SISTERS B. W. Smith and E. B. Wells went over to Grantsville to attend the Relief Society, Young Ladies M. I. A. and Primary conferences of Tooele Stake on Saturday and Sunday last. Meetings were well attended, and a most enjoyable time was had.

THAT "Territorial Court" mentioned in the Associated Press dispatch from this city, seems to have been curtailed, compressed, circumscribed, or by some means to some extent reduced in the matter of establishing and breaking up political parties.

YESTERDAY morning the baccalaureate sermon in connection with the Salt Lake Academy was delivered by the Rev. J. E. Threlf, in the chapel of the First Congregational Church. The musical portion of the service was quite enjoyed. In it the Alta Male Quartette took part.

FOLLOWING the heavy rainstorm of Friday afternoon last, hail fell "nearly deep," about eight miles south of this city, along a strip of country about a quarter of a mile wide, and several miles in length, extending from east to west. The fruit crop was badly blackened and injured. The hail was unusually large for this section of country, and ripped with terrible fury.

THE death of Dr. George B. F. Simpson, of this city, occurred on Saturday evening, the immediate cause being pneumonia and kidney complication. The deceased came to Utah about nine years ago, from Newark, N. J. He was forty-two years with A. C. Smith, the druggist, of this city, and for two years with Roberts & Nelden. For the past fifteen months he had been the senior partner in the Simpson-Hill drug company. The deceased was sixty years of age, and was well known throughout the Territory. He was of a literary turn, and possessed a well-stored mind. He was much respected by a wide circle of acquaintances.

Successful Operation.

An operation was performed today at the Deseret Hospital by Dr. Romania B. Pratt for the removal of a cataract from the right eye of Miss Karen Olsen of Spring City, Dr. McLean assistant. It was successfully performed and the patient is doing well and likely to gain her sight.

Supreme Court.

In the Territorial Supreme court this morning Edgar E. Winters, of Nebraska, on motion of Attorney H. D. Winters, was admitted to practice at the bar.

The Merchants National Bank of Kansas City vs. Theodore Bohlman was the only case argued up to the noon hour.

Probate Court.

The following orders were made before Judge Bartch today:

Estate of George W. Crosier, deceased; order made fixing June 20th to hear petition for letters of administration.

In the matter of Nellie Collins, a minor; order made approving Thomas W. Jennings guardian on filing a bond in the sum of $7,400.

Reported Big Body of Ore.

Superintendent H. C. Tate of the Deseret Gold and Silver Mining and Milling Company, writes, June 8, 1892, as follows to Secretary Musser:

"We have a large body of ore in the main tunnel, now 160 feet. The face of the tunnel is nearly all ore, with one side of side of tunnel. Will have to cross cut to determine the width. We have a fine vein of ore in No. 2 tunnel from 10 to 12 inches wide. We will be ready in a few days to sink from bottom of 40-foot shaft to the main tunnel level. That work done, the mine will be ventilated and in condition to produce a large amount of ore."

Morning Mr. Musser received the following telegram from Mr. Tate:

"We have struck a big body of ore in lower tunnel averaging 31 ounces silver—highest 54 ounces."

Mr. Musser says:

"Our cross tables from all the tunnels and the shaft average 63 ounces silver and $2 gold."

The Treasurer Case.

Plaintiff claimed these books as agent, he said, having been appointed secretary by an order of the Territorial Democratic central committee. By virtue of this he claimed that he was entitled to these books. But in all actions of this character the plaintiff must show a legal right of possession. If he claimed property which belongs to another person he must show by an agreement of facts that he is legally entitled to recover. Plaintiff in this case did not allege that he, individually, had right to the books; he had a right to them by virtue of his being secretary of a committee, and the proof was made that that committee had no legal rights in them, not being a corporation. It stood as though the plaintiff had sued as the secretary of society—that he was the agent of the society, or something which the law did not recognize as having rights which could be enforced in a court of justice. His Honor was disposed to hold that the complaint was well taken to this complaint and it would be sustained.

Ogden Hiles—We ask leave to amend.

Attorney Rawlins objected for the reasons before given, and said—"we ask for a dismissal of the case."

Attorney Hiles—We think we are counsel to stand up here, make stump speeches to the Court, and assume at most that this suit is not prosecuted in good faith.

Judge Zane—What is the amendment?

Mr. Hiles—That the plaintiff in the action, as such, has a right to possession of the books. I also wish to amend by inserting the names of the committee, and claim the right of possession and title to the property in that committee, because I think the committee owe the books.

Mr. Rawlins—There are certain facts which are supposed in this case. The suit was filed in the justice's court at a particular juncture for a political purpose, and I am ready to state what it was, as I believed from the facts—to get a declaration by a justice of the peace—backed by the honorary of the public party, that the organization which so far was the Democratic party of the Territory and entitled to admission to a political convention. (Laughter.)

Mr. Hiles—We will argue that when we are in Chicago. (Laughter.)

Mr. Rawlins—This is the very point. I am ready to meet you there on that issue. But a court of justice is not the place to try this question.

After some further badgering on the same lines Mr. Rawlins sat down, saying—That declaration of the justice of the peace, which was displayed by gentlemen who instituted and prosecuted this case in the justice's court, and sent out as a "secret circular" throughout the Territory. If that fact is denied I can bring proof of it. I ask you or hound to make an investigation of it. In view of these facts I also ask the court not to allow to proceed's to quiet, but to wash its hands of the case at once.

Judge Zane told Attorney Hiles to reduce his amendments to writing and come into court with them at 3 o'clock today.

He promised to do so.

A NEW LIGHT.

Mr. Godwin Owed His Appointment to Canon and Salisbury.

A special to the Ogden Standard from Hamilton, Minnesota, dated the 11th, says:

The Liberals have sunshine a glowing account of the victory they have received and asking to be met by a brass band. This was brought at in Minneapolis by every one concerned in with the exception. They should rather go back sinking, for they came with a full determination not to accept any compromise but to be seated delegates. They were glad to go to any price, and a price was certainly paid. The only point upon the investigation of the Liberal party. Though denied, all the newspaper reports fail to show that either Godwin or Allen were even so much as recognized in the floor by the chair. They virtually got nothing.

The Liberals appeared before the Credentials committee today and asked that their names enrolled as having received recognition as delegates from Utah, but the committee declined to do so. It is true that Godwin was appointed by Ex-President Harrison of his committee, but that was done in his capacity as the union of Salisbury and Canon. We are the people and Republicans in Utah should respect. There is no question but the Republicans have the party organization.

We will result Ogden Tuesday, will send further notice as to exact time.

It thus appears that to the regular Republican delegates' generosity is due the appointment of Godwin to wait on the candidates and notify them of their nomination; this makes the partial defeat of the pretenders still more pronounced.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Natural Gas" Tonight.—A Ghost Dance on Friday.—Wonderland.

Donelly and Girard's comedians commence their engagement at the Theatre tonight in "Natural Gas." The company is said to have a stronger cast of fun makers than ever before.

WONDERLAND.

The presentation of "The Chimes of Normandy" at Wonderland is the great attraction at that place and one which is well worth seeing. It has sufficiently demonstrated by the large houses that daily attended. There is always something worth seeing at this place.

THE GHOST DANCE.

A unique entertainment is announced for Friday night at the Theatre, when a genuine Sioux ghost dance will be performed on the stage as part of the amusements of the entertainment. The well-known Sioux chief Kicking Bear, Princess Lizzie Bear and Mr. Jake Pyles, and Mr. Arthur Pyle (double Bonnie, which have also been engaged and will, no doubt, be seen to good advantage. Arrangements are being made to have and Gen. C. Pratt is managing the concert part of the programme. Altogether the entertainment promises to be unique and full of strange.

PIANO RECITAL.

Neally Stevens, pianist, from Boston, will give a piano recital at St. Mark's Hall tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock. The lady is spoken of as a highly accomplished artist on her instrument.

Clothe is some lack of presenting "Mignon" at the Theatre in the near future, by local talent.

PROVO POINTS.

An Interesting Lecture.—Educational Notes.—Political Paragraphs, Etc.

At the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon Elder Joshua H. Paul delivered a fine discourse upon the subject of "Natural Theology." The speaker gave numerous illustrations of the wonderful instinct or intelligence manifest in the lower order of animals, that what is required man thousands of years to learn, the animals have been endowed with by some creating power. All nature gives evidence of intelligence and exhibits the handiwork of a Supreme Master Mechanic, and nothing has been done in vain; if wants are created, there are things to satisfy those wants. Man is part of the work of nature; he has wants and desires. But his desires are to reverence or worship some supreme or higher being, and as "nothing by nature is done in vain," there must be some being to worship, as lost doors would not be placed in buildings, and being, said the speaker, is the God who created us, the world and all things in it.

The commencement exercises of the "Provo Academy" of this city will be held on Wednesday, June 15th. This is quite a growing institution and is well patronized by people.

Prof. J. H. Paul is in town looking after the interests of the Summer Institute, which will be held here during the summer months. It is expected there will be teachers present from every part of the Territory. A fine programme of course has been prepared, some noted professors from the East will be present to deliver a course of lectures.

Several of our local Democrats are preparing to go to Chicago to attend the convention on the 21st inst. The party will leave here for Salt Lake on Wednesday, where they will join the main delegation. Much disappointment is expressed here by Democrats and Republicans alike at the recognition the "Liberals" received at Minneapolis; it was universally hoped that unless and troublesome factions would be forever silenced.

Another change in the weather, the clouds and rain and rain of the past week have all disappeared and today we are experiencing a real June day sun, and everybody is smiling, especially those who have people, who have had an exceedingly limited run during the last few days.

PROVO, June 13, 1892.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

It Being Really Hard is an Escape.—B. Y. Hampton Severely Bruised.

Mr. B. Y. Hampton was the victim of a very painful if not serious accident this morning, about 11 o'clock. He was standing by the gas or fence fronting the Brigham Young Trust company's building in process of erection on the east side of Commercial street, and was in front of the northwest corner, when a shower of brick descended from the fourth story, one of them striking him on the shoulder, another on the foot. A variation of an inch or so in the direction of either would have brought it upon his head, and the result in such an event might have been fatal, as it is, his sufferings may have been if they are not now minimized. The mishap was caused by wind, appears to be the lack of proper caution on the part of those having the contract, by means of which a huge carrel stone weighing nearly two tons was being elevated to the square of the fourth story, to be placed there as an ornamental corner piece; it was swung in before being clear, and knocked the upper layers from the masonry, causing the debris to descend as stated. It is fortunate it was no worse.
