DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES

Held in the Various Election Precincts Last Night.

LIST OF THE DELEGATES ELECT.

The Public Schools to be Kept Away from the Influence of Political Strife.

The following important resolution was adopted last night at all the Democratic primaries held in this city for the election of delegates to the county convention to be held on the 6th inst.

Whereas the executive committee of the county Democratic committee have adopted the following resolution, viz.: Whereas it is the opinion of the executive committee of the Democratic party of Salt Lake county, that the best interests of our public schools are conserved by conducting the school system for the above and away from the influence of politics strife. Resolved That we, the executive committee of the Democratic party of Salt Lake county, recommend to the Democrats of Salt Lake county that they unite with all good citizens in the formation of a citizens' ticket in which the best men shall be nominated for the office of school trustees, regardless of their political affiliation.

And whereas, said resolution recommends itself to the good judgment of this convention.

Therefore, Be it resolved that said resolution be endorsed by the Democrats present at this meeting, and that we cordially invite all good citizens to join with us in the promotion and elevation of the school system of Salt Lake county, by electing candidates in accordance with the above resolution.

THE PRODUCE MARKET.

Wheat Continues Firm Though Importation Has Decreased.

OVERSTOCKED WITH OATS.

No Sale for Old Potatoes.—Home Grown Vegetables Arriving In Abundance.

The weather during most of the past week has been cool and has had a bad effect on trade. Our merchants are complaining of poor sales and slow collections. It really seems that summer has not yet commenced, as builders and manufacturers are holding off for better times, which we hope are in the near future. We are sure, when the weather brightens up, there will be a better feeling in business. While on the other hand, the backward summer and rains have helped the late sown grain in particular, it has helped the growth of the grasses; it has allowed the fruits to grow and acquire their other qualities before ripening, and has given hops in many other ways.

OFFERINGS.

Wheat—Continues firm for milling stock. The import trade has dropped off and we cannot look for any advance in prices on the old stock, which has pretty well all left first hands.

Corn—Prices on this article are about the same as last week, with the demand light. The prospects remain good in the Eastern States, with the exception of a few localities, where floods have devastated the country.

Oats—The market is oversupplied with this article at present, and we are now prepared to fill all orders promptly at lowest figures possible. Prices will decline materially as the new crop approaches harvest, but that is some distance ahead, and for a time prices may advance some over our present quotations.

Hay—The supply of this article is equal to the demand, as there is some new hay coming into the market. Prices will be low this summer, as there is an abundant crop. Old bright timothy hay is meeting with good sales for livery stables and driving stock.

Poultry—Spring chickens are arriving from the country; those of fine size are meeting with quick sales at $3.50 to $4.00 per dozen. It is useless to send small chickens about the size of a quail, as there is no demand for such birds. They should weigh not less than one pound and a half.

Vegetables—Home grown vegetables are arriving by teams in abundance from the farms adjacent to Salt Lake city, and meeting with fair demand. The potato crop will be good, but from two to four weeks later than last year.

Old potatoes are entirely out of the market with very little demand for the same. Our principal supply is now coming from California.—Salt Lake Price Current.

Woman's Paradise.

It is not America at all, as we have been let to suppose, but in the middle of the island of Sumatra, if we are to believe the tale told by a returned traveler, an American, Mr. W. J. Snow. The women sew all the wealth in this the paradise, owing chiefly to the working of a native law which requires men to bestow all their wealth on their parents, while women may hand their down to the children. Consequently it is the effort of the well contented husband in the interior of Sumatra to put every cent of his accumulations in his wife's name, so that his own children may get his money after his death.

In this thrice blessed region a man may get a divorce from his wife if he chooses; but as all her property is allowed to remain in her possession after she is set free, while the husband is turned out without a penny, he usually does not choose, and divorces are rare. Moreover, a husband may not live in the same house with his wife, so that the female members of a household are saved all the bother of having "a man around in the way." The husband calls on his wife in the evening, dressed in his best suit of clothes, as a lover does in civilized countries. Consequently quarrels between husband and wife are practically unknown in this heathen country.

There are gold and silver mines in the country, and the native noblemen have the art of working the precious metals into cloth and ornaments. It is no uncommon thing to see girls walking about clad in cloth of gold dresses. Perhaps as a result of having such a good time and having things their own way the women of this favored country are very beautiful, having "good figures, exceedingly fine complexions and bright eyes." They display gorgeous wardrobes also. Here is a good land for the unhappy women of civilized countries to migrate to.

Enthusiasts move the world, and it is better to be a man of one idea and that a good one than to be a man of no ideas at all.

A SIAMESE STATE

Occupied by French Troops, According to a Dispatch to a London Paper.

A PRELUDE TO THE ANNEXATION OF SIAM.

The Ultimate Object Thought to be to Assist Russia in Her Designs Upon Asia.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.

FRANCE AND RUSSIA.

The Republic Occupies an Infantile Province, With an Object in View.

LONDON, July 1.—A dispatch to the Standard from Bankok, Siam, says the French troops have occupied the province of Lang Pchang, east of Mahong River, which is a vassal state of Siam. The Standard supposes the occupation of Lang Pchang is a prelude to an eventual attempt by France to annex Siam, with the subjects, possibly, of assisting the Russian designs in Eastern Asia.

In the Camp of the Striking Miners.

FRANKLIN, Wash., July 1.—Yesterday there was quietness in the camp of the strikers. The funeral of the men killed in Sunday's riot occupied nearly the entire day. Every white man in the camp marched in procession from here to Black Diamond, where the interment took place, a guard of military being furnished to protect them while passing through the negro camp. The patrol also put in date to protect the houses of the white strikers, which yesterday, as he begins had threatened to seize the opportunity of clearing them out. Reports from New Castle, Black Diamond and Gilman, here the strikers are said to be more resolute, before long. A Special train is being kept in readiness at Franklin to move troops to New Castle, thirty miles away, on a moment's notice. A small force of men is at work at Gilman, under guard. The military guard will be put up until the miners give up the fighting.

Anxiety of Ex-Lessee's Family.

PARIS, July 1.—M. De Lesseps' family is extremely anxious as to the outcome of the attack of insanity, which was from which the veteran engineer suffering, as a result of the criminal proceedings instituted against him.

Self-Asphyxiated.

WOOD HAVEN, L. I., July 1.—Mrs. Emma Brown, wife of Daniel F. Brown, secretary of Fort Benton, Montana, board of trade, escaped yesterday from the Sanitarium here, where she has been under treatment for some time for emotional insanity, and ended her life by jumping into the reservoir of the Wood Haven waterworks.

Reports of Battle.

GALVESTON (via Galveston), July 1.—There are rumors of fighting between the forces of Hunace and Cuquinabo on land and sea.

Fighting the Flames.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., July 1.—The fire which started on Mount Tamalpais, Monday, is greatly increased and had not been checked, willexpand to Ross Valley. Calls for volunteers to help to fight the flames are answered from San Francisco and here. Three men engaged in fighting the flames are missing and no trace of them can be found.

Against Chinese Labor.

BLAINE, Wash., July.—The promoters of the new salmon cannery here, which is being established opposite Lummi Drayton harbor propose to employ Chinese labor. The citizens have received if any attempt is made to employ Chinese they will assemble in force and drive them out of the country. Trouble is feared when the Chinese are brought in.

An Under Current of Anger.

FRANKLIN, Wis., July 1.—All is quiet today. The Militia still remains. There is an under current of sullen anger, which may result in serious trouble later.

France Gets Even With England.

LONDON, July 1.—France has decided to sign the renewal of the Suez canal convention to prevent illegal traffic in alcohol among the Siamese. The combined with France's attitude to wind the Brussels convention is regarded as a retort to England's attitude toward the Dreibund and is likely to impede the settlement of the Newfoundland question.

Russia Drives out Foreigners.

BERLIN, July 1.—An Odessa correspondent of the News says the governors of Kieff, Podolia and Volhynia have issued a decree announcing that all foreigners of those provinces would either become naturalized citizens or leave the country. The decree is aimed at the populous German colonies adjacent to the Austrian frontier.

A Copyright Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The President today issued a proclamation providing for the granting of copyrights to the United States to citizens or subjects of Belgium, France, Great Britain and Switzerland.

A Freeze in the Wall Street Market.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Judge Barnard sitting in the Supreme court, granted an injunction restraining the payment of dividend on the stock of the Sugar Refining Co. When this announcement was made in Wall street, it created a panic in the market. Sugar stock values took a big slump, as 80, dropped to 41 and then sold up again to 52.

Indian Agents Appointed.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The President today made the following appointments: John H. Robinson, New Mexico, agent for the Indians of Pueblo and Jicarilla agency in New Mexico; John W. Crawford, Oregon, agent for the Indians of the Umatilla Agency in Oregon.

Advice to Democrats.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Senator Brice, chairman of the National Democratic committee, has written a letter of warning and advice to the fellow members of the National committee. The letter embodies advice in regard to the reorganization of Democratic clubs and the necessity of the National committee co-operating with them. The senator begins with the statement that the Presidential campaign is now at hand, that the Republicans are rapidly preparing for it and that the Democrats cannot be too circumspect to win. The plan of campaign of the Republicans, he says, is a national system of clubs to be maintained and supported by unlimited means drawn from the pockets of the beneficiaries of the monopoly policy. This system, he argues, can only be met by an equally extensive system of voluntary Democratic clubs, that is, by the association of the people in their several neighborhoods for the defense of their rights and interests against those banded together to avail them.

Brice thinks the approaching struggle is to be mainly between the clubs, and it is greatly to be desired that a uniform and perfect system of Democratic societies, thoroughly organized and in intimate association with each other, shall be established before the beginning of next year.

He says he has examined a plan of organization now in process of successful accomplishment of the national association of Democratic clubs, and he feels it to be the duty of every member of the National executive committee to give the club association his most hearty support, and he urges each member of the National committee to co-operate with the association to the fullest extent. The work undertaken by the Executive committee of clubs is absolutely necessary to be done, in Brice's opinion, and in his letter he states that the opportunity now presented of having it accomplished at an efficient government at a minimum cost, and that it is distributed over so many localities as not to be a burden to any one committee.

Brice concludes his letter as follows: "The important feature of the plan is the selection of the correspondents in the several States. This now requires the urgent attention in your State. I would therefore ask you to confer with the chairman of your State committee as soon as may be convenient and arrange this particular part of the plan; also that you will do all in your power to facilitate the organization in other ways that you may think best."

Immigration Statistics.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The immigration into the United States from 1820 to 1890 is a subject of a special report, which is prepared by the chief of the bureau of statistics of the treasury department and will soon be published.

The arrivals of immigrants from 1820 to 1890 have reached 15,487,000. The proportion of arrivals from Europe has increased from 8 to 95 per cent.

Germany and Ireland are the countries sending the greatest number of emigrants. The only leading countries from which arrivals have fallen off during the past ten years are France and China. The year of the largest immigration yet reported is that ended June 30, 1882, when the arrivals were 788,992. The total immigration from July 1 was 15,401 for the fiscal year 1891, and has steadily increased until 1890, when it reached 52,000, and the present year ending June 30, 1891, when the total for the months now ended reach 51,155, as against 51,069 for the corresponding months of 1890. Of the arrivals during the ten years from 1881 to 1890, 51.1 per cent. were males. The greatest proportion of females come from Ireland and the greatest number, 67 per cent., of females from Italy and Hungary. The classification of the character of the immigration during the past decade shows that only 28,217 males were of professional classes, 154,552 skilled laborers and 1,835,524 of miscellaneous occupations; 13,527 made no statement in regard to occupation, and 759,840 were without occupation. Of 2,045,702 females, 1,724,454 were without occupation.

A Cure for Cramps in the Stomach.

Albert Erwin, editor of the Leonard, Texas, Gazette, writes of the cure of cramps in the stomach Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the best and most speedy I ever used." Many others claim to have tried it entertain the same opinion. 25 c
