FRAGMENTS.

JUDGE ANDERSON is shortly expected back from his trip to the East.

THE September session of the Third District Court will be an interesting one.

NICK TREWEEK has gone to La Plata, the new mining camp near Paradise.

THE regular meeting of the Eighth Quorum of Seventies will be held in the Social Hall this (Friday) evening at 7:30 o'clock.

OSSA THURNELL, the twelve-year-old boy who was accused of improper conduct towards a little girl, was innocent, as has since been shown.

H. S. EVANS' store at the corner of First South and Fifth West streets was burglarized on Wednesday night. The criminals got $1 in cash from the till.

THE articles of incorporation of the Coalter-Snelgrove company were filed with Secretary Sells yesterday, and the certificate was issued.

AN employe of the R. G. W. freight office, named Robert Bright, was held up in that vicinity shortly before midnight last night and robbed of $17.

AN honest, intelligent boy 14 to 16 years of age can find permanent employment by making application in the business department of the DESERET NEWS Office.

THE Third District Court will soon be in full swing again, when Chief Justice Zane and Associate Justice Anderson will be kept busy—the one with the criminal calendar and the other with the law and motion business.

THE funeral cortege of the late J. W. Neff presented an imposing appearance as it passed up Main Street yesterday afternoon, on the way to the cemetery. The services were attended by a large concourse of people, and a long line of carriages followed the remains to the grave.

OTTO GREENMAN, a boy aged about twelve years, employed in the Eagle Cracker Factory, in the Fifth Ward, had his left hand mangled in the machinery of the factory yesterday morning. It was at first thought that three fingers would have to be amputated, but the doctor now thinks he can save them.

Camping Teams.

Sanitary Inspector Stowell desires the NEWS to give notice that the camping of teams in the street around the Temple block cannot be tolerated. Hereafter they will be warned away by two policemen, and teamsters who persist in violating the ordinance will be arrested and punished. The Temple block is a locality visited by great numbers of tourists, and the inspector desires to keep the streets clean around it. He does not want to be harsh towards citizens or country people, but he has a duty to perform, and is responsible for the manner in in which it is performed.

The present sanitary inspector is an officer who takes pains and pride in the proper conduct of his department, and his administration gives general satisfaction to all classes of citizens.

The Results.

Commissioner Greenman has given judgment in three civil suits tried in his court yesterday, one of which, heard during the morning, was reported in Thursday's NEWS.

In that of Reynolds & Co., painters and glaziers of this city, vs. D. E. Cliff, being a claim for work done in a new house erected by the defendant, the commissioner gave judgment in favor of the plaintiffs for $[illegible] and costs.

The second case was that of W. E. Wyer, a local architect, vs. E. E. Rows, for professional services rendered. Principal, interest and costs amounted to $[illegible], which the defendant was ordered to pay.

In the suit of Morris, Merrill & Co., plaintiffs, vs. De Bolse & Williams, contractors, being a claim for the value of sixty-two barrels of cement supplied to the defendants, the Commissioner gave judgment for $[illegible] and costs.

To Equalize the Taxes.

The City Council holds its first session as a board of equalization this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. The sessions will continue nightly during the month. Overburdened taxpayers are invited to seek relief. Whether it will be granted or not is another question.

It is stated, and is doubtless true, that a number of wealthy corporations will resist the tax in the courts if the board of equalization should refuse to make reductions. A large number of tax-payers, large and small, are incensed over their assessments, and the spirit of resistance is abroad among them.

IMPORTANT SUIT.

Action Planted Against Hon. John W. Young.

Yesterday afternoon A. Holt & Sons and H. O. Young filed a complaint against John W. Young in a suit for $41,765. The plaintiffs were the contractors who built the grade and furnished the ties for the extension of the Utah Central beyond Park City. It is stated that a number of employes of the road have begun or are about to begin suit for their wages which are long in arrears.

It is no secret that the financial affairs of the Utah Central have been in a cramped condition for a long time, but the friends of Mr. Young, who is practically sole owner of the road, have hoped that he would pull through all right. He is now in London trying to raise means, but this year has been a hard one for floating railroad securities.

The contractors and employes ought to have their pay, and are entitled to sympathy for having been so long deprived of it. But there will be widespread regret at the financial disappointments which have subjected this home built railroad to litigation of this character. Mr. Young is a man of infinite resources and the probabilities are that he will meet all his obligations in course of time.

"NOTHING IN IT."

So Says Attorney Condon Concerning the Charge against F. S. Stebbins.

It was between 11 and 12 o'clock last night when Commissioner Norrell was asked to issue a warrant for the arrest of F. S. Stebbins, formerly a saloon keeper of this city, on a charge of embezzling the sum of $[illegible] belonging to the Deep Creek Stage Company, in whose employ he was until quite recently as their Dugway agent. The defendant was waited upon at his residence, on east Second South street, about 2:30 this morning by Deputy Marshal Cannon and brought to the Marshal's office. Commissioner Norrell required Stebbins to give a bond of $[illegible] to appear before him for examination at 2 p. m. tomorrow, but up to midday he still remained in custody.

It is alleged that the defendant misappropriated the money as fares received, but Mr. Condon, his attorney, asserts "that there is nothing in it," and says he shall be able to show on the hearing of the case that it is nothing more than a dispute as to business transactions between the parties.
