CANADA ELECTIONS.

The Dominion Government Suffers a Disastrous Defeat.

A GREAT LIBERAL VICTORY.

The Catholic Vote Upon Which the Cabinet Relied, a Disappointment.

TORONTO, June 22.—While the returns of the Dominion elections are not all in, they are sufficiently near completed to show a decided defeat for the government. The Catholic vote, upon which the ministry relied, has utterly failed to go conservative. Quebec, which in the last election gave the liberals a majority of only five votes, and which, on the strength of the remedial legislation, to which the government is pledged, was expected to go strongly conservative, has wheeled around and gives the liberals from twenty to twenty-five majority. In Toronto the fight was a straight one as regards the separate school question and the cause carried all four ridings by large majorities. Great interest was taken in the fight in Winnipeg City between Joseph Martin (liberal) leader of the bill abolishing separate schools in Manitoba, and Hugh McDonald, son of Canada's former premier, the late A. McDonald. McDonald won, the personal popularity carrying him through.

The conservative crowds that they have not their Waterloo.

THE TOTAL VOTE.

The following is the total vote of Friday's election:

Provinces.	Conserv.	Libs.	Indepen.
Ontario	21	41	—
Quebec	31	21	—
Nova Scotia	8	4	—
New Brunswick	5	2	—
Prince Edward Island	2	2	—
Manitoba	3	1	—
British Columbia	5	1	—
Northwest Territory	1	—	—
Yukon District	—	1	—
Totals	71	73	—

There is still one constituency (Algoma) to hear from.

HICK BUT QUEER.

A Wall Street Broker Thought to be Insane.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—A Chinaman, a Wall street broker, who is reputed to be worth, between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, was sent to the receiving hospital last evening to await an examination by the commissioners of insanity. Cunnet's office is at 45 Broadway, New York, and his home is on Staten island.

About two months ago he came to this city for rest and to recover his health. About six weeks ago his partner in New York, Louis De Mattos, who owns a large candy factory on Mission street, caused Cunnet to be taken to the home for the care of inebriates. Two nights ago Cunnet left the place and has been wandering the city in a demented condition. Last night he was taken to the hospital by E. M. Hatch, a friend, who says that Louis De Mattos will charge the millionaire with being insane.

WILD OVER ALTGELD.

He is Nominated Governor by a Rising Vote.

PUEBLO, Col., June 23.—It was agreed that the convention proceed to nominate candidates. The motion prevailed and Judge W. H. Primmer of Chicago arose and placed John P. Altgeld in nomination. As he ended and said he placed in nomination John P. Altgeld, the delegates and everyone else in the house arose, and for five minutes there was an uproar. There was a motion made that he be nominated by a rising vote, and every delegate arose. The audience went wild with delight. When the enthusiastic uproar subsided the chairman declared the governor to be the nominee.

The committee on resolutions reported. The six first declares for free coinage in the first plank. The money plank contained nearly 100 words, and declares the best finance of Wall street, the all gold standard, heretofore, it was loudly applauded. The last plank carried for a third free coinage and denounced the McKinley law. The indorsement of the government by injunction and by force in Coal Creek was pronounced as unconstitutional.

The national delegates to Chicago were instructed to support only such delegates as would be in property with the platform. The delegates-at-large were also instructed to vote as a unit.

The nomination for lieutenant governor was then in order. Horace C. Crawford was named, and a motion to nominate him by acclamation prevailed.

F. E. Downing of Uintah county was nominated for secretary of state.

W. F. Rock of Richland county was nominated for auditor by acclamation.

Edward C. Fox was nominated for state treasurer by acclamation.

For attorney general, George A. Tedde of Uintah was nominated.

John Holmes Smith and E. B. Morgan were nominated by acclamation for university trustees by a viva voce vote. William Ulrich defeated Lowry Nelson for the third place. The convention then adjourned.

MRS. CARLESS TRAINING.

Sixteen Awarded Sixteen Thousand Dollars by the Jury.

NEW YORK, June 23.—David Belasco brought suit against a judgment for $10,000 against N. S. Fairbank, the manufacturer of Chicago, for transfer of Louis Carless's share of the profits of Belasco's play, "The Girl I Left Behind Me." The suit was tried before Judge Ehrlich, and a motion by Mr. Fairbank for a new trial was denied. The court also allowed the jury extra compensation under the law. The case has been in court for four weeks. Mr. Fairbank claimed he owed Belasco no more and set up a counter claim for $50,000.

MONTANA PROGRESS.

BUTTE, June 22.—It is now settled that the Butte and Montana band will accompany the Montana delegation to Chicago and that the trip will be made in Billing style. It is estimated that $2,000 will defray all expenses of the band and a special train for the entire trip, and there is hundreds of the men being raised, no less than an hour tonight $1,400 was subscribed in Butte alone and it is reported as certain that Anaconda and Helena will make up the required amount with a little assistance from the delegates from other towns. It is expected that forty-five Montana men will go to Chicago to work for silver, and will be a strong delegation, along they will go, and quite a jamboree figure.

Arrangements are now in progress looking to a special excursion to the Montanans who make the trip to Chicago on every day that the attendance is so large as to authorize the train will consist of eight sleepers and a dining car. The train will leave Butte and all of the delegates from the west side will assemble here to take it.

T. J. Langella of the Wisconsin Central, who was one of the delegates from Lewis and Clark county, is now making arrangements to have the sleeping cars sidetracked in some good corner of the Great Central depot in Chicago so that they can be used by the Montana men as their headquarters. The Lewis Hotel is to have its entire lobby and reading rooms in the Butte hotel. Butte will be July 3rd, and reach Chicago early in the morning in the Sun.—Anaconda Standard.

TOBIN OPENS HIS SAFE.

DENVER, June 23.—The Tobin opera house and the Tabor block were sold at auction today under foreclosure by the Minnesota Mutual Aid and Life Insurance company of Minneapolis to satisfy a bond and wheels, with interest and costs, amounts to $40,000. The company sold to the property for the amount of the claim. The sale is not final, as Mrs. Laura D. Smith, who holds a second trust against the property for $71,000, has obtained an order from court prohibiting her to foreclose. The court has reason she will probably be obliged to lay the property and assume the first trust. Ex-Senator Tabor will save six months to redeem the property.

MACKO IN HAVANA.

Had His Picture Taken in the Midst of his Enemy.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The World, this morning says: William Hynes, collector of internal revenue of the eastern district of Virginia, who has just returned from Cuba and was released from quarantine yesterday, said that in Havana he met a personal interview with Gen. Antonio Maceo, the commander-in-chief of the insurgent forces, who is in Pinar del Rio province. According to Mr. Hynes, Gen. Maceo was in the very heart of Havana City last Monday, and he or think that had his actions been known he would have had his head off. Mr. Hynes said he might show it to the President and to Gen. Lee.

MR. STEVENSON'S JOURNEY.

CAPE MAY, N. J., June 23.—Vice-President Stevenson, accompanied by Mrs. Stevenson, Miss Louise Stevenson and Mr. Lewis Stevenson, arrived at the Stockton hotel this morning. Mr. Stevenson will leave his family at the seashore and attend the Chicago convention, returning for a protracted stay.

Sunday School Convention.

FORTON, Mass., June 23.—The eighth International and Fifteenth national Sunday school convention was opened in the Tremont temple this afternoon with a praise service led by Dwight Moody.

At the Tremont temple meeting, after the reports of the various committees had been presented, President Samuel D. Capen of Boston addressed the convention. The afternoon sessions were hours under the head of "Work Reported." William Reynolds of Peoria, Ill., on "The Intermediate Field;" Rev. F. M. Hamilton of Jacksonville, Fla., on "Work in the Southern Field;" Hugh Cole of Marion, Ohio, "Work in the South;" and Rev. L. B. Maxwell of Savannah on "Work Among the Colored People."

TIDAL WAVE IN JAPAN.

CHICAGO, June 23.—Considerable excitement was created on the street of Manhattan early in the afternoon by an announcement of a tidal wave at Bonesse Day week. The event was seven feet higher than ordinary and rushed up Big river with great force, but no damage was done. The great wall of water is attributed to a Japanese earthquake.

STONE AND BLAND.

Is the Former Not Sincere in His Support of the Latter?

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 24.—The Star (this morning) says:

The fact that so the Illinois state Democratic convention there was talk of instructing delegates to the national convention to vote for Governor Stone of Missouri for President has revived the story two months ago that Governor Stone was not sincere in his support of Bland. Many of Governor Stone's friends have been talking of Bland for president as though Bland were already out of the race for the Presidential nomination, but they say that Stone is planning to capture the nomination for himself and is using Bland and the Missouri delegation in his own interest. Marty R. Brown, who is considered Governor Stone's lieutenant in political matters, was asked if Stone was seeking the Presidential nomination.

"I think," he said, "that Stone is sincere in his support of Bland. If he not wanted the Missouri delegation for himself he could have had it. He could have got anything at Sedalia that he would ask for. The Missouri delegation is instructed for Bland by a convention that Stone offered."

"Will Stone speak for him at the Chicago convention?"

"The arrangement, I understand, is that Vest will nominate Bland, and Stone is to be a member of the committee on platform."

"Stone is already writing a platform for the Chicago convention, is he not?"

"I don't know."

Brown would not say whether it was the intention that Stone should drop Bland and work for Stone, if it should develop at Chicago that Bland would not be nominated, but he assumed that he was loyal to silver would be allowed to have a place on the national ticket. The candidate must be a pronounced silver advocate, who has been for free silver a long time. Vest is a comparatively recent convert to silver, and Brown's declaration seems to confirm the story that Stone, if he does not see a chance to capture the nomination for President, will press for an original advocate of silver to accept Vest for the Democratic nominee.

CATHOLIC INFLUENCE.

Archbishop Ireland's Correspondence with Carter on the Platform.

ST. LOUIS, June 24.—It was stated last night that it was through the influence of Archbishop Ireland that a plank proposed by the American Protective association was incorporated in the platform of the recent Republican national convention in the city.

The word was given out that C. E. H. Scott, president of the National Council of Patriotic associations of the United States, was at work to get a plank into the platform favoring the A. P. A. On the 9th of May Carter sent a copy of what he wanted to Ireland to see the position to it. Ireland, chairman of the committee on resolutions, wrote the following letter, which he showed to Carter, and which was published by Mr. Carter with the consent of the Republican national committee, from Archbishop Ireland:

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 11.

"T. H. C.: Thomas H. Carter, Washington, D. C.:

"Dear Sir—The reason for the proposed plank opposing the use of public money or sectarian purposes and aims of church and state is unnecessarily and unwise. It is directly at the A. P. A. Its mention will be taken as a concession to them and awaken religious animosity in the country and so much more. Yet the Catholics early should not ever feel to be guilty directly or indirectly the A. P. A. I hope the course of anything like it, will not be expected.

"JOHN IRELAND."

Gen. Carter, in an interview, said that he gave a copy of the letter to the platform committee in the Fifth Avenue hotel. He said he had no wishes by the letter that the paragraph dealing against the appropriation of money from the U. S. treasury for sectarian purposes would be incorporated and that the committee had taken it upon itself. Gen. Carter said he was surprised to hear that it was in the committee that the plank would be inserted, and that it had been inserted he was not prepared to say. He said that there would be nothing in the platform in that regard.

All this is the explanation by the association of St. Paul. The dispatch was sent to Cardinal Gibbons and Edward Lodenbrenner of New York, one of the big Catholics that every one knows. No name Cardinal Gibbons is of the city west which the education was interested in knocking out all evidence in the church.

THE OF CLOUD.

Secretary Carter of Montana and Senator Carter Are Nearly Cousins.

CHICAGO, June 24.—The Tribune says: Senator Thomas H. Carter of Montana arrived in the city yesterday and left in the evening for Washington. He will have conferences with Senator Lee Mantle, who is expected to come to Washington to-morrow. Senator Carter said he came to Chicago to see a case dealt with the prospects of seeing an interview out of Senator Teller, and there at the approaching Democratic convention
