DESERET EVENING NEWS.

5 O'clock -EDITION.-

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 35. THURSDAY, JANUARY 3, 1895, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVIII.

THE GOLD EXPORTS.

The Treasury Will be Reduced to the Danger Point.

AN EXTRA SESSION POSSIBLE.

Comptroller A. P. Hepburn Gives His Views on the Situation—May Have to Borrow Money.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Gold to the amount of $2,500,000 has been engaged for shipment to Europe and the treasury reserve will thereby be reduced below $65,000,000. Lazard Freres will send $1,000,000; Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Company $500,000, and Ladenburg, Thalmann & Company, $500,000. Gold amounting to $1,500,000 has been entered at the treasury. Foreign bankers are agreed that shipments will continue with some short interruptions, perhaps, for many weeks and the opinion was expressed by some New York bankers that the movement would be so extensive that the gold reserve would be reduced to what is considered the danger point by the administration.

The comptroller, A. P. Hepburn, president of the Third National bank, said of the situation:

"Nobody can tell whether President Cleveland will consider it a matter urging non-partisan action on the currency question or not. Congress in its present session will not go to banking law through. Silver senators will prevent the passage of a measure. It looks as though the President would have to call an extra session.

"Whatever is done, however, there will probably be no sufficient increase in the government's revenue to meet its expenses before the gold reserve is carried down to a very low figure. Gold exports may amount to $20,000,000 or $30,000,000 and notwithstanding coverage in the meantime there seems to be no way out of the situation except through a bond issue. The government is poor, and unless it can make it in some way money must be borrowed."

VICE AND CORRUPTION.

A Crusade to Be Inaugurated Against Them.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 3.—Plans for a crusade against vice and corruption, private and public, in this city, have been developed by the formation of the Civic Federation of San Francisco, on the same lines as the Chicago Civic Federation. War is declared by the Federation against dives, side entrances in the saloons, gambling and municipal corruption. A legislative committee similar in scope to the Lexow organization is a possible outgrowth of the association, which was organized by Rev. James Canning Smith, pastor of Trinity Presbyterian church.

SENSATIONAL SUICIDE.

A Boy of Thirteen Years Hangs Himself in a Barn.

BINGHAMTON, New York, Jan. 3.—A report reached this city last night of a most sensational suicide. A son of Jerome Pudown, a farmer living in what is known as Pudown, a small settlement to the town of Windsor, was found dead on Monday between hanging from a beam in the barn. The boy was only thirteen years of age and it is alleged that the cause that drove him to the part of the father, who, it is said, was most brutal in inflicting floggings, without cause.

Sentiment runs high and much indignation is aroused toward the parent. It is a rare occurrence for one at this age to take his own life, and the conclusion was that the boy was of an extremely sensitive temper.

The affair has caused a decided sensation in the town of Windsor and some of the neighbors are loud in their demands for an investigation. Mr. Hall tender a court regulation and his friends assist the idea that grinding drove his son to suicide. The lad is said to have been very bright for his years.

LOW PRICE OF SILVER.

Large Quantities Shipped to Mexico to be Coined.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—M. Guggenheim's sons of New York city, have, during the last few days, shipped large quantities of bar silver from Omaha, Kansas City, Aurora, and New York city to the City of Mexico, for coinage by the Mexican government mints into Mexican dollars. This is like carrying coal to Newcastle. They state that inasmuch as the transaction involves an expense of nearly seven per cent, consisting of transportation and mintage charges, it may be considered as a strong illustration of the effect which the low price of silver is having on the trade of silver countries.

Mexico exports large quantities of refined silver, and the only condition which would make the importation of bar silver for mining purposes possible would be very large diminution in imports, coupled with large exports of merchandise. This is actually happening in Mexico. It is significant in illustrating the tendency on the part of silver countries so far as their supply of manufactured goods is concerned, and also the stimulus which low silver has given to the exports from silver countries.

The Mexican silver dollar is at a premium of about 7 per cent and foreign exchange on Mexico is at a discount of about 7 per cent, a condition the reverse of that which now prevails in the United States.

Countries on a silver basis report prospering under the low price of silver while those on the gold basis are suffering.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Mrs. Maxwell Attacked by a Unknown Man—Saved by Her Husband.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Mme. Maxwell, wife of the actual tenor, had a narrow escape from death last night at the Garden theater. Her petit appeared just after the curtain had been rung up on the first act of Little Christopherson and for a time it appeared as though the panic behind the scenes would communicate itself to the audience. The cause of the trouble was the husband, Maxwell. The entrance is very fatal of Mr. Maxwell, but Miss Mae Marsh with signal fervor. He tenor crossed to leave the door of Miss's stage opposite from going on the stage. As soon as Marsh had left the door the animal sprang at the woman and attempting her about the neck with his powerful arms, attempted to strangle her. He stuck his long, sharp teeth and tried to tear her throat, screaming like a demon with his mask. The woman's scream brought her husband to the rescue. He seized the animal and tore it away from his wife's throat. The screams had been heard on the stage also and by some of the audience at the front. Some thought the house was remarks and the performance went on.

Broke His Wife's Ribs.

SEATTLE, Wa., Jan. 3.—John Cremin, of Seattle, is a big man with a small wife, whom he loves very much. At their home last night he suddenly grasped her and gave her a very vigorous hug with his right arm. Mrs. Cremin lost her breath and when she managed to make an outcry she was assured to be. The family physician found three of her right ribs had been broken.

HIS LIFE THREATENED.

Lee Nance Asks Protection Long—Case Ready to Take Some Action.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Pattillo Longmore has been asked to take some action in regard to a communication received recently by Lee Nance, coster, from unknown parties in Columbus, Ohio. The letter refers to the murder of Nance's father in Newberry, S. C., twenty-six years ago and contains threatening against Nance's life. A portion of the letter is as follows:

COLUMBUS, Ohio.

To Lee Nance, The Second, Chicago, Illinois:

Fifteen years ago you appeared in Newberry, S. C., with the avowed purpose, as it was reported, of avenging the death of the radical leader, Lee Nance Sr., your father. But you skipped out like a coward before any arrangements could be made. You has no fear for lack of prominent white friends.

You called at the Newberry Herald office, and its editors, in the presence of Col. Nance and Col. Robert Holman, gave you assurance of their good will and friendship. They had all been your father's friends, especially concerning the place of our fatal interviews on more occasions than one, but in '66 we succeeded in our determination to kill the hoss radical leader because we all believed he was making a name for the murder of one of our bravest men, named ward.

We have never heard much of you since you hurried out of Newberry in 1880 until of late, when by chance a book fell into our hands, evidently written by you in which several pages are devoted to a description of "A Southern's rights." Notwithstanding the fact that you refuse from mentioning the death of your father, we think the "murderer" meant is some one of us. Furthermore we have learned that you were at the height of the church meeting held in Chicago just a week after the election, whereon Sheriff Cook, of Fayette county, Ohio, was endorsed and praised for his work of killing white men for trying to govern a negro. When you came to hell of your old mother's death you grew wildly excited and said, if we have it straight, "So help me God, I would not prove a coward one should I meet with the vile murderer." Now you shall not keep this up and we don't believe you had ought to live anyway. But we have decided to give you a chance of us will be in Chicago the first of the year, when an arrangement can be made for settling the old score with rifles or otherwise. There are several of our father's sons now grown, and we don't think you can be ignorant of the writer of twenty-six years. Yet we are all absolute of it and are agreed as to you. Therefore we not surprised to see such.

(Signed.) THE AMERICANS.

(Two of them.)

Mr. Nance said that he did not know the authors of the letter. The man, he said, was murdered his father was Fitzgerald. He had heard nothing of him except that Fitzgerald has moved to Fayette county, Ohio.

Mr. Nance says that he has received many letters of a similar character but has never paid any attention to them until he received the above.

STILL ADVANCING.

Oranges Likely to Bring $3 Per Box in the Orchard.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cala., Jan. 3.—The rise in the price of oranges of fifty cents a box, which was registered by the Redlands Orange Growers association on Monday has been followed by all the associations in the valley, and now oranges cannot be bought in quantities for less than $2.50 a box, and buyers regard growers and shippers are inclined to think that the quotation is too low. There is every indication that the bulk of the crop will bring $3 in the orchard.

Officers of the Redlands association are in communication with dealers in Philadelphia and private telegrams received from them yesterday, say last eighty-five per cent of the crop is a total loss and will be worthless, except what can be sold at once before the frost affects the fruit. This has strengthened the prices here, and the orange men are already talking of $3 per box for the fruit, a price they have not realized for several years.

She May Sing On.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—Camille D. Arville, prima donna, may sing on. The full bench of the supreme court has dissolved the bill in equity brought by Edward E. Rice to restrain her from singing in the United States or Canada except under his management. The decision is important as bearing upon the enforcement of a negative covenant in a contract for personal services.

SEVEN PERSONS INJURED.

Passenger Train Collision Caused by a Displaced Switch.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—Seven persons were injured in a railroad wreck early this morning on the Philadelphia and Reading road, a short distance below Germantown. The injured are: G. W. Fell, Jenkintown, contusion of shoulder; H. O. Gracy, cut about the head with flying glass; T. Snyder, police sergeant, Red Fang Police Lieutenant Rayner and Frank Bacon, all of whom were able to go to their homes. The collision was between a passenger train going to Chestnut Hill and one returning to the city. Both engineers escaped by jumping. A switch had been correctly turned and the switchman can give no reason for the failure.

A Royal Widow Dies Poor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Marquise Methida De Gravile, widow of General De Gravile, who, as a member of Maximilian's staff, was killed in Mexico in the Franco-Mexican war, died in abject poverty in her comfortable apartments in this city last evening. The expense of her funeral was borne by Miss Julia Cooper, niece of the late Peter Cooper.

Mme. De Gravile has been more or less dependent for five years upon Miss Cooper and her friends.

The mother of the deceased woman was a direct descendant of Louis XVI and her father was of a royal Bagnet family, one of the sons of which was at one time chief adviser to the king of Bagnets.

More Money Order Offices.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—As a result of the increased postal business during the last three months, twenty-nine international money order offices, ninety domestic money order offices and 102 limited money order offices will be established January 7. Among the new international offices are Angeles (map), Leslie and Tonsles, California.

Granted a Reprieve.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—The Supreme Court of the United States this morning granted a reprieve until March 4 to Theodore Lambert, who was to have been hanged today for the murder of Wm. G. Kaiser, a fellow Camden banker, December 18, 1893. This is the second respite granted to Lambert.

CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 3.—An hour before the time set for the execution of Lambert in the county jail, this morning, the stay granted by Judge Shiras in Washington, until March 4th, was served on Sheriff Barrett. When the notice of stay was given Lambert by his counsel, Lawyer Semple, the condemned man fell to the floor in faint, from which he recovered in a few minutes. He fell into a second faint in which he remained nearly five minutes. On being revived he shouted "Glory to God!" then fell on the neck of his counsel and kissed him. He now sleeps and sings at intervals.

After leaving the jail, Lawyer Semple went to Lambert's home where his mother was awaiting news of her son's execution. She cried "He is dead yet? I thought he would not be hanged until 12 o'clock." When told of the stay she fell like a log on the floor. When conscious she was restored she went to the jail and her mother and son were permitted to have a meeting alone. The scene was affecting.

Mrs. Lambert refused to believe her son's evil and was allowed to remain with him.

In Recognition of Services.

YOKOHAMA, Jan. 3.—It is stated that the mikado has bestowed upon Emperor William the grand order of the Imperial Chrysanthemum in recognition of services rendered by German officers to Japanese officers who have been under their instruction in military and naval science.

Two wounded and sick officers of the army will be kept in the Red Cross hospital at Nagasaki. Only invalid soldiers of the first army will be sent to Japan.

Gladstone Stumbled.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—It was learned today that Gladstone last week stumbled over an open drawer, cut his forehead, broke his spectacles and was unable to use the second leaf of his speech. Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone will leave Kingsley on Monday for Cannes, where they will be the guests of Lord Rosebery.

Sentence Deferred.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 3.—The sentence of F. F. Mast, a millionaire manufacturer, convicted of bribery, was deferred until nothing. The interior was entirely destroyed. The loss is about $60,000, insured for $45,000. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin.

A Vigorous Campaign.

ROME, Jan. 3.—At a meeting of the following of Marquis De Rudini, ex-premier, it was decided to commence a vigorous campaign with the purpose to force the Crispi government to resign and bring out the formation of a cabinet composed entirely of senators.

Permission Given.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 3.—A permit has been given to hold an Armenian ball for the benefit of the schools of the different provinces of Armenia. As this permission has been refused many years it is looked upon as showing that the porte has assumed a conciliatory attitude towards Armenia.

Jailbird Captured.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 3.—George Alexander, one of the four prisoners who escaped from the county jail yesterday, was recaptured here early today in a saloon. The other three are still at large.

Sent to the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The President today sent the Senate 300 pages of the correspondence relative to the Honduras, accompanied by the letter of Secretary Gresham, summarizing the important events that have taken place there. The secretary says the government has steadily recognized the sovereignty of Nicaragua over the mosquito reservation and Great Britain has given assurance that it does the same.

Attempted Bank Robbery.

CHARDON, Jan. 3.—A daring attempt was made early this morning to rob the First national bank here. Phillips and Tanner, sleeping upstairs, were awakened by hearing burglars at work. They secured revolvers and darted down stairs. The burglars opened fire on them. Tanner and Phillips responded and the crackmen ran to a sleigh near by and drove away. The vault, although damaged, was not opened.

EXCITING SCENES.

M. Dossoff Makes An Attack Upon the Government.

HE IS ORDERED EXPELLED.

The Liberals Reply With Hisses, and the Members Withdraw from the House.

VIENNA, Jan. 3.—There is considerable comment here regarding an almost unprecedented scene in the Sobranje, or National Assembly at Sophia, Friday night last, December 28th, and early Saturday morning. During the debate on the credit of fifty million francs, asked for by the government for the purpose of suppressing the brigandage, M. Dossoff, opposition leader, declared the brigandage no longer existed in Bulgaria, and the premier, M. Stoiloff, asked for this money for the purpose of establishing a system of political espionage. As upon his lowed, the adjournment of the government strongly denouncing the assertion of the opposition leader, and M. Dossoff replying with strong expressions reflecting upon the ministers. This caused Stiloff to exclaim:

"You are a liar and a slanderer!"

This served to bring members to a sense of their dignity and order. All the opposition sprang to their feet and hurled insults at each other, while M. Dossoff continued the attack upon the government. Finally the president of the Sobranje, Dr. Theodoroff, adjourned M. Dossoff's opponents from the chamber during the remainder of the session, and directed the gendarmes to remove him from the precincts of the house. The liberals replied to this order with hisses, and with some of the opposition grouped which some M. Dossoff struck at the questors and best them all, but not until some deputies had drawn revolvers.

During this exciting scene, the members with two and left the house in possession of the house.

After an hour's interval the sitting was resumed at midnight. The opposition protested against the action of the government in declaring that the scene was caused by M. Stiloff calling M. Dossoff a liar and a slanderer, and later the opposition left the house in a body, in order, as they claimed, to avoid witnessing further acts of injustice to the country and its representatives. During the absence of the opposition, deputies of the government discussed and adopted a penal amendment bill, imposing propelled to grant amnesty to Zankoff and Karaveloff.

After the measure had been adopted the opposition returned to the Sobranje.

Earthquake Shock.

MEMPHIS, Jan. 3.—A violent earthquake shock was felt here this morning. The inhabitants are panic-stricken.

Inhaled Gas.

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—Raphael Morano, 33 years old, was found dead in bed, and Raphaelo Marano, his cousin, and Raphaelo Simon Sr., and Raphaelo Simon Jr., were taken upon the same today, from inhaling illuminating gas which had escaped from a leaky main in a basement house, 270 North street.

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The House presented an animated scene when called to order by Speaker Crisp today after the holiday recess. The galleries were crowded and over half of the members were in their seats.

After the call of committees for reports, Quigg, Republican, N. Y., attempted to offer a resolution reducing salaries in the New York postoffice, but Springer, in charge of the currency bill, cut him off with a motion to go into committee of the whole for the further consideration of that bill. Accordingly the House went into committee, Bretchner, Dem., Texas, in the chair. Black, Dem., Georgia, member of the banking and currency committee, took the floor in favor of the bill.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The Senate transacted at noon today after the holiday recess. The chair laid before the Senate a letter from the secretary of state transmitting a dispatch from the United States ambassador at Paris, saying he had delivered to the widow of the late President Carnot engrossed copies of the resolutions of sympathy of the American Congress relative to President Carnot.

At two o'clock the Senate resumed consideration of the Nicaraguan canal bill, Senator Morgan speaking.

MEXICO AND GUATEMALA.

The Former Asks for a Large Indemnity for Damages.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Jan. 3.—It has been rumored that Emilio de Leon, the new Guatemalan minister to Mexico, would leave this republic and return home, on account of new complications in the boundary dispute. When interviewed the Guatemalan envoy expressed great surprise that such a report gained publicity.

"The only reason I know of why I should leave this city is for the purpose of bringing my family from San Francisco," he said. "This I will probably do in two months, as they are visiting there previous to coming here."

Senor De Leon expressed himself satisfied with his reception by the Mexican authorities and says anything one with the minister of foreign relations are being held regularly. The Mexican government has made a formal and specific demand on Guatemala, indicating the amount of damages included by the invading Guatemalans. The total indemnity asked is $1,908,344.14. The names of the claimants are Alfonso Brothers, Boring & Company, Cal. Pilsenaji, and Valenzuela Tercero & Company. The figures of lumbermen have made a complete list of their losses for use in the present negotiations, which are the data on which the Mexican government bases its claims for prior settlement, after which it is willing to consider the wishes of Guatemala in the dispute. Material conventions and other points which it feels to be of minor importance.

Colorado Stockock Broken.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 3.—The organization of the state senate was effected this afternoon by a combination between Populists and Democrats. Lockwood, Populist, was elected speaker pro tem. An adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock when Governor Waite's message will be read.

NOMINATIONS

Probate Judges for Lamoille and Carbon Counties.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The President today sent the following nominations to the Senate:

State—Robert W. Bowman, consul general at Barcelona, Spain; Andrew J. Patterson, Tennessee, consul at Dunkirk, British Guiana.

Justice—C. Frank Chase, Florida, attorney United States district of Florida.

Commissioner of Immigration—Walter P. Stanley of California, vice Fitzgerald.

War—Col. G. Normal Lieber, assistant judge advocate general, to be judge advocate general with the rank of brigadier general.

Navy—Lieut. Commander Franklin Rodgers, to be commander; Passed Assistant Engineer Robert W. Gill, to be chief engineer.

Judges of Probate in the Territory of Utah—Joseph Jenks, for the county of Rampete; L. M. Cook, for the county of Carbon.

New Station Schedule.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3. — Quigg, Penna., has introduced in the house a proposed amendment to the signal efficiency bill, amending the tariff law by striking out the provisions for an income tax and substituting a law modeled on the Wilson bill, including a duty on tea and coffee.

Masonic Block Burned.

COFFEYVILLE, Kans., Jan. 3.—A fire started in the Masonic block at 3 o'clock this morning, soon destroying that structure, the finest in the city, which is still raging. As Coffeyville has no water works or fire department, the loss will be great.

San Francisco Custom House Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Charges of political assessments and of partisan removals in the San Francisco custom house have been under consideration by the civil service commission for some time through correspondence with the officers and citizens at San Francisco. The commission has determined to make a thorough investigation and an agent will be sent to conduct an inquiry at the custom house, probably within a month.

Rank Robbery in Broad Daylight.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 3.—At 3:30 p. m. two negroes have entered the government building and requested an order for work. While one of the same was out for lunch they called at the office of the cashier and found French H. Sparks, one of the clerks, alone. It was pay day and over $4,000 in envelops were on the table. One of the men asked to get $5 changed. While Sparks was accommodating him, the other man darted behind the counter and opened the money drawer, secured $637, and escaped. The men were evidently not aware that money was in the envelopes. Sparks is badly hurt.

Passed a Bankrupt Woman's Watch.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 3.—A. L. L. Curtis, a colored waiter at the Copeland hotel, has been arrested for passing a watch positively identified as the property of Mrs. A. D. Matson, robbered from her home years ago. Curtis said a gentleman named Bernard gave him the watch. Nathan Wood, an intimate friend of Curtis, recently received a good position here and left for St. Joseph. Officers have gone there to arrest him.

Will Plead Statutory.

In the case of the People against the two street railroad companies and the Gas & Electric Light, etc., Co., indicted by the late grand jury on account of a spike nuisance, that Attorney Judd this morning asked Judge Zerich to direct that a demurrable be required to enter. It was on Saturday last. The court so ordered, and Attorney P. L. Williams, on the part of the Rapid Transit Co., undertook to be on hand.

Dr. Benford Ill.

Dr. A. B. Dunton, the dentist, has not been able to attend to his professional duties for some little time, and the probability is that he will not be able to resume them for a week or two yet. He is confined to his room by a severe illness, from which the attending physician says it will take several days to recover so that he can be out again, though his condition has changed for the better, and he is now improving steadily.

The Pumpkin Contest.

The great pumpkin which has been exhibited in the show window of Z. C. M. I. for thirty days, and upon which great numbers have exhibited their powers at guessing at the number of seeds therein, was decided on New Year's Eve, before a large number of interested persons, with the following result:

Ladies' guess—Miss Pearl Richards, Ogden, guessed 519; Miss Dorothy Orem, 522 Second street, Salt Lake City, 517; Mrs. A. J. Davis, Center Ward, Salt Lake City, 507.

Gentlemen's guess—Prof. F. W. Metcalf, Salt Lake City, 513; Mr. David Carlson, 540 north First West street, Salt Lake City, 509; Mr. Tom Winters, 570 west Second South street, Salt Lake City, 506.

The pumpkin contained 574 seeds. The first prize was fifteen dollars in cash, the second, ten dollars, cash, the third, one pair fine calfskin boots for gentlemen, and for the ladies' third, one pair Good French kid shoes. The winners are invited to call for their respective prizes.

Horse Taming Exhibition.

Prof. O. H. Gleason, who enjoys the distinction of being called "America's King of Horse Tamers," will give his exhibition in the city of entertaining interest and apparently unexplainable animals tomorrow at the Centennial Market Hall on West Temple street. The place has been renovated and fitted up with seats for the accommodation of horses as well as gentlemen. Some of the most temperate horses of the city have been procured to "operate" at this evening.

FOOTBALL TOMORROW.

The Opposing Teams, and Positions of the Leading Players.

That Salt Lake has caught the football craze is evident from the interest manifested in the game to be played tomorrow between the Chicago University and the Y. M. C. A. teams. The latter were on yesterday practicing on State street and attracted a large crowd. From the careful training the Utah boys are doing, it is quite probable that they will present a surprise to the visitors.

Manager Stagg telegraphed yesterday that his men were on time and if all goes well they will reach the city at 1:30 p.m. today. A large delegation of football players will meet them at Ogden and escort them to this city. As announced yesterday the University club will entertain the visitors this evening.

All the men who went up against the eastern Thanksgiving day, with the exception of Tuesday will play tomorrow afternoon. Latimer will fill the place the night left vacant and will do as his satisfaction of everyone. The men behind the line are in the pink of condition, and several strong substitutes will be held in readiness in case any one is temporarily disabled. Wyant holds down a center for the Windy City boys. He is commonly reported as eating the strength of an ox, and the endurance of a mule. He is very tall, 6 feet 2 inches, and rather light, weighing when in condition 175 pounds. Stalding will oppose Wyant, and had the local men's team been in form to warrant a belief that the center will cut so the weak spot in the Y. M. C. A. line. Atkins and Abbil, who are alone walls in the opposing line, will this night against men who are much taller than they, and will undoubtedly lose their own. Barker and Moore will fill the tackle positions and their work can boast the strongest of any men who have played there this season. Taylor, on the left end is a whole team and the little dog under the wagon when it comes to tackling and breaking interference. Hughes Cree will play in his usual place at quarter back, and will direct the movements of the team.

While the visiting team spring several new things in the way of tricks and trapping wedges, double pass, etc., they will find that the Salt Lakers know a thing or two about gentlemanly-fashioned football, which, according to some critics, is the best kind, and they may have a trick or two up their sleeve. This game will be watched with good interest by all the members of city teams, and to play can escape their eagle eyes.

Present indications point to good weather for the game will be played snow or shine. The grandstand will be accessible to every one. Open glasses will bring every peg into good view.

A rope will be stretched on the west side, and several of Salt Lake's "Ghost" will keep the crowd back.

ICE

HOW TO BUILD AN ICEHOUSE AND HOW AND WHEN TO FILL IT.

The simplest kind of a structure will keep ice, if a good board building with double inclosed walls will answer the purpose. For a permanent house it is well to build a brick or stone foundation and to line the walls in mortar. The walls should be double and can be made so by using 2x4 for lumber for studding. Line both sides with paper and board up tight, but do not fill in. Let the roof project on all sides or build under the shade of a tree or on the north side of a larger structure. Always leave plenty of ventilation at the gable ends. Make a cribbed in the bottom extending not a considerable distance. Cover the mouth of this drain to the house with a wire screen and then cover the whole bottom with a layer of sawdust a foot thick.

The keeping of ice depends quite as much on the packing as on the house in which it is stored. Sawdust or cut tan bark furnishes the best packing material. The best best is small in cut straw, and also these usual shaw.

In a structure such as we have described, ice packed and filled on the sides to a sufficient of twelve or fifteen inches of cut straw. Do not put a thick layer of sawdust on top of the ice—six or eight inches is enough.

Fill the house in freezing weather only for the best results. Have the cakes as nearly uniform in size as possible and pack closely, filling cracks with pounded ice to make the mass as solid as possible. This advice is often given to pour water on after filling, but the Farm Journal says this is no use at all, as it doesn't do it. Forty cubic feet of ice will make about a ton. The size of the tubes wanted can be figured on this basis.

In some directions given by Journal Gallagher on building and filling mentioned sawdust is called for a new material for packing known as mineral wool. It is mineral and of course is not wool at all, though it looks and feels like wool. It is the glass fibre made in refining iron ore by the method used on the particles of sand in suspension. The cost of mineral wool if near a factory will probably be over $12 per ton, but its bulk in proportion to weight is so great that it cannot be transported far. It is the cheapest and best nonconductor of heat. It contains a great amount of air, and when laid in walls is a nonconductor of heat and of sound also. No kind of insect or other vermin will live in walls where the filling is with this glass material. For this reason, as well as a nonconductor of heat, it is considerably used for sheathing dwelling houses. It also greatly retards destruction when houses are attacked by fire.

THE SCARLET WOMEN

Driven From Franklin Avenue by Police Commissioners.

ARE SCATTERED OVER THE CITY.

Some of Them Find Shelter in Property Owned by City Officials—Is There a Money Ruling?

Franklin Avenue has been cleared and sealed to the vicious and degraded element of the community. The scarlet has gone forth from the edicts of the police commission that the scarlet women of the city can no longer ply their social calling on that thoroughfare—in fact that they will not be allowed to parade longer in the sanctuary precincts.

The external removal is largely due, it is said, to public sentiment, which cried out against the meeting of God's chosen people together in that locality. There was also the further purpose in view of erasing the foul blot which had fallen over it by reason of the twin of its morning inhabitants and the character of its patrons. Some private hints appeared of the action and many have been detected in unmeasured terms. In wisdom is open to debate.

The unfortunate feature of the exodus is that what is the avenue's gain promises to be the ruin in the hamlets into which the abandoned creatures are driven. In every flight some of them have sought out resort refuge six Commercial street from which they were forced to flee in the not very distant past. Immediately after their retreat from that thoroughfare sixty and substantial business houses were erected and respectable citizens began to seek offices and trade quarters upon it. But just as its friends everywhere begins to assume a condition whereby it can be forgotten there are indications of the return of the blighted from which it suffered so long.

"Who is it pollutes?" is a question that has been frequently propounded during the last few days. A partial answer is found in the statement that Franklin avenue must be regenerated even to the extent of requiring the City Council to confer a new name upon it that it might no longer be recognized by the line under which it became infamous and shocking to the ears of moral people.

Whether that answer will satisfy the public conscience is to soon. It will probably draw its own conclusion and succeed in ascertain upon whose property these women are finding lodgment and shelter. In this connection the News, without inclination to advertise the whereabouts of resorts which lead to the downfall and ruination of the race, finds by a careful investigation of the public records that the old Jones building and the ground upon which it stands is owned by Chief of Police Pratt and Joseph L. Caine, member of the board of public works of the city. The extensive box been made that Chief Pratt recently transferred his interest in the place to Mr. Caine but the system disclose no such transaction. It is into this building that Katie Watkins, one of the most notorious occupants of "Hell's" houses that ever came West has moved with her painted consorts. It is claimed that she is conducting a "lodging house" and the legend "Furnished Rooms" is conspicuously painted on the wall at the foot of the stairway leading to her room above.

Down the street a short distance below the dwelling and Opera House, the same of which—"Pequot"—was hauntingly thrust upon the public, the Pendrick property is undergoing repairs from basement to garret to afford another to "Queen Isaac" alias Fanny and her coterie of shameless female and male associates. A trust deed in this property is held by the Salt Lake Valley Loan & Trust Co., and the executors are Simon Bamberger and S. J. Kenyon as president and secretary respectively of the corporation. Mr. O. J. Salisbury, the late chairman of the fire and police commission, is president of the company.

Other property in the close immediately south has been contemplated to similar use and it is a fact worthy consideration that all of the buildings into which Franklin avenue's women have flown were simply prior to the "new order of things." Now they are by their law-breaking occupants made to yield large revenues to their owners.

Citizens who own adjoining property are "up in arms" so far as Commercial street is concerned, and they threaten to carry the war into the highest court of the Territory if necessary, rather than to compel the City Council to confer a new name upon them.
