subtreasury in exchange for legal tenders up to 11:30 today amounted to $3,000,000. J. P. Morgan & Co. deposited $1,500,000; Hanover National bank, $500,000; the bank of Montreal, $500,000. The gold for import orders thus far aggregates $15,250,000.

In the Hands of a Receiver.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—King's County Elevated company, operating in Brooklyn, has been placed in the hands of a receiver. General Jordan, president, was named receiver.

The application for receiver was made before Judge Goodrich in the supreme court, by Tracy, Boardman and Platt on behalf of James H. Frothingham, treasurer and August Belmont, vice president of the Kings County road and Vermilye & Co., bankers. The petitioners aver that it is a friendly action brought for the purpose of adjusting the affairs and protecting the interests of stockholders. They say there are outstanding debts they cannot yet meet. Poor business, due to the trolley system, is given as another reason. The capital of the company is $4,500,000. The road was constructed at a cost of $14,804,000 and has eight and a half miles of track.

The last two annual reports show that the income has not been sufficient to pay operating expenses, and fixed charges. The liabilities in 1892 were $11,909,191 and had grown a year later to $15,626,947. The profit and loss account on the later date showed a deficit of $719,095.

ANXIOUS TO RESTORE ORDER.

Two Turkish Pashas Charged With an Impossible Task.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 30.—[Delayed in transmission.]—Vehby Pasha and Unakir Pasha have been appointed military commanders of Pera and Galata respectively, with stringent orders to restore quiet.

The commission appointed Friday by the ministry of police to inquire into the revolutionary rising, consisting of eight Christians and Mussulmans, is sitting at the ministry of justice.

Four hundred Mussulmans, accused of excesses, already have been arrested.

The Philippine Revolution.

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—An official dispatch from Manilla, the capital of the Phillipine Islands, announces that a revolutionary outbreak occurred there and a state of siege has been proclaimed.

A WARSHIP ORDERED TO THE SCENE.

MADRID, Aug. 31.—The Spanish warship Isla De Cuba has been ordered to the Phillipine Islands immediately.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Trains Carrying the Veterans to St. Paul in Great Numbers.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 31.—With fifteen or more regular trains from all points of the compass and thirty-three special trains during the morning, the Union depot was the scene of the greatest activity the first day of the Grand Army encampment. Commander-in-Chief I. N. Walker and staff were met at noon by the local posts and escorted to the Ryan hotel where national headquarters is established.

Lauding President Cleveland.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 31.—The state convention of gold Democrats met here today. Daniel Griffin of Watertown was chosen temporary chairman. He made a speech denouncing the action of the Chicago convention as undemocratic, opposing McKinley's protection ideas and lauding President Cleveland as the greatest modern statesman.

Will Retire From Business.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31.—It is announced that the H. C. Simon-Gregory dry goods company will dissolve partnership and retire from business. The concern is capitalized for $500,000, has a surplus of $400,000 and a business of a million a month. The only reason given for the dissolution is the desire of both Simon and Gregory to retire from active business.

Money Was His Fall.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 31.—Frank Beaubien, aged forty, a member of an old French family, inherited considerable money recently and has been drinking heavily. This morning he went home drunk. His wife remonstrated and he shot her in the back, inflicting a mortal wound. He also attempted to shoot his two children, but both escaped injury. He then blew his brains out.

DEPART FOR DENVER.

Tabernacle Choir and Band Off For the Big Eisteddfod.

WILL BE HOME SUNDAY NEXT.

The Excursion Party Numbers Four Hundred—The Train a Special One of Ten Cars.

Members of the Tabernacle choir, Knights of Pythias band and friends of both these famous musical organizations, numbering in all about 400 persons, took their departure for Denver this morning to participate in the great Western Eisteddfod which opens tomorrow night before what will certainly be the largest audience of the kind that ever assembled in the Colorado metropolis.

The train which bore this numerous aggregation of musical talent was a special one composed of ten cars and pulled out from the Union Pacific depot precisely at 10 o'clock, schedule time, amid the good-bys, handshakes and bustle of more than a thousand relatives and friends who had assembled to witness the beginning of the journey. The large majority of them were doubtless unconscious of the fact that it was just three years ago today—after the order of reckoning by days, and three years ago on Saturday, according to the calendar—that the Tabernacle choir began its memorable World's Fair pilgrimage.

As is well understood the Salt Lake choir will open the Eisteddfod exercises tomorrow evening with the Soldiers' Chorus from the opera of Faust. It will, however, not be a competitor for any of the prizes offered by the association, all contest work being left to smaller organizations. A chorus of forty ladies' voices selected from the choir will be among the contestants as will also the K. of P. band under the leadership of Prof. Anton Pedersen. It is confidently expected that the band will be a winner.

General Passenger Agent Burley accompanied the choir and expects to have their train roll into Denver at 7:30 tomorrow morning, making the run in the remarkably quick time of twenty-one and a half hours. The party will return home by way of the Rio Grande on Sunday soon next in time for the members of the choir to sing at the Tabernacle services.

The Voting Booths.

L. Hanlin, agent of the Barnard Booth company, appeared with his attorney Judge Judd, before the board of county commissioners this morning and set forth the claim that the other voting booth concerns are mere infringements on the rights of his—the Barnard company. Commissioner Christopherson was billed to go East with the choir and was forced to make his departure at such a time as prevented Judge Judd from presenting his client's complaints. The board adjourned to meet next Monday at 2 p. m. and take up the voting booth case.

Cigarettes Killed Him.

Laramie Boomerang: There was quite an excitement at Fort Washakie yesterday among men addicted to cigarette smoking. Private Bird of company D, Ninth cavalry, was sent yesterday with a detachment to Rawlins, and the party camped last night at Hailey, thirty miles south of Lander. During the evening Private Bird was taken violently ill, and in twenty minutes was dead. His body was sent back to Fort Washakie. The sudden death puzzled the doctors and they made a post mortem examination revealing the fact that the throat and lungs were stained with tobacco and nicotine was deposited on portions of the lungs, making the cause of death very clear to the post surgeon. The revelation of the cause of death produced consternation among both officers and men who are cigarette smokers.

Undergoing a Change.

The west building of the University, formerly used for the deaf mute school, is undergoing a thorough change. Hereafter it will be used exclusively for the State normal school. Twelve recitation rooms on the first floor, six class rooms on the second floor and two class rooms on the third floor will be used for the training school, and the remainder of the building will be devoted to the Normal school proper.

Aside from the class rooms, there will be a large assembly room, a gymnasium, a large room for physical culture, offices for the principal of the Normal school, and for the training school, toilet rooms for the teachers, etc. The lavatory is a new building erected apart from the school building, and is modern in all its appointments. Under the new arrangement the preparatory school of the University becomes merged in the normal school, which practically does away with the preparatory department. The outlook for a large attendance the coming year is excellent, as an attendance of fully five hundred is expected at the normal school, to say nothing of the attendance at the University, which is also expected to be large.

Last Night's Blaze.

The large frame barn belonging to John Connelly of 817 First street, near the corner of M street, was burned to the ground last evening. The fire broke out about 10:15 o'clock and was first seen by a boy who notified Mr. Connelly, and the alarm was turned in immediately. Chief Devine and Assistant Chief Donovan accompanied the hose wagon to the scene. The fire had gained such headway that but little was saved, and the barn was reduced to ashes.

A light structure, a lean-to, containing some furniture, stoves, etc., was destroyed with the greater part of the contents.

Fortunately no live stock was in the barn. The total loss is estimated at $1,000 with an insurance of $970.

The cause of the fire is unknown, but Mr. Culler who was among the first at the scene of conflagration said he detected an odor of kerosene. Mr. Connelly states positively there was no kerosene in the barn. Chief Devine hopes this blaze will prove the necessity of having an East side fire station as the run from the central station to the scene of last night's fire is too long, although excellent time was made.

American Clothing Company.

Secretary of State Hammond has received the articles of incorporation of the American Clothing company, whose principal place of business is at Park City. The object of the new concern is, what its name would indicate, to conduct a general merchandising business, "to collect notes, mortgages, etc."

The incorporators are L. J. Wolter of Park City, who is named as president and director; Harriette Post Wolter of Park City, treasurer and director, Lizzie Post of Salt Lake City, director, C. L. Vaughan of Chicago; W. L. Snyder of Park City, secretary and director; J. W. Schofield, vice president and director. The capital stock is placed at $10,000, divided into 1,000 shares at $10 each. The life of the corporation is placed at fifty years.

Examination of Teachers.

The county examination of candidates to teach in the schools of Salt Lake county is being held at the University building today, and will continue through tomorrow. Thirty-six applications were made for certificates, of which twenty are for the primary grade, and sixteen for the grammar grade. The studies required are arithmetic, reading, U. S. history, writing, nature studies, spelling, pedagogies, physiology, grammar and geography. The board of examiners consists of Supt. Van Cott, B. W. Ashton and Prof. Cummings.

FOR CITY TEACHERS.

The city examination of teachers commenced at the high school building on Richards street this morning, and will be continued on Wednesday. Thirty applications were made for certificates, the number applying for primary and grammar certificates being about equally divided. The examining board consists of Supt. Millspaugh, Prof. Kerr, Principal Malone and Prof. Caskey.

Attorney Bishop Answers.

Attorney General Bishop has given an opinion to County Attorney John Nowers of Beaver county in answer to the question, "Can the costs of prosecution be taxed to the party who makes complaint before the magistrate in case of larceny where complainant was not an eye witness to the theft, and where defendants waived examination before the justice's court, and when later, the county attorney filed an information charging defendants with grand larceny the prosecuting witness, who was complainant in the justice's court, refused to appear as he thought the defendant had been punished sufficiently?" The attorney general refers to section 5238, volume 2 of the Compiled laws of 1888; also to section 5380, page 781, volume 2, Compiled Laws, 1888, where it relates to criminal procedure in the justice's court, which says: "If it appears to the court that the prosecution was malicious or without probable cause it may order the complaining witness to pay the costs of the action," etc. Section 5288, which is applicable to proceeding in the district court, it is provided that "where the complaint is not an eye witness of the crime alleged, and the defendant is not found guilty on the trial, the complainant shall pay the costs unless probable cause shall have been shown to said trial."

The Attorney General further states that the question might be raised upon a motion to tax the costs to the prosecuting witness, if the case has been finally disposed of, provided he has been duly subpoenaed to appear in said case before its dismissal, so that he could be said to have had his day in court."

UNION PACIFIC TRADE MARK.

A Handsome New Artistic Design Has Been Adopted.

Laramie Boomerang: The Union Pacific passenger department at Omaha is adopting a new trade mark. The well known shield is kept as a central figure, but it is shown in a leaning position with "World's Pictorial Line" printed on its edge. On the face of the stripes is the same, "The Overland Route" in a circle, and in the blue above is "Union Pacific." The new feature of the design is an American eagle standing upright with wings spread. Its feet touch the center of the shield.

This new departure of the railroad in securing an attractive and artistic trade mark for all its stationery, advertisements and tickets shows the importance that is now being given to handsome advertising. It is also interesting to note the changes in this road's trade-mark during the last twenty years. First it had just the "Union Pacific Railway." In the early days a miniature elk head was placed on its engraved passes and tickets. The Kansas Pacific used to run as its trade-mark the head of a buffalo, and later, when the Union Pacific secured the road, the buffalo was used on every piece of printed matter, and in outline was tinted on the reverse side of all tickets. The shield used to be used without any legend, but of late years the catchwords of the Union Pacific have been included in the design.

POLITICAL MATTERS

Bryan and McKinley Men Have Donned Their Fighting Clothes.

REPUBLICAN SILVERITES MOVING.

Warren Foster to Open the Populist Campaign in Utah County Tonight—Makes a Denial.

Political fires are being kindled in the woods of Utah and the gathering of campaign fuel has actively commenced. Party leaders have donned their fighting clothes and taken out their weapons the edges of which will be made sharper and the polish of which will be made to look like unto silver and gold. Of all the interested individuals none are more so than the Bryan and anti-Bryan supporters. Many of the former are of course in the Republican ranks, and dissatisfied with the action of their state committee on Saturday are working up a separate movement. The prospects are that unless opposed in some way they will make a comparatively large and vigorous showing. But the lines are now drawn and the policy of the party clearly shown so it is not likely they will be able to force any compromise. The purpose as stated to is to call a mass meeting of silver Republicans and possibly hold a convention. However, this idea may yet be abandoned.

WARREN FOSTER AGAIN DENIES.

Warren Foster, the Populist nominee for Representative in Congress will go to Utah county this evening to commence the canvass in that part of the State for Bryan, Populism and himself. He was seen on the street by a News man this afternoon while on the way to the depot. He stated he had just received a letter from Ogden which he answered immediately. It contained a rumor to the effect that he had again withdrawn from the congressional contest—this time in favor of A. J. Weber, Democrat, of Ogden. The report, he said, was wholly untrue. For once he did not intend to withdraw.

Two Republican Conventions.

The Republican State convention adopted the following on Saturday:

That two State conventions be held as follows to-wit: One to be held on September 15, 1896, for the purpose of nominating three electors, who will, if elected, vote for William McKinley for President, and Garret A. Hobart for Vice President, and also to appoint a Republican State central committee; also one convention to be held on September [illegible], 1896, for the purpose of nominating a Republican candidate for Representative in Congress.

Your committee also recommend that the basis of representation in the two conventions be fixed on the basis of one delegate for every forty votes cast for the present chief justice of the State.

The first convention will be held at Mount Pleasant and the second at Ogden.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

C. W. Stayner has announced himself as a candidate for State senator from Davis county.

Chairman Dooly of the Republican State central committee did not use a proxy at Saturday's meeting.

The Great Campaign: Ex-Judge W. H. King is not a dark man, but he may prove a dark horse. Look out for him.

Coalville Times: Politics are absorbing the attention of the people to such an extent that the people who have been looked to for secessions have given up the idea of attempting suicide.

County Attorney Josephs has forwarded to the News a complete set of blue point maps of the new election precincts of the city. They are most accurate and useful. Campaign committees can have their needs in this direction supplied by Mr. Josephs.

Boston Transcript: "What do you think of this 16 to 1 that everybody is talking about?" asked Belle. "Oh, it wouldn't be any good to me," replied Sadie, with a sigh; "if there were only 2 to 1, the other girl would get him. Somehow I'm always getting left."

Logan Republican—The Republican aspirants for office in Cache county do not appear to be very numerous yet, but the Democratic candidates are as thick as frogs in a puddle, and the county convention promises to throw the famous Kilkenny feline scrap far into the shade.

Provo Enquirer—The Republican party had everything its own way before the St. Louis bolt, in this State, and there is no reason why harmonious action cannot now be secured and Utah continued in Republican ranks. Democracy has been proven and found wanting in all positions.

A well known Republican said today: "A large percentage of the rank and file workers in the Republican party in Salt Lake county are announcing themselves as being opposed to the nomination of non-property holders for important offices. They say they have had enough of transients in official position."

Bingham Bulletin—A H. Parsons, deputy county assessor, will be a candidate before the county convention for the assessorship. His experience in the office should give him prestige to win. As he is chairman of the Republican county committee, it will devolve on his friends to see to his political fences, and they ought to be kept up in good shape.

M. Wolski, a European financier of eminence, speaking before the French monetary commission in 1869, said: "The sum total of the precious metals is reckoned at fifty milliards, one half gold and one half silver. If by a stroke of the pen they suppress one of these metals in the monetary service, they double the demand for the other metal, to the ruin of all debtors."
