WEATHER ITEM.—The highest point reached by the thermometer to-day was 78.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRE.—"Never Too Late To Mend," with Minnie Bessie Lee between the acts, by Mrs. E. F. Thomas, and the inimitable farce, "Larkin's Love Letters," complete the theatrical bill of fare to-night.

THE KNOX FAMILY.—The concert given last night by this troupe, at Faust's Hall, was well received by the audience, the performances being frequently applauded. They give another concert at the same place, this evening.

MR. S. W. LANDER.—It should be borne in mind that this eminent artiste appears at the Theatre on Monday night, in the great character of Queen Elizabeth. David McKenzie has been specially engaged to support Mrs. Lander while she plays at the Theatre. One of the richest dramatic treats ever enjoyed by the Salt Lake public may be anticipated during the coming week. Admirers of the art dramatic should not fail to see the magnificent rendering of this talented lady, and the public generally should show appreciation of the efforts of the Management to cater for their entertainment and amusement. Go on Monday night and witness one of the most and truest renditions of Queen Elizabeth ever attempted.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Yesterday, a little lad, named James Du Fresne, seven years old, met with a very severe accident, by having his hand terribly crushed and torn in the molasses mill of Mr. Edward Stevenson, on Big Cottonwood. It appears that the mill had just been set in motion and the lad was amusing himself putting sunflowers between the rollers, and while doing so his hand was caught and drawn in, tearing and stripping the flesh from the limb to a distance about two inches above the wrist, and laying the tendons of the hand, in places completely bare. Fortunately the mill was not keyed up tight or the bones would have been crushed to pieces; as it was they were not broken. On hearing the screams of the poor boy, a man who was nearby, immediately turned off the water and then seized the water wheel and exerted all his strength to stop it from revolving while Brother Stevenson quickly loosened the keys of the mill with an axe, and extricated the lad from his fearful situation. Mother Stevenson brought the sufferer to town in his carriage at once, and the assistance of Dr. Anderson being procured, the wounds were immediately dressed and, yesterday evening, the lad was doing as well as could be expected. If inflammation does not set in, it is anticipated that amputation will not have to be resorted to.

SERVICES AT THE TABERNACLE to-morrow at 11 a. m. and 2 p. m., as usual. Seats free to all persons desirous of assembling to worship God. It will be better for men to go there than to be riding around town, in their stores counting their money, in the fields or canons scheming over the ensuing week's work; better for women to go than to be cumbered over many things at home; better for children to go than to be running on the bench or the prairie, or rolling in the dusty streets; better especially for official sinners to go, that they may repent of their sins, learn that all men are by nature, or should be, and that all citizens should enjoy the right to serve God according to the dictates of their own consciences, so that they interfere not with the rights of others.

(Special to the News.)

A CHILD LOST AND FOUND IN A FAMISHING CONDITION.

FILLMORE, Sept. 23, 1871.

On Thursday, 10 a. m., a little boy, son of Brother Dustin, of Corn Creek, two and a half years old, attempted to follow a man with a team and was lost. The little fellow was not found until yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock. He was in a famishing condition. Men from Corn Creek, Meadow Creek and Fillmore were all in force seeking him. When found he was some five miles south of this city, lying in the sage brush. He had traveled about sixteen miles.

Editor.

FILLMORE, Sept. 23.

The little boy who was lost from Corn Creek, on the 21st and found yesterday evening, died within an hour from the time he was found.

NEWSPAPER.—The San Francisco News-Letter thus takes to task the Bulletin of that city:

"Our neighbors of the Bulletin, in an editorial of Wednesday last, took occasion to call in question the lack of energy and enterprise in our merchants in not going to the East to find a market for our imports—instancing Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, and other Eastern cities, where it is thought to send our drummers to secure trade for this coast. Surely the Bulletin editorial staff must have been taken a Rip Van Winkle sleep to be ignorant of the fact that more than a year ago our leading merchants, representing each and every line or department of business, started East, visiting Salt Lake, Chicago, and every city of note bordering upon the Missouri and Mississippi. They carried with them samples of coffee, sugar, teas, spices, and, in fact, many other goods likely to be wanted in those cities. These gentlemen were men of character, salesmen of high repute in their respective callings. They were well received, and their mission in some degree successful. They sold several lines of goods and paved the way for other future trade. Since then other parties have been East single handed and they did well, and as a result of their mission orders for teas, coffees, spices, sugars, etc., are constantly reaching us, not only from Salt Lake but from many other points over the mountains—and letters are daily received from Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, etc., asking goods and asking for samples, showing that the seed thus sown by this representative company has taken root and will, in due season, bring us the fruit. This very week 3,500 bags of Guatemala coffee have been sent to St. Louis by Parrott & Co. and C. A. Low & Co., while Castle Brothers and J. C. Merrill & Co. have previously sent large invoices. It is not necessary for us to say more, for the work has been done, and well done. Our merchants are surely not asleep.

ABOUT TROUBLE.—Ever and anon men of the baser sort make an effort to stir up trouble in the community. They do not seek peace, do not want it. Neither do they want trouble, only so far as they imagine they can put money in their purse thereby. We do not apprehend trouble. Peace prevails, the sun shines, and the atmosphere is tranquil. If the seekers of trouble were to succeed in making trouble, they might chance to get hurt at their own little business, and they would not like it a little they did. Not that anybody is anxious to meet them, but then awkward accidents might happen.

NOT ON THE MARRY.—The Reese River Reveille says—

The Silver State says that the young people of Unionville, Humboldt county, are not out on the marry. A large amount of female loveliness in Austin is running to seed also. If the young ones don't wake up and pop the question a little more briskly, there will be a good opening for one of Brigham Young's missionaries. The unmarried ladies may conclude that half a loaf is better than no bread.

Why Austin and Unionville would be perfect paradises for certain sticklers for the anti-marriage act of 1862. They ought to emigrate this afternoon to the Humboldt, go to Reese River, and be happy, for they are manifestly and confoundedly and unmistakably unhappy here. Our citizens won't give a dollar on their anti-marriage notions.

As for the female loveliness that is wasting its sweetness on the desert air of Nevada, send it to Utah and it will be certain to be properly and promptly appreciated.

CALIFORNIA ITEMS.

The Sacramento Reporter says the gamblers, in strong force, made a descent upon Sacramento at the opening of the State Fair there, on the 19th, and converted almost every tenantless house in the business portion of the city, into a gaming house. A thriving business was done for nearly two days, when notices served by the chief of police and his aids brought their operations to a complete stand-still.

The same paper says that while Mrs. Leet, of Poverty Ridge, was driving a spirited horse last Sunday afternoon, she was thrown from a buggy and had three ribs, her collar bone and one of her legs fractured. It was supposed her injuries would prove fatal.
