HEARING BEGUN IN CHAMBERS CASE

Jury Impaneled to Hear the Evidence—Outline of the Defense.

COUNCILMEN AS WITNESSES.

Will Try to Show that Extra Pay of Councilmen Was Not Fraudulent, Being Granted in Open Council.

Ogden, Feb. 14.—Hearing was resumed yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the second district court before Judge J. A. Howell in the case of J. D. Skeen against City Councilman F. W. Chambers. On the calling of the case for trial Attorney J. N. Kimball asked the court to require the defendant to plead to the charge, which he did, entering a general denial to the charges set forth by Mr. Skeen in his accusation. This answer or plea did not suit Mr. Kimball, who insisted on the defendant entering a plea of guilty or not guilty. The court then impaneled a jury to hear the case, and the hearing was continued until this morning.

Last evening Mr. Chambers had submitted to the jury the following gentlemen, who are at the present time members of the city council or are retired councilmen: F. J. Henderson, T. H. Carr, J. C. Nye, J. E. Williams, Harry Randall, H. J. Powers, W. Rollo Emmett, A. H. Moyes and Max Davidson, also City Treasurer R. A. Moyes. It is understood that the testimony of the defense will be that while the money was alleged to have been illegally appropriated to each of the councilmen, was received by the gentlemen, it was done in open council meeting and by resolution passed by the entire council, and that there was no corrupt or fraudulent intent on the part of the councilmen to take money from the city as is charged in the complaint, and it is on this ground the defense hopes to win the case.

ROBBED HIS DYING FRIEND.

Dastardly Act of E. E. Mackey, Railroad Brakeman.

Ogden, Feb. 14.—Not satisfied with robbing his friend and fellow workman of all his money, and leaving him what he believed to be a dying condition, E. E. Mackey, a railroad brakeman, yesterday worked a smooth game on T. E. Wheaton, his victim, by giving as part payment for the stolen money a gold watch which he did not own. The two men were employed at Portland, Oregon, as railroad brakemen in 1904, and were on friendly terms. Mr. Wheaton was crushed one day in November between two cars, and taken to a Portland hospital. Mackey accompanied him to the hospital, and after learning that the life of his injured friend was despaired of he asked Wheaton to let him take his unwatched time check for $15.70, and he would cash it for him and return the money. The check was handed over to Mackey and was the last seen of him by Wheaton until yesterday in Ogden.

Wheaton did not die, but for months lay in the hospital penniless. Mackey having taken all the money he had, but he gradually recovered, and decided to come to Ogden for employment. On stepping from the train yesterday he met an old friend at the depot. In the course of their conversation Wheaton asked the gentleman if he had heard of Mackey, and to his astonishment was told that he was here in Ogden. Wheaton decided to hunt Mackey up and started on Twenty-fifth street. He soon met an officer and told him the story of his being done out of his money at Portland. Sgt. Toot was detailed on the case and after securing a good description of the culprit, started out on his trail. They met Mackey on Twenty-fifth street. Sgt. Toot approached him calling him by name, but Mackey replied, "You have the best of me," and Toot replied "perhaps so, but you got the best of this fellow," meaning Wheaton. Mackey, realizing that he was facing the man whom he had so heartlessly robbed, said "Why, Wheaton, I thought you were dead." He was taken to the station and there admitted his guilt, but appeared to be repentant and begged for mercy and an opportunity to make the amount he had stolen good. After considerable persuasion, Wheaton consented and Mackey gave him $25.00 in cash and a new gold watch as security for the balance. After a severe scolding he was permitted to go. Last evening Paul Stecher, a local jeweler called at the police station and informed the officers that the watch was not paid for. A search was made for Mackey, but he had taken his effects from the hotel where he was stopping and skipped away. An effort will be made to again apprehend the wretch, but as the officers do not know which way he has gone it is doubtful if he can be found.

GAMBLING JOINT RAIDED.

Elephant House Reopens for Business But Soon Closed Again.

Ogden, Feb. 14.—John Smith, proprietor of the Elephant gambling house opened his doors for business again, last night after the place had been closed for several weeks, but he had only been open a very short time when Chief of Police Browning, Captain Brown and Sergeant Toot made a raid on the place and arrested six men, John F. Smith, Bert Daniels, S. Gaston, W. H. Butler, J. Baker and John Doe. They were taken to the police station where Mr. Smith put up $300 for the appearance of the bunch, in police court this morning at 10 o'clock, bail of each man being fixed at $50.

This is the first time that any of the gambling houses have been opened in Ogden since Chief Browning ordered them closed, nearly a month ago, and the quick work of the officers in placing the gamblers under arrest and closing up the place, will no doubt be a warning to the gambling element of Ogden that the evil must not be started here again. There is plenty of time to get personal experience with Grape-Nuts and write a sensible, truthful letter to be sent in with the list of words, as the contest does not close until April 30th, 1906. So start in as soon as you like to building words, and start writing Grape-Nuts. Cut this statement out and keep the letter Y-I-O-Grape-Nuts before you and when you write your letter you will have some reason to write on the subject, "Why I Owe Grape-Nuts."

Remember 34 persons will win prizes, which will be awarded in an exact and just manner as soon as the list can be counted after April 30th, 1906. Every contestant will be sent a printed list of names and addresses of winners on application, in order to have proof that the prizes are sent as agreed. The company is well known all over the world for absolute fidelity to its agreements and every single one of the 34 winners may depend on receiving the prize won.

Many persons might feel it useless to contest, but when one considers the great number of prizes—(331)—the curiosity of seeing how many words can really be made up evening after evening and the good, natural fun and education in the competition, it seems worth the trial; there is no cost, nothing to lose and a fine opportunity to win one of the many boxes of gold or greenbacks.

We make the prediction that some who win a prize of gold or greenbacks, will also win back health and strength worth more to them than a wagon full of money prizes.

There are no preliminaries, cut out this statement and go to it, and send in the list and letter before April 30th, 1906, to Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich., and let your name and address be plainly written.

CONDEMNATION SUIT.

From a complaint filed in the district court by the Oregon Short Line Railroad company against Samuel Fletcher et al. it appears that the company has not yet secured the complete right of way for its tracks between Roy and Thirtieth street in this city. The suit was filed by the company who alleges that certain tracts of land situated in Cloverdale addition along the line of the proposed cut-off, belongs to the defendants, but that the land is absolutely necessary for railroad purposes, and the company therefore prays for a decree of the court condemning the land and assessing the real value of the same to plaintiff.

The company has a large number of men employed along the proposed cut-off, putting in the ground and laying the track, which, when completed, will shorten the Oregon Short Line road between Ogden and Salt Lake some and will give it a direct line into the Union depot grounds in Ogden, thus saving switching which it now has to do in order to get its passenger trains up to the Union depot building. This is one of the last pieces of land the company has to secure in order to have the complete right-of-way. It will surprise many when the work is completed, and they see the great amount of work the railroad company has done to make the change of its line.

Your Thirty Feet of Bowels

THE ALIMENTARY CANAL. 1. Lower end of esophagus (pharynx); 2. Stomach; 3. Duodenum; 4. Jejunum; 5. Ileum; 6. Cecum; 7. Sigmoid flexure; 8. Rectum; 9. Anal canal. The diagram is continuous with the small intestine. The small intestine supplies the large intestine or colon at the cecum. The arrows indicate the direction which the contents of the bowels must take in passing through the alimentary canal.

YOU have thirty feet of Intestinal Muscles that line the walls of these Intestines or Bowels.

When a piece of Food rubs the walls of the Intestines these Muscles tighten behind it, and thus it starts a Muscle-wave which drives it through the whole length of the Bowels.

It should take about 12 hours to do this properly, so that nutritious parts of the food may have time to be digested and absorbed.

But, if it takes twice or three times that period the food spoils in passing, and becomes as poisonous as if it had decayed before being eaten.

Now, the cause of delay (Constipation)

Is simply Weakness, or Laziness of the Bowel-Muscles.

Want of Exercise, Indoor Employment, weakens these Bowel-Muscles, just as it weakens Arm and Leg Muscles.

Caster Oil, or Glycerine, will grease the passages for one load of Food at a time, but these lubricants can't help the Cause of Delay.

"Physic" like Salts, Calomel, Jalap, Phosphate of Soda, Mineral Waters, simply flush-out the Bowels for the one occasion only.

They do not remove the Cause of Constipation.

Moreover, they waste so much of the precious Digestive Fluids, in the flushing process, that it takes a bigger dose every succeeding time to move the Bowel load.

But it is different with Cascarets.

Cascarets act on the Muscles of the Bowels and Intestines. They act just as Cold Water, or Exercise act on a Lazy man.

They act like exercise.

A Cascaret produces the same sort of Natural result that a Six Mile walk in the country would produce.

Rest the Stomach

Nothing will cure indigestion that doesn't digest the food, itself, and give the stomach a perfect rest.

You can't reasonably expect that any weak stomach will regain its strength and get well when it is compelled to do the full work that a sound stomach should do.

You wouldn't expect a sick horse to get well when it is compelled to do a full day's work every day of the week.

Your stomach must have rest.

But it isn't necessary to starve yourself in order to rest your stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a perfect digestant. It will digest all of the food you eat regardless of the condition of your stomach.
