REGULAR DELEGATE ELECTION

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1882.

PEOPLE'S TICKET.

For Delegate to Congress,

JOHN T. CAINE.

ANOTHER "MATERIALISTIC" FRAUD EXPOSED.

In spite of the numerous exposures of pretended spiritual "materializations," the frauds who practice on human credulity continue to find dupes and make money. In both hemispheres the tricks of these impostors that prey upon the sacred feelings and tender memories of sensitive people who have lost dear relatives and friends, have been thoroughly shown up in their proper light, yet the deception still goes on.

The Peterborough (England) Express gives an account of a scene which occurred on Monday, September 11th, at a house in that city where some ladies and gentlemen had been invited to witness a display of spiritualism through the medium of a Miss Wood, of Newcastle.

After an hour and a half of general conversation, Miss Wood related some poetry which she said had been composed by "Poche," a little Indian girl about thirteen years of age, who was presented as the "controlling influence." At her request, the lamp was turned down, and the company obliged her with singing several pieces. These pieces were several times repeated, all eyes meanwhile being especially directed to the curtains for the appearance of the promised "unearthly manifestations." Presently the patience of those assembled was rewarded by the sight of a small form in white, which emerged from behind the curtains, made a slight "quaking" noise, and approached a lady in the company, shook hands with her, and then retired. Knocks came for more singing, and a second time the "little stranger" presented herself, and the supposed Indian girl "Poche" began to speak. Little "Poche" was presented with some sweets by the gentleman of the house, and good-naturedly proffered a portion to one lady in the room, to whom she also made known her desire for her to kneel down for a kiss, which was accordingly given the lady. After various manifestations a Mr. Cade made a spring for the "tiny one," and clasped tightly hold of her. In the confusion which ensued the lamp went out, but Mr. Cade retained a firm hold of the "spirit," who struggled desperately to get free. On a light being obtained, Mr. Cade was found holding the "little medium," who had released herself of her bandages, divested herself of her upper garment—a black dress—and by the aid of a quantity of white muslin, on the top of which white undergarments, and with stooping considerably, had presented herself as the little Indian girl, "Poche." The scene broke up abruptly.

THE RATIFICATION AT FARMINGTON.

On Monday at noon Hon. John T. Caine and party went on the Utah Central train to Farmington, Davis County, where they were pleasantly entertained by Arthur Stayer, Esq., at his residence. At 2 p. m. the largest hall in town was entirely filled by people from the various settlements. A martial band was in attendance playing lively airs, and a piece of ordnance boomed forth a welcome that made the grand old mountains reverberate and respond.

The attention of the assembly was called by Arthur Stayer, Esq., for proposed Louis M. Grant, Esq., for chairman and Jas. T. Smith, Esq., for secretary. Both motions were carried. The chairman thanked the people for the honor conferred upon him, stated the object of the meeting and called on Mr. Stayer, who read the Declaration of Principles of the People's Party, which was received with great applause. The first speaker was

F. S. RICHARDS, Esq.,

Who said there are times when the people ought to assemble and talk over matters of importance pertaining to their social and political welfare. Such a time in the history of the people of Utah has now arrived. A time when a so-called party, composed of only one to five per cent of the population are seeking to wrest from the majority the right of self-government. Commencing with a very few individuals, they had been permitted to misrepresent the people to their heart's content, and had been only met with silent contempt. Emboldened by this they had at length reached the presumption to attempt to overturn the power of the great majority and deprive the people of any participation in the management of their own affairs, and it was time to meet their charges and assert our rights. He showed that the minority party furnish 80 per cent of the criminals, while numbering only 10 per cent of the population, and yet are continually accusing the people of lawlessness. He illustrated their position by reference to an acquaintance who had told repeatedly and untruthfully stories until he came to think they were true himself. Some of the party, however, knew that the stories they told of "Mormon" immorality, etc., were incorrect. He proceeded to review the "Liberal" party's platform, touched on the polygamy question, and the injustice of arranging a whole people for the alleged wrongdoings of a few. Spoke of the Edmunds bill, its objects and purposes, and also of the Hoar amendment, and pointed out how, immediately on the passage of the latter a swarm of hungry office-seekers hasten to the "Liberal" platform to obtain the Executive Commission to govern this Territory. This is the very thing he must work for if elected, or he will be a traitor to his own party. He then read the "Liberal" platform to prove this. We are where two roads fork at the foot of an eminence. One leads downward to political death; the other upward to political life and progress. One leads back to despotism and serfdom. Van Zile is the standard-bearer of those who travel upon the scale of enlightened republicanism and free government, John T. Caine is the standard-bearer of those who go that way. He concluded by advising all present to vote for the People's candidate.

Great applause and one gun.

HON. G. W. PENROSE.

Expressed his pleasure at meeting with so many friends to discuss the issues now before us. There were two platforms and two men presented to the public, and in the scale of enlightened republicanism and free government, John T. Caine is the standard-bearer of those who go that way. He concluded by advising all present to vote for the People's candidate.

Great applause and one gun.

Mr. Roberts, of Centerville, being loudly called for, responded in a brief, but pithy and eloquent speech on behalf of the young men, which was vigorously applauded.

On motion of Mr. Stayer, the Declaration of Principles and the nomination of the Convention were unanimously endorsed, and the meeting adjourned. The party, with the exception of Mr. Richards, then returned by train to the city.

The meeting was an enthusiastic gathering of about five hundred people, including some prominent local members of the opposition, and was exceedingly satisfactory.

To-night, Messrs. Caine, Dusenberry, Richards, Sharp and Thurman will be at Brigham City, and to-morrow at Logan, where they will keep up the interest and continue to let daylight into the dark sayings and doings of the party of discord and defamation. Success to them.

then stand by the right and show their strength at the ballot box, standing instead of their fathers who had been disfranchised. Hereafter to the "Liberal" meeting at Provo and the slender attendance there, and said if we have a 15-year-old school-boy who cannot answer what was uttered there we had better "take him out of school, there is no hope for that boy." He showed the difference of principles and action between the People's Party and the "Liberal" in the campaign, and told the audience that there was a Yankee peddler with a "setting horse," and warned the people against "setters." He thought now was the time for the people of Utah to take hold and have something to do with politics of a high and exalted character, and read the counsel of a wise lawyer of New York on that subject. The speaker disapproved the charge of disloyalty against the People's Party and declared that they are the most loyal people in the United States. He showed the difference between the speech of Governor Murray at Provo in exclaiming "God bless the ladies of Utah," and the action of that official in his effort to disfranchise them. He concluded with a forcible endorsement of the People's Party and candidate.

Mr. Roberts, of Centerville, being loudly called for, responded in a brief, but pithy and eloquent speech on behalf of the young men, which was vigorously applauded.

have a State government for Utah during the coming session of Congress, and Utah will become one of the most united and prosperous States in the Union; no Indian and no church domination, but a free, happy, prosperous and independent State for the American citizen. If you fail to do this instead of the Commissioners being called home, their number will be increased. They will legislate for you in every particular, and instead of emerging from a territorial condition into a State, you will be governed exclusively by a commission, etc., etc. So concluded the "Grand Liberal Rally" in Brigham City. It was a sublime fiasco.

Editor Deseret News:

I take this means of informing the public of the arrival of Hon. John W. Young and family, they immediately sent me, and in company with Dr. S. B. Young, we called and examined the family, who had been afflicted with smallpox in San Francisco. We find that every precaution has been taken by Mr. Young and his family, and that they are in good circumstances. They observed all the precautions that are known to the physicians in charge of the hospital at San Francisco, and in taking the disease to others, and for the feelings of their friends and the public generally, in taking all possible measures to prevent transmission of the disease to others. At the same time Mr. Young desires me to state on behalf of his family, that if their friends will be sufficiently considerate for their feelings to remain away from the city for a few days, and secure the measures already adopted. Personally he has not had the affliction, and has been extremely cautious, and we consider him as attending to his business with the slightest cause for apprehension on the part of his friends.
