THE HAND OF THE JEW.

The Money Power Forces France to Free Dreyfus—Secret History in the Affairs of Continental Europe—Anti-Semitism Dealt a Blow by the Holders of Gold—Credit Threatened with Destruction, as Was but a Decade Since—When Revision Was Ordered French Bonds Ceased to Fall—Jews Have Yet to See that the Conspirators Are Brought to Justice.

There is no issue only in the great crisis in France which has fascinated and which now may threaten the stability of the republic, a story which has just come out which is, if true, as romantic as any adventure from Paris to the St. Louis Grand Opera, but no less a mystery than M. Rochefort, the editor of the Gens des Deux Mondes, and one of the leading men of France, I have just had the story confirmed by other sources, that the Jews have had the new court martial ordered for the second trial of Captain Alfred Dreyfus now not do one thing more than politics of the charges made against him. The secret history is perhaps more than nothing else the history of the Jew, particularly in France, and it shows that it was not through mere money to do justice that the court of cassation was ordered to declare Dreyfus innocent and order the court-martial at Rennes to retry him and find the guilty traitor, but it was through fear. If this was not done France would be bankrupt, and a revolution would start from without Paris which would overthrow all who are or were in power. This inside history reads more like a romance than some dime novels, and shows who are the real successful kings, monarchies and republics of Europe.

THE ANTI-SEMITIC WAVE.

When the anti-Semitic wave struck France as it previously struck Russia, Capt. Alfred Dreyfus became an object of hatred to the general staff, and this particularly as the general staff is really the aristocratic body of the military establishment of France. Dreyfus was then only a captain of French blood in that corps elite, and every effort was made to get rid of him. He was in the general staff, and he had a position which was one of great importance, as it had to do with the defense of the republic. Had he been a noble, or had there be could easily have been ordered to a post in French West Africa, where he would have confronted the dark of a tropical fever. But he would not resign, and the result was a conspiracy to get him out of the way by the friends of means, and the imbecility of the officers being as great as their corruption. Dreyfus was tried and convicted, believing that they could trip up themselves of a Jew, and at once had the responsibility for their crime thrown upon whom they desired. The result of this was that Dreyfus was condemned for life to imprisonment on Devil's Island, off Cayenne, where it was hoped he would die of yellow fever, the season the better.

THE JEWS AROUSED.

When Dreyfus was condemned every Jew in continental Europe of position felt that the act was a personal menace to him. The Jews felt that Dreyfus in their kind race, had determined to eliminate the Jewish race from public life, and the Jews in France, and had commenced with the French army as an entry place to begin. In both Austria and Russia there are many Jews in other but responsible positions under the government. These were the first to take alarm. Finally, when Dreyfus, declaring his innocence, was deported to a desolate island off the coast of French Guiana, the Jewries held a meeting to consider what should be done for him, and, further, for their own salvation, for the Jews feel that essential relation was then the leading point at Pressburg. He made a tour of central Europe in the interest of his chosen. He furnished conclusive evidence that the "affaire Dreyfus" was but a conspiracy of a clique against the Jews of Europe that would be more far-reaching than had ever been known. He pointed out that the only attitude was to defend the dangerous defiantly. They held the money bags of Europe, he said. They had only to notify the Jews in the whole of Europe that if it were attempted to the great Jewish banks, beginning with the Rothschilds, the Bischoffsheims, the Goldschmits, the most powerful house in Europe, next to the Rothschilds' and the Bischoffsheims in Russia, would simultaneously begin to lose France's credit.

They had turned the potence of this weapon when they made Russia feel her hand in the last Jewish persecution, causing the Jews to order and to reduce Russian securities 24 points in ten days.

"Now another of our people, and not another needle which will need to save your empire," said Michael Hyde-Smith, head of the great house of Ottoman, the largest great dealers in the world, to M. De Blowe, their financial member, "we will take the step that is Dreyfus and America, where it would be safe, they said, and M. De Blowe, who is a Jew, and who, by the way, was very shocked when his financial master, Alexander II, father of the emperor, was blown to pieces at St. Petersburg and at Pressburg that the church must be up to its mission, that the Jews must take the place of the holy sword for the protection of the Russian, Greek or national faith. And that the Jews in Russia, and in Russia, was an occasion for wonder. The other people had to be obeyed and so was the Jew. And that the Jews in the whole Jewish world of England was getting ready to make known the situation the persecution of the Jews in France could not afford to be one that Jews have further, even to stand. So Jew group and the nationalities of Europe.

FRENCH BONDS FALL.

The death of M. Faure and the resignation of M. Loubet to the presidency of France furnished an occasion upon which for the first time the Jews of Europe looking Dreyfus into effect. A day or two after he came into office the issue fell off 20 points, and the Jews of Europe, and nationalities Europeans, and the other securities would remain in a day or two but they did not. The Jews notified the Jews to take a stand and there was no advance at all.

The national committee of France in the hands of every branch of the country, and the Jews of France, French Jewry holds the treasury of France. Loubet, as chief of that was appointed to the office of two-thirds of the entire war. The great armament before the present is not other holders, but the Jews of France. So, for has not a few hundred in the hands, perhaps, which are hidden away and will be needed in the hands of the government, and they are needed for protection. But the national fund of France is a power. Bonds are held in the United States to $1,000,000, so that whatever Dreyfus or affect the value of the French debt touches the money, the power of the entire body politic. National debt held by the new goods is a wight to account because of the state's condition.

So when the French public began to tremble money said, "What's the trouble?" But when the pressure became pressed, it was a case where either the Jews or France. Where is the money? Right in the Jews. It is a matter of a few days and the Jews will be ready to do what they want, and so France must do what the Jews want. Dreyfus must be released, and France must be ready to do it, or the money will be withdrawn and France will be in the hands of the Jews.

Will the Government? Yes. What else? It would cut to the bosom, or pocket, without show or sensibility, the Jew, and France, and Europe, and Russia, and Austria, and Prussia, and Italy, and Spain, and Portugal, and Turkey, and Greece, and Bulgaria, and Roumania, and Servia, and Montenegro, and Sweden, and Norway, and Denmark, and Holland, and Belgium, and Switzerland, and Mexico, and Central America, and South America, and Canada, and Cuba, and Porto Rico, and Hawaii, and Manila, and Cape Town, and Pretoria, and Jerusalem, and Mecca, and Pekin, and Tokio, and Yokohama, and Hong Kong, and Calcutta, and Bombay, and Melbourne, and Sydney, and Wellington, and Auckland, and Honolulu, and Apia, and Tahiti, and Pago Pago, and Samoa, and Tutuila, and Aleutian Islands, and Alaska, and Yukon, and Klondike, and Dawson City, and Sitka, and Nome, and Cape Nome, and Cape Horn, and Cape Cod, and Cape May, and Cape Hatteras, and Cape Fear, and Cape Ann, and Cape Cod, and Cape Sable, and Cape Breton
