FRAGMENTS.

The City Council is booked for an adjourned session tonight.

There will be a session of the County court on Monday morning next.

The grand jury again met this morning and examined a number of witnesses in a case before them.

PETER C. RASMUSSEN, a native of Denmark, and now a resident of Draper, was admitted to citizenship by Judge Zane this morning.

The Central Democratic society celebrated the birthday of Jefferson with songs and speechmaking at the Social hall, last night.

SERVICES this evening at the Jewish Temple B'nai Israel, Fourth East, between Second and Third South, begins at 8 o'clock. Sermon by Rabbi Jacobson: "The Fire of God."

JOHN WILSON and FRANK SMITH are registered as the police station on the charges of maintaining an opium joint and resorting in the den for smoking opium, respectively.

MR. D. H. PENROSE, representing Miss Annie Eva Fay, the well known lecturer on "Spiritualism and Theosophy," is in the city, completing the arrangements for Miss Fay's appearance at the Theater on Sunday evening next.

To Beekeepers.

The annual meeting of the Salt Lake County Beekeepers' association, for the election of officers, will be held in the Brick and Stone Masons' Hall, over the Western Union telegraph office, East Temple street, at 2 p. m., Saturday, April 15th. All beekeepers are invited.

E. S. LOVESY, President.
W. E. HOPE, Secretary Salt Lake County Beekeepers Association.

Wonderland.

Several new artists appear this week on the bijou stage at this place of amusement. The Davenport sisters are very clever artists, and are entertaining and worthy the applause bestowed upon them. Miss Julia Walcott renders some of the latest popular ballads in an artistic manner.

The stock company in the theatorium, in the play "Kerry," are giving a first-class performance, Mr. Williams sustaining the character of Kerry in excellent shape.

Wednesday, April 19th, will be observed by a new, novel and handsome souvenir.

Darkies in Trouble.

Between twelve and one o'clock this morning Deputy Marshal Joe Rush paid an unexpected and not altogether welcome visit to a house in Victoria alley and there arrested George Wall and Emma Hatfield, colored folk, on a charge of adultery, the complaint having been sworn to by the woman's husband. Wall is about twenty-five years of age and the woman some three or four years younger.

They were taken before Commissioner Greenman at 11 o'clock today and plead not guilty. Their hearing was then set for 3 o'clock this afternoon, the man's bonds being fixed at $1000 and his companion's at $500. They remained in custody.

SALT LAKE AND PACIFIC.

The Name Adopted for the Railway to Deep Creek.

Committees Actively at Work in Pushing the Scheme to a Successful Issue.

The Deep Creek railroad committee held a meeting last evening, and discussed matters pertaining to the proposed railway. It was agreed that the capital stock of the company to be formed would be $1,000,000, in shares of $25 each. The name of the organization is to be the Salt Lake and Pacific Railway company. The articles of incorporation state "That the proposed railroad shall commence at Salt Lake City and extend westward through the county of Salt Lake, south of Great Salt Lake, thence through Tooele and Skull valleys and the Great American Desert to a point on the western boundary of Utah near Deep Creek, between the first and second standard parallel south, covering about 100 miles."

Messrs. Bacon, Rowe and Wallace, the committee to deputize of the railroads in regard to trackage arrangements, reported that they had seen President Nephi W. Clayton of the Salt Lake & Los Angeles who said that while he was not prepared to make any definite proposition, that his company would be willing to either make a trackage arrangement or to hear a proposition for consideration. They also submitted the following telegram from S. H. H. Clark:

Your wire to Dickinson, who is sick in Chicago. The Union Pacific will make a fair and reasonable trackage arrangement over the Utah & Nevada line, details to be agreed upon when the organization and management of Deep Creek road is prepared to consider them.

(Signed.) S. H. H. CLARK.

Mr. Bacon said that he had seen Mr. Eccles, who assured him that his company could supply a large amount of light rails and engines at very reasonable prices.

Judge Goodwin said that he had seen Mr. Bancroft, who told him that his company could supply 500 miles of thirty-two pound rails, which they could sell very cheap, and they could furnish engines that cost $8000 for $2000. These locomotives were the light for the Union Pacific service.

Chairman Donnellan stated that he had talked with the officials of both roads and he was satisfied that they were anxious to make an arrangement with the Salt Lake City road. He, however, believed that no arrangement could be made at the present time, as it would jeopardize the subscriptions.

A discussion followed as to the most acceptable method of raising funds, and the suggestions of the committee were referred back for amendment in conformity with a proposition by J. H. Bacon.

H. M. Wells, W. H. Rowe and E. F. Colburn were appointed a committee to arrange for a public demonstration and mass meeting, and an adjournment was taken until this morning.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE TABERNACLE tonight will be given over to the Brigham Young Choral society of Provo, which, 300 in number, will render the following program. Henry E. Giles is the director, George Careless, conductor of the orchestra, J. J. Daynes, organist, and Dr. Phillips, accompanist:

PART FIRST.

1. Overture, "Golden Gate," Chas. Bach ..... Careless Orchestra
2. Song and Chorus, "From the Crescent," The Bard and Wife, Hatton ..... Miss Amy Paterson (Provo), Soprano ..... Orchestra and Great Organ
3. The Old Brigade ..... Mr. John Kearsley
4. Holy Mother, "Maryana," Balfe ..... Misses May Paterson and Emma Jones
5. The Sailor's Glory ..... Duet and Four Quartette
6. Infatuation, Salvor Mixed Ballad ..... Miss Lillian Roberts and Choral Society
7. Speech, "Music" ..... Dr. Karl G. Maeser

PART SECOND.

1. Grand chorus, "Gypsy Life," Schumann ..... (Tenor Solo), Orchestra and Great Organ
2. Violin solo, "Souvenir de Salon Paganini" ..... Prof. W. C. Clive
3. Aria, "Sapphires," Lucia, Donizetti ..... Miss Lillian Roberts
4. Male chorus, "The Vesper Chime," Smart ..... Provo Fourth Ward Male Club
5. Overture, "Gay Hussars," Herbert ..... Careless Orchestra
6. Baritone solo, "My Sweetest and I," Pin ..... Mr. W. H. Roberts
7. Land of the Pyramids and Sphinx ..... Miss Laura Webb, Choral Society, Orchestra and Great Organ

THE SHUBERT people have folded their tents like the Arab and so silently stole away. Last night's play was witnessed by a yawning array of empty benches, and the program was in no way deserving of serious mention. The company put in five nights in Logan.

PROF. YOUNGS has the theater for tonight for one of his artistic exhibitions. A heavy crowd is a foregone conclusion.

EFFIE ELLSLER and Coulduck's season in Salt Lake begins Thursday next. Daly will open the engagement and form the matinee bill Saturday. Daisy Kirke will be given Friday and A Woman's Power Saturday evening.

THE CHIEF OF SOCIETY sale opens tomorrow morning.

THE GRAND CONCERT tomorrow night will be the final entertainment in the Tabernacle, and the program has been made doubly interesting for the occasion, the Temple music being rendered at the closed the national song program by the entire Tabernacle choir, accompanied by the organ, a piano and a string quartette under Prof. Weihe. It will moreover be a charming sight, the ladies of the choir all appearing in white and the little folks donning their brightest dresses. It will be a fitting close to the series of concerts given during the Conference season.

The "Railroad Evangelist".

Miss Jennie Smith, well known throughout the east as a "railroad evangelist," and who is accompanied by Miss Adelaide Sherman, will arrive in Salt Lake this evening, and on Sunday afternoon and evening and on Monday evening next will speak in the First Methodist church. Miss Smith is said to be a very eloquent and forcible speaker and in most of the principal eastern cities and towns she has attracted crowded audiences. There will be no charge for admission to the meetings, but a collection will be made to defray expenses.

The ladies during their visit to this city will be the guests of Mrs. Griffith, corner of F and Third streets.

OGDEN.

Base Ball Lagging.—Arrested for Settlement.—Sudden Death.—The Stolen Saddle.

Yesterday morning Marshal Metcalf received a dispatch from Chief of Police Crowley, of San Francisco, requesting him to arrest, upon his arrival here, Peter C. Olsen, who is wanted in San Francisco for the seduction of a woman in that city under promise of marriage. Late in the afternoon Sergeant Sheets took a freight and went out as far as the Hot Springs, where he boarded the incoming train as it passed last night. It did not take him long to pick out Olsen from the excellent description given by Crowley, and upon the arrival here of the train the man was placed under arrest and escorted to the station by Sheets and Metcalf. The prisoner is a middle age man and a Swede, as his name would indicate. He was accompanied by his little five-year-old son with whom he would not part, and consequently the little fellow remained in the city jail all night. Olsen was also in charge of the remains of James Russell, who died in San Francisco last week, which were being shipped to Middletown, New York, for burial. The body went right on, notwithstanding the enforced delay of its care taker. On his person was found a considerable amount of money and a large number of letters, some of which threw some light on the alleged offense for which he was arrested. It is very probable that the San Francisco officer will reach Ogden tomorrow, and, pending his arrival, Olsen will be a guest at the city jail.

Deputy Marshal Gill arrived last night with Frank E. Bateman, who was arrested on Wednesday at Terrace on a charge of petty larceny, he having, it is alleged, borrowed a saddle from Carey's livery stable and forgotten to return it within the specified time. Mrs. Bateman remained at Terrace, as the young man assured her that everything would be fixed up today and he would return this evening. He is not so sure of the fact now, as the authorities have notified him that in order to save more regrets his liberty he must furnish the $50 bond required in the former case. Bateman seems to be had no intention of stealing the saddle and says he had already packed it ready for expressing back to Ogden.

Mrs. Glascott, of California, sister of the lady who claims to be the widow of George Lewis, died very suddenly at the city hospital last evening of heart trouble. The lady came to Ogden with her sister several weeks ago and has taken an active part in the contest over the estate of the dead gambler, representing her sister at each session of the court. The excitement caused by the somewhat sensational developments of the case has had a tendency to bring on the heart trouble, but the use of stimulants hastened the end, the dead woman's system being unable to stand the strain.

The insurance adjusters on the McManis fire loss will commence work this week. It is still impossible to venture the amount of the loss on account of the character of the goods stored in the basement. Magnire and Chief Binford were prostrated yesterday on account of the smoke inhaled at the fire and Dr. Jepson, who is attending the chief, fears an attack of pneumonia.

All is not serene in baseball circles in Ogden, and the whys and wherefores are explained by William Trafficy, manager of the Ogden team, in an interview last evening. Mr. Trafficy stated that unless something were done today in a business like manner to insure him sufficient support to at least pay his expenses, he would leave tonight for the coast.

There will be a meeting at the city hall on Saturday evening next, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of taking the preliminary steps toward the organization of a board of trade.

Charles Winterbalium, the colored man who became mentally deranged at the depot on Monday, and was placed in the county jail, resumed his journey to Portland yesterday.
