BOY MAY BE BLIND FOR LIFE

Little Wyoming Lad Has Eyes Shot Out and Will Never See Again.

COOP RECITAL A SUCCESS.

Pupils Give Fine Musical Program in Opera House to Large Audience.

Ogden, Utah, June 22.—A twelve-year-old boy named Arthur Henke, of Rock Springs, Wyoming, was brought to Ogden on the Union Pacific train yesterday afternoon for medical treatment to his eyes. He was taken to the Ogden General Hospital immediately on his arrival, where Dr. S. L. Brick with Dr. Reed of Rock Springs made a thorough and careful examination of his eyes, and decided that there is little hope of him ever regaining his sight in either eye. Arthur was handling a .22-caliber gun at his home on June 18 when it suddenly exploded and the full force of the powder struck him in the eyes. At first Dr. Reed entertained hopes of the boy regaining the sight of at least one of his eyes, but this hope is almost vanished, and the unfortunate lad may have to go through life blind.

PUPILS GIVE RECITAL.

Opera House Packed to Hear Program Given by Prof. Coop's Students.

Ogden, June 22.—The complimentary concert given last evening at the Grand Opera House by the pupils of Prof. Squire Coop was an artistic success in every respect, greatly enjoyed by the large audience who packed the building. As the curtain raised, a pretty view was presented. The stage represented a studio, which was illuminated with a very artistically arranged spiral chandelier.

The program was well rendered, and while those who took part are not labeled musical artists, they are deserving of much credit for the work accomplished, and to their able instructor, Prof. Coop, is due great commendation. Little Miss Beatrice Boyie is a wonder on the piano for a child. The vocalists who took part on the program were Mr. Frank Chamberlain, Miss Isabel Slater, Miss Alice Flowers, Miss Hazel Barus, Miss Bessie Blair, Miss Louie Brown and Mr. Howard Greenwell. The pianists were Miss Beatrice Boyie, Mrs. Virginia Houtz Green, Miss Maud Zeimer and Miss Glen Douglas. The vocal work was very fine, each soloist is deserving of solos were rendered with unusual ability.

The team and wagon were thrown into turbulent stream, and men who were thrown out on the river side were compelled to swim to shore ahead of the team and wagon, being unable to make headway against the stream. The horses and wagon were carried down the river.
