THE RUSSIAN NAVY.

A Battle Fleet is to be Created for the Defense of the Czar's Interests.

THE "NAVARINO" IS THE FIRST OF THE FLEET.

A Naval Port Looked for which is not Liable to be Blocked By Ice.

By Telegraph to the News.

THE CZAR AT WORK.

He Intends Creating a First Class Navy.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—The Novosti says that the launching of the new Russian iron-clad, "Navarino," which occurred Tuesday last, is the beginning of a scheme to reorganize the Russian navy. It says: A great Battle fleet, able to defend Russian interests on the high seas and carry its flag in foreign waters, will be created; also a fleet to protect the Baltic coast line, together with a number of armed cruisers. The government will acquire possession of the entire naval shipbuilding industry of the country and establish another naval port besides Cronstadt, one not liable to be blocked by ice or blockaded by an enemy.

A Strike of Printers.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—A meeting of printers employed in Breslau and Leipsic was held today in those cities, and preparations were made for the general strike of German printers, which seems to be determined upon for tomorrow. At the Breslau and Leipsic meetings the printers resolved to give their support to the resolution arrived at by the printers of this city yesterday. This resolution was adopted by 4000 Berlin printers, who decided to see their union to order a general strike, in case of the refusal of their employers to accept from them a working day of nine hours, and an advance of 25 per cent in wages. It is generally admitted that a wholesale strike of printers throughout Germany will be the inevitable result.

The printers of Frankfort, Hamburg, Konigsberg, Magdeburg and Nuremberg have decided to join in the general strike of printers.

Against the Jews.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—The peasants have attacked the Jewish tenantants of Slatodesh and the Jews living in the vicinity of the town, burning and pillaging the shops and dwellings of the Jews and severely ill-treating the occupants and their families.

The British Commissioners' Report.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—There is published today an elaborate report by sir Henry Wood and James Dredge, the British commissioners who recently returned here after visiting the site of the World's Fair at Chicago. The report recommends the erection of a handsome building on the site provided for Great Britain, and concludes the country of President Harrison and Secretary Foster, and all the Exposition officials whom the British commissioners met. The commissioners, it appears, were much impressed with the manner in which the important work at Chicago is undertaken, and they are sure of the success of the ultimate success of the Fair.

A Town Inundated.

MALAGA, Oct. 23.—Floods have completely inundated the town of Alhaurin, in the province of Granada, the water being six feet deep in the streets. A number of buildings have collapsed.

Emigrant Business.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The Western Traffic Association has reviewed the matter of commissions on emigrant business to California points to the Transcontinental Association for consideration at the New York meeting next week. In the event of failure to arrive at any agreement, the Southern Pacific is authorized to participate, through the New Orleans gateway in the commission on emigrant business from New York to California terminals on a basis of $15. The sum now being paid by certain lines in New York. The participation on the part of the Southern Pacific west of New Orleans shall not exceed $5.

Brown's Wharf Still Burning.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The fire in Mark Brown's wharf, Tooley street, which broke out on Monday morning, October 5th, has not yet been extinguished. The fire, it was announced on the afternoon of October 10th, had been subdued. In fact, however, it was not extinguished, this making about the nineteenth day it has been burning, burning in that time 120 hours. The debris has been removed from the interior of the burned warehouse, but a large mass of burning material still remains there. The loss incurred in consequence of this blaze is simply enormous.

The Floods in England.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—From all parts of the province come reports announcing a twenty-fold increase of damage done by the floods. In many cases the waters are rising and did fair to do so continue for some time to come. At different parts of the country farms are submerged and the inhabitants have been compelled to seek refuge on the upper floors of their houses. The railroad leading near Chipoldbrum, undermined by the floods, collapsed this morning and completely blocked up the railroad line in the neighborhood all around the broadest portions, so that it is impossible to repair the damage until the floods have subsided. The Thames continues to rise and is now five feet above its usual high water mark. Portions of the royal gardens and Queen's drive at Windsor is flooded.

A Ruling in Opium Smuggling Cases.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—In a recent letter to the treasury department in regard to the case of Bernard Dean, arrested in San Francisco on the charge of opium smuggling, Acting Secretary Spaulding informed the collector there that it seems evident that there is no law in this country to prevent the prosecution of suits both against the goods and against the criminal. Spaulding has instructed the collector of customs at San Francisco that in case he is not satisfied that there is no dutiable article in the baggage of Chinese persons passing through this country in transit from Hongkong to Havana or elsewhere via New Orleans, he will require that the baggage be sealed and corded and placed in sealed car.

Carpenter Satisfied.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—There was a sensation this evening when it became known that Philip Herbert Carpenter, the distinguished scientist, whose death was announced yesterday, had committed suicide. Rev. Dr. Hale, father-in-law of the deceased, said that Philip had lately suffered from insomnia and that he had made investigations which preyed upon his mind.

Tang-tse-Kiang Quiet.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—A dispatch in the Times from Shanghai under this date says that the valley of the Yang-tse-Kiang is quiet.

Louisiana Lottery Directors Indicted.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23.—The United States grand jury has returned eighteen indictments against the officers and directors of the Louisiana Lottery. The evidence was all laid before the grand jury in the form of affidavits and kept with the utmost secrecy. The department at Washington brought the charges before this court for the reason that their efforts in other cases where the United States grand juries have been frustrated. The United States marshal and deputies are leaving this evening for New Orleans to arrest the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and directors of the lottery company. The indictments are for transmitting lottery advertisements through the mails in violation of the anti-lottery law passed by Congress. The extreme penalty is five years' imprisonment and $5000 fine.

MRS. LARNIGE, our fight and Tenth Ward lady, says: "Dr. Ellis put a set of teeth made by the Expert Dental Co. I never knew what a comfortable and serviceable plate was until I valued these teeth. TWO CHINAMEN

Came in from Canada, were Caught in North Dakota and Returned.

THE CANADIANS REFUSE TO LET THEM IN.

Because they had no Money to pay the Head Tax. A Queer Dilemma.

By Telegraph to the News.

WHAT TO DO WITH THEM.

Chinamen Who Cannot Stay Here and Not Return to Canada.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Another serious complication has arisen in the matter of the enforcement of the Chinese exclusion act. Two Chinamen who came in from Canada and were caught in North Dakota were taken back to the Canadian line by a marshal, but the Canadians refused to let them in, except on payment of a head tax of $50 each. The Chinamen had no money to pay, and the marshal is holding them for instructions. This new side of affairs is an embarrassing one, and the attorney general is now considering it.

A Wild Steer Creates a Panic.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 23.—A wild Texas steer escaped from Perry's island stock yard today, and for a time created a panic on the streets of Allegheny. The maddened animal traversed several of the prominent thoroughfares, attacking everything that came in its way and compelling pedestrians to flee for their lives. Five persons were gored by the frantic beast, one of them, a small boy, fatally. A party of citizens with guns and revolvers finally killed it.

A Terrible Collision.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Oct. 23.—A Texas special from Lake City says: A terrible collision occurred last night between two heavy freight trains on a branch of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, both trains were wrecked.

Mr. Hayden and George Stein, brakeman, were instantly killed, and Engineer Collins and Mr. McAllister probably fatally injured. The other trainmen were more or less hurt. The accident occurred on a curve. Neither of the engineers saw the other train in time to avoid the disaster.

Lottery Ads.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Chief Post-Office Inspector Wheeler today received a dispatch from El Paso, Tex., stating that the proprietor, editor and business manager of the El Paso Times had been arrested for a violation of the anti-lottery laws. They were bonded in $200 each.

Albertson Pleads Guilty.

TACOMA, Oct. 23.—Edward A. Albertson, charged with stealing about $25,000 in money and about $1,000 in stock, from the Pacific Coast Company, pleaded guilty today. Sentence was deferred.

A Letter from Baltimore.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—A special cable from Valparaiso says that another letter has been received from the Baltimore sailors. It was to his brother. He says that he cannot longer prepaddle his throat, the Argentine minister, by promising himself to the Junta, and owing to the belief that no blacksmith will respect nothing, he escaped his mates and will make a personal appeal free. He says he has left for painting that what will prove of historical importance, and that if Kanga will compliment his conduct.

Gibson and the Whisky Trust.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The case of Secretary Gibson of the Whisky Trust, charged with conspiracy to burn the Schubert distillery, came up today on motion of the attorneys for the defense to quash the various indictments. The motion to quash was sustained on the first and third counts, but overruled on the second and fourth. The second and fourth counts, which will stand, Gibson must yet meet.

A Steamer Runs Aground.

GLASGOW, Oct. 23.—The Anchor line steamer "Anchoria" for New York while proceeding down the Clyde today ran aground.

The Seal skin Business.

HALIFAX, Oct. 23.—Of 44,500 seal skins caught in hunting so far this season 24,000 were taken by Nova Scotia schooners fishing in that water. The results have been so encouraging that Nova Scotia capitalists are now fitting out a fleet of ten vessels to proceed to the Pacific and engage in next season's fishing.

The Parnellite Contest.

CORK, Oct. 23.—At the convention today of the followers of Justin McCarthy a local latter movement, Martin Flavin, was elected to contest against John E. Redmond, the Parnellite candidate for the seat in Parliament left vacant by the death of Parnell. The Conservatives selected the deputy lieutenant of the county, Captain Sarrobbi, to contest Cork City against John E. Redmond, the Parnellite candidate, and against the representative of the McCarthyites.

The Louisiana National Bank.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23.—Everything is quiet at the Louisiana National Bank this morning, and up to noon no arrests had been made. Bonds and those in little doubt that there will be any. In an interview with Morris, president of the Clearing House, this morning, in regard to Garcia's indictment, he said "Eugene F. Garcia, the paying teller of the Louisiana National Bank, is a defaulter in the sum of $100,000. It was first discovered on the 8th inst., but the full extent of the defalcation was only demonstrated on the 17th. Garcia confessed that the shortage was from old payments and errors and mistakes committed by him within the past fifteen years. The cash in the bank was examined and the shortage discovered. The loss of the large amount was carried to profit and loss, and still the capital of $500,000 and the surplus of $150,000 remain intact. I do not think any deposits will be drawn from the bank on account of his defalcation. If anybody of the Clearing House, or, as an individual, as president of the Clearing House banks, to say that the bank is perfectly solvent and will be able to meet any requirement made on it for its deposits."

GARCIA ARRESTED.

Eugene F. Garcia, charged with the defalcation of $100,000 from the Louisiana National Bank, was arrested last night, but released upon furnishing $25,000 bonds.

Presbyterians and the World's Fair.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 23.—The Presbyterian Synod today adopted a resolution urging Congress not to lend $5,000,000 for World's Fair purposes unless it was agreed that the fair be closed Sundays.

Rough Weather.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 23.—A heavy gale off Block Island, Cape Cod and the Jersey coast, during the past week, has prevailed rough weather. Two of the schooners are reported more or less damaged. The loss of the crew is unknown. A small schooner is supposed to have sank north of Pollock Rip shoal. The crew were seen clinging to the rigging of a dismasted schooner or sank near Shovelful shoal. They have been twenty-four hours exposed to the fury of the storm, and no help can reach them before morning.

Brazen Peddlers.

DENVER, Oct. 23.—The grand jury tonight returned indictments against six peddlers of Chinese opium and ex-Deputy Treasurer James Hadley on the charge of forgery committed, it is alleged, during their term of office for the purpose of defrauding the city of several thousand dollars.

Language of Elephants.

The language of the elephant is as rich and varied as that of the Indians and those who have to do with the large animals and the communication was made in their own tongue. Though, either to tell, the mode is in India and Ceylon have a distinct language imported to them. When enlarged the elephant utters a shrill cry through the trunk, which may be taken as a warning.

A spectacle engaged in hunting elephants had approached a large tusker when he found, to his chagrin, that he had dropped his ammunition, so that he could only be amused and fear he even upon the large animal. He immediately ran partly unseparate—by with its tips the word "prick," signifying it as that it sounded something like the twittering of a bird. The sound would instantly cause the elephant to put the spectacles down near at hand, but it was immediately understood by the herd that moved quickly but silently away followed by the animal.—St. Paul Dispatch.

Simplicity of Cupid's Life.

There was in Cupid a certain arrogance of intellect that grew with years, and often asserted itself in fashions that he himself felt to be grievous. This too was a mistaken for arrogance of heart. But arrogance of heart he never had. In sympathies and manner of life he remained to the end much of the simple peasant. Selling a year passed, of the eighty-five that he lived, that he did not spend a morning or evening the Sacred Bethe and put legs to or near his humble hollowed home.

There, nearer than anywhere else, his thoughts and cares to the attainment of that peace and happiness which it was quite capable of anchors. To the end his own poor, failing, unadmonned kinsmen continued the easiest people on earth to him, and rarely came a moment from either or gentleman that, whatever his own sensations, he did not share it with some of them. But they too, strange! I am not sure that he would not if taken have chosen them to such money, fell in their fortunes, and at times the closer.—E. C. Harris in Scribner's.

It is interesting to know that the highest authority of the Catholic church, at Rome itself, has at length noted the Connecticut marriage law and pronounced a marriage ceremony celebrated by a Methodist preacher to be binding and valid.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS

of the Killing of an American Sailor in Valparaiso, Chile.

THE ATTACK MADE WITHOUT PROVOCATION.

No Serious Results Likely to Follow the Unfortunate Incident.

By Telegraph to the News.

DETAILS OF THE FIGHT.

Captain Schley's Report to the Navy Department.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—A cablegram has been received at the navy department from Captain Schley, commanding the United States steamer "Baltimore," at Valparaiso, Chile, giving additional details of the fight between the Americans and Chilean sailors, in which one of the former was killed. He gives the names of the men hurt in the affair and corroborates the little considering it already stated. He asserts briefly that the fight was caused wholly by the Chileans, who make an attack upon the American sailors without provocation. The Baltimore's men, who was killed, was dragged from a street car by the members of a mob which numbered fully 100. Officials of the navy department read that the dispatch contained any sensational statements, and Secretary Tracy says the phraseology of the company leaves on the subject in a morning paper are wholly unfounded. The endeavors may be made public after it has been submitted to the President.

THE CHILEAN NOTE SENT BY THE BOAT.

It is improbable that any serious results will follow the "Baltimore" incident at Valparaiso. It is probable that this government will await the outcome of the legal inquiry now in progress in Chile, before making any move, and that some white precautions will be adopted to avoid any further trouble of the kind.

Secretary Tracy and General Noyes had a conference with the President this afternoon, and at its close Secretary Tracy directed the following as the latest information on the subject:

"Upon a dispatch received from Captain Schley, it appears that the men made a careful investigation, which proves that a petty officer, Charles Hirsch, while drunk in a street car, was assaulted by a mob of Chileans. Apprentice Talbot, Coxswain Thomas and Landsill and petty Officer Hamilton were wounded in the affair, and Hirsch was dragged off the back. Coxswain Palmer and Landsman Davidson were then promptly fighted to the rescue, armed with cutlas, shears and knives. Several other men were seriously injured by the assailants. Thirty-five sailors were arrested by the police and were kept detained. The surgeons on the "Baltimore" are so confident of the evidence that some women were inflicted by surgeons, that they decline to allow participation of the police. The American sailors were without arms or ammunition. They were sober and innocent of any provocation. Captain Schley informs the sailors of the Chilean first realized assistance to his men and asked to release the police detained them."

Secretary Tracy said that through some difficulty with the cipher sent to the dispatch Captain Schley's report to be worthless while dispatches had been made of the more serious.

BOYCOTT AND OTHERWISE.

SANTIAGO, CHILE, Oct. 23.—Regarding the formal attack of the sailors from the United States cruiser Baltimore, Admiral Gilliam, acting minister, Captain Schley has reported to Minister Egan that it was brutal and cowardly. Egan will present the matter to the government.

The Chilean government has informed Egan that safe-conduct will not be issued for the refugees now in the United States legation. The proposed ground for safe-conduct is that the men are criminals. Egan continues to demand safe-conduct. The question now appears far from settlement.

REPARATION WILL BE DEMANDED.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—A special from Washington says that Captain Schley has asked Secretary Tracy to have Admiral Brown come at once to Valparaiso, to aid by his presence in exacting full justice for the outrage on sailors who mutinied the sailor last week. It is now alleged that Boatswain's Mate Reagan was shot by a policeman. The Chilean minister at Washington and Minister Egan will be instructed to demand reparation, and that the President has said to Tracy: "I mean to have no more Chilean trouble, and reparation, and the demand upon Chile must be peremptory."

There will be four cruisers at Valparaiso when the demand is made. Captain Schley has informed Secretary Tracy that it has become impossible for Americans either to go ashore without being insulted, and that hereafter they mean to go armed and resent insults in the proper way.

"We are being treated worse than ever, and I cannot be much longer restrained."

"I don't want them to be further restrained," says Secretary Tracy to one of the commodores, "and I have told Schley so."

THE FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

A Gigantic Co-operative Scheme Proposed.

SALINA, KAN., Oct. 23.—Again this morning a gigantic co-operative scheme was before the Farmers' alliance convention here. The committee appointed to investigate reported yesterday afternoon unfavorably. The report however, was not accepted by the convention, as it is generally believed it will go through all right.

The secretary of the Alliance Exchange company, which does $5,000,000 worth of business a year in this state, says it will be an easy thing to move all the business into the new organization. In addition to this the alliance is in a position to control about twenty-five great business of this state. In every county where the alliance will pledge its support to the stock a manager will be appointed and goods supplied by the National Union company for a distribution of the profits. The National Union company is the outgrowth of the farmers' convention scheme, spirited there and approved by President Polk. Three months later a meeting of capitalists was held in New York City, a company formed and $1,000,000 capital stock subscribed. Following the work of appointing agents will begin immediately and the first stores be established the 1st of next January.

The National Union co-operative scheme was adopted at this morning's session by an overwhelming vote. Interesting speeches were delivered by and to this, too, enthusiasm was displayed again.

Everything was fixed in unison before the convention proceeded to the election of officers. President McGrath stated he wanted an endorsement of his official acts and on acquittal of the various charges of corruption brought against him. He gave notice he had accepted the nomination for an unfavorable and reelection. Not which he, however, to cause disorder he would withdraw in favor of W. H. Biddle, the nominee of the Democratic convention assembled, however, all was not smooth sailing, and the delegates who had not taken in caucus were subjected to a long contest, during which W. H. Biddle was elected president. He is an ex-Union soldier and a stockholder, particularly prominent in state politics. A resolution was unanimously adopted, expressing unqualified confidence in the retiring president, and his conduct of the office over. The other officers were re-elected.

No regular platform was adopted, but the subsidiary scheme and the Ocala platform were indorsed, the latter endorsed and the official acts of President Polk heartily approved.

A New Cabinet for New South Wales.

SYDNEY, Oct. 23.—Dibbs, leader of the Opposition in the New South Wales Legislature, has formed a new cabinet. He succeeds Sir Henry Parkes.

MRS. A. L. PARKER, of 15 Tremont, says: "I am wearing a partial upper and lower set of teeth that I had made by the Expert Dental Company, whose advertisement appears on another page of this paper. I also had two of my front teeth built up with gold by them. I was well pleased with their work, and recommend the Expert Dental Company to every one who wants dentistry done cheaply at the lowest price." ad

THE HOME RULE BILL.

Gladstone has Revised it, but the Changes are not yet Publicly Known.

FULLER POWERS PROPOSED FOR THE IRISH LEGISLATURE.

Much Partisanship in the Cork Election—The New Irish Secretary.

By Telegraph to the News.

GLADSTONE'S NEW SCHEME.

He is Said to Have Revised the Home Rule Bill.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Gladstone has revised the Irish bill. As to what time the scheme in detail will be divulged depends upon the fate and character of the government's Irish local government bill. Should it be a disaster came now the measure would be published with such completeness as would give the Conservatives no chance to say the country had been received on any important point. When a general election does come the issue will be fought on definitely centered home rule lines. If the popular vote places Mr. Gladstone in power the course thus adopted will paralyze the opposition speaking the Irish people will not dare reject the bill on the ground that a vote of the electorate had not been specially taken thereon.

Regarding the principles of the new measure enough has been officially ascertained to state that it gives the proposed Irish legislature fuller powers than did the bill of 1886. It retains the lower and upper houses of the Irish parliament, vests the appointment of the judiciary in the Irish executive, and maintains a larger representation of Ireland in the imperial parliament. The questions of financial relations and control of police are also settled.

In the Cork election fight there is much partisanship. The friends of Redmond declare, therefore, confident of victory. They have no lack of funds, part of the money coming from America. The final hope of a reunion of party only rests with Michael Davitt. If he refrains from throwing his whole influence on the side of the McCarthyites and uses his personal power in the quiet policy of conciliation, he will in time reconstitute the Irish party. If he consents to market Kilkenny, Davitt, throwing the gage of battle to the Parnellites, the feud will be eternal. When interviewed today he talked as if he were entirely committed to the latter.

William Lawies Jackson, whose appointment as Irish secretary is indefinitely announced, has the reputation of being a good business man, without any true towards his own ideas, if he lacking, and the ready and pliant instrument of Balfour and Salisbury, with a shrewd eye on the main chance.

In an interview today Mr. Dredge, one of the British commissioners to the World's Fair at Chicago, said strong his return he had met encouraging indications of increasing interest on the part of British manufacturers. The commission will submit 1,000,000 circulars throughout Great Britain and Ireland inviting exhibits.

Ignatius Donnelly's Libel Suit.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 23.—In the trial of the libel suit against the Pioneer Press today, Donnelly contradicted and denied in toto all charges of bribery and political corruption. He stated time in the Ring letter, Donnelly was on the stand all day and up to a late hour this evening. Nothing of material was elicited. Donnelly was asked if he had ever proposed to him to sell out the Pioneer and Dakota road and stop the Ring. Donnelly said he had proposed certain having any such conversation and charged De Lor with selling the road to the Milwaukee and St. Paul. Back to this point he stuck to the bitters. Donnelly's reason for not pressing his first suit was that he had no funds.

A Battle Between Blood Indians and Canadian Police.

DENVER, Oct. 23.—A special to the News from Assiniboine, Montana, says: Word has been received here of a battle yesterday between the Blood Indians and a force of Canadian mounted police. Eight took place just across the international boundary line, and over forty miles from here. The Blood Indians, who are old time enemies of the police, make a raid on horses belonging to the latter and made off with nearly all of them. The police started in pursuit, and coming up with the Indians, a fierce fight followed. The first fire killed one policeman and two Indians, and several were wounded on both sides. The news was brought in by a blackfoot, who said the fight was still in progress when he left. Colonel Bates, commander of Fort Assiniboine, has ordered a troop of cavalry to the Blackfoot agency as a precautionary measure to restrain the Indians.

THE SEARLES WILL CASE.

Testimony Taken at Yesterday's Examination.

SALEM, MASS., Oct. 23.—At the opening of the Searles will case this morning, Lincoln recalled Searles. The witness testified that at Mrs. Hopkin's request he had taken her last will to look up securities in October, 1887. Witness testified to the visit of Stillman to the Searles home the last will was made. Mrs. Searles stated that she wished to leave her property to witness and would provide for Timothy in her lifetime. In case anything happened to her, she was willing to leave matters in witness' hands. She knew witness would be more generous to Timothy than she would. Witness testified that during Mrs. Searles' last sickness he visited New York and while in conversation with Stillman, Stillman said he was confident and said that if her condition was critical it would be well to transfer the Southern Pacific and improvement bond and stock to the partnership so that in case of Mrs. Searles' death it should not lose its voting power. Stillman said that he would stand by it. Witness denied that he attempted to influence Stillman, or through Stillman, by himself at through oth-
