The group owned by the Searchlight Mining company which adjoins the Sunshine in the Camp Floyd district has been sold for $150,000 by Simon Bamberger and associates. The group was bought by an English syndicate, who will at once commence developing the ground. The property will be under the able management of C. W. Miles.

Mercur Mine Meeting.

The stockholders of the Mercur Gold Mining & Milling company held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon and elected the following board of directors to serve for the ensuing year: John Dern, E. H. Airth, W. S. Brown, G. H. Dern and John Henrich. After the meeting the new board elected the following officers: John Dern, president and general manager; John Henrich, vice president; E. H. Airth, secretary, and G. H. Dern, treasurer. The regular $25,000 dividend was also paid yesterday, which makes the total dividend to date $750,000, a most excellent showing for so new a mine.

OPENED WITH A ROW.

Mr. Doremus is Heard at the Special Sewer Committee's Meeting—Executive Session Held.

A meeting which was called for the purpose of considering the Mayor's veto of the final estimate to the gravity sewer contractors, was held in the joint building last night. The special committee composed of Councilmen Romney, Dole, Hayward, Murray and Allen, to which the matter was referred, was present, as were also City Engineer Young, chairman of the board of public works, Doremus, Judge Marshall, Attorney Waldemar Van Cott and several others.

Contrary to expectations the meeting commenced with a merry row, brought on by Mr. Doremus. It appears that at a meeting of the committee held on Saturday night, Engineer Young made some remarks anent the board of public works, which Mr. Doremus didn't like, and last night he appeared to resent the imputation, and did resent it to the extent of causing a general commotion in the meeting.

Mr. Doremus construed the remarks of Engineer Young as an attack upon his honesty, and as he had never been so charged before, he took to it rather unkindly and so informed the committee and all others concerned.

After some fiery talk by Mr. Doremus, all of which was directed at City Engineer Young, Mr. Young replied, saying that in his remarks he had no intention of criticising the board of public works, but had simply answered a statement of Mr. Doremus's which he thought was somewhat colored.

The committee then got down to business and after discussing with Mr. Van Cott as to whether or not the contractors would be willing to give the city a bond to indemnify against liability as the result of damage suits arising from a failure which might occur in the sewer, a motion was made to adjourn, and getting a negative answer upon the subject, the committee went into executive session, the result of which will probably come out at tonight's Council meeting.

FISH AND GAME REPORT.

What Commissioner Heath Has to Say to the County Court on That Matter.

At the meeting of the county court held yesterday afternoon and after the News went to press Fish and Game Commissioner Heath presented a report of his official labors since his appointment on the 23rd of February, 1895. A summary thereof is as follows:

"Myself and deputies have attended twenty-eight cases for violating the fish and game laws, and the total fees and costs imposed and paid by the violators amounted to $384. I have found it a great labor to watch the numerous points in the county where the lawless souls with greater impunity violate the laws and many times have labored day and night in discharging the duties imposed by the statutes.

To protect the trout on their return from their spawning grounds nine screens were put in Big and Little Cottonwood creeks in the mouth of the mouth ditches. Five fish ponds have been built in Parley's canyon creek and two old dams from the cape stock and one from Parley's creek have been removed. Jordan river and all its sections have abundant water during not your been heretofore, that being about the only fish stream. Hardly one size seen good. Ducks have been much more plentiful this fall than in last years, no doubt because of the enforcement of the game law. I find that some hawks are very destructive to young ducks and ducklings. Pelicans, too, the crane and other large destroy great numbers of fish, while weasels, skunks and otters are a great many days ago. I feel so flattered that it a small bounty were offered either by the county or State for the destruction of the animals named, a great good would be accomplished."

Commissioner Heath also recommends that quail be protected by law for at least three years, after which seasons to shot some quail be limited to four months in the year, say from Sept. 1 to Dec. 31. He also recommends that it should be made lawful to use seine to clear the same as to lakes, for he believes in Jordan river are a great many carp and native fishes which should be caught to make room for the trout, bass, whitefish, etc. It is also recommended that the killing of female deer, antelope, elk, moose, buffalo and the sale or possession of these animals be altogether prohibited. The shipping of fish and game to points outside of Utah is opposed.

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

Dr. Karl G. Maeser and Religious Training Class.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable state of the weather there was a very large attendance at the monthly meeting of the Salt Lake Stake Sunday School Union, which was held in the Fourteenth ward hall on Monday evening, January 20, 1896, Stake Superintendent T. C. Griggs presiding.

The roll call showed about three-fourths of the city wards represented and five of the country, besides five Sunday school missionaries, in addition to the Stake Sunday school presidency. Of distinguished visitors present were Dr. Karl G. Maeser, George Goddard and George Reynolds, members of the Deseret Sunday School Union board. The singing exercises were nearly rendered by the Fifteenth ward Sunday school, which sang as the opening piece Brightly Beams our Banner. Prayer was offered by Elder R. S. Horne. The choir sang, Arise and Shine.

Superintendent Griggs stated that reports had been received from all the Sunday schools of the Stake of the closest description, which amounted to four and a half cents for every enrolled member of the Sunday schools, and reported that four members of a committee of the leaflets entitled had been distributed for the use of the schools.

Dr. Karl G. Maeser was the lecturer for the evening and gave a practical illustration of the working of the religion classes as established at Provo and somewhat among the Church Sunday schools, ten boys from the Thirteenth ward, and ten girls from the Fourteenth ward having been brought together to form a class for the evening, their ages averaging about nine years. After some preliminary explanations Dr. Maeser proceeded with his new feature in Sunday school work. He first endeavored himself to the children, expressing his pleasure at meeting them on such a stormy night, and promised them if they would do as he wished them they should not go away without a blessing. He then listened and the children repeated with closed eyes the following prayer:

Our Father in heaven, we ask Thee to bless us this evening with Thy Holy Spirit that we may be enlightened prepared of us in such a way that will be pleasing to Thee, which we ask in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

The lecturer here stated that the opening prayer is intended by appropriate hymns of a few lines, suitable to the ages of the children composing the religious class.

After a few questions to the children as to how many of them wished a blessing on the food, the following was given and recited in concert by the class:

Our Father, which art in heaven, we thank Thee for the food which is now before us, and ask Thee to bless it to the use of Jesus. Amen.

The lecturer stated that the children should be instructed to do the work themselves, and that prayers and long sermons should be avoided by teachers, and class work be used. He had seen each screen while his mother was said prayer or preaching, as he himself was enough with the prayer or sermon.

He then dwelt at some length on the subject of respect to our Heavenly Father as well as our earthly parents and teachers, and requested that when he came in the morning the first to hear his "good morning" was his Father in Heaven, and also to hear his last "good night."

A few words of commendation were then addressed to the class, and according to custom the venerable teacher raised his hands and gave the benediction the following blessing:

In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and by virtue of the Priesthood vested in me, I bless you in the name of the prophets and have a change of you as the days of your life, that the monitor will have no power over you, and when you have passed away from this life the you may be numbered among the righteous in the kingdom of heaven. Amen.

The teachers in the audience were then urged not to slight the members of their classes, as the class is where every boy and girl, and then, let us all a little work to them and teach them to believe and respect their Bishops and the Priesthood of God.

Elders Horne, Goddard and Reynolds each spoke briefly and the meeting was adjourned for a month.

The Sixteenth ward was asked to furnish the singing exercises at the next meeting, when the Stake Presidency would address the assembly.

The choir sang Come Unto Me, and benediction was pronounced by Elder L. A. Wilson.

Gives his Version.

BELLEVILLE, Illinois,
Jan. 19th, 1896.

To the Editor:

Seeing my name mentioned in the Salt Lake City Deseret News of Jan. 4th, 1896, by Elder Samuel O. Spencer, missionary from Utah, now stationed at Belleville, Ill., as having visited Utah, as he declared, of what had seen and heard, I would say that he has misrepresented me, both in saying that I endorsed the Priesthood that was had in Utah and "Mormon leaders and co-worker," and also in saying that I expressed a desire either in the choice that I had made, or in the choice of the Mormons I chosen.

And again he misrepresents in his statement that he made the illustration of the train to me. He said it he was driving home that he is a man in Southern Illinois; neither did he say so. I thought I had missed the train. If he has been kind enough to have quoted in his statement what I did say, I would have no occasion to write, it would save manages to all parties of his statement somewhat. I make answer that I could see the force of his illustration and how taking it would be with those that know as well as I know, but to me it was novel stuff. Seeing by the Elder's letter that I had been so heavily misrepresented, and also seeing the name of Miss Ann Edwards, of Belleville, Ill., one of our sisters in the Reorganized church, it compelled me that perhaps she too had been spoken of unjustly, so I made it my business to see her. I called on her on January 10th, 1896, and her statement to me in the presence of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mr. John Erwing, was that she was misrepresented by the Elder's letter, but that she may have said she hopes that God would forgive her for the wrong she had done; but with no intimation of inspiring God. Wrong in associating herself with the Mormons she should, but to the contrary, she is perfectly satisfied with the choice she has made.

The Elder's statement with regard to the amiable treatment he received while here is correct, and the only criticism I have to offer is that he has mistaken our hospitality for an endorsement of his philosophy.

ANOTHER RAMBLER DAY.

The Rambler boys made a great showing in the Ogden races. The first along of the day was the ten mile road race, in which McCombber finished third, taking third prize, and third from prize, came the track race, Joe Biggs taking second in the novice, Fowler first, Wilson second, and Thatcher third in the 440 scratch, class B, all "Ramblers" honors. In the half mile class A, Biggs took second, Cotton third. In half mile class B, Thatcher second, Fowler third. First mile, class B, Fowler second, in this race a man in a yellow suit was the lead and led Chamberlain and Wesler lying immediately behind him, the result was a spill, three parties and the race led to Jones. The two mile, class A, was another Rambler event, Biggs taking honors, Joe Biggs second and McCombber third. Fowler prize, in one day is glory enough for any man.
