TYPHOON IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC.

Villages Devastated, Shipping Wrecked, Plantations Ruined.

500 NATIVES ARE KILLED.

Mission Steamer Albert Ma-Loren Goes Ashore On Solomon Islands Near the Mouth of Gulvine.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 26.—The steamer Aorangi from Australasia brings details of the terrible cyclone which swept the South seas about the middle of December, devastating villages, wrecking shipping and causing many deaths. At Cooktown in New Guinea, on December 11, the gale was heavy. Cocoa palms were blown down by hundreds and were carried to sea. Torrents of rain fell. Twelve vessels were wrecked. The cutter Mayflower and Gilman were total wrecks at Daintree. The Kanakas Inhum and Saldan were lost off Cooktown. Inhum and Mr. Kennedy, manager of the New Guinea development company, was drowned, together with his crew, save one boy. The mission steamer Albert Ma-Loren, the Ruby and the lugger Lysander and the cutter Pirating were totally wrecked at Weduk. The cutter Portia was wrecked near Port Glasgow. The schooner Ellen Gowan and the cutter Ivy were lost in the Musgrave, among the Capitale Groups and crew were drowned.

In the Solomons the hurricane did most damage, whole villages being destroyed. Hundreds of cocoa plantations were uprooted and 500 natives were drowned. Over 500 natives are reported to have been killed.

Captain Pentecost of the yacht St. Aubyn, who brought news of the disaster to Sydney, says he saw a woman who was to have been killed at a village, the house being crushed by the cyclone the hurricane. He bought her the purchase price being a pig, and took her to another island, where she was released.

YACHT CAPTURED BY NATIVES.

Armed Expedition Rescues a Boat, the Sole Survivor of the Crew.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 26.—The steamship Aorangi brings news that the steamer Tasker returned to Sydney a report from Mr. Frederick Hamilton, trader at Santa Cruz, that information had reached him through the native channels that a Pedmore boat had been captured by the natives, but that her crew of two white men had escaped into the bush. This was the boat where the cutter Curlew was set on early in the year and her crew murdered.

The Tasker proceeded to Utupua to make inquiries. They landed fully armed at the village on Santa Cruz harbor and found that one burned by H. M. S. Mohawk, in revenge for the murder of the cutter Curlew's crew, had been rebuilt. They rescued the Curlew's boy, the sole survivor of that unfortunate vessel.

LEE'S SUCCESSFUL TRIP.

American Troops are Welcomed Everywhere with Demonstrations of Joy.

Representative of Swift & Co. Refuses to Receive Some Dubious Beef from the Michigan.

New York, Jan. 26.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Havana says:

Gen. Lee returned to camp tonight from a trip to the southeastern part of the province, ending at Guines, which is the most largest town after Havana. The journey to Guines was made with a train of mules along the highway and the return by rail. The battalion of the Fourth Illinois preceded Gen. Lee, and was accompanied there upon his arrival. A battalion of the Second Louisiana reached Guines before his departure. The American troops were welcomed everywhere and the greatest care was made the occasion of demonstrations. Gen. Lee received an enthusiastic welcome at Guines. Important troops received him and the town was decorated with American and Cuban flags. A public reception was given in the council chamber of which Gen. Lee took advantage to explain his functions, which he stated delighted with as military governor of the province. He said he was exercising functions which properly belong to a civil military governor; that the American soldiers came as friends, that there was no disposition to impose the United States government in contrast with the Cubans in the management of the affairs of the island. He said the purpose was to carry out the pledge of establishing order and to assist in the administration, and to aid the Cuban people were ready to devote for themselves over their affairs. He expressed himself in all cases he had met and conversed the island, and he was the good order which had been created. The Cubans were pleased with what they were being contributed to the cause of the Puerto Rico. He said they Cubans was fully understood, and that the American authorities based by what they considered a Puerto Rico effect. He hoped eventually to see the establishment of constitutional liberty. Eventually a Cuban government of Cuban and not to the peop as that they could not be left against crop.

Regarding the Spanish war, Gen. Lee said it was the policy of the American authorities to have the force to select as far as possible their own officials by getting together and indicating whom they desired. Then he would make appointments in conformity with their wishes. He also advised them to change their municipal regulations to meet the new conditions. Gen. Lee's speech was received in enthusiastic applause. Various addresses were presented to him. The mayor of Guines, in a formal address, made known his satisfaction with the bravery soldiers for preserving order. Gen. Lee will make trips to other parts of the province. He received many private addresses that as soon as arrangements are made for their payment, the insurgent troops will disband without trouble.

The fourth regiment of the Illinois has been quite ill-housed and will be mustered out. Gen. Lee practically decided to make a full Eighth Corps in present camp near Havana to the fifth of Capitale, which is Guines. The location is unusually healthy.

Collector Hunt has written a letter to Gen. Brooke, referring to the fact that Cuba definitely his preference among the Cubans recommended for places in the custom house. The understanding was that Mr. Brooke would endorse applications and to give a guarantee of appointments satisfactory to the Cubans.

Several hundred such memorials have already been made and Brooke has so far refused to make the recommendations between individuals. Col. Bliss says he is now a very direct responsibility.

The Havana newspapers are all agitating the question of the payment of the insurgent troops. They want a definite plan adopted. As an expression of the wishes of the Cuban troops, the junta publishes a manifesto which urges the promotion.

The Transport Mexican arrived last night with fifty tons of refrigerator beef for the army. Unloading of a lighter was begun in a heavy rain and one-fourth of the beef was rejected. The representative of Swift & Co. refused to accept it for delivery to the army and the beef was therefore taken back on the government.

Current Financial Investments of a large scale are now taking place the form of real estate transfers. The statement is made that H. M. Flagler has purchased property for the erection of a large hotel.

Ship Ashore on the Oregon Coast.

Astoria, Ore., Jan. 26.—A vessel resembling the Chilean Bark Antofagasta is ashore off Cape Disappointment, about 20 miles south of here. There is no wind and it is supposed she is drifting helpless. This is not the vessel. Tugs are being held and the crew is about to abandon the vessel.

BALFOUR IN HOT WATER.

His Scheme for a Roman Catholic University in Ireland Raises a Storm.

The Statesman and Golf-Player Writes an Open Letter to the Nonconformist Public.

New York, Jan. 26.—Commenting A. J. Balfour's proposal to establish a Catholic university at Dublin and a Protestant one at Belfast, Henry Normal telegraphs to the Times:

As statesman of Mr. Balfour's position has ever refused to identify himself with any one particular party, he has always received a hearing and a cordial reception by Radicals and Church Presbyterians is so uncertain. A large number of non-conformists are certain to oppose the scheme bitterly, their argument being that while they are willing to pay taxes to Rome they will not cheerfully support the establishment of Roman Catholicism in Ireland.

Mr. Balfour especially meets this objection in his letter. He says: "I think I can not exaggerate the importance that is the religious aspect of the university question which chiefly disturbs my friends in Manchester and Birmingham where, they fear that any attempt.

Further development of higher education for Roman Catholics, which, I ever confess it is intention, may in its remote sequence the power of the Vatican, and the Roman Catholic Church of Presentation in Ireland, and they authority object to the public money, which are to be devoted to the Roman Catholic University, to be employed in furtherance of a scheme whose consequences they distrust and dislike. This was the feeling of the Nonconformists, and to this only that I answer to address myself in the present letter."

Mr. Balfour proceeds to discuss the nonconformist objection mentioned above and declares that as a scheme, which is intended to benefit Ireland and the balance of religious parties unaffected, is likely to be palatable which is not the case with the proposal which Presbyterians refused to all others, and which "The plan which seems best to meet the wishes of Roman Catholics is done so without revolutionizing Trinity College, or violating any accepted principles of Protestant ascendancy. A single act two new teaching universities, one in Dublin and one in Belfast, on precisely similar terms and differing in no particular excepting in the name of the professors first appointed to serve on their respective governing bodies.

"As the university in Belfast would absorb the existing Queen's College, the governing board of the new institution should be so constituted as to continue undisturbed its work. As the Dublin university is designed to attract the Roman Catholics who now hold aloof from the existing Protestant University, the governing body as nearly constituted should no doubt be in the main of their creation. Any Protestant Bishop who would be rightly subject to the test acts. All scholarships and fellowships would be open to Roman Catholics, would be open to competition, irrespective of creed. No public endowment would be given to chairs in philosophy, theology or modern history. The professors could have the right of appeal against their dismissal and the number of clergy on the governing body would be strictly limited.

"A university so constituted would, I believe, meet the needs of Roman Catholics, but it would not be a Roman Catholic University. The phrase has a well understood meaning and the institution properly answering to it are to be found in Belgium, in Holland and elsewhere. Yet, as I said my dissent about sports and if any one thinks it is a matter of importance to Roman Catholics, I will not quarrel with him, contented only that the Roman Catholics, which, as there are nearly three Roman Catholics to one Protestant in Ireland, it is not to be feared by the Protestants. That the scheme thus sketched out should be acceptable to Roman Catholics is a matter of doubt, but I think it ought to reasonable religious appeal to them. The concessions to the Catholic priesthood are very great, and they are such as Protestants have already protested, whatever of well the priestly influence carries in its train, it seem surely be outweighed by the benefits of a university and a more thorough culture."

AGUINALDO MAY DECLARE WAR.

Filipino Congress Authorizes Him to Attack the Americans.

WOMEN WANT TO FIGHT.

American Sentry Kills a Filipino Officer at Tonto—Excitement in Intramos.

Manila, Jan. 25, via Hongkong, Jan. 26.—The Impartial, the official organ of the Filipino government, says that the congress at Malolos has adopted the Philippine constitution, passed a vote of confidence in Aguinaldo and empowered him to declare war on the Americans whenever he may deem it advisable.

At a mass meeting of women at Cavite, yesterday, the paper adds, it was enthusiastically resolved to petition Aguinaldo for permission to take men's places in defense of independence and to bear arms if necessary.

Fourteen have asked for, and, it appears, has been granted the privilege of "taking a prominent place in the line of battle against the Americans." A sentry shot and killed yesterday an alleged captain of Filipino artillery, at the Tonto outpost. As a result the native press is strongly excited and demands that he be "severely punished." It is a "severely punishable" offense.

On Saturday evening (Jan. 21) five Filipinos determined to have revenge for their captain's death, and attempted to shoot some Americans. An American sentry called one of them, who was armed with a revolver. After an exchange of words the Filipino opened fire and killed a corporal. The shot intensified the excitement here.

The cabinet yesterday insisted on the liberation of the Spanish civil prisoners, in commemoration of the proclamation of the Philippine independence, and also demanded money to the native army. A decree to that effect was signed. The Spanish clergy, however, remain prisoners.

As elaborate program has been arranged for the formal ratification of the constitution today.

Nothing was accomplished at the advance guard yesterday, and it is rumored that the Filipinos at their next meeting will give the Americans until noon to decide whether to accede to their demands for recognition. The rumor is discredited.

SATISFACTORY REPORT FROM GEN. OTIS.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Gen. Otis cables from Manila as follows:

"Manila, Jan. 26.—The transport Zealandia left today for San Francisco with its officers and enlisted men."

The soldiers on the Zealandia are said at the war department to be convalescents. The dispatch, the last received from Gen. Otis, was regarded as satisfactory, inasmuch as no mention of change in the conditions at Manila, as he would be sure to do had there been any important outbreak.

BUOYANT REPORTS

Concerning the Volume of Business and Strength of the Iron Markets.

New York, Jan. 26.—The Iron Age, in its six-day trade review today, says:

At perfect crane is developing for combinations based largely on the ingenuities of bankers to promote such undertakings. They seem to be outbidding each other and competing for the opportunities to put fairly valuable in our northwest property. Active work is going on in the railroad pipe industry. In the not year branch there has been a movement for some time, but it has been commenced in the last week. Some of the concerns are spending millions. A good deal of work has been done under the leadership of the officers of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie, the bridge house of the country. The car builders have had their meetings and it is said they have been in conference over a plan to consolidate.

The most interesting developments during the week, however, have been in connection with the tin plate industry. The same parties who organized through the consolidation in this industry are reported to have perfected over a million of the leading makers in the central west of tin plate bars, five great plants being named, situated at Youngstown, Newcastle, Columbus and Wheeling. It is reported that arrangements have been made with one great works in Pittsburg and another in the Wheeling district to secure exclusive control of this branch of raw material. In other words outside mills are to find it difficult to obtain the tin plate bars.

A very important step in the same direction is the completion of the arrangements with countries and the tin plate which tends to a capacity of its plate machinery to control their capacity for a considerable period. The effect evidently is to make cash, or outside capital into the business.

From all quarters come buoyant reports concerning the volume of business and the strength of the markets. In pig iron the demand is active and what iron is offered is readily snapped up without much quarreling as to prices. There have been some large sales and for export to Germany during the second half of the year, the aggregate being considerably above 50,000 tons.

The billet market has been animated, mature buyers have purchased considerable quantities in the Ohio and west. In the steel rail trade Tuesday reports the sale of one block of 35,000 tons while a month ago 10,000 tons was deemed by other mills. A considerable tonnage of rails for foreign countries is being considered but little has been actually placed.

Pipe have been very active in bars and in any material of all kinds, among the transactions reported is a lot of plate tons for steel rails to cover the material for some large contracts recently taken.

Foreign inquiries for all kinds of material are very numerous, and in some cases are pressing, thus showing that the advance has not frightened buyers off.

SPANISH PRISONERS.

Again Urged, Through the French Embassy, the Release of the Friars.

New York, Jan. 26.—A dispatch to the Herald from Washington says:

Through the French embassy here Spain has again urged the United States to release the friars and Spanish prisoners held by the Philippine insurgents.

Information officially received by the Madrid government from the Philippines shows that the lives of Spanish women and children are safe, but that they are in danger and that the prisoners are not receiving proper treatment. Spain therefore has decided to continue to that position of the treaty requiring this government to use its good offices to secure the release of the prisoners and urged the United States to do everything possible to do so.

Secretary Hay replied that General Otis had been instructed to give immediate attention to the matter, but that information received by the government in regard to the release of the prisoners, it is the growing belief that they will be able to secure the release of the prisoners only by force.

Information has also been received here, showing that the friars held as prisoners, are compelled to the Filipinos to undergo all sorts of mental hardships, including the forced loans of Filipino officers, parading the streets of towns, and so forth.

Rumors in Railroad Circles.

New York, Jan. 26.—The Tribune says:

Reports are current that large interests—some of the runners say the Vanderbilts—are acquiring the control of the Lake Erie & Western road, the stock especially mentioned as thus being transferred being the holdings of Mr. Thomas F. Rowland, of Boston, and also Mr. Frederick W. Whitridge, chairman of the board, says: "Mr. Rowland does not own Lake Erie & Western stock, and as far as known, she does not intend to sell it. I don't know of any large blocks of the stock having changed hands or about to be transferred. If any such deal as is reported were under way I should probably know about it."

Two of the other directors of the Lake Erie & Western said that they knew nothing of any movement for transferring control of the road although they admitted that the stock might indicate that an attempt by certain interests was being made to purchase the control of the road.

Only one meeting of the directors has been held since the death of President Cox, and that was a regular. The subject of the sale of the road was not discussed or even mentioned.

It was said by prominent men that the Big Four, the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, had bought or was planning to buy the Lake Erie & Western. This story could not be verified and could others previously reported that the Pennsylvania, the Vanderbilts and Pennsylvania with the alleged effort to secure control of the Lake Erie & Western. It was also understood for several days that the Big Four is now fully under control of the Vanderbilts.

Alger Denies Base Insinuations.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Secretary Alger today appeared before the war investigating committee and denied emphatically that he was, directly or indirectly, had been interested in any way in the sale of Spanish Canned Beef to the government during the Spanish war. All witnesses had been investigated and all witnesses were asked as to their connection with the matter and they were only those immediately from self-denial creating a great army.

SCHOOL TEACHER STABBED.

Thirteen-Year-Old Pupil Fatally Stabbed His Master who was Whipping Him.

Albany, Ore., Jan. 26.—T. B. Hunter, a teacher in the Adams school, 12 miles north of here, has been fatally stabbed by a 13-year-old pupil named Chas. Ayers, who he was whipping. The boy is in jail here.

According to the statement of the pupils, Hunter was punishing Ayers by holding a stick between his jaws, beating it hard and allowing it to snap against him. The switch almost drove the blood from his face.

Suddenly the boy whipped out a jackknife and made a thrust at the teacher's throat. The blade struck just below the left ear and was drawn half around the neck, inflicting a frightful gash.

The children all fled from the school after the stabbing and Hunter was left some time without assistance.

COUNTY WILL SUE TO COLLECT FINES

Imposed on J. E. Dooly and Wells-Fargo Under Spraying Law.

PAPERS PREPARED TODAY.

Defendants Have Refused to Pay the Fines—An Alleged Forger to be Brought Back from Virginia.

A civil suit is about to be commenced in Salt Lake county in the Third district court, against John E. Dooly and the Wells, Fargo company, to compel the defendants to pay for the disinfecting of certain orchards owned by the defendants. These suits will be instituted under section 1177 of the Utah Revised Statutes of 1898. This section, in substance, provides that if any orchards, nurseries, trees, etc., are infested with any pests, diseases, or fungous growths, injurious to fruits, trees, etc., and of such a nature as to be a public danger, the orchards so infested are declared to be a public nuisance. Unless the owner, proceeds to destroy the same, after being notified so to do by the county fruit tree inspector, the office of the county fruit tree inspector, thereof becomes a county charge. The statute further provides that the county shall have a lien upon the property where the nuisance exists. The suits referred to are actions in equity to foreclose the lien thus given.

The action against Mr. Dooly is to recover a fine of $50 and one against Wells, Fargo is for $8.67.

As this is the first case under the new law the outcome of it will be watched with interest.

DISPUTE OVER MINING STOCK.

Matthew T. Gisbora Wants $6,000 Paid as Dividends by Geyser-Marion Company.

Matthew T. Gisbora filed a suit against S. R. Milner and Glenn H. Bothwell in the Third district court today to recover $6,000 alleged to be due plaintiff as dividends on 6,000 shares of stock in the Geyser-Marion Gold Mining company.

It is alleged in the complaint that in February, 1898, a contract was entered into between the plaintiff and defendants by which 6,000 shares of the Geyser-Marion stock, of the par value of $1 apiece, was issued to the defendant Bothwell in trust for plaintiff.

Shortly after the contract was made, it is alleged, plaintiff demanded the return of the shares but defendant refused to deliver them, and retained possession of them until August 1, 1898.

While Bothwell held the stock, it is alleged, the Geyser-Marion paid four dividends, as follows: Three cents per share on July 25, one cent per share on May 20th, another three cents June 20th, and another of two cents July 21st, making a total of $6,000, which amount plaintiff says rightfully belonged to him.

It is then set out that both the defendants took the entire sum and appropriated the same for their own private use, and refused to pay it over.

A. V. Taylor and Williams, Van Cott & Sutherland are plaintiff's attorneys.

WANTED FOR FORGERY.

Sheriff Howells Will Bring Back J. H. Rowan From Richmond, Va.

Sheriff Howells will have tonight or in the morning for Richmond, Virginia, the person who is wanted here by the city J. H. Rowan, alias Carry, alias Douglas, alias Gear and alias a good many other names. Rowan is charged with a draft for $25 on the National Bank of the Republic in September, 1897. The warrant was signed by Detective Wells today and Sheriff Howells is ready to start on the errand of bringing back the prisoner.

Rowan came to Salt Lake in the summer of 1897, representing that he was here for the purpose of establishing a branch office of the National Cash Register company. He opened up an office in the Dooly block and succeeded in raising off a forged draft for $25 on the National Bank of the Republic before he skipped out.

The Pinkerton detectives have been on his trail ever since and only recently located him in Richmond. He was convicted of that place for a similar crime and sentenced to one year's imprisonment. Recently he was pardoned, but the authorities in Richmond were requested to hold him until the arrival of Sheriff Howells.
